JOURNALS
OF THE
LEGISLATIVE ASSEMBLY
OF THE PROVINCE OF ONTARIO.

Wednesday, 7th January, 1874.

3 O'CLOCK, P.M.

This being the first day of the third meeting of the Second Parliament of Ontario, for the Despatch of Business, pursuant to a Proclamation of His Excellency the Honourable John Crawford, Lieutenant-Governor of the Province of Ontario, and the House having met, His Excellency the Lieutenant-Governor entered the House and took his seat on the Throne.

The Honourable Mr. McKellar, Commissioner of Public Works, said:—

Honourable Gentlemen of the Legislative Assembly:

I am commanded by His Excellency the Lieutenant-Governor to state that the Honourable James George Currie, Member for the County of Welland, having, immediately after your last Session, by a letter addressed to His Excellency's predecessor, the Honourable William Pearce Howland, and by another letter addressed to the Clerk of your Honourable House, and communicated by him to His Excellency, resigned the Chair of the Legislative Assembly, it is therefore His Excellency's pleasure that you do forthwith choose a fit and proper person to be your Speaker, and that you do present him whom you shall have so chosen to His Excellency the Lieutenant-Governor, in this House, at three of the clock in the afternoon, to-morrow, for His Excellency's approbation, when His Excellency will declare the causes of his calling this Parliament.

His Excellency was then pleased to retire.

The Clerk read, for the information of the House, the following communications:—

TORONTO, 29th March, 1873.

SIR—Finding the duties of the office of Speaker exceedingly irksome and severe, and believing that I can better serve my constituents and my native Province upon the floor of the Legislature, I beg to resign, and do hereby resign the office of Speaker of the Legislative Assembly of Ontario.

I have the honour to be,
Yours, &c.,

J. G. CURRIE.

To Charles Todd Gillmor, Esquire,
Clerk Legislative Assembly of Ontario,
Toronto.

TORONTO, 30th December, 1873.

SIR—I have the honour to forward, for the information of Your Excellency, a copy of a letter addressed to me by the Honourable J. G. Currie, resigning the office of Speaker of the Legislative Assembly.

I have the honour to be,
Sir,

Your Excellency's obedient servant,
CHARLES T. GILLMOR,
Clerk Legislative Assembly.

To His Excellency the Lieutenant-Governor of Ontario.

The Honourable Attorney-General Mowat, addressing himself to the Clerk, proposed to the House as their Speaker, Rupert Mearse Wells, Member for the South Riding of the County of Bruce, which Motion having been seconded by Thomas Hodgins, Esquire, Member for the West Riding of the County of Elgin, it was Resolved unanimously,—That Rupert Mearse Wells do take the Chair of this House as Speaker.

The Clerk having declared the Honourable Rupert Mearse Wells duly elected, he was conducted by the Honourable Attorney-General Mowat, and Thomas Hodgins, Esquire, to the Chair, where, standing on the upper step, he returned his humble acknowledgments to the House for the great honour they had been pleased to confer upon him, by choosing him to be their Speaker.

And thereupon he sat down in the Chair, and the Mace was laid on the Table.

On motion of the Honourable Mr. Attorney-General Mowat seconded by the Honourable Mr. Pardee,

Resolved, That when this House adjourns, it do stand adjourned till To-morrow, at Three o'clock in the afternoon.

The House then adjourned at 3.45 P.M.

Thursday, 8th January, 1874.

3 O'CLOCK, P.M.

The House having met, His Excellency the Lieutenant Governor entered the House and took his seat on the Throne.

The Speaker elect then spoke to the following effect :—

May it please your Excellency,

The Legislative Assembly have elected me as their Speaker, though I am but little able to fulfil the important duties thus assigned to me.

If, in the performance of those duties, I should at any time fall into error, I pray that the fault may be imputed to me, and not to the Assembly whose servant I am.

The Honourable Mr. McKellar, Commissioner of Public Works, then said,
Mr. Speaker,

I am commanded by His Excellency the Lieutenant-Governor to declare to you that he freely confides in the duty and attachment of the Assembly to Her Majesty's person and Government.

His Excellency the Lieutenant-Governor was then pleased to open the Session by the following gracious Speech :—

Mr. Speaker, and Gentlemen of the Legislative Assembly :—

In meeting for the first time the representatives of the people of Ontario, I have to express the gratification which it affords me to welcome you to the Capital on this occasion of your assembling to deliberate upon the best means of promoting the public interests of the Province of which you are the elected guardians.

I have the agreeable duty of congratulating you upon the prosperity of the Province during the past year, as manifested in the completion of railways previously commenced ; in the rapid strides which other railways have made towards their objective points ; and in the steady advancement of the country in various departments of enterprise and industry.

I am happy to know that the means devised for promoting an augmented immigration into the Province already show satisfactory results ; and I rejoice at the prospect which there is of a further increase, during the present year, in the number of immigrants to the Province of the classes which are most needed for the prosperity of the country. I commend the subject to your continued favour and liberality.

The School Bills, to which your attention was invited by my predecessor, will again, with some alterations and additions, be submitted for your consideration. The propriety of modifying the conditions on which Government aid has hitherto been given towards the purchase of libraries and prize books is among the amendments to which your attention may be directed.

Bills will be laid before you, for increasing the freedom and purity of elections to this House, by adopting the principle of voting by ballot, as is now the law in Great Britain ; for extending the franchise to some important classes of our fellow-subjects who are excluded by the present law ; for enabling all societies and companies which are not illegal to obtain, under general and just regulations, the right of holding their property and conducting their affairs in their own names, without the difficulties or expense attending special Acts of incorporation by the Legislature ; and for regulating the distribution of the money voted out of the public funds for charity, by proportioning the payments as far as may be to the results accomplished by the respective institutions aided.

Other measures designed to promote various objects of public advantage will be submitted for your consideration.

I congratulate you on the general favour with which the people in every part of the Province have received the Act of last Session respecting the long vexed and complicated question of the debts due to the Municipal Loan Fund, and respecting the payments to be made out of the accumulated funds of the Province to municipalities which were not indebted to the Municipal Loan Fund. Difficult questions have since arisen in adjusting some of the sums to be received and paid respectively under the Resolutions, in which you laid down the rules and principles by which you desired the adjustment to be determined. A statement will be communicated to you of the correct figures.

The Joint Commission appointed to determine the boundary between Ontario and Quebec, made considerable progress with their work during the last year ; and, a question having arisen as to the locality of the head of Lake Temiscamang, a compromise line, running due North from a point between Rivers Blanche and Quinze, has been proposed, and will be submitted for your approval.

The collection of evidence with respect to our North-West boundary is still going on ; and the evidence for and against our claims will soon, I trust, be in a position to be referred to some tribunal for adjudication. I have no apprehension as to the result. Meanwhile, informal negotiations have taken place for the adoption of a provisional line ; so that the settlement of the important territory in dispute may not be delayed for a decision as to the true and permanent boundary. Resolutions on the subject will probably be submitted for your consideration.

The Dominion Parliament, since your last Session, passed an Act assuming that balance of the debt of the Province of Canada which, by the Confederation Act, the Provinces of Quebec and Ontario were to pay, and the proportion of which payable by each was one of the subjects of the Arbitration between the Provinces. This legislation changes materially the relative positions of the two Provinces, as compared with the positions which they occupied under the Award ; and negotiations have in consequence taken place with a view to an amicable settlement of the various matters embraced in the Award. These negotiations have not yet terminated.

I have given directions that the Public Accounts shall be laid before you. You will learn with satisfaction that the expenditure for the year has been considerably less than the amount which you authorised, and that the Revenue has exceeded the amount anticipated.

The Estimates for the present year will be submitted to you. They have been framed with every regard to economy compatible with the efficiency of the public service.

I now leave you to your important duties, and I rely on your patriotism and wisdom for the discharge of them in the manner best fitted for advancing the prosperity and happiness of the Province.

May Almighty God guide your deliberations, and continue to bestow His Divine blessing on our favoured Province.

His Excellency the Lieutenant-Governor was then pleased to retire.

Mr. Speaker informed the House, That, during the recess, notifications had been issued to Members of the House of vacancies which had occurred in the representation of the following Electoral Districts :—The South Riding of Brant, The South Riding of Huron, The South Riding of Leeds, The City of Ottawa, Peel, The South Riding of Simcoe ; the South Riding of the County of Grenville, and the South Riding of Oxford.

To the Honourable the Legislative Assembly of the Province of Ontario.

The following Petition was brought up, and laid upon the Table :—

By the Honourable Mr. Cameron—The Petition of the Victoria Railway Company.

The House then adjourned at 3.45 P.M.

Friday, 9th January, 1874.

3 O'CLOCK P.M.

The following Petitions were severally brought up and laid upon the Table :—

By Mr. Rykert—The Petition of the Reverend R. Norton and others, of St. Catharines.

By Mr. Clarke (Norfolk)—The Petition of William M. Wilson and others, of Norfolk.

By Mr. Tooley—Three Petitions of the County Council of Middlesex ; also, the Petition of Henry Anderson and others, of Middlesex.

The Order of the Day for taking into consideration the Speech of His Excellency the Lieutenant-Governor having been read,

Mr. Hardy moved, seconded by Mr. Patterson, That an humble Address be presented to His Excellency the Lieutenant-Governor, to thank His Excellency for his gracious Speech and to tender to His Excellency our acknowledgments for the gratification which he has been pleased to say that it afforded him to welcome us to the Capital on this occasion of our assembling to deliberate upon the best means of promoting the public interests of the Province of which we are the elected guardians.

2. That we participate in the satisfaction with which His Excellency congratulates us upon the prosperity of the Province during the past year, as manifested in the completion of railways previously commenced ; in the rapid strides which other railways have made towards their objective points ; and in the steady advancement of the country in various departments of enterprise and industry.

3. That we rejoice with His Excellency to know that the means devised for, promoting an augmented immigration into the Province already show satisfactory results, and that there is a prospect of a further increase during the present year in the number of immigrants to the Province of the classes which are most needed for the prosperity of the country, and we thank His Excellency for commending the subject to our continued favour and liberality.

4. That we shall respectfully consider the School Bills to which our attention was invited by His Excellency's predecessor, and which are again, with some alterations and additions, to be submitted for our consideration ; and the propriety of modifying the conditions on which Government aid has hitherto been given towards the purchase of libraries and prize books will receive our attention.

5. That we will not fail to give our most careful consideration to the Bills which will be laid before us for increasing the freedom and purity of elections to this House, by adopting the principle of voting by ballot, as is now the law in Great Britain ; for extending the franchise to some important classes of our fellow-subjects who are excluded by the present law ; for enabling all societies and companies which are not illegal to obtain, under general and just regulations, the right of holding their property and conducting their affairs in their own names, without the difficulties or expense attending special Acts of incorporation by the Legislature ; and for regulating the distribution of the money voted out of the public funds for charity, by proportioning the payments as far as may be to the results accomplished by the respective institutions aided ; as well as the other measures designed to promote objects of public advantage which are to be submitted for our consideration.

6. That we share with His Excellency the satisfaction afforded him by the general favour with which the people in every part of the Province have received the Act of last Session respecting the long-vexed and complicated question of the debts due to the Municipal Loan Fund, and respecting the payments to be made out of the accumulated funds of the Province to municipalities which were not indebted to the Municipal Loan Fund :—and we learn with interest that difficult questions have since arisen in adjusting some of the sums to be received and paid respectively under the Resolutions, in which were laid down the rules and principles by which we desired the adjustment to be determined : and that we shall be pleased to receive from His Excellency a statement of the correct figures.

7. That we thank His Excellency for the information, that the Joint Commission appointed to determine the boundary between Ontario and Quebec made considerable progress with their work during the last year ; and that, a question having arisen as to the locality of the head of Lake Temiscamang, a compromise line, running due North from a point between Rivers Blanche and Quinze, has been proposed ; that we will give our earnest consideration to the advisability of adopting this provisional line, which His Excellency has been pleased to say will be submitted for our approval.

8. That we thank His Excellency for informing us, that the collection of evidence with respect to our North-West Boundary is still going on ; that the evidence for and against our claims will soon, as His Excellency trusts, be in a position to be referred to some tribunal for adjudication ; and that His Excellency has no apprehension as to the result : we are gratified to know that, meanwhile, informal negotiations have taken place for the adoption of a provisional line ; so that the settlement of the important territory in dispute may not be delayed for a decision as to the true and permanent boundary ; and we shall be prepared to carefully consider any resolutions which may be proposed for our consideration on the subject.

9. That we thank His Excellency for reminding us that the Dominion Parliament, since our last Session, passed an Act assuming that balance of the debt of the Province of Canada, which, by the Confederation Act, the Provinces of Quebec and Ontario were to pay, and the proportion of which payable by each was one of the subjects of the Arbitration between the Provinces ; that this legislation changes materially the relative positions of the two Provinces, as compared with the positions which they occupied under the Award ;—and that we are pleased to know that negotiations have, in consequence, taken place, and are still pending, with a view to an amicable settlement of the various matters embraced in the Award.

10. That we thank His Excellency for having given directions that the Public Accounts shall be laid before us ; and that we learn with satisfaction that the expenditure for the year has been considerably less than the amount which we authorised, and that the Revenue has exceeded the amount anticipated.

11. That we shall respectfully consider the Estimates for the present year which His Excellency informs us are to be submitted to us ; that we rejoice to learn that they have been framed with every regard to economy compatible with the efficiency of the public service.

12. That we thank His Excellency for the reliance which he has been pleased to express in our patriotism and wisdom for the discharge of our important duties in the manner best fitted for advancing the prosperity and happiness of the Province.

13. That we fervently join with His Excellency in invoking the guidance of Almighty God in our deliberations, and in supplicating His Divine blessing on our favoured Province.

The first, second, third and fourth paragraphs of the proposed Address having been read the second time were agreed to.

The fifth paragraph having been read the second time,

Mr. Boulbee moved in amendment, seconded by Mr. Gifford,

That the following words be added to the fifth paragraph of the Address :—

“That, while we are willing to give our best consideration to any measure that may be proposed to us for such a general Act of incorporation as His Excellency has mentioned, we cannot refrain from the expression of our regret that His Excellency was advised to reserve for the assent of the Governor-General, the Bills passed by this House at the last Session, and intituled ‘An Act for the incorporation of the Loyal Orange Association of Eastern Ontario,’ and ‘An Act for the incorporation of the Loyal Orange Association of Western Ontario;’ as the subject matter of those Bills was, according to the ninety-second section of the British North America Act of 1867, within the exclusive power, competence and jurisdiction of the Legislature of this Province, and by advising or sustaining this reservation, His Excellency’s advisers have withheld from a large class of Her Majesty’s subjects, rights and privileges to which they were entitled in the opinion of this House, and have inflicted a serious blow upon the power, authority, and independence of the Legislature of Ontario.”

Mr. Bethune moved, in amendment to the proposed Amendment, seconded by Mr. Hardy,

That all the words after the word “we,” secondly mentioned in the proposed Amendment, be struck out, and the following substituted therefor :—“beg to assure your Excellency that, in advising your Excellency’s predecessor to reserve certain Bills for the special incorporation of Orange Societies for the signification of the pleasure of His Excellency the Governor General, the Executive Council of this Province was justified by constitutional usage.”

And a Debate having arisen,

Ordered, That the Debate be adjourned till Monday next.

The Honourable Mr. Fraser presented to the House, by command of His Excellency the Lieutenant Governor :—

A Report upon the Paleontology of the Province of Ontario, by Henry Alleyne Nicholson, Esquire, Professor of Natural History, University of Toronto, (Sessional Papers, No. 6.)

Also—A Report by the Honourable the Provincial Treasurer, relative to the general working of the Tavern and Shop License Act. (Sessional Papers, No. 7.)

Also—A Return to an Address to His Excellency the Lieutenant-Governor praying His Excellency to cause to be laid before this House, 1st, Copies of all Correspondence with the Dominion Government in reference to the Chain Allowance and Ordnance Lands along the Niagara River. 2nd, Copies of all papers and documents in the Crown Lands Department in reference to said lands. 3rd, Copies of all Orders in Council respecting any lease, or leases, of any part of said land. 4th, Copies of all leases of any part of said land, at or near Niagara Falls. (Sessional Papers, No. 8.)

The House then adjourned at 10.45 P.M.

The twelfth paragraph having been read the second time,

The Honourable Mr. Cameron moved, seconded by Mr. Merrick,

That the following words be added to the twelfth paragraph of the proposed Address:

“ But we feel it due to the dignity and just influence of this House, as representing the will of the people, to express our regret that His Excellency’s advisers should have advised His Excellency’s predecessor not to rely upon that patriotism and wisdom, but, instead thereof, to reserve for the consideration of His Excellency the Governor General, two Bills passed by this House after full discussion and due deliberation, for the incorporation of the Loyal Orange Association of Eastern Ontario, and for the incorporation of the Loyal Orange Lodge of Western Ontario, in place of advising His Excellency to sanction the same, and leave to His Excellency the Governor General the responsibility, under the constitution, of disallowing such bills.”

And, objection having been taken to the proposed Amendment,

Mr. Speaker, having been referred to, decided—

That the Amendment, being substantially the same as the Motion made in amendment to the fifth paragraph of the Address, and which had already been debated by and decided on by the House, is out of order and cannot be entertained.

Mr. Boulbee then moved in amendment, seconded by Mr. Lauder,

That the following words be added to the twelfth paragraph of the proposed Address:—

“ But we cannot avoid expressing to your Excellency our firm conviction, that it is not calculated to make the country respect the action and deliberations of this House for the Attorney-General to advocate, and his colleagues oppose, a Bill during its passage, and then advise its reservation by your Excellency for the consideration of the Governor General.”

And the Amendment, having been put, was lost on the following division:—

Bill (No. 75), To authorize the Church wardens of St. Paul's Church at Lindsay, with the consent of the incorporated Synod of the Diocese of Toronto, to sell certain lands in the Town of Lindsay.

Bill (No. 80), To legalize and confirm the sale and conveyances of certain lands in the Township of Whitby, and County of Ontario, heretofore effected and made by the trustees of the Oshawa Congregation of the Canada Presbyterian Church, formerly constituting the United Presbyterian Church of Whitby, to the Reverend R. H. Thornton, D. D.

The Reports were then read by the Clerk at the Table, as follow :—

OSGOODE HALL,
March 7th, 1874.

The undersigned, to whom with other Judges of the Superior Courts of Law and Equity a Commission has issued to report in respect of any Estate Bills or petitions for Estate Bills which may be submitted to the Legislative Assembly of Ontario, have the honour to state in reference to Estate Bill (No. 68), and the petitions of the Board of trustees of the Cobourg High School, and of the Honourable Ebenezer Perry, that it is not reasonable, in the opinion of the undersigned, that the said Bill do pass, inasmuch as the rights of the Honourable Ebenezer Perry, the grantor of the lands in question upon the charitable trusts in the preamble to the Bill and in his petition stated, are proposed by the said Bill to be unduly interfered with.

The reasons which induced Mr. Perry to make a gift of the lands for the alienation of which Legislative sanction is now sought, ought in the opinion of the undersigned to be respected. The objects proposed by him to be accomplished may be disappointed if the land given by him for one purpose is sold and devoted to another purpose. Having been accepted upon a particular trust, it seems only just that the trust should be carried out, or, failing that, that the land should revert to the donor.

OSGOODE HALL,
March 7th, 1874.

The undersigned, to whom with other Judges of the Superior Courts of Law and Equity Commissions have been issued to report in respect of Estate Bills or Petitions for Estate Bills which may be submitted to the Legislative Assembly of Ontario, have the honour to state, in reference to Estate Bill (No. 89), and the Petition of the City of Toronto Water Company and Louisa Priscilla Furniss and others, that it is reasonable, in the opinion of the undersigned, that the said Bill do pass.

OSGOODE HALL,
March 7, 1874.

The undersigned, to whom with other Judges of the Superior Courts of Law and Equity Commissions have been issued to report in respect of any Estate Bills or petition for Estate Bills which may be submitted to the Legislative Assembly of Ontario, have the honour to state in reference to the Bill (No. 106), and the petition of the churchwardens of St. James' Church, Toronto, that it is reasonable, in the opinion of the undersigned, that the said Bill do pass, provided there is added thereto a clause duly protecting the rights of holders of debentures already issued; and the undersigned are of opinion that such protection will be sufficiently afforded by adding to the Bill a clause in the words following:

"Nothing herein contained shall prejudice or affect any legal or equitable right of priority, which the holders of debentures issued at the time of passing of this Act may have or possess."

J. G. SPRAGGE, C.
S. H. STRONG, V. C.

OSGOODE HALL,
4th March, 1874.

The undersigned, to whom with the Judges of the Superior Courts of Common Law and Equity Commissions have been issued to report in respect of any Estate Bills or petitions for Estate Bills which may be submitted to the Legislative Assembly of Ontario, beg to state in reference to the Estate Bill (No. 55), and the petition of the rector and churchwardens of Trinity Church in the town of Cornwall, that it may be considered doubtful if the petitioners have power under Provincial Statute, 36 Vic., cap. 135, sec. 2, to mortgage the church and property referred to in their petition, to raise money to complete the church, and for the other purposes mentioned in the petition. The power under the section referred to, it seems is to be exercised to secure the debt contracted for the building, repairing, extending, or improving the church, &c., or to borrow money to pay for the purchase of the land.

If the lots referred to in the petition and Bill are vested in the incumbent and churchwardens for the time being, under the Statutes of Upper Canada, 3 Vict. cap. 74, sec. 1., we cannot say that it is unreasonable that it should pass into law.

But if the land is not vested in the incumbent and churchwardens under the Statute referred to, then we have not the necessary information before us on which to decide whether it is reasonable that the Bill should pass into law, for that may depend on the terms of the deed under which they hold the land.

We suggest that in any event, a proviso to the following effect be added to the Bill.

" Provided that the whole mortgage debt upon the said church and church property, shall not exceed at any one time the principal sum of six thousand dollars."

OSGOODE HALL,
6th March, 1874.

The undersigned, to whom with other judges of the Superior Courts of Law and Equity Commissions have been issued to report in respect of any Estate Bills or Petitions for Estate Bills which may be submitted to the Legislative Assembly, have the honour to state in reference to Estate Bill (No 69), and the Petition of the Honourable William McMaster, David Buchan, William Elliott and James Burns, of the City of Toronto, trustees of the Regular Baptist Church in Toronto upon which it is founded, that they consider the Bill open to the objection that it proposes to effect by private legislation that which can be done under an existing general law.

Under Provincial Statutes 36 Vic., cap. 135, sec. 7, it is provided that when land held by trustees for the use of a congregation or religious body becomes unnecessary to be retained for such use, and it is deemed advantageous to sell the land, the trustees, for the time being, may give public notice of an intended sale, specifying the premises to be sold and the time and terms of sale and, after publication of the notice for four successive weeks in a weekly paper published in or near the place where the lands are situated, they may sell the land at public auction according to the notice; but the trustees shall not be obliged to complete or carry a sale into effect if, in their judgment, an adequate price is not offered for the land. Provided however that this provision shall not effect or vary any special powers or trusts for sale contained in any deed or instrument and inconsistent therewith.

Section 9 provides that, before any deed is executed in pursuance of a sale, the congregation or religious body for whose use the lands are held shall be duly notified thereof, and its assent obtained for the execution of the said deed, and such assent shall be signified by the votes of a majority of the members present at a meeting of the congregation or body duly called for the purpose, and such assent shall be held in favour of the grantee and assigns to be conclusively testified by the execution of the said deed by the chairman at such meeting, or by the official head of such religious body, or by some person appointed at such meeting for the purpose, and the person, assuming to execute said deed as chairman, official head or appointee, shall be presumed to be such chairman, official head or appointee (as the case may be); or, instead of such assent of the congregation or religious body, as aforesaid, it shall be sufficient for the validity of such deed of conveyance that the sale be sanctioned and the deed approved of by the judge of the County Court of the County in which the land sold is situate.

The Statute seems to apply to the object which the petitioners have in view, namely the sale of the land referred to, because of its becoming unnecessary for the use of the congregation.

Private legislation being unnecessary to obtain the object of the petitioners, it seem not reasonable or proper that the proposed Bill should pass into law.

OSGOODE HALL,
9th March, A. D. 1874.

The undersigned, to whom with other Judges of the Superior Courts of Law and Equity Commissions have been issued to report in respect of any Estate Bills or petitions for Estate Bills which may be submitted to the Legislative Assembly, have the honour to state in reference to Estate Bill (No. 26,) and the petition of the trustees of the First Coloured Calvinist Baptist Church in the City of Toronto that, without seeing the trust deed referred to in the preamble of the Bill and petition, they are not able to report whether it is reasonable that the Bill should pass into a law, or whether any or what alterations and amendments are necessary in the same.

The allegations in the preamble of the Bill merely set forth the desire of the petitioners to have certain trusts and provisions contained in their deed altered and extended ; if they are proved to the satisfaction of the House, they do not seem to show any reason why the trusts contained in the deed of the original donor, or grantor of the land should be varied without his assent.

As already intimated, we are not prepared, from the information placed before us, to report that it is reasonable that the Bill do pass into a Law.

OSGOODE HALL,
9th March, A.D. 1874.

The undersigned, to whom with the other Judges of the Superior Courts of Law and Equity Commissions have been issued to report in respect of any Estate Bills, or petitions for Estate Bills which may be submitted to the Legislative Assembly, have the honour to state in reference to Estate Bill (No. 75), and the petition of the Incumbent and Churchwardens of St. Paul's Church, in the Town of Lindsay, that it does not appear from the preamble of the Bill or petition to whom the land in question was granted, nor when, nor for the benefit of what particular church or body of Christians the same was intended, or whether intended for any body of Christians.

There is nothing to show that the petitioners had any particular interest in the land so granted ; nor does it appear from the petition why the money for the sale of the land was paid to the incorporated Synod of the Diocese of Toronto.

The fact of the purchaser having erected a dwelling on the land, so that the powers, if any, of the general Statutes would not apply to this case, may justify the parties in asking the Legislature for relief.

If the proper materials were furnished to supply the omissions pointed out, it might be reasonable to pass the Bill into a law ; but at present we are not in a position to say that it would be reasonable to do so.

OSGOODE HALL,
9th March, A.D. 1874.

The undersigned, to whom with other Judges of the Superior Courts of Law and Equity Commissions have been issued to report in respect of any Estate Bills or petitions for Estate Bills which may be submitted to the Legislative Assembly, have the honour to state, in respect to Estate Bill (No. 80), and the petition of the trustees and members of the Oshawa Congregation of the Canada Presbyterian Church—formerly constituting the United Presbyterian Church of Whitby—that the effect of the preamble recited in the Act appears to be, that one Robert Spears conveyed the land therein described to the trustees of the Congregation of the Church in trust for the congregation, in pursuance of the Statutes, and that the congregation, not requiring the whole of the said lands, sold a portion (described) to the Reverend Robert Hill Thornton, D.D., and by two separate conveyances, dated respectively the 23rd May, 1867, and 21st March, 1873, purported to convey the said lands to the said Robert Hill Thornton in two separate parcels ; that it appears the trustees, in making the sale and conveyances, acted in good faith and for the benefit of the congregation, though unaware of the manner of proceeding to make sale of lands provided under Consolidated Statutes of U.C., cap. 69, and the amendments thereof ; and that the trustees and congregation are desirous of having the sale and conveyances declared as valid and effectual to pass such estate and interest to the purchaser to all intents and purposes as if such sale and conveyances had been made by the said trustees under Con. Stat. U.C., cap. 69, and the amendments thereto.

If the conveyance had been made under the provisions of the Consolidated Statutes referred to, under the 10th section of the Act, it was necessary that the sanction of the Court of Chancery should be obtained for the execution of the deed; that Court would probably have required the original deed of trust to be produced, and if the sale of the land which the congregation desired to make, would be in violation of the terms on which the donor made his grant, the Court would probably refuse to sanction the deed, unless the donor or his heirs consented, or at all events were heard.

The petitioners state in their petition that the money arising from such sale was applied in payment of the salary of the minister—it seems strange that the congregation should not have been able to pay the salary of their minister—it can hardly be supposed that the original donor of the land would have contemplated a sale of the trust property for such a purpose.

The petition seems to be signed by the trustees and a large number of the congregation (it is stated over four-fifths of the members of the congregation).

In the absence of information as to the original grant, whether the land was purchased by or a gift to the congregation, and whether the grantor and his heirs are assenting parties to the sale by the congregation, we are unable to say if it is reasonable the said Bill should pass into a law.

Mr. Speaker resumed the Chair ; and Mr. Hodgins reported, That the Committee had come to several Resolutions ; and That the Committee had directed him to ask leave to sit again.

Ordered, That the Report be received To-morrow.

Resolved, That this House will again resolve itself into the said Committee To-morrow.

The House then adjourned at 12 o'clock, midnight.

Wednesday, 11th March, 1874.

3 O'CLOCK, P.M.

Mr. Speaker informed the House, That the Clerk had received from the Judges appointed to inquire into and report on Estate Bills, their Report in the following case :—

Bill (No. 95) To vest certain lands in the St. Thomas Cemetery Company.

The Report was then read by the Clerk at Table as follows :—

TORONTO, 10th March, 1874.

SIR,—I beg to enclose the Estate Bill (No. 95), sent me by you for a report under the Statute.

I also send you the report on the Bill, signed by the Honourable the Chancellor and myself, and have the honour to be

Your obedient servant,
WM. B. RICHARDS.

To Charles T. Gillmor, Esquire,
Clerk of Legislative Assembly, Toronto.

OSGOODE HALL, March, A.D. 1874.

The undersigned, to whom with other Judges of the Superior Courts of Law and Equity, Commissions have been issued to report in respect to any Estate Bill or Petitions for Estate Bill which may be submitted to the Legislative Assembly, have the honour to state in reference to Estate Bill number 95 and the petition of the trustees of the cemetery lands, purchased from the late James Thomas Curtis, situate in lot number two in the ninth Concession of Yarmouth, within the Town of St. Thomas, that in the preamble of the Bill certain persons are named as being a majority of the trustees of the burying-ground or cemetery, thereafter described on the farm of the late James Thomas Curtis, being part of lot number two in ninth concession of Township of Yarmouth, in the County of Elgin, now within the Town of St. Thomas, and state in their petition that the cemetery thereafter described, consisting of two acres of land, about thirty years ago was purchased from the said Curtis, and paid for in full, as appeared by the receipt for the purchase money given by the said Curtis to Daniel Hanvey, Esquire, the secretary of the said burying-ground or cemetery, which was annexed to the journal book of proceedings of said committee or trustees of said burying-ground, and also representing that for many years said burying-ground had ceased to be used as a burying-ground.

The preamble further recites that the said township lot number two was granted by the Crown many years ago, and the said two acres for the burying-ground or cemetery was purchased from Mr. Curtis with the proceeds of the subscriptions of the original lot-holders, by the then committee or trustees, without receiving from him a conveyance for the whole of the said burying-ground or cemetery. That some of the lot-holders received from Mr. Curtis conveyances for the burying lots they selected, some of which conveyances still exist, while a great many have been mislaid or lost, and have not been registered, except one, which was afterwards referred to, and contained a description of the whole of the cemetery block.

It again recited that no conveyance of the whole of the said burying-ground or cemetery block of two acres was made by Mr. Curtis to the said committee or trustees, and also stated that no provision is made by Statute for such conveyance thereof. The trustees, in their petition to the Legislature, prayed that "the cemetery lands might be vested in them and their successors, and that they, or a majority of them, might be enabled to sell and convey the same, or any part thereof, and apply the net proceeds of such sale or sales in purchasing other lands for cemetery purposes, and it is desirable to grant the prayer of such petition."

Con. Stat. of U. C., cap. 68, provides for conveyance of lands to trustees for burial places, not to belong exclusively to any particular denomination of christians, wherever any of the inhabitants of a township or locality to the number of ten or more desire to take such conveyance. Cap. 69 provides for conveyance of land, for that and other purposes, to trustees appointed by any religious society or congregation of christians in Upper Canada.

It does not seem that legislation is necessary to authorize a conveyance of land to trustees to be held for the purpose of a burial-ground. The preamble and petition show that Mr. Curtis, being the grantee of the Crown of the original township lot, after the cemetery had been laid out into plots of ground to be used for purposes of burial, conveyed to some of the lot-holders the burial-ground lots which they had selected. These lots became the property of the persons to whom they were conveyed as absolutely as most of the real estate of the country is held by its owners. No reason why the owners of these lots should be deprived of them is suggested in the Bill. From anything that appears in the preamble or petition, these two acres of land may be filled with the remains of the purchasers of burial lots and their friends, and costly monuments may be erected to their memory. If the property in the whole of these two acres is vested in these trustees, as sought for by the petitioners, they may sell and convey it in fee, and the purchasers could do what they pleased with it—dig up the bones of the dead, and scatter them abroad, if they thought proper. There is nothing to show to what extent the ground may have been used for burial purposes. The petitioners represent that for many years it has ceased to be used as a burial-ground. It may be because there is not room for more bodies to be interred there, or because it was thought advisable to bury the dead somewhere else. It appears from the petition that, at a meeting of the Trustees, held at St. Thomas, it was unanimously resolved that a notice be published in the newspapers within the County of Elgin, and that a circular be issued to the lot-holders and others interested in the matter.

The copy of the notice is inserted, and the effect of it is to notify the holders of any lots, and all persons interested in the cemetery, that a public meeting will be held in the Town-Hall, in the Town of St. Thomas, on Friday, the 28th February, at 2 o'clock, p.m., for the purpose of taking into consideration the best mode of disposing of said property, it having ceased to be useful for cemetery purposes. It was dated 17th January, 1873, and signed by the secretary and chairman of the board of the cemetery trustees. That the notice was advertised, and a circular was addressed and sent to lot-holders and others interested in the cemetery. The notice is copied, and is dated St. Thomas, 15th February, 1873, informing them that a meeting will be held on the 28th, at the Town-Hall, to take into consideration the best means of disposing of the said property, it having ceased to be used for cemetery purposes, and the persons to whom it was addressed were requested to attend the meeting, and it was signed by the secretary of the board of trustees. The names of the parties to whom the circular was addressed are not given, nor is it mentioned how or when it was sent to them. The petition proceeds to recite that a meeting of the lot-holders, and others interested in the cemetery, was held in the town-hall, in pursuance of the notice. It is not stated in the petition who attended the meeting, how many lot-holders, and how many others that were interested who were not lot-holders, how many voted for the resolutions, nor how many against them. All the resolutions are not given. The third is to the effect that the trustees do petition the Legislature to pass an Act to empower them to sell the cemetery grounds, and any part thereof, to such parties as may wish to purchase the same, and to convey the fee-simple and inheritance of the land, when sold, to the purchasers, their heirs and assigns, for ever, free from all incumbrances, except such as are contained in the original grant from the crown, and that proper notice be given of such application. The fourth resolution directed that the purchase-money of the ground should be applied by the trustees in purchasing other lands to be used for cemetery purposes.

It may be that no bodies were ever interred in the cemetery, or that the remains of those that were interred have been removed, and that all the lot-holders are willing that whatever is sought for in the petition should be granted, but this does not appear in the petition, or the preamble of the Bill.

The Bill itself enacts that the piece of land—describing it—notwithstanding any conveyances for any of the burying ground lots in said cemetery heretofore made by the said James Curtis—being the whole of the said burying ground, including the walks, be now vested in the committee or trustees aforesaid, naming them for all the estate, and interest that was intended should be conveyed by the said James Curtis when these lands were purchased from him at fifty dollars an acre by the committee of the burying ground, and paid for to him on the 5th day of December, 1843, and then authorizing the trustees to exchange the said lands for other lands, or to sell, convey, and dispose of the same, including the walks and allowance for walks, either at private sale or public auction, and to resell in such manner as to them may seem fit.

The Bill also provides that the vendors shall apply the net produce of the sale in refunding, if required to do so, to any lot-holder or the person now entitled to the same, on proof that is satisfactory to them that such applicant is entitled to the same, double the amount originally paid by the claimant for his or her cemetery lot, and that the net residue thereafter shall be applied for other cemetery lands and purposes.

If this had been a piece of land bought for the purposes of a cemetery, and only a portion had been used for those purposes, and the remaining portion had been unnecessary to be used for such purposes, and no private lot owners were concerned, the general rule applicable to lands of this description might be properly resorted to, and the land which was not necessary for the original purpose might properly be sold.

But from what appears from the preamble of the Bill and petition, this land, or the greater portion of it, may have been used for cemetery purposes, the remains of bodies that were interred may be lying there ; and although it has ceased to be used for the purpose of interring bodies there, it cannot be said in this view to be unnecessary to be retained for the purpose for which it was originally obtained. As far as we are informed by the preamble and petition, we are not in a position to say that it is reasonable that this Bill do pass into a law.

In some of the States of the neighbouring Union cemetery companies are obliged to establish a sinking fund out of the sale of the burial plots, to keep the grounds fenced and in order, after all the land is sold and they have ceased to derive any profit from its use.

If this Bill is to pass into a law, it would seem reasonable that the friends of the parties who are interred there should have a reasonable time to remove their remains, if the trustees are not to do so, at their own expense.

It is not shown that there is any great public interest to serve by selling these two acres of ground, so as to warrant the depriving of parties who own the small piece of ground sold to them (or the persons under whom they claim) for a valid money consideration duly paid, of their property without their consent, and, in addition to that, virtually compelling them to remove the remains of their friends at their own expense.

If the names of the original subscribers and lot-owners are contained in the journal book of proceedings of the committee or trustees, there would be some means of giving them, or their representatives, notice of their intention to sell the grave-yard, and obtaining their consent, or some good reason might be shown why their consent, though not formerly obtained, might reasonably be presumed to be given for the sale of the land. Nothing of this kind appears in the preamble or petition, or no suggestion why it could not be had. We therefore come to the conclusion, already expressed, if the allegations contained in the preamble to this Bill are proved to the satisfaction of the House, it is not reasonable that it should pass into a law.

Bill (No. 139), intituled "An Act to regulate Public Aid to Charitable Institutions."

—The Honourable Mr. Fraser.

Ordered, That the Bill be read the second time To-morrow.

On motion of the Honourable Mr. Fraser, seconded by the Honourable Mr. Pardee,

Resolved, That this House will To-morrow resolve itself into a Committee to consider the following Resolutions :—

1. That it is desirable and expedient that all appropriations from the public funds in aid of charitable institutions should be made upon some properly arranged and equitable system, and that municipal and other corporations as well as private individuals should be stimulated and encouraged to give a liberal support to such institutions, and therefore that, from and after the thirty-first day of December, in the year of Our Lord one thousand eight hundred and seventy-four, aid from the public funds or moneys of this Province should be given to charitable institutions hitherto receiving public aid, and named in Schedules A, B and C, upon the terms and under the provisions of this and the following Resolutions :—

2. That it is expedient to provide that in case of public moneys being appropriated for such purposes by this House, every institution named in said schedules complying with the requirements of any Act in that behalf, and of all orders made thereunder, by the Lieutenant-Governor in Council, shall, from and after said thirty-first day of December, receive in each year aid from such moneys to the extent and amount following, that is to say :—

(a.) Every institution named in said Schedule A shall so have and receive twenty-cents for each day's actual treatment and stay of every patient admitted to, or being within such last mentioned institution during the calendar year next preceding the year for which such aid is given.

(b.) Every institution named in said Schedule B shall so have and receive five cents for each day's actual lodgment and maintenance therein of any indigent person during the calendar year next preceding that for which such aid is given.

(c.) Every institution named in said Schedule C shall so have and receive one and a half cents for each day's actual lodgment and maintenance therein of any orphan or neglected and abandoned child during the calendar year next preceding that for which aid is given.

3. That it is expedient to provide that in every year as aforesaid, every such institution shall also be entitled to have and receive from such public funds, further aid to the extent and amount following, that is to say :

(a) Every institution named in Schedule A, ten cents.

(b) Every institution named in Schedule B two cents, and

(c) Every institution named in Schedule C, one-half cent for every such day's actual stay and treatment or lodgment and maintenance of any patient or person therein as aforesaid : Provided always that the aggregate amount of such further aid, at the rate aforesaid, does not in any one year exceed one-fourth of the entire moneys received by such institutions in said preceding year, from all sources other than the Province, towards the ordinary yearly maintenance thereof, and in every such case, where said further aid in the aggregate would so exceed said one-fourth of said last mentioned moneys, there shall be substituted and given in lieu thereof from the public moneys, so appropriated a sum equal to the said one-fourth of said last mentioned moneys.

4. That it is expedient to provide that in calculating the amount of aid so to be given under to any such institution as aforesaid, the day of departure of any such patient or person from any such institution, shall not be counted or reckoned.

5. That it is expedient to provide that the Treasurer of the Province, with the authority of the Lieutenant-Governor in Council, may from any moneys appropriated for that purpose by this House, advance and pay by such periodical payments in every year as the Lieutenant-Governor in Council deems fit, to any institution so entitled to receive aid, all sums to which such institution may be so entitled, but if in any year the aggregate amount so payable exceeds the amount of the moneys so appropriated, then every such institution shall in any such year receive by way of aid as aforesaid, such sum only as will bear the same proportion to the amount of aid, which, but for this provision it would receive, as the amount of moneys so appropriated bears to such aggregate aid as aforesaid.

6. That it is expedient to provide that the Lieutenant-Governor in Council, may by Order in Council direct that any institution (naming it) similar to those named in either of said Schedules, shall be thereafter taken as named in such one of said schedules as in that behalf is specially designated in such order, and thereupon and thereafter said last mentioned institution shall receive aid after the manner and to the same extent as the other institutions now named in said last mentioned Schedule. Provided always, that no such Order in Council shall be made except upon report of the Inspector of Asylums, to and for the information of the Lieutenant Governor in Council, showing that the institution named in such order has all the usual and proper requirements for one of its nature and objects, and that for reasons therein stated, the same ought to be so aided ; and provided moreover, that every such Order in Council shall as soon as conveniently may be after the making thereof, be laid before this House for its ratification or rejection, and that no such Order shall be operative unless and until the same shall have been ratified by a Resolution of this House,

7. That it is expedient to provide that, If there be a residue of the moneys so appropriated, because of the same being more than sufficient to pay the sums payable to the said institutions as aforesaid, then every of the said institutions named in said Schedules, which may not be entitled to receive under the foregoing provisions the sum set opposite its name in said Schedules, and being the sum heretofore granted thereto, shall receive out of the said residue, such an amount by way of supplementary aid, as will make the total aid received by such institution equal to the said sum so set opposite its name, if such residue is sufficient for that purpose, or if insufficient, then such proportion thereof as the said residue will permit of.

8. The Order of the Day for the House again to resolve itself into a Committee of Supply, having been read,

The Honourable Mr. Crooks moved, seconded by the Honourable Attorney-General Mowat,

That Mr. Speaker do now leave the Chair.

The Honourable Mr. Cameron moved in amendment, seconded by Mr. Rykert,

That all words after "That" be left out, and the following substituted therefor, "it appears from the report of Kivas Tully, Esquire, Architect and Engineer of the Public Works Department, to the Honourable Archibald McKellar, Commissioner of Agriculture and Public Works, dated the twentieth day of January, 1874, appended to the Commissioner's Report for the year of Our Lord 1873, submitted to this House during the present Session, that the said Kivas Tully, according to instructions, accompanied Mr. Scott, who was acting for the Honourable Attorney-General Mowat, and Mr. Wagner to the Central Prison on the eighteenth day of September last, when the works were formally taken possession of and handed over to Mr. Wagner as Superintendent, who has since continued in charge.

"That it further appears from the evidence taken before the Public Accounts Committee, and reported to this House, that a large number of men were employed in the said Central Prison Works by the Government, who were engaged and discharged at the will of the said Wagner and one George Hillam, a foreman under the said Wagner.

"That it further appears from the said evidence, that on the eighth day of December last past, at the request of one Nathaniel Dickey, who was a member of a Committee formed to secure the return of Thomas Moss, Esquire, one of the candidates for election to the House of Commons for the Western Division of the City of Toronto, and to the knowledge of the Honourable Archibald McKellar, a prominent and energetic supporter of the said Moss, the Honourable Archibald McKellar wrote and gave a letter to the said Dickey, addressed to the said Wagner, authorizing or permitting him, the said Wagner, to allow the men under his charge at the said Prison a half holiday, for the purpose of attending the nomination at said election, on the said eighth day of December last past, and to allow them their wages or time for the said half day, as if they had been at work.

"That it further appears from the said evidence, that men to the number of two hundred and eight, under the controul of the said Wagner, were permitted to attend said nomination, and were paid out of the Public Funds of this Province for the said half day, the sum of two hundred and four dollars and seventeen cents, although absent, for the purpose aforesaid, from their work.

"That it further appears from the said evidence, that one H. M. Melville was a contractor on the said Prison, and had about forty-seven men under his employment at the said works, on the said eighth day of December last past; that on the morning of that day said Melville was absent from the said work, and while he was so absent, his foreman, one Foster, acting upon instructions from the said George Hillam, a foreman and Inspector of the Government, under the said Wagner, who promised that the men of the said Melville should lose nothing by going to the nomination, allowed the men to attend the said nomination, and the said Melville caused the said men to be paid, but the said Wagner refused to repay him the amount paid for the said half day, which was about forty-seven dollars.

“That the said Honourable Archibald McKellar was present at the said nomination on the hustings.

“That the said Honourable Archibald McKellar admits the writing of the letter to the said Wagner, authorising the said half-holiday for the men to attend the nomination and the payment of their wages, and alleges his reason for so doing, “he thought it was only a proper and graceful thing for the Government to give their men the same indulgence as other employers of labour did.”

“Be it therefore Resolved, That the action of the said Honourable Archibald McKellar in authorising or permitting the said men, to the number of two hundred and eight, to take a half-holiday, and paying them for their time as if at work, was an improper interference by a member of the Government of Ontario in an election to the Commons, and calculated to unduly influence the men in the employment of the Government, and was an act subversive of the freedom and purity of elections.

“That freedom and purity of elections are essential to a just representation of the people and to good government, and it is the duty of this House to condemn any member of this House or of the Government who may be guilty of any act calculated to interfere with such freedom and purity of elections.

“That the payment of the sum of two hundred and four dollars and seventeen cents to men to attend a political meeting was an unauthorised misappropriation of the public money.

“That for the said acts the Honourable Archibald McKellar, in his character of Commissioner of Public Works and member of the Executive Council, deserves the censure and condemnation of this House.”

Mr. Bethune moved in amendment to the proposed Amendment, seconded by Mr. Wood.

That all the words in the amendment after “That” be struck out, and the following inserted in lieu thereof:—“the giving of a half holiday to the men engaged on the Central Prison, to allow them, without distinction of party, to attend the public nomination at the late election for the House of Commons in West Toronto, and the not withholding of the payment of wages for the said half day from them, was permitted by the Honourable the Commissioner of Public Works, without any improper motive.”

And objection having been taken to the Amendment to the Amendment as being out of order,

Mr. Speaker, having been referred to, decided, That the rule is well settled in this country that it is not in order to move an amendment to an amendment to the motion to go into Supply. Mr. Speaker Smith gave two contradictory decisions upon the question; but Mr. Speaker Wallbridge afterwards gave a more formal decision, expressly stating his opinion to be that, according to the English practice, only one amendment can be moved. But it is hardly accurate to say that only one amendment can, in England, be moved to a motion to go into Supply. It is true that, if the first amendment is lost, no further amendment can be moved; but it is also true that, if the amendment is carried, further amendments can be moved. The reason why no further amendment can be moved when the first is negatived is, that the form of putting the question, “shall the words proposed to be left out stand part of the question,” entirely precludes it. If that question is carried, the House has declared that the original question shall stand unaltered, and it is therefore irregular to propose any amendment. It must also be borne in mind that under no circumstances can an amendment to an amendment be moved in England until the first amendment has been carried, and so has become a substantive motion. I recognize the importance to the minority of having some one occasion—and going into Supply being the recognized time for stating grievances, is no doubt the most convenient time—where they may be permitted to offer, for the consideration of the House, a proposition, with the assurance that it shall not be superseded by an amendment. But it must be remembered that they have no such privilege in England, for no matter what the amendment may be, the question first put to the House is "That the Speaker do now leave the Chair." It is perfectly clear, therefore, that this rule, which has been adopted in this country, is not justified by Parliamentary practice in England.

But the rule has been so firmly settled, so frequently acted upon, and so well recognized by all parties, and by all Parliaments in this country, that I cannot take upon myself the responsibility of reversing it without an express resolution of this House, and I therefore hold the amendment of the Honourable Member for Stormont to be out of order.

The proposed Amendment was then again moved, and a Debate having arisen,

Mr. Speaker called upon Mr. Clarke (Wellington) to take the Chair during his absence; and, after some time, Mr. Speaker resumed the Chair.

The House having continued to sit until twelve of the clock, midnight,

The Debate continued.

Mr. Speaker called upon Mr. Monk to take the Chair during his absence, and after some time Mr. Speaker resumed the Chair.

On motion of Mr. Wood, seconded by Mr. Clarke (Norfolk), Ordered, That the Debate be adjourned.

The House then adjourned at 1.10 A.M.

Friday, 13th March, 1874.

The Honourable Mr. Crooks moved, seconded by the Honourable Attorney-General Mowat,

That Mr. Speaker do now leave the Chair.

The Honourable Mr. Cameron moved in amendment seconded by Mr. Rykert,

That all the words in the Motion after “That” be struck out, and the following substituted therefor: “it appears, by the Report of the Architect and Engineer of the Public Works Department, that work to the extent of $81,530.21 has been done at the Central Prison, a work under the control of the Government of the Province, under the superintendence of one J. P. Wagner by days' labour, and by the purchasing of material at private contract, without having invited tenders by public advertisement for such work, and submitted the same to public competition.

“That it further appears that the Inebriate Asylum at Hamilton, the cottages for Insane patients at the London Asylum, the fence round the Parliament Buildings at Toronto, and other Public Works have been let to contract without competition having been invited therefor by public advertisement, except in the case of the Inebriate Asylum for which tenders had been invited by public advertisement but, after such tenders were received, alterations in the plans were made; and the contract for the altered works was given out without tenders having been asked by public advertisement.

“That it further appears from the said Report, and on investigation of the Public Accounts by the Public Accounts Committee, that the said Central Prison work had been let under contract to one John Elliott, after public competition, and was by order of the Government taken out of the hands of the said Elliott for the alleged reason that he was not making sufficient progress with the work, and placed under the superintendence of the said Wagner, on the eighteenth day of September last past; that the men then employed on the said works, although they were satisfied with the wages they had been receiving from the said Elliott, within two or three days after the works were taken charge of by the Government, struck for higher wages, and such wages were increased from twenty-five to fifty cents a day, whereby the said men had to be thereafter employed for months, at a loss of not less than from fifty to one hundred dollars a day to the Government, by reason of the said works not having been put up to public competition.

“And this House feels called upon to express the opinion, that the Government has set aside a well established practice in Constitutional Government, in having let to contract extensive Public Works without the safeguard afforded by public competition invited by public advertisement.”

The Amendment, having been put, was lost on the following division :—

Resolved, That this House doth ratify the Order in Council approved by His Excellency the Lieutenant-Governor on [the seventeenth day of March, 1874, with reference to the Toronto, Grey and Bruce Railway Company which Order is to the following effect:—

The Committee of Council have had under consideration the Memorandum of the Honourable the Treasurer, dated the sixteenth day of March instant, with reference to the application of the Toronto, Grey and Bruce Railway Company for further aid out of the Railway Fund, and they advise that, subject to the ratification of the Order in Council by Resolution of the Legislative Assembly in default of which ratification the Order is inoperative, payment be authorized to be made out of the Railway Subsidy Fund to the Company of the sum of ninety-seven dollars and twenty cents per mile of that portion of the line of the Company's Railway between Orangeville and Owen Sound, such sum to be payable by even half-yearly payments of forty-eight dollars and sixty cents each, on the thirtieth day of June, and the thirty-first day of December in each and every year, during the period of twenty years, computed from the first day of January, 1872, and to the full end thereof, and the Committee further advise that the said grant of aid be subject to the conditions hereinafter mentioned.

The Committee further advise that (subject to the ratification of the Legislative Assembly as aforesaid), payment be authorized to be made to the Company out of the Railway Fund of a sum equal to two thousand dollars per mile for the whole distance of the Railway between Harriston and Teeswater, upon the route authorized by the Order in Council of the twelfth day of March, 1873, and that this provision be in lieu of that authorized by the said last mentioned Order in Council, and the Committee further advise that the said grant of aid hereby authorized be subject to the following conditions:—

Second.—On condition that, on or before the first day of July next, it shall be made to appear to the satisfaction of His Excellency in Council that the line of railway between Orangeville and Owen Sound is completely finished and equipped with all necessary and convenient station houses, and other appliances for the conveyance of the traffic of the District traversed by said line.

Third.—On condition that His Excellency in Council may direct that payment be made to the said Company out of the Railway Fund, (should the same be applicable thereto,) at the rate of one thousand dollars per mile of the said portion of Railway between Orangeville and Owen Sound, instead of the said annual mileage rate of ninety-seven dollars and twenty cents at the option of the Lieutenant-Governor in Council, and the Committee further advise that aid be also granted to the Company at the rate of two thousand dollars per mile, or the equivalent annual payments for that portion of the railway between Weston and Toronto, on proof of a bona fide contract for the completion of the works being made by the first day of September next. Provided, however, that the said Order, or any ratification thereof, shall be of none effect unless the Bill intituled "An Act respecting the Railway Fund, and the Railway Subsidy Fund" become law.

Third. On condition that the said Company agrees to enter into an arrangement at any time hereafter with any other Railway Company for the haulage of the passenger and freight cars for the through business of such last-mentioned Company, upon terms to be fixed by arbitrators, to be appointed by the Lieutenant-Governor in Council, in case the said companies fail to agree thereupon.

And the Committee further advise that the payments hereby authorized be made in respect of such twenty miles of the said railway when fully completed and ready for the conveyance of traffic. Provided however, that the said Order and any ratification thereof, shall be of none effect unless the Bill intituled "An Act respecting the Railway Fund and the Railway Subsidy Fund" become law.

Mr. Rykert moved in amendment, seconded by Mr. Boulter,

That the Resolution be amended by adding thereto the following:—

"And this House feels bound to express its regret that the Government should have passed the Order in Council granting aid to the Hamilton and North-Western Railway Company, in excess of the amount authorized by the Act to make further provision in aid of Railways, which declares that the sum to be granted to any Railway Company out of the Railway Subsidy Fund shall not be less than one hundred and twenty dollars, nor more than two hundred and fifty dollars, per mile per annum, for twenty years on the portion aided."

Resolved, That there shall be charged to the Consolidated Revenue Fund of this Province, the further sum of fifty-nine thousand nine hundred and eighty-two dollars and seventeen cents ($59,982.17), to make good certain payments and expenditures made and expended for the Public Service during the year 1873.

Mr. Speaker resumed the Chair; and Mr. Hodgins reported, That the Committee had come to certain Resolutions.

Ordered, That the Report be received forthwith.

Mr. Hodgins, from the Committee of Ways and Means, reported the following Resolutions:—

Resolved, That there shall and may be paid and applied out of the Consolidated Revenue Fund of this Province, the sum of two millions six hundred and twelve thousand two hundred and ninety-six dollars and forty-four cents ($2,612,296.44), for defraying the several charges and expenses of the Civil Government of this Province, and for other purposes, for the year 1874.

Resolved, That there shall be charged to the Consolidated Revenue Fund of this Province the further sum of fifty-nine thousand nine hundred and eighty-two dollars and seventeen cents ($59,982.17), to make good certain payments and expenditures made and expended for the Public Service, during the year 1873.

The Resolutions, having been read the second time, were agreed to.

The following Bill was then introduced, and read the first time:—

Bill (No. 148), intituled “An Act for granting to Her Majesty certain sums of money required for defraying the expenses of Civil Government for the year one thousand eight hundred and seventy-four, for making good certain sums expended for the Public Service in the year one thousand eight hundred and seventy-three, and for other purposes.”

—The Honourable Mr. Crooks.

Ordered, That the Bill be read the second time forthwith.

The Bill was then read the second time.

Ordered, That the Bill be read the third time forthwith.

The Bill was then read the third time, and passed.

The Order of the Day for the consideration of the Amendments made in Committee on Bill No. (11), Respecting the Railway Fund, and the Railway Subsidy Fund, having been read,

Mr. Rykert took objections to the introduction of any clause in the Bill altering the amount to be paid to any Railway under Railway Subsidy Act, as follow:

1st. Because the Railway Subsidy Act having provided that no less than $120.00, nor more than $240.00 per mile per annum shall be paid any Railway Company, it is not competent for this House, by a subsequent Act, to insert a clause providing for the payment of any greater sum than $240.00 out of the said fund without a recommendation from the Crown.

2nd. That in no case can a motion or Act of Parliament interfere with the distribution of public money already voted, unless recommended by the Crown.

Mr. Speaker being referred to, decided—The rule, no doubt, is that no duties can be imposed, nor can the public expenditure be increased, unless the same has been recommended by a message from His Excellency. In the present case there is no new duty imposed, nor is the public expenditure increased; but it is objected that the Bill proposes a material variation in the mode of distributing the public moneys from that which has been recommended. I cannot agree with that view. It is perfectly clear that the fund cannot be applied to different purposes from those which have been recommended. The cases cited from Laperriere's decision, Nos. 53, 54, 112 and 161, are quite decisive upon that point; but they do not decide that a recommendation is necessary for the purpose of enabling Parliament to alter the mode of distributing the fund in the manner proposed by this Bill. In the present case two funds have been appropriated in aid of railways, one payable en bloc, the other by way of an annual payment for twenty years. This Bill merely proposes to declare what sum per mile, by way of an annual grant for twenty years, shall be equivalent to a present grant of $2,000 per mile, &c., and gives the Governor in Council power to pay out of either fund at his option. There is here no variation of the destination of the fund, no change in the purposes for which it was originally intended, and I therefore overrule the question of order.

The Amendments having been read the second time, were agreed to.

Ordered, That the Bill be read the third time, forthwith.

The Bill was then read the third time, and passed.

The House resolved itself into a Committee to consider Bill (No. (17), To extend the Elective Franchise.

Mr. Bethune moved in amendment to the Amendment, seconded by Mr. Wood,

That all the words after “That” be struck out, and the following inserted in lieu thereof, “inasmuch as nearly all the assessments in the various municipalities for this year have been completed, and inasmuch as no fair general application of this Bill can be had this year, it is inexpedient that it should go into operation until the first day of January next, and that the said Bill be now read the third time.”

Mr. Rykert then moved in amendment to the Motion as amended,

That all the words in the Motion after "That" be struck out, and the following inserted in lieu thereof, "the Bill be not now read the third time, but that it be forthwith referred to a Committee of the whole House with an instruction to amend the first section by adding thereto the following: 'Provided also, that no person assessed for income as aforesaid, shall be entitled to vote at any Parliamentary election, unless he shall have paid all taxes which may have been imposed upon him for or on account of such income and which shall have been placed in the collector's hand prior to such election.'"

And objection being taken to the Amendment,

The original Motion, having been then put, was carried, and the Bill was then passed.

The Order of the Day for the House to resolve itself into a Committee to consider certain proposed Resolutions relative to aid to Charitable Institutions, having been read,

The Honourable Attorney-General Mowat, by command of His Excellency the Lieutenant Governor, acquainted the House that His Excellency, having been informed of the subject matter of the proposed Resolutions, recommends the same to the consideration of the House.

The House accordingly resolved itself into the Committee.

(In the Committee.)

Resolved, That it is desirable and expedient that all appropriations from the public funds in aid of charitable institutions should be made upon some properly arranged and equitable system, and that municipal and other corporations as well as private individuals should be stimulated and encouraged to give a liberal support to such institutions, and therefore that, from and after the thirty-first day of December, in the year of Our Lord one thousand eight hundred and seventy-four, aid from the public funds or moneys of this Province should be given to charitable institutions hitherto receiving public aid, and named in Schedules A. B. and C., upon the terms and under the provisions of this and the following Resolutions.

That it is expedient to provide that in case of public moneys being appropriated for such purposes by this House, every institution named in said schedules complying with the requirements of any Act in that behalf, and of all orders made thereunder by the Lieutenant-Governor in Council shall, from and after said thirty-first day of December, receive in each year aid from such moneys to the extent and amount following, that is to say :—

(a.) Every institution named in said Schedule A. shall so have and receive twenty cents for each day's actual treatment and stay of every patient admitted to, or being within such last mentioned institution during the calendar year next preceding the year for which such aid is given :

(b.) Every institution named in said Schedule B. shall so have and receive five cents for each day's actual lodgment and maintenance therein of any indigent person during the calendar year next preceding that for which such aid is given.

(c.) Every institution named in said Schedule C. shall so have and receive one and a half cents for each day's actual lodgment and maintenance therein of any orphan or neglected and abandoned child during the calendar year next preceding that for which aid is given.

That it is expedient to provide that in every year as aforesaid every such institution shall also be entitled to have and receive from such public funds further aid to the extent and amount following, that is to say :

(a.) Every institution named in Schedule A. ten cents.

(b.) Every institution named in Schedule B. two cents, and

(c.) Every institution named in Schedule C. one-half cent for every such day's actual stay and treatment or lodgment and maintenance of any patient or person therein as aforesaid : Provided always that the aggregate amount of such further aid, at the rate aforesaid, does not in any one year exceed one-fourth of the entire moneys received by such institutions in said preceding year, from all sources other than the Province, towards the ordinary yearly maintenance thereof, and in every such case, where said further aid in the aggregate would so exceed said one-fourth of said last mentioned moneys, there shall be substituted and given in lieu thereof from the public moneys, so appropriated a sum equal to the said one-fourth of said last mentioned moneys.

That it is expedient to provide that in calculating the amount of aid so to be given under to any such institution as aforesaid, the day of departure of any such patient or person from any such institution, shall not be counted or reckoned.

That it is expedient to provide that the Treasurer of the Province, with the authority of the Lieutenant-Governor in Council, may from any moneys appropriated for that purpose by this House, advance and pay by such periodical payments in every year as the Lieutenant-Governor in Council deems fit, to any institution so entitled to receive aid, all sums to which such institution may be so entitled, but if in any year the aggregate amount so payable exceeds the amount of the moneys so appropriated, then every such institution shall in any such year receive by way of aid as aforesaid, such sum only as will bear the same proportion to the amount of aid, which, but for this provision it would receive, as the amount of moneys so appropriated bears to such aggregate aid as aforesaid.

That it is expedient to provide that, the Lieutenant-Governor in Council may, by Order in Council direct that any institution (naming it) similar to those named in either of said Schedules, shall be thereafter taken as named in such one of said schedules as in that behalf is specially designated in such order, and thereupon and thereafter said last mentioned institution shall receive aid after the manner and to the same extent as the other institutions now named in said last mentioned Schedule. Provided always that no such Order in Council shall be made except upon report of the Inspector of Asylums, to and for the information of the Lieutenant Governor in Council, showing that the institution named in such order, has all the usual and proper requirements for one of its nature and objects, and that for reasons therein stated, the same ought to be so aided; and provided moreover, that every such Order in Council shall as soon as conveniently may be after the making thereof, be laid before this House for its ratification or rejection, and that no such order shall be operative unless and until the same shall have been ratified by a Resolution of this House.

That it is expedient to provide that, if there be a residue of the moneys so appropriated, because of the same being more than sufficient to pay the sums payable to the said institutions as aforesaid, then every of the said institutions named in said Schedules, which may not be entitled to receive under the foregoing provisions the sum set opposite its name in said Schedules, and being the sum heretofore granted thereto, shall receive out of the said residue, such an amount by way of supplementary aid, as will make the total aid received by such institution equal to the said sum so set opposite its name, if such residue is sufficient for that purpose, or if insufficient, then such proportion thereof as the said residue will permit of.

That it is expedient to provide that, the Lieutenant-Governor in Council may by Order in Council, direct that any institution so receiving aid, shall not thereafter receive any such aid, and that thereupon and whilst such Order remains unrevoked such last mentioned institution, shall not be entitled to, or receive any further aid from the Public Moneys of the Province; but that upon report of the said Inspector disclosing good and sufficient grounds in that behalf, it shall be competent for the Lieutenant Governor in Council, to revoke any such last mentioned Order, by a like Order in Council, and thereafter such institution shall again receive aid as if the Order in Council firstly in this resolution mentioned had not been made; and that if at any time, upon report of said Inspector, it shall be found that any institution of the character named in Schedule A, is insufficient or without the necessary and proper accommodation or requirements for one of its nature and objects, the Lieutenant-Governor in Council shall thereupon make such Order as is firstly in this resolution mentioned.

The Order of the Day having been read, for resuming the Debate on a proposed Resolution relating to the Municipal Loan Fund Act of 1873, and Amendments proposed thereto, and to which Resolution objection had been taken on Monday the eleventh day of March.

Mr. Speaker said: The rule is perfectly clear that no important variation could be made in the purposes for which a grant of money, recommended by the Crown, had been made without a fresh recommendation. By the English practice it is said to be possible to frame an abstract resolution on the subject of duties without going into Committee; but that it is not regular. No attempt has been made in this resolution to frame it so as to take it out of the ordinary rule. I see no difference whatever between such an important change in the distribution of the fund as is now contemplated, and a resolution which would assume to appropriate any part of the public revenue. The one is just as objectionable in principle as the other, and the same reasoning is applicable to one as to the other throughout all the cases which I have consulted. But it is said that this resolution only proposes an abstract opinion. Sir Erskine May says that such resolutions have been allowed, but he proceeds to say that "they are objectionable, and being an evasion of a wholesome rule, are discouraged as much as possible." Mr. Todd also says that "abstract resolutions in regard to particular branches of taxation have been submitted to the House by private members, but they have been uniformly resisted as being inexpedient and impolitic." These abstract resolutions are, in fact, growing more and more into disfavour in England, as tending to embarrass the Executive, &c. The language of the 54th section of the British North America Act seems also to be more stringent than the rule in England. "It shall not be lawful for the House to adopt or pass any vote, resolution, address, or Bill for the appropriation of any part of the public revenue, or of any tax or impost to any purpose that has not been first recommended," &c. But whatever might have been my own opinion upon this subject, I consider myself bound by a precedent which I find in the journals of this House (1868, par. 66). An abstract resolution was proposed affecting the revenue from timber. The Attorney-General, McDonald, objected that it could not be entertained without the recommendation of His Excellency. A long discussion followed, in which the propriety of permitting abstract resolutions was fully discussed. The Speaker ruled against the resolution, and upon an appeal to the House his ruling was sustained. Believing, as I do, that there is in principle no difference between a resolution which proposes a grant of money and one which proposes to apply a grant already made to an entirely different purpose from that recommended by the Crown, and finding an express decision not only of the Speaker, but of this House itself, against such motions, and finding also that abstract resolutions are so much condemned and discouraged in England, I cannot do otherwise than rule in favour of the objection.

“In Her Majesty’s name, His Excellency the Lieutenant-Governor doth assent to these Bills.”

Mr. SPEAKER then said:—

May it please your Excellency,

We, Her Majesty’s most dutiful and faithful subjects, the Legislative Assembly of the Province of Ontario, in Session assembled, approach Your Excellency at the close of our labours, with sentiments of unfeigned devotion and loyalty to Her Majesty’s person and Government, and humbly beg to present, for Your Excellency’s acceptance, a Bill intituled “An Act for granting to Her Majesty certain sums of money to defray the expenses of Civil Government for the year 1874, and to provide certain sums expended for the Public Service in the year 1873, and for other purposes; thus placing at the disposal of the Crown the means by which the Government may be made efficient for the service and welfare of the Province.”

To this Bill, the Clerk of the House, by His Excellency’s command, did say:—

“His Excellency the Lieutenant-Governor doth thank Her Majesty’s dutiful and loyal subjects, accepts their benevolence, and assent to this Bill, in Her Majesty’s name.”

The LIEUTENANT-GOVERNOR was then pleased to deliver the following speech:—

Gentlemen of the Legislative Assembly,

In releasing you from the labours of the Session, it is my agreeable duty to thank you for the manner in which you have fulfilled the assurances, which at the opening of the Session you gave to me, of your readiness to carefully consider the legislation that might be offered to you; and to express my satisfaction at noticing that all measures which I recommended to your attention have met with your approval. I have had much pleasure in assenting also to the other Bills of public utility which you have passed.

I congratulate you on having devised and adopted important measures, for preventing frauds and correcting errors in the electoral lists; for securing the rights of voters, and freedom and purity in the exercise of those rights; and for extending the franchise to important classes not heretofore possessing that privilege.

You have done a good service to every part of the Province by your revision, improvement and consolidation of the laws (which had for many years been accumulating) for the regulation and management of our Public and High Schools—on the efficiency of which the future condition of our Province so essentially depends.

I have perceived with satisfaction that you have provided a uniform plan for the future distribution of the public money which is annually voted in aid of charitable institutions that should rely chiefly on other sources of support.

I rejoice that you have made further provision for the due administration of justice, by a much-needed addition to the judicial staff, and by adopting such reforms in the machinery of litigation as experience had ascertained to be desirable.

I am pleased that you have passed various measures for the benefit of settlers in yet sparsely occupied portions of our territory.

I am glad that you have approved of the various railway appropriations recommended for your concurrence, and I trust that they will afford important help towards advancing the material interests and the development of the country.

I thank you for the supplies which you have granted for the public service. They shall be expended with economy, and with a due regard to your wishes.

I congratulate you on having been able, while providing for all necessary expenditure, to diminish, at the same time, the public burdens, by abandoning sources of revenue which bear hardly on many of those persons from whom such revenue was derived.

The Honourable Mr. McKellar then said :—

Mr. Speaker, and Gentlemen of the Legislative Assembly,

It is His Excellency the Lieutenant-Governor's will and pleasure that this Legislative Assembly be prorogued until Monday, the fourth day of May next, to be then here holden ; and this Provincial Legislative Assembly is accordingly prorogued until Monday, the fourth day of May next.

Mr. Farewell moved, seconded by Mr. Wood,

That the Committee institute a personal inspection of all the rooms that have been furnished, with a view to ascertain whether the expenditure was necessary.—Carried.

Mr. Eckart, Assistant-Secretary, was called to explain as to items that were furnished for his department.

Mr. Wood asked Mr. Eckart, if at the time these purchases of carpet were made the rooms were properly carpeted, or were the carpets worn out?

Mr. Eckart—The carpet in the Deputy's room was in a dilapidated state, and the one in the Commissioner's room showed signs of wear. It was utilized to carpet the clerk's room across the passage.

Col. Gillmor appeared at the request of the Committee to explain an item that appears in one of the accounts produced by Mr. Notman, with regard to the Government paying the Montreal Telegraph Company's operator's board. He said it was carrying out an agreement with the Company, that had been going on since the first session of this Legislature.

Mr. Tully, Architect and Engineer of Public Works Department, appeared at the request of the Committee to explain certain items of R. Hay & Co.'s accounts for furniture furnished the Public Buildings.

Mr. Wood asked Mr. Tully if he knew anything about an item of $193.00 for furniture furnished for the Commissioner of Public Works room? If the Province had been credited with the amount?

Mr. Tully—It was credited in a subsequent account. I think this account shown me $259 30 (No. 1 in these minutes), was for Mr. McKellar's, and another room in this end the building. The item $119.14 was, I think, for Mr. Gow's room. Mr. McKellar's old room is occupied by the Registrar-General.

Mr. Wood—Have you any idea where the furniture from Mr. Gow's room went to?

Mr. Tully—I think it was taken charge of by Mr. Phillips, in the centre building. I never gave an order for a card table.

This item (card table) appears in the account (No. 1) as furnished for the “Commissioner.”

Mr. Phillips, housekeeper of the centre building, was ordered to be sent for.

Mr. Rykert asked Mr. Phillips where the furniture was taken to that was in Mr. McKenzie's room?

Mr. Phillips—I do not know. The Sergeant-at-Arms, I think, has three of the chairs from Mr. Gow's room, and a hair-cloth lounge also from Mr. Gow's room is in the Accountant's (Mr. Notman's) room. I took it there by instruction of Col. Gillmor. The bedding, &c., I think, must have gone back to Messrs. R. Hay & Co.

Mr. Rykert—You had better find out for certain by to-morrow, what has become of the furniture from Mr. McKenzie's and Mr. Gow's rooms.

Mr. Phillips—My impression is that all the things from Mr. Gow's room, except the three chairs, the hair-covered lounge and a knee-hole desk, were returned to Messrs. R. Hay & Co.

Mr. McDonald, housekeeper, east wing, appeared at the request of the Committee.

Mr. Rykert—How many rooms were furnished in the east wing in 1872?

Mr. McDonald—The only one I remember was the Commissioner of Public Works. Mr. Gow slept over the Speaker's room. Mr. McKenzie slept in the room next to the Treasurer's office.

Mr. Rykert—Who now occupies the room occupied by Hon. Mr. McKellar in 1872?

Mr. McDonald—He sleeps there still. The furniture in Mr. McKenzie's room belonged to Hon. Mr. Wood.

Mr. McDonald.—The card-table is now in Mr. McKellar's room.

The following credits appear as one of the accounts of Messrs. R. Hay & Co :—

By furniture paid for by Mr. McKellar	$163 35
“ “ returned by Sergeant-at-Arms	69 25
“ “ “	35 25

Mr. R. Hay was ordered to be notified to appear before the Committee to-morrow to explain certain items for furniture in his accounts.

The Committee adjourned until to-morrow, Wednesday, 25th February, at 10 A.M.

Read and approved.

WEDNESDAY, 25TH FEBRUARY, 1874.

Hon. Mr. Cameron,	“ Wood.

“ “ Richards,	“ Farewell.
	Mr. Lauder.—9.

Accounts, vouchers, &c., were produced in following items :

“ 43 & 44.—Item, Special Services.

“ “ “ Certificate of Judge produced in case of Tyren, asked for by Mr. Cameron.

“ “ 44, “ Law Reform.

“ 47, 48, 49, “ Central Prison.

Considered.—R. Hay & Co., furniture, continued from yesterday.

Mr. Hay appeared at the request of the Committee, and was examined.

Mr. Wood.—For whom were these items of furniture purchased?

Mr. Hay.—It was for Mr. Gow's room.

The Chairman here stated that Mr. Gow had stated to him last evening, that at the time he was Provincial Secretary he went out and offered to pay Mr. Hay for this furniture, but Mr. Hay had refused to take it, as he said the furniture had been transferred to the Sergeant-at-Arms room.

Mr. Hay sworn.—This account was handed to Mr. Hay.

Mr. Cameron.—Have you an account in hand of goods furnished to the east wing of the Parliament Buildings in March, 1872?

Mr. Hay.—Yes, I have.

Mr. Cameron.—Who was it ordered those goods?

Mr. Hay.—I suppose they were ordered by requisition from Mr. Tully.

Mr. Cameron.—Have you the requisition now?

Mr. Hay.—It is possible we may have it.

Mr. Cameron.—Do you know what part of the building the articles charged for were placed ?

Mr. Hay.—It was for the room over the Speaker's.

Mr. Cameron.—Who occupied this room ?

Mr. Hay.—Mr. Gow.

Mr. Cameron.—Was Mr. Gow then Provincial Secretary ?

Mr. Hay.—I think he was.

Mr. Cameron.—Were you paid for this account ?

Mr. Hay.—There is not the least doubt we were.

Mr. Cameron.—To whom was the account charged ?

Mr. Hay.—To the Public Works Department.

Mr. Cameron.—Do you recollect at any time after an application being made about this account, and if so, when ?

Mr. Hay.—Not this account ; Mr Gow called about it ; I cannot say when ; I understood he intended sending those things to his house ; I think it was about the time he left the Government, but I could not be positive.

Mr. Cameron.—Was it about the same time that Mr. McKellar called about this account ?

Mr. Hay.—I cannot say whether it was before or after this time Mr. McKellar called with reference to the account paid by him.

Mr. Cameron.—Before he called had you done anything with the goods ?

Mr. Hay.—No. I think they were distributed about the House, part of them went to the Sergeant-at-Arms room, so I was told by Mr. Phillips, I believe.

Mr. Cameron.—Did you make any charge for furnishing the Sergeant-at-Arms' room ?

Mr. Hay.—We furnished him some other things.

Mr. Cameron.—Why should Mr. Phillips or Mr. Tully have told you anything about changing their things from one room to another ?

Mr. Hay.—I don't think we changed them.

Mr. Cameron.—Did Mr. Gow or Mr. McKellar speak to you recently about this account ?

Mr. Hay.—Mr. Gow did not, Mr. McKellar did this morning, and wanted to show me the Journals, in case I might have forgotten what I had said last year about the things in his own room.

Mr. Cameron.—Where was it you saw Mr. McKellar ?

Mr. Hay.—I overtook Mr. McKellar this morning as I was coming into the building ; I went up to his office and saw the evidence I gave last year ; he said nothing about Mr. Gow's room, he spoke only of his own ; I saw a card-table in his room ; I think it was not ordered for Mr. McKellar's room, but I saw it this morning in his room, I asked him if it was the one the fuss was made about.

Mr. McLeod.—Do you recognize the handwriting in that account.

Mr. Hay.—Yes, I think so, but I do not think the word "Commissioner" was written in our office.

Mr. Wood.—Would a person, not accustomed to using card-tables, be likely to call it a centre-table ?

Mr. Hay.—No ; I do not think so.

Hon. Mr. McKellar appeared at the request of the Committee.

Mr. Wood.—Did you order that table ?

Mr. McKellar.—No sir, I did not ; I never ordered it to be taken to my room.

Mr. Cameron.—Had you a table before ?

Mr. McKellar.—No ; I cannot say that I had.

Mr. Cameron.—Is the table used as a centre-table ?

Mr. McKellar.—It is standing there in my room, I never use it ; the furniture was put in there, I think, by Mr. Tully's order ; the table is there at the present time ; I never ordered it, nor do I use it ; Hon. Mr. Scott sometimes used it, and always sent it back.

As the Chairman stated that Mr Gow requested to make a statement with regard to the furniture charged for his room, Mr. Gow was sent for.

Mr. Gow appeared, and made the following statement :

After I left the Government, I instructed Mr. Phillips to put the things in my room to one side, until I could attend to them. After I returned from Guelph, I went to Mr. Hay and asked him to give me a bill of the furniture furnished for my room, and I would give him a cheque for the amount. Mr. Hay told me there was no necessity, as the furniture was transferred to the Sergeant-at-Arms' room. I was under the impression that the goods had been bought for me, and I expected to pay for them. Having seen Mr. Hay, I applied to Mr. McKellar to know if it was so, that the furniture had been transferred to the Sergeant-at-Arms' room, and Mr. McKellar confirmed Mr. Hay's statement. I think Mr. McKellar ordered them through Mr. Tully. I think I wrote to Mr. McKellar, from Guelph, that I would be down at a certain time, and asked Mr. McKellar to see to the furnishing for me.

Mr. Wood.—Did this take place in January? The House met on the 8th of January.

Mr. Gow.—It took place, I think either the day before or the day after the opening of the House.

Mr. Tully, next called.

Mr. Tully produced requisition dated 5th March, 1872, for furniture, as follows, &c.

DEPARTMENT OF PUBLIC WORKS, ONTARIO.

No. 188.

TORONTO, March 4, 1872.

Required for the use of the Legislative Assembly, Parliament Buildings, the undermentioned articles :

One walnut bedstead and mattress.
One chest of drawers and looking-glass.
Four chairs.
One writing table and slope.
One pair blankets.
Two pairs sheets.
Two pillows and bolster.
Six towels.

Required the filling up on March 5th.

KIVAS TULLY,
Architect & Engineer.

To R. Hay & Co., Toronto.

Mr. Lauder.—Do you know what room these were ordered for?

Mr. Tully.—For the rooms over the Speaker's room, occupied by Hon. Messrs. McKellar and Gow.

Mr. Tully produced another order dated March 8th, 1872.

No. 189.

One wardrobe.
One walnut washing stand and furniture for same and looking glass for Hon. Mr. Gow's room, also one screen for office similar to that in office of Commissioner of Crown Lands.

K. T.

To R. Hay & Co., Toronto.

Mr. Lauder.—You ordered these for the Public Works Department?

Mr. Tully.—Yes.

Mr. McLeod.—Were you told they were for private rooms.

Mr. Tully.—No; they were charged in the usual way, when the furniture was ordered and furnished by Mr. Hay it was put into the two rooms occupied by Mr. McKellar and Gow.

Mr. Rykert.—Who ordered the card table?

Mr. Tully.—I do not know; I did not order it.

Mr. Wood.—I understand you to say that the card table is not in that requisition.

Mr. Hay.—Reappeared and produced his books shewing that the word "Commissioner" was in the original account, and was not inserted by a clerk or any person else outside of his employ; I think it is quite possible that we have a requisition for the card table, but I do not know whether it is for the Commissioner of Crown Lands or Public Works; the Province has not got credit for the table in account of goods furnished for Mr. McKellar.

Mr. Rykert.—You charge us $13.00 for a counterpane, and you only give us credit for $6.25 when you credit these items?

Mr. Hay.—I do not understand this, I think there must be some mistake, it must have been a different counterpane.

Mr. Wood.—Were all the items furnished for Mr. McKellar, and charged to the Province, credited since to the Province, save and except the articles sent to Mr. Scoble's room (March, 1873).

Mr. Hay.—Yes.

Mr. Langmuir and Mr. Tully were ordered to be notified to appear before the Committee to-morrow, to give evidence in contract, &c., Central Prison

The Committee adjourned at 12.45 P.M., until to-morrow, Thursday at 10 A.M.

THURSDAY, 26th Feb., 1874.

Committee met in Treasurer's Office at 10 A.M.

Present:

Mr. McLeod, Chairman.
Hon. Mr. Cameron,	Mr. Lauder,
“ “ Richards,	“ Sinclair,
“ “ Crooks,	“ Farewell,
“ Rykert,	“ Wood,
	“ Hardy.—10.

Pages 47, 48, 49.—CONSIDERED, CENTRAL PRISON, Papers produced.

Mr. Edwards.—Called, and asked to explain item that appears in one of the Central Prison accounts of $200.00 having been paid Mr. Wagner, Superintendent, to be hereafter accounted for.

Mr. Edwards explained that this sum was given to Mr. Wagner to pay small sums that might be requisite from time to time, and was entered in each pay sheet on pay day, and Mr. Wagner re-imbursed, so that he would always have this sum on hand, and at the conclusion of the work he would have to account for this sum in full.

Mr. Jones called, and in answer to Mr. Cameron gave the names of the different foremen at the Central Prison Works.

Mr. Wagner, Superintendent.

“ Geo. Taylor, Clerk of Works.

“ Thos. Hillem, Clerk of Bricklayers.

Mr. Hay appeared to explain about the counterpane spoken of yesterday, where it had been charged at $13.00, and afterwards credited at $6.25 only.

Considerable discussion arose as to whether or not he (Mr. Hay) should be allowed to explain now as they were at other business, and on motion of Mr. Sinclair it was decided to ask Mr. Hay to appear to-morrow morning to give his explanation.

Mr. Tully—examined.

Mr. Cameron.—Do your books or any vouchers in your office, show when the works were taken out of the contractors' hands?

Mr. Tully.—Yes; on 18th Sept.

Mr. Cameron.—Can you get this book.

Mr. Tully.—Yes, they are in the Department.

Mr. Cameron.—Who made arrangements with Mr. Wagner?

Mr. Tully.—I do not know, Mr. Scott on behalf of the Attorney-General said Mr. Wagner was to take possession of the Works.

Mr. Cameron.—Who appointed Mr. Hillem?

Mr. Tully.—I think it must have been Mr. Wagner; Mr. Hillem was one of the Clerks of the Works before that time.

Mr. Cameron.—Who makes the arrangements for payment of wages?

Mr. Tully.—Mr. Wagner.

Mr. Cameron.—Was Wagner subject to your control?

Mr. Tully.—He is not subject to my control in that respect ; he reports to the Commissioner ; he has full charge of the works ; I have general supervision of the works as far as seeing that the work is carried out according to plans and specifications.

Mr. Cameron.—Suppose a change in the works was suggested, who would make that change ?

Mr. Tully.—Written orders were given to the Contractor to make changes in the foundation and other portions of work. All the changes have been done on the recommendation of the Inspector of Prisons and Asylums.

Mr. Cameron.—You examine, I believe, all the pay lists.

Mr. Tully.—No, I have checked none of them since the works have been taken out of the contractor's hands, I merely see that the work is done.

Mr. Cameron.—Was it the practice in former times to have a person like Mr. Wagner discharging this position ?

Mr. Tully.—No, I do not remember any similar instance.

Mr. Cameron.—Has there been any complaint as to your inefficiency ?

Mr. Tully.—No, I still see that the work is properly done ; Mr. Wagner's pay is $8.00 per day, and $1.50 for horse hire ; my salary is $2,200 per year : he gets more than I do for the time he is occupied.

Mr. Cameron.—What was Mr. Wagner's business before taking this position ?

Mr. Tully.—He was a builder ; his son has a factory, but I do not know whether or not he has any interest in it ; Mr. Wagner is very trustworthy and competent to fulfil the duty.

Mr. Cameron.—Who was the time-keeper of the workmen ?

Mr. Tully.—I do not remember ; all those appointments would be made by Mr. Wagner, at least on his recommendation.

Mr. Jones answered and said it was Mr. J. H. Knifton.

Mr. Farewell.—Was it not proper that the Government should appoint some person to look after the superintendence of these works, and look after the interests of the Government when they were taken out of the hands of the contractor ?

Mr. Tully.—Yes, I regard Mr. Wagner as a competent person

Mr. Cameron.—Was it a person like Mr. Wagner or merely a foreman of works that you recommended to be appointed ?

Mr. Tully.—I recommended an architect, as my duties would not permit of my giving my constant superintendence.

Mr. Wood.—Do you consider that Mr. Wagner received too much ?

Mr. Tully.—Considering that Mr. Wagner has given up his own work, I do not think he is paid too much ; I think it would have cost more to have engaged an architect.

Mr. Sinclair.—Do you think an architect going there two or three times a day could do the work as efficiently as Mr. Wagner now does ?

Mr. Tully.—He could with a proper foreman under him.

Mr. Lauder.—Who orders the material ?

Mr. Tully.—Mr. Wagner since 18th September ; the contractor previously ; I certify for all other contract-work, and under this contract, but since the work was taken out of Mr. Elliott's hands, Mr. Wagner orders everything.

Mr. Lauder.—Was there a contract with Mr. Lalor ?

Mr. Tully.—There was a contract for gratings and iron cell doors and locking cells.

Mr. Cameron.—When was that contract made ?

Mr. Tully.—It must have been a year and a-half ago ; there were no tenders asked for, it was a patent, but I checked the qualities and quantities, and am responsible.

Mr. Lauder.—Why was it that Mr. Wagner certified to this account of Mr. Lalor's, and not you ?

Mr. Tully.—This was for work required for constructing eighty-four additional cells, the upper story of which I objected to, and Mr. Wagner allowed him this sum for this extra work.

Mr. Lauder.—Who is Mr. Melville ? Had he a contract ?

Mr. Tully.—He is a carpenter, I believe he had a sub-contract from Mr. Elliott, and I believe Mr. Wagner kept him on after Mr. Elliott left.

Mr. Lauder.—How much work had he done up to Nov. 29th, could you bring your books and show us how much of this work was done up to that time ?

Mr. Tully.—I think I can find out from the progress estimates.

Mr. Cameron.—Has any settlement been made with Mr. Elliott ?

Mr. Tully.—No, not yet; with regard to the price for additional works, in the spring of 1873 he said he would not do the additional work unless he was allowed an extra price for additional works; the agreement was drawn up in July, and appointed Mr. Sheard arbitrator, Mr. Sheard made his award in August, I think, his award was not acted upon; his award was merely for the prices he was to get for his extra work; he was paid up to the end of August for everything he had done at the schedule prices, since that he has not been paid anything upon that award; Messrs. Dickey, Neil & Co's contract was for engines, boilers, and machinery to comply with the conditions of the contract with the Canada Car Company.

Mr. Cameron.—What character of work was the alterations?

Mr. Tully.—It was all smith-work.

Mr. Cameron.—At whose suggestion was that alteration made in the machinery?

Mr. Tully.—To meet the requirements of the Canada Car Company.

Mr. Cameron.—What additional expense was incurred by alterations.

Mr. Tully.—The whole of the work under Dickey, Neil & Co's contract, except that for water supply and additional shafting and machinery.

Mr. Cameron.—Are there no other firms capable of making that kind of work except Dickey, Neil & Co.?

Mr. Tully.—Yes; there are three large establishments that were competent—Dickey, Neil & C., Hamilton & Son, Neil, Currie & Co. I dare say there are others, but these are the principal firms that would be likely to take a contract of that kind.

Mr. Cameron.—What was the character of work the Canada Car Company did?

Mr. Tully.—They combine carpenter's work, painting, glazing, smith work, labouring work, and track-laying.

Mr. Cameron.—How did Dickey, Neil & Co. tender for their work; who was it proposed to them that they should?

Mr. Tully.—As far as I know, no person proposed. They communicated with the Commissioner to do it; it was not submitted to me. I was aware of the prices, but it was under the control of the Inspector of Prisons and Asylums. I had knowledge of the prices when the contract was signed. The tender was accepted before the matter was submitted to me. Dickey, Neil & Co., and Neil Currie & Co., both tendered. Dickey, Neil & Co's. contract was the lowest in the aggregate.

Hon. Mr. Cameron.—How did Neil, Currie & Co. come to tender?

Mr. Tully.—I do not know; I did not see their tender until the other day.

Mr. Hardy.—Was the Government entitled to take possession of the works in consequence of Mr. Elliott not carrying out his contract?

Mr. Tully.—Yes, they were.

Mr. Tully, in answer to Mr. Wood, said that the prices charged by Messrs. Dickey, Neil & Co., were fair prices. I think last year they were rather under the prices, taking the whole tender; I think it would be under the current prices. When they took the contract the prices were lower, and they went up; when they took it, I think it was a fair average price.

In answer to Mr. Richards—

I never was consulted about accepting the tender, nor did I see the tender before it was accepted.

In answer to Mr. Hardy—

These papers came to me in the ordinary course of business, with a view to the preparation of the agreement accompanied by the prices which I looked over, and if there had been wrong in them, I should have considered it my duty to mention it to the Commissioner, but I saw nothing wrong with respect to the prices, which I considered fair and reasonable. I consider that, as an officer of the Department, it was my duty to report anything wrong.

In answer to Hon. Mr. Cameron—

If I see an item of iron, for instance, charged at a cent a pound too much, I would report it. Tenders are usually submitted to me. Mr. Langmuir recommended this contract.

Mr. Wagner and Mr. Knifton were ordered to be notified to appear to-morrow.

Committee adjourned at 1.15, P.M., until to-morrow, at 10, A.M.

FRIDAY, 27th February, 1874.

John Henry Knifton called and sworn.

By Mr. Cameron.—I am employed by the Department of Public Works. I was previously in the employ of Mr. Elliott. Mr. Wagner engaged me. I was to continue the same course as I previously did with Mr. Elliott. My duties were to keep the time principally, and a great many miscellaneous duties. The duties of a time-keeper were then to go around three or four times a-day, and see what men were absent. I used my own discretion about the time I went around—generally twice in the morning and twice in the afternoon. I was time-keeper in the month of January last. I was time-keeper when Mr. Moss was first elected in January last. I had nothing to do with keeping the time of the persons employed by the Canada Car Company. My duties were to make up the time and hand it to the Clerk, and he made up the pay-sheet. We copy the pay-sheet from the large book, which is a copy of my time-book. If a man is not at work, he is marked absent. If a man was away at any part of the day, I would dock him his time. I would ascertain from the foreman, if I did not know myself, what time any man returned to work. I had nothing to do with the rate of wages; that was made by Mr. Wagner. I made up the pay-sheet by the rate of wages given me by him. I prepared the pay-sheet produced. I believe Mr. Lundie was away, and during his absence it fell to my duty to make out the pay-sheet, and I have done it since. The men were absent the whole of the afternoon of the nomination day. They were allowed the afternoon, to go to the nomination, and paid for their time. Mr. Wagner said they were to have half a day. I could not say that they all went. All that wished to go went. I think there were no men remained. The book that we keep show the absent; the pay-sheet would merely show the time they made for the two weeks. The pay-sheet produced is the pay-sheet for the two weeks ending 22nd January, 1874. That would include that half-day that they were away. We allowed them the half day they went to the nomination. Mr. Wagner told me at the time to keep this half-day separate, as he expected Mr. Moss's Committee would pay it. It has since been paid, I believe. I merely heard it said so.

By Mr. Hardy.—I did not hear the Commissioner issue the order that we were to allow the men to go. I got my orders from Mr. Wagner, and I heard that the Commissioner had issued the order; but I have no positive information. I will not swear that Mr. Wagner told me; but I heard it about the Prison. I cannot say when I heard it. It was some time near the nomination day. I was in Mr. Elliott's employ formerly. Mr. Wagner paid me 35 cents per day more than Mr. Elliott, because I had very increased labours to perform. I have had no conversation with Mr. Cameron or Mr. Lauder upon this matter. I spoke to Mr. Lauder once, I believe, about five years ago. I know Mr. Bickford merely by sight.

By Mr. Farewell.—I have no means of knowing how many men went to the nomination. I know some of the men went there, as I saw them there. I was there, and got my pay for my time as usual. We have men that voted for Mr. Moss, and also men that voted for Mr. Bickford. Bickford's friends as well as Moss's got the half-day. All were served alike. I do not know whether the desire to go to the nomination came from the men themselves or not; but I know that if the men had not been allowed the half-day, I believe a good many of them would have gone any way. I heard the nomination talked about among the men. Political feeling was pretty strong among them. I had no vote, and, consequently, took no interest in the nomination myself.

J. P. Wagner, Superintendent of Central Prison Works, called and sworn.

By Mr. Cameron.—I am now in the employ of the Department of Public Works. I entered into the employ on the 18th September last. I entered into arrangements with Mr. McKellar. I am a builder, carrying on a sash and door factory in the city. I have been engaged in the general building for a number of years. Mr. McKellar applied to me. I did not know Mr. McKellar before. I was not speaking to any person about being employed. I do not know how Mr. McKellar happened to apply to me. He applied to me at my own house. He said he was looking for some one to take Mr. Elliott's place, as he was not going on with the work to their liking, and he was looking for some one to take his place. He asked me if I was in a position to take the place, not as a contractor, but merely to see to the work, and see that it was carried through satisfactorily. No arrangements were concluded on the first interview. He asked me how much I should expect if I took it. I said \$8.00 per day. Nothing was said then as to the number of duties I was to perform. I got my instructions from the Attorney-General, when I took possession of the works. Our next interview was, I think, two or three evenings afterwards. I had no written instructions at any other times as to my duties. I was to be under the Commissioner and Mr. Tully—under Mr. Tully as to anything connected with the plans, &c. I was to consult with Mr. McKellar upon nothing, except I wanted some information. I would apply to Mr. McKellar, for instance, for instructions about the fourth tier of cells. I did not apply to Mr. McKellar particularly about this. I called to see him and report progress occasionally. I was to employ who I thought was proper and fit. I employed all myself. I was told that was what I had a right to do. I think there was one or two sent on recommendation of Mr. McKellar. These were Mr. Lundie and a young man that came on a few days ago. There was no arrangement with me as to the rate of wages I was to pay. They told me to try and get the men for the same as they were getting in the city, if possible. I did not succeed in getting them. I had to pay them a little more. I raised the labourers 15 cents per day, and the bricklayers 25 cents. I had one principal foreman—Mr. Hillem—and two others over squads of men. I paid Mr. Hillem \$5.00. The reduction to \$4.00 per day in his wages was made in December. The works were going on when I first employed him. He had been in the employ of the Government previous to my employing him. He got, I believe, \$3.50 per day when in the Government employ. I increased his wages because his duties were more arduous. He was an inspector under the Government; foreman over the men since I employed him. I cannot say whether or not his time was fully occupied while in the employ of the Government. He would not take hold of the job unless I did give him \$5.00 per day; and I would have had to employ another, and give him the same pay. Mr. Elliott's foreman was getting \$5.00 per day, and I offered to keep him on at the same; but he would not stay. I was seeing that the material was sufficient, and that the bills were all attended to. Mr. Hillem did the business of foreman and inspector both. There were four Hillems besides George in the employ. When I went there I made the arrangements with them for their wages. One of the Hillems was foreman over the bricklayers; the others were just working the same as the rest of the men, bricklaying. I paid them \$2.75 per day at first, and afterwards I raised them to \$3.00. That was after I advertised for men. The men struck, and would not work for the same pay as they were getting, and I had to increase their wages. I paid Hillem, the foreman of the bricklayers, \$3.50 per day. He was one of the strikers also, and he got his wages raised. I reduced the wages in December, when I thought it was just that they should be. I reduced the wages to the rate of \$2.75 per day. It was the watchman that is down in that pay-sheet for (14) days in the two weeks. I think McGinnis was stableman, but will not be positive. He is down for 12 days. He is discharged now. I did not consult with any member of the Government as to the rate of wages I should pay these men, except as to the increase at the beginning. I told them that it would be impossible to get men unless they got extra pay, as they could get plenty of work in the city at these rates. I advertised for men, but could not get them unless I did increase the rates. So the Government said I had better do it. There was some material of Mr. Elliott's, and we used it up in the buildings. I advertised for tenders for supplying wood—I think nothing else. I may be mistaken. I required block stone for the cut stone work about the building. I got that by telegraphing to some parties in Cleveland. I made arrangements with them for it at so much per cubic foot, delivered on the wharf here. I think it was 75 and 80 cents, according to the quality, that was the ruling price at that time. I bought a little in this city, to keep us going. They charged us a dollar per foot for it here. It was Cleveland and Georgetown stone that we used principally in the building. I got at least \$5000.00 worth of stone. I could not get enough in the two schooner loads, and it was too late in the season to get any more. When I took hold of this job, it was only intended putting up three tiers of cells, and it was afterwards decided to put up four tiers, and then it was too late in the season to get any more, and I had to get the balance of the stone in Toronto. I purchased 500,000 bricks. I did not advertise for tenders, for there were no bricks to be had, except at two places in the city. It would take perhaps two months, provided the weather was favourable, before you could have bricks made. We made bricks ourselves as long as the weather permitted. For one kiln, I paid \$8.85 delivered; for the other, I paid \$8.25 in the brick-yard, and had to haul these ourselves. It was, I think, in November. We made, I think, between 400,000 and 500,000 on the premises of the Central Prison, We required over a million. There was a lot on the ground, left by Mr. Elliott—about 800,000, partly made, which we used. We also required lime. I did not ask for tenders. I called upon several parties in the city, and got it where I got it the cheapest. I paid, I think, 22 cents per barrel of from $1\frac{1}{2}$ to 2 bushels. We used 160 barrels about every three days—two cars per week—320 barrels. The largest number of men we had at any one time was between 250 and 300—that was the latter part of September, October, and November. We did not accomplish the amount of work we were required to do up to 15th December, exclusively of carpenter work. It was only intended to put up three tiers of cells, and putting on the fourth tier of cells put us back, and the storm also did us considerable damage. I think we could have accomplished our object if there had been only the three tiers of cells put up. The men on the work were allowed the half-day on nomination day, by instructions from Mr. McKellar—at least I think so. I received a note to that effect. They were allowed the half-day, to go to the nomination. I think it was from Mr. McKellar. It was signed by Mr. McKellar, and, I think, in his handwriting. The note said that, perhaps, the men would like to go to the nomination, and I had better give them a half-holiday. It was marked "Private." There was no arrangement for the payment of the men. They were paid just as usual. I think the note said to let the pay go on. I have no objection to produce the letter, provided I am allowed to do so by Mr. McKellar.

Hon. Mr. Richards moved, seconded by Hon. Mr. Cameron, That the Hon. Mr. McKellar be requested to appear forthwith.

Mr. Farewell moved in amendment, seconded by Mr. Hardy, That Hon. Mr. McKellar be requested to appear before this Committee at its next meeting.

The amendment having been put, was lost on the following division:—

YEAS.	NAYS.
Mr. Farewell.	Hon. Mr. Cameron.
" Hardy.	" " Richards.
" Sinclair.—(3)	Mr. Lauder.
	" Rykert.—(4)

The original motion was then put, and carried on the following division:—

YEAS.	NAYS.
Hon. Mr. Cameron.	Mr. Hardy.
" " Richards.	" Farewell.—(2)
Mr. Lauder.
" Rykert.
" Sinclair.—(5)

Hon. Mr. McKellar was then called.—He said he had no objection to Mr. Wagner producing the letter.

Mr. Wagner's evidence continued.

By Mr. Cameron.—I think a third as much work has been done since I took possession as was done by Mr. Elliott. We had no more half-holidays at the second election. No person attended the Central Prison and addressed the men at either time, for either parties, as far as I know. I have no idea of the number of men employed at present. We have enough to go on with the work satisfactorily.

By Mr. Hardy.—Mr. Bickford addressed the men as they left the work, in the evening on King street, at Tuer's Hotel.

In answer to Mr. Cameron.—My own business is carried on by my foreman during the time I have been engaged at this work. I attend the work from 9 a.m. until 6 p.m. Mr. Melville was contractor for the wood-work under me. He is a carpenter. He had all the wood-work connected with the building. He had a factory until lately. He manufactured these things himself. He got a little from me. We have no intention of increasing the wages. I done nothing for Mr. Melville except planing some two inch flooring that he was not able to do himself; and, I think, he also got some small mouldings that he could not conveniently supply himself in time. Melville was a contractor under Mr. Elliott. He was to do the work at the same price he got from Mr. Elliott. Mr. Melville's contract with me was something over $12,000. He is still working there. He employs from 35 to 50 men all the time. His work I do not suppose would be more than a tenth of the whole work since Mr. Elliott gave up. The painters and gasfitters are also contractors under Mr. Elliot. There was no increase under Mr. Harding's contract, nor Mr. Lalor & Son for iron; no increase on Mr. O'Connor's, the painter's contract; nor the plasterers, Mr. Duckworth. For the tinsmiths and slaters work, I advertised for tenders. I either got the old contractors to go on at the same prices or advertised for tenders, except the stone and brick-work. The only work that was tendered for was the tinsmiths and slater's work, gravel, and rubble stone. I bought the cut stone in Toronto from Mr. Carroll, some from Mr. Gearing, some from Mr. Farquhar, and some from Mr. Walton, some from Mr. Swan, and some from Mr. Essen.

By Mr. Hardy—I made up a statement for the Commissioner, and it will show what was tendered for and what was not, and also show the contractors under Mr. Elliott. I had the contractors that had been under Mr. Elliott carry out their contracts according to their first terms. It would be very difficult to get a person to take a contract after it had been taken from another contractor that could not fulfil his contract. I think it would cost more to give it out in that way, than to do it by day's work. The only increase in wages were to men that were engaged by day work, their having sub-contracts went on at the usual prices. Mr. Melville, who continued his contract, had to advance his men's wages in a similar proportion.

By Mr. McLeod—I have carried on these works since I have had charge of the construction of this building, in a more economical way than I would if it was a building for myself. I pay men in my employ $2 per day, and men in similiar positions on these works I only pay $1 75. One reason for my being very particular was, that by the contract Mr. Elliott was liable for the extra expenses, and I was anxious to do the best I could for him. I have, in all cases, endeavoured to get them at the lowest prices. I always bought material I thought the cheapest and best.

By Mr. Richards—I was not called upon to make any estimate of what it would cost to complete these buildings until the last part of December.

By Mr. Lauder—Mr. Dickey himself kept the time of his own men.

Mr. Edwards was called and asked to bring the detailed accounts of Messrs. Dickey, Neil & Co. He produced copies of tenders subsequent to 18th September last, certified to by Mr. Wagner.

Mr. Wagner, Mr. Geo. Hillem, and Mr. Melville were ordered to be notified to appear before this committee at its next meeting.

Committee adjourned until Tuesday next, 3rd March, at 10 a.m.

TUESDAY, 3rd March.

Mr. Wagner re-called.

By Mr. Cameron.—I have not got the letter, I could not find it. I looked for it after leaving here on Friday. My bookkeeper has access to my papers besides myself. Mr. Knifton and Mr. Lundie also had access to them. I generally kept the letter up at the prison in the safe. Mr. Knifton and Mr. Lundie had access to this safe. I could not find it there. I have no idea where it is, nor have I any idea how it went astray. I saw it about a month ago, it was among other papers at that time. I will not be positive, but think I put it in my pocket then. I put it in my pocket because I wanted to see what was in it. I think I had intended to make a copy of it. I tore the copy up because I did not want to let any person see it. I left the original in the office at my own place of business. I put it along with my general letters, these are hung up on a file. Some are put in a pigeon hole. I think this was the same day as I took a copy of it. My clerks, Mr. Roberts, Mr. Munroe and Mr. Hutchieson had access to these. I did not speak to these gentlemen about this letter. I do not know that they were aware of this letter at that time. I showed the letter to Mr. George Hillem, no person else to my knowledge. I showed the copy of the letter to a Mr. Neill, he is connected with the firm of Dickey, Neill & Co.; he wanted to see what was in it. I cannot say how he knew that I had such a letter. I do not know what position he holds in Messrs. Dickey, Neill & Co.'s firm. He came to me for the purpose of getting information about it, and asked me if I had such a letter, and wanted to know if I would let him see it. I said I would not unless I had orders from Mr. McKellar to do so. I said I had no objection to give him a copy, but I did not give it to him. I only showed it to him. I knew Mr. Neill by sight, but was not personally acquainted with him. I do not know who compose the firm of Dickey, Neill & Co. This young man came to the works with an account for a water tank. This is how I came to know he was connected with that firm. I had no conversation with Mr. McKellar about the men going to the nomination before I received this letter. I never discussed the propriety of the men going to the nomination with any person before receiving this letter. This was the first I heard about the men going to the nomination. I received the letter at about twenty minutes to twelve on the day of the nomination. I was down town when I got the letter. My son gave me the letter. My son's name is George. He told me it was brought to my office in the city. I read it and wrote on the bottom of it to Mr. Hillem to let the men go, and sent it to Mr. Hillem. I got it back the next day from Mr. Hillem. No person asked me to give the men a half holiday. Nothing more than what was in the letter. I made no application to Mr. McKellar to allow the men a half holiday from any request of the men to me. I gave instructions to have the men's time of this half day kept separate, because I thought it was not just that the men should be paid out of that money. I mean money chargeable to Mr. Elliott. I made no special report about it. I thought that if the Government paid this it would not be just to charge this to Mr. Elliott. I have no recollection of the men's being marched out to be harangued by Mr. Moss on the common. I was not aware until a few days ago that anything of the kind had taken place. It was at the noon hour, I believe that Mr. Moss addressed them. The number of men that got that half day was 208. I kept a memorandum for that half day. The wages would amount to $204.17 for that half day. I saw nothing of Mr. McKellar on the afternoon of Friday last after leaving this room. I went directly home after leaving the committee room and got my dinner. After dinner I went up to the Prison and looked for the letter, and looked at my own place of business this morning. The matter was discussed, I spoke to several persons at the Prison about it. I did not tell any person where I put this letter. My office is not near my dwelling house. Any person might go into my office. The door is always open in the daytime. I know Mr. Foster (Mr. Melville's foreman), but I do not know his first name. I saw Mr. McKellar this morning, but had no discussion as to my evidence here. We did not speak about the letter. Mr. Knifton has access to my papers also.

By Mr. Lauder.—I saw Mr. Knifton here this morning. I do not know what he was doing here.

By Mr. Wood.—There were no other parts of days allowed to the men for which they received pay.

By Mr. Lauder.—Mr. Mellville had about forty men. I do not know whether they were allowed to go to the nomination or not, as I was not there. I went to the nomination myself.

By Mr. Cameron.—I understood from the letter that the men under my charge only were to receive pay. Messrs. Dickey, Neill & Co. furnished me with no accounts, except for the water tank. The tank was charged against Mr. Harding's contract. I certified to nothing for this firm except this tank.

By Mr. Lauder.—In respect of the contract work, I certify to all the accounts under Mr. Elliott's contract.

By Mr. Hardy.—Mr. McKellar did not at any time give me any instructions concerning sending the men to the nomination except by this letter. He had no conversation at all with me on this point, nor as to how the men should vote, either as to seeing how they should vote or directing them to vote; nor did he ever at any time instruct me to urge the men to vote for Mr. Moss. He was not at the prison at any time near the nomination day except after the great storm. The cab hire was for the pay-masters. There were no men discharged, to my knowledge, for voting for Mr. Bickford. I used no influence, nor did I urge the men to vote for Mr. Moss. I always like to vote myself as I think right, and let others do the same. The only interference by Mr. McKellar or any other member of the Government was that letter I got from Mr. McKellar. I was not at the Central Prison on that afternoon to know whether the other men of the other contractors worked or not.

By Mr. McLeod.—There was no application made by me to Mr. McKellar by reason of an application from the men for this half-holiday. It is possible they may have applied to Mr. McKellar themselves.

By Mr. Farewell.—I have been accustomed for a number of years past to employ a number of men in Toronto. I have given my men part of a day as a holiday, and let their pay go on, only once. That was on the day of the first nomination day of Mr. Moss. My object was to help to turn out John A. McDonald's Government, and I was anxious to assist Mr. Moss. I cannot say that any other firms in Toronto, employing a number of men, allow their men half-holidays in this way, as I never made inquiry.

By Mr. Richards.—I was directed by the Committee to produce the letter before this Committee on Monday. I understood that when I left this room on Friday that I was to produce the letter on Monday. I looked for this letter on Saturday at the prison. I did not look for the letter on Monday, because I got a notice to attend on Tuesday.

By Mr. Hardy.—The notice I got was, that the Committee would not meet until Tuesday.

By Mr. Cameron.—I gave Mr. Hilleman power to employ any men that were necessary, and he had also power to discharge. If there was any variations in the wages, he would have to apply to me.

Mr. George Hillam, called and sworn.—I have been in the employ of the Ontario Government since 1st of March, 1872. Hon. Mr. McKellar appointed me upon Mr. John Worthington's recommendation, and perhaps Hon. Mr. Crooks'. I was in the employ of Mr. Worthington for sixteen years. I was appointed first by the Government as clerk of the works at the Music Hall, at three dollars per day, for the first month. I had as high as five dollars, American currency, from Mr. Worthington, while in Cleveland for him. I have remained in the employ of the Government ever since—since the Music Hall was finished, at the Central Prison. I received $3 50 per day when I first went to the Central Prison; my wages were increased to $5 per day on the 18th of September last. My duties were foreman and inspector. As foreman, to see that the work was carried on, and that the men wanted for nothing. My duty as inspector was to see that the work was done properly, before the Government took possession. I considered it my duty to see that the work was properly done. I was clerk of the works then—employed men and discharged them. I gave the men a half-holiday on the nomination day, not on my own responsibility; on an order from Mr. Wagner. There was a note came to the works for Mr. Wagner, and I sent it down to him. Mr. Wagner sent to me to let the men go. I cannot be positive whether Mr. Wagner sent me the letter or not. I know the letter came from Mr. McKellar, because I think it was open. Mr. Nathan Dickey brought it to the works. I did not address the men upon the subject of the letter. I let the men go. I told the foremen to tell the men under them to go. I said to the foremen that the men were to go to the nomination; for no particular purpose except to hear the speeches. I took a very active part for Mr. Moss. I cannot recollect telling the men to cheer for any person. I went to the nomination; I cheered a little. I cannot say how many men went. The men on the car works I think went also. I cannot say whether Dickey, Neil & Co. had men at the works at this time or not. I have seen some of their men at the works, but cannot say that there were any at this time. I never spoke to Mr. Dickey upon this subject before I received this note. No person went through the works soliciting votes that I know of. Mr. Moss never was in the building to my knowledge. There was a boy came up with a bill, telling the men that there was to be a meeting outside the Prison ground between twelve and one o'clock. I told several of the men that Mr. Moss was going to address them then. Most of the men take their dinners at the works. They have an hour for dinner. Mr. Melville's foreman is Mr. John Foster. Mr. Melville had between thirty and forty men employed at this time. These men went to the nomination also. I told Foster to let his men go to the nomination, as it was expected all the men were to go. I said that they would not lose anything by going. I told Mr. Dickey that there were some men that would object to go unless they got their time allowed them. Mr. Dickey said that they would be at no loss. I understood that that applied to all men—the men employed by the contractors, as well as those in the employ of the Government. I told Foster that I told them all the same, that they would not lose their time. I was not employed by the Sandfield McDonald Government. I was foreman under a contractor (Messrs. Scott and Slattery) during their time. I was told that there were two men offered their time to go and vote for Mr. Harrison, during the time of Mr. Harrison and McDonald's election. Mr. Andrew McCormack told me, he said Mr. Tully told him (Mr. Tully was the Government architect), I have seen the men working at the University under Mr. Worthington sent several times. It was a general thing for Mr. Worthington, contractor, to let his men go.

By Mr. Sinclair.—The work on the Music Hall and Asylum was not all done by contract. Mr. Lee was clerk of the works; he done the carpenter work. There were fourteen men employed. He drew the money from the Government, and paid the men, and was clerk of the works at the same time.

By Hon. Mr. Cameron.—Mr. Duckworth, Mr. Conner, and Mr. Melville were all working under contracts at the Prison; they had sub-contracts with Mr. Elliott. Wages generally increased in the fall, from the latter end of August until the end of November. The men were working for 25 cents per day less before the Government took possession. We could not get men to work for the same figure. I think there were only 16 or 18 bricklayers then at the works, and in about three weeks we got up to about 30 or 40, later on in the season we went up to about 60. There was no strike while the work was in Mr. Elliott's hands. I think the strike was the very day that the Government took it off Mr. Elliott's hands. There were two foremen employed, a brother of mine (Thomas Hillam), and a man named James Curtis, foremen of the bricklayers. Mr. Bickford never applied for permission to go through the prison to me. He invited me to go up to his house. I said I had no time, but would be most happy to go after the election. I told the foreman nothing about this election.

By Mr. Hardy.—I never spoke to Mr. Bickford before he addressed the men at Teur's Hotel. He came over and shook hands with me, and asked me to go up to his house to see him. He said that, if he got me up to his house, he would make a convert of me. I told him that I did not think he could.

By Mr. Wood.—There was an increase of wages all over the city at this time.

By Mr. Hardy.—When they struck for higher wages, they were getting less than they were getting in the city. Mr. Elliott was paying $2 25, $2 50, and $2 75 for bricklayers, when they could get $3 in the city.

By Mr. Wood.—After the increase, they were not paid more than other men in the city in a similar employ.

By Mr. Cameron.—I paid $3 50 per day to the foremen up to certain period. I had nothing to do with the wages of the stone-cutters; their foreman done that. When the men struck, they demanded the 25 cents per day extra. I did not recommend it. Mr. Wagner ordered it to be paid.

By Mr. Hardy.—Mr. McKeller nor any member of the Government, nor Mr. Wagner, never instructed me to interfere with the men as to how they should vote. I did not use any means of coercion to urge the men to vote for Mr. Moss. I never discharged any men for voting for Mr. Bickford. Mr. McKeller, nor any member of the Government, ever instructed me, either directly or indirectly, to use any influence on the men as to how they should vote.

By Mr. Rykert.—I could not say how many men voted for Mr. Bickford. I do not know of a dozen.

By Mr. Cameron.—I was a member of Mr. Moss's Committee. I canvassed for Mr. Moss after hours. I asked some of the men at the work how they would vote. I did not keep the time of Messrs. Dickey, Neil & Co.'s men. I signed this account of Messrs. Dickey, Neil & Co.'s, produced of date of 28th August, 1873, amounting to $1785 65. I certified that the number of pieces of castings were correct. I did not certify as to the price. A large portion of this account is for time of men for hours at work. I know nothing in reference to their time. When I signed this, I had no means of knowing how many hours they worked. I had no means of checking the time. I never got any instructions to do so. I stated so to Mr. Tully at the time he sent me this account. Mr. Tully asked me to sign this, and was very anxious that I should sign it. I told Mr. Tully that I knew nothing about the prices or time, and Mr. Tully said he would examine Mr. Dickey's books, and see what he charged other parties. It laid for six weeks after I refused to sign it before I signed it. The account is dated on the 28th August, and paid on the 10th September. This is not the account he first gave me to sign which I refused. We could not make out the items in it until Mr. Dickey's son came up and explained it. I know something about iron work, but know nothing about the prices.

By Mr. Rykert.—I could not say whether or not there are any changes in the two accounts, unless I saw the two together. I think there was one valve too much in the first account; it came to the Prison in mistake. I think there were some castings came early last spring that I certified to. Mr. Wagner and the time-keeper keeps a check on Mr. Melville's men.

By Hon. Mr. Cameron.—The men usually go to work at 8 a.m. in December. Sometimes they do not commence until 9 if it is not a fine day. I think there was no work done on election day. I think there were some of the men away on both election days. I was away myself both days, and I was paid for these days. I got my $5 per day.

By Mr. Sinclair.—I am quite sure I got my pay for those two days.

By Mr. McLeod.—I was twice at the Works. There were some of the men working. I was there once in the morning, and once in the afternoon. I was there about two hours in the afternoon. Mr. Tully told me he would certify to that account of Dickey, Neil & Co., except as to the number of pieces of castings, and I see by the account that it is so certified by him.

Mr. William Munroe (one of Mr. Wagner's clerks) was called and sworn.

By Mr. Cameron.—I have seen nothing of the letter. I searched for it, with Mr. Wagner, but could not find it.

Mr. Robert J. Roberts (another of Mr. Wagner's clerks) called and sworn.

By Mr. Cameron.—I have seen nothing of the letter. I never heard of the letter until I read about it in one of the city papers.

Mr. William Hutchieson (Mr. Wagner's book-keeper), called and sworn.

By Mr. Cameron.—I know nothing of the letter.

Mr. Knifton, Mr. Melville, and Mr. Foster were ordered to be notified to appear to-morrow.

Committee adjourned at 1.40 p.m., until to-morrow, Wednesday, 4th March, at 10 a.m.

John Henry Knifton (time-keeper) re-called.

By Mr. Cameron.—I have brought all the small time-books, and also the book from which the pay-sheets are made out. I produce the time-book showing the time the men worked at the Central Prison on the 8th and 15th December last. I have not the book showing the time they worked on the 22nd and 29th January last; it is at the Prison. Some of the men attended the elections on the 15th December and 22nd January. I could not say how many. I was at the Works part of the time on the 15th December, the day of the election. I kept the time. I was down watching the progress of the election. I went down about 10 o'clock. I did not go to any particular polling place. I went to most of them in the West end. I went alone. I did not see a great many men at the Works when I left. I went back to the Works between three and four o'clock, I believe. These books I produce are the original books, in which I make the first entry. The names are put in the books at the commencement of every fortnight, and I go and see if the men are there; and I make a small dot in pencil, showing how many hours they make, and I write the time up when I have time.

By Mr. Hardy.—I have a great many other things to do besides keeping the men's time. I am a kind of a general clerk at the Prison as well as time-keeper.

By Mr. Cameron.—On the page that I look at, the dot at the top denotes that the man was there in the morning, and the dot at the bottom that he was there in the afternoon. If I am away, I get the foreman to give me the time the men were at work. I believe Mr. William Curtis, the foreman of the stone-cutters, was at the Work on the 15th December. He has not a vote, I believe. The other Curtis is foreman of the bricklayers. I could not say whether he voted or not. He has a vote, I believe. If he was absent for a couple of hours, I would not allow him his time. Some of the men came to the Work in the morning, and went away about 9 o'clock to vote. I cannot say whether or not James Curtis went away with these men at 9 o'clock to vote. I cannot recollect which of the men went away. I had no particular motive for going to the election on that day. The majority of the men were absent on that day; so most of us went. There is a very intelligent man there who keeps the time for me when I am absent, Mr. Charles Soper. I could not swear that he kept time for me on that day. At that time, it was a regular rule to allow the foremen their time if they were away only for an hour or two. Mr. Wagner has since adopted a different rule. I could not tell for certain who I left on that particular day, but I think I could tell by to-morrow. I went around the two principal times myself—once in the morning, and once in the afternoon. They would usually go to the election early in the morning, as they would not want to lose much time. On the entry J. Kennedy, on the 15th December, having been marked in pencil $4\frac{1}{2}$ hours, and in ink over it 8 hours; also B. Loeman. I would not make alterations unless I had positive information from the man's foreman, or some other responsible person that was disinterested. Probably in some instance it has been erased, as I very often mark them in pencil, and afterwards put it in in ink. The teamsters make their four trips a-day, and I might easily make a mistake in the teamsters' time, and find out my mistake afterwards, as the teamsters are allowed 10 hours per day; and I mistake them for labourers, and only give them $8\frac{1}{2}$ hours, and afterwards have to alter it to 10 hours. Teamsters are uniformly allowed 10 hours. I did not attend the election on the 29th January last, between Mr. Moss and Mr. Robinson. I was at the Work all day. I believe some of the men were away, but I could not swear how many.

By Mr. Sinclair.—I remember distinctly being at the works all day, so far as the discharge of my duties.

By Mr. Cameron.—I believe the men were taken by the teams to vote while I was at my breakfast. I cannot swear that the men were away as I did not see them go, but I know some of the men went, as I had a row with some of them for being as much as two hours away. I did not give them their time. I remember Thomas Melhuish, I had a row with him. I saw a great many teams come up for Mr. Robinson and Mr. Moss. They took only one man away to my knowledge. The teams went away empty. There were five teams came up for Mr. Moss and went away empty, except taking this one man, as all the men that were so disposed had gone, but I did not see them go. When I came back I would find out how many men were away, and I should mark them away. I did not see the men go away in teams. I do not know whether they went with teams or not. I did not see any of them go away. I cannot say whether I took a memorandum when I went around at half-past ten, of the men that were away or not. I kept the time the same on that day as I do on all others, if a man was absent I would deduct the time he was away. I would find out to the best of my knowledge. I make marks and signs of my own that I can understand, to shew whether or not any particular man is away. I can certify to the time I have kept, being as near correct as it is possible to keep it. If a man was away at all I would dock him for it. Men often complain that they are a certain number of hours short in their time. I have never seen the letter nor a copy of it, from Hon. Mr. McKellar to Mr. Wagner, with regard to allowing the men this half-day. I hunted through the safe at the Central Prison with Mr. Wagner, on Friday last for it.

By Mr. Hardy.—I only allowed the men on the 15th December and 29th January, the election days the time they made, docking them any loss. I believe my system of keeping time is just the same as is kept at other large works, as far as my information goes.

By Mr. Wood.—I received no instructions from anybody to allow or disallow any men any time they might lose on either of these days, 15th December or 29th January. When I go around the foreman tells me if there have been any men absent since I was around previously. It is the foreman's duty to report to me if any man goes away. I have pursued the same course since I have been in the employ of the Government as I pursued under Mr. Elliott. I can ascertain whether or not Kennedy and Loeman had votes. With reference to the changes of the number of the hours, I have no doubt you can find many other instances of the same kind if you look through the book. They are merely clerical errors afterwards put right.

Mr. Hugh Melville, called and sworn.

By Mr. Cameron.—I was a sub-contractor under Mr. Elliott at the Central Prison, and I subsequently became a contractor under the Public Works Department on the same terms, except as to the alteration of the fourth tier of cells. We had in value probably $3,000 more in consequence of this increase. Our contract was at first $20,000. I had no difficulty in getting men; they were not complaining of wages up to that time. The government foreman raised the wages of the bricklayers and stone masons, then my men became dissatisfied, and I had to increase their wages from 12½ to 25 cents per day.

I recollect the nomination between Mr. Moss and Mr. Bickford. I was at Brantford and came back, and was at the works at half-past one in the afternoon of that day. There was no person at work when I got there, and I was afraid that there was another strike. I found out afterwards where they had gone. The works seemed to be quite deserted. I had forty-seven men under my employ at that time. I paid them their time for that afternoon. My foreman had taken upon himself to tell the men that if they went they would be paid their time, and I had to pay them accordingly. The foreman said that it was from what Mr. Hillam represented that induced him to let the men go. I believe I have been canvassed for my influence. There were two gentlemen members of Mr. Moss' Committee, but I do not know their names. I was not canvassed by Mr. Dickey, or any person else, except these two men. My men were absent the time they went to vote on the 15th December. Mr. Foster, my foreman, was timekeeper at this time. Some of the men were not at the work all day, but generally they went at two o'clock in the afternoon, and returned. I paid those who returned within the hour. I was doing work under the contract and also extra to the contract both at this time. The only extra work I was doing at that time was in the north work-shop, and they did not go. I believe they had no votes. I made a claim to Mr. Wagner for the half day the men were absent at the nomination, but it was disallowed. Had I been present on that day I would not have allowed my men to go. The amount I claimed was $47; that was the amount of wages for the time they were absent that day (nomination day). I made the claim to Mr. Wagner on the first pay day after the nomination day, which was on the Saturday following. I saw a discussion in the public papers about this thing before I made my claim. The carpenter work of the roof might have been done by the fall if they had not put on the fourth tier of cells. There was no discontent among Mr. Elliott's men, to my knowledge. They were constantly at work, but I understood the works were not being pushed on fast enough for the Government. I had no particular time as to when my work should be finished. I do not think Mr. Elliott could have had these works finished by 15th December if the extra tier of cells had not been put up. The plastering, slating, tinning and painting could not be done by that time; and also other buildings in the rear could not be finished by the 15th December. There was no other changes in the works that I am aware of, except putting up the extra tier of cells.

By Mr. Hardy.—I continued my contract under the Government on the same terms as I had it under Mr. Elliott. I applied for an additional rate upon the extra work on the extra tier of cells, but I did not get it. I have now thrown up the contract, in consequence of not being able to carry on the work. I am now merely working at the Prison on wages. I do not believe the Government could have got all the men they wanted to carry on these works if they had not increased the wages.

By Mr. Cameron.—I understood Mr. Elliott had difficulty in getting stone cutters. Mr. Elliott went to Ottawa to get men, and when he returned the contract was taken from him. There was also a difficulty in getting bricklayers and stone masons all over the city. They were getting the same wages as Mr. Elliott and I were paying all over the city. It was not necessary to offer them increased wages to induce them to go to the Prison.

By Mr. Wood.—Owing to the increased wages, I am not aware that any men came from any place outside of Toronto.

By Mr. Sinclair.—Mr. Elliott wanted more men, but, without offering an inducement, he could not put on any more.

By Mr. Hardy.—I am not aware that Mr. Elliott was employing men at less than they were getting in the city.

Mr. Melville was requested to bring the correspondence between him and the Public Works Committee to-morrow.

Mr. John Foster, called and sworn.

By Mr. Cameron.—I am in the employ of Mr. Melville, one of the sub-contractors of the Central Prison. I was in his employ on the day of the first nomination in West Toronto between Mr. Moss and Mr. Bickford. I had about forty men under me at that time. The men got permission to go to the nomination. I got orders from Mr. Hillam to let the men go. He said that there was word sent up from the Commissioner that the men were to attend the nomination in the afternoon. He said that the time would be all right. I am a voter in this city. I did not vote at the last election. I voted at the former for Mr. Moss. The men under my charge—the voters—went at their own instance. I gave them no instructions whatever. The voters had their time allowed them. Mr. Melville did it out of his own free will. It was done on a supposition that if they were paid for the nomination day, they would be paid for the election day. I had not heard that Mr. Melville was refused the pay for the time of the nomination day. Mr. Melville did not tell me that he would allow them their time. The voters were just allowed whatever time it took them to go and vote and return, and that time, necessarily taken, was not deducted. I do not know of any voters that were not allowed their time. They would not have been allowed to have been absent more than 2½ hours.

By Mr. Rykert.—I do not know of any persons who were absent beyond that time that were deducted their time. I know of no person who attended in the morning, and who went away to vote, whose time was deducted.

By Mr. Wood.—There was no person who was paid for full time that day, absent half the day at the elections.

By Mr. Hardy.—Some of Mr. Melville's men left at half-past nine in the morning, and did not return till next morning. They were allowed their time up to noon, but disallowed for the afternoon.

By Mr. Cameron.—I was absent from nine until about eleven o'clock. I returned and went away again about noon. The men were all away at that time. I did not take any men away with me. We stopped all the work for the afternoon. The men were not allowed for it, as we could not carry on the work without a full quota. The time book is sometimes kept in my pocket, and sometimes I leave it in the office. I am now working for Mr. Melville just as usual. The Government pays me now. Mr. Melville formerly paid me. It is about three weeks since I have been under the Government. I get $2.25 per day as foreman. None of the men were canvassed to my knowledge. Mr. Hillam is always among the men, it is part of his duty. Our men were working among the bricklayers and if he wanted a man for anything, he went and got a man to do it. Mr. Hillam and I had a conversation about the election after the nomination day. I never saw Mr. Dickey canvassing among the men. I have said something to the men. The Saturday before the election I asked them how they were going to vote. I gave them to understand which way I would like them to vote. I did not do this in consequence of any conversation I had with Mr. Hillam.

By Mr. Hardy.—Most of the men were very much shocked at the revelations of the Pacific scandal. Mr. Hillam said that there was word come from the Commissioner that the men were to go to the nomination. I met Mr. Hillam on the stair, and he said there is word come up from the Commissioner to let the men attend the nomination. He (Mr. Hillam) said their time would be all right.

It was moved by Mr. Rykert, and seconded by Mr. Lauder, That the Chairman ask the permission of the House to report the evidence taken before this Committee from time to time, as the Committee may deem expedient.

The Resolution was carried upon the following division :—

Mr. Nathaniel Dickey, called and sworn.

By Mr. Cameron.—I had a contract for work at the Central Prison. I was one of Mr. Moss's Committee. I came to Honourable Mr. McKellar, and told him that it was customary to allow men engaged on large Public Works (I mean works such as railways and manufactories) to go and attend the gatherings at nominations, and I asked him to allow the men to go. I did not speak to Mr. McKellar one word about the election up to this time. I did not hear of any arrangement as to the payment of the men. I had no concern over that whatever. I went to Mr. Gurney to get their men to go. I sent to the Northern Railway. I sent to Messrs. R. Hay & Co. I sent word by Mr. Rogers, I think, to see if Mr. Hay would allow the men to attend the nomination. I never spoke to Mr. Hay about it. I spoke to a member of the committee about seeing the Northern Railway. I went to Mr. Gurney myself. I believe Mr. Gurney was not at home, and I asked, as I supposed, the next man in charge. I stated my object, which was to get the men there to hear the speeches, with a view to influencing them in favour of Mr. Moss. The man I saw I supposed to be his chief man of business. I had not spoken to any of the men. I had nothing to do with whether they were paid or not. I had not spoken to Mr. Wagner. I came direct to the fountain-head. I did not read the letter. I never sent Mr. Neil to get a copy of that letter, nor I never heard of his going to get a copy. Mr. Neil's name is John; he is book-keeper. We had no men at the Central Prison at that time, any more than there might have been a man fixing some little thing, but I think not. I think there was some of the machinery that we had furnished a little out of order, and there may have been a man sent to fix it. I do not know whether it was before or after this time. I did not do the same thing at the second election, because the constituency had pronounced themselves so decidedly upon a previous election, we did not take so much care in the second election. I do not know if Mr. Hillam was a Committee man. I never saw him at the Committee. I gave our own men liberty to go. We had, I suppose, between 40 and 60. I did not give them a holiday. I do not know that we commenced work that afternoon. I did not make inquiry whether they returned to work or not. It was a matter between the men and their employers as to allowing them their time. Sometimes we allowed them, and sometimes we did not. I cannot say whether it is usual or not with other establishments to allow the men their time. I can only say as to ourselves. I have not been taking an active part in the business at the Works for the past nine months, as I was engaged at outside work. I could not swear whether our men were paid on that day or not. Some of them may have been, and some not. I do not know. I believe they were not allowed for their time. I believe I have spoken to Mr. McKellar since the election. I never spoke to Mr. McKellar on the subject from the time I got the letter until after the election. I say distinctly that I did not discuss with Mr. McKellar on the prospects of the election on the day I got the letter. I merely wanted to know if Mr. McKellar had any objection to the men attending the nomination.

By Mr. Lauder.—I saw Mr. McKellar in his office. I do not know that any person mentioned the letter. I first saw the letter when he wrote it. I was standing by. I believe he stated that he would send a note to Mr. Wagner. I do not know whether I said I would take the letter or not, but I did take the letter. I suppose I did say I would take the note to Mr. Wagner, then he began to write it. I did not see it, nor did he tell me its contents. I did not examine it, but I believe it was closed. I did not examine it to see whether it was closed or not. I took the letter into my hand after it was finished, and took it and went to find Mr. Wagner. I think I thanked him. I do not know. I supposed it was complying with my request, and I thanked him on that presumption. He gave me the letter, and I took it up to the Works. I am not sure that I saw any person on my way up. I saw Mr. Hillam. Mr. Wagner was not there. The letter was addressed to Mr. Wagner. Mr. Hillam, at the Works, told me that Mr. Wagner was not there. I told Mr. Hillam that I brought a letter from Mr. McKellar. I did not tell Mr. Hillam what was in the letter, as I did not know. I did tell Mr. Hillam that I had a letter from Mr. McKellar, as I had applied to him for leave for the men to go to the nomination, and I supposed this was leave for them to go. I came down town with the letter, just as I got it from Mr. McKellar. I did not open it. Hillam did not open it. The letter was not open. I took it down town without it having been opened. My impression is that I gave the letter to Mr. Hillam, when he went to look for Mr. Wagner. I say that I kept the letter in my possession all the time from leaving the Prison until I left it at Mr. Wagner's office.

By Mr. Cameron.—I seconded the nomination of Mr. Moss at the second election. Public meetings of electors were held in our workshop to promote Mr. Moss's first election. I knew Mr. McKellar well; he knew my views; he assisted me formerly in Grey. I spoke to him nothing about the prospects of the elections; he was very busy at the time. I think there was another person with him. I am not sure whether the person was in the room when I came in, or whether he came in afterwards, but I know our interview was very short in consequence of another person being there. This all refers to Mr. Moss's first election. When I say that I did not speak to him, I mean that I did not discuss the subject of Mr. Moss's prospects with him. I say this evidence is correct.

Mr. Wood asked Mr. Cameron, whether it was his (Mr. Cameron's) intention to call Mr. Dickey in the matter of his contract and supplies in connection with the Central Prison. Mr. Cameron said that it was, consequently the matter was not gone into now.

By Mr. Cameron.—I cannot say whether I did speak to Mr. McKellar about the election or not on the day I got the letter, other than to request him to allow the men to attend the nomination. My impression is I did not speak to him about the election any day before the day I got the letter, or between that day and the day of polling; but I think Mr. McKellar was at the nomination, and I may there have spoken to him, but I have no recollection as to speaking to him on any particular subject. I cannot say whether I said anything to him about the election on that day or not, beyond asking him to allow the men to attend the nomination.

By Mr. Richards.—Hon. Mr. McKellar was with me in Grey at the time I was opposing Mr. Lauder in December, 1871.

By Mr. Lauder.—I am satisfied now that this evidence is generally correct, as it has been read to me, and I do not wish to alter it in any way.

Mr. Dickey further said that the letter was not marked "Private" in any way on the outside.

In the event of the evidence being reported to the House at present, it is understood that the evidence with regard to the account of Messrs. Dickey, Neil & Co., of the 23rd August, will not be reported until further directed by the Committee, and the evidence completed with respect to it.

Mr. Tully, called and sworn.

I would wish to correct my previous evidence, as to the amount allowed Mr. Wagner for use of horse and buggy. It is only 75 cents per day, I think I said it was $1.50. I think the correspondence will show that I recommended an architect before the works were taken out of Mr. Elliott's hands. I received a letter from the Attorney-General with regard to the slow progress of the works.

(Copy of Letter.)

TORONTO, 4th September, 1873.

MY DEAR SIR,—I am afraid that at the present rate of progress the Central Prison buildings have no chance of being completed in time. You must really apply yourself with energy to compel the contractor to get on faster.

I hold you responsible for doing this. I do not want explanations why he does not get on. I want you to see that he does get on. It is of the greatest possible consequence that there should be no avoidable delay. I hope that you are visiting the buildings almost every day, so as to afford no pretence for dilatoriness on Mr. Elliott's part.

Yours truly,
(Signed)

O. MOWAT.

K. Tully, Esq.

(Reply—Copy.)

September 3rd, 1873.

SIR,—I have the honour to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of this day's date, in reference to the Central Prison works, and in reply have to state that I have notified the contractor (date September 1st) that it is a necessity for him to employ additional workmen, and procure materials to complete the buildings by the 1st December next.

I have also reported to the Commissioner as to having notified the contractor, and that, in my opinion, the works cannot be completed by the 1st of January next, and as the contract with the Canada Car Company has not yet been signed, it would be advisable to extend the time for at least three months, particularly as the change in the plans of the buildings, and the additional works required by the Canada Company, since the original plans were prepared, would justify a further extension of time for their completion.

There has been some delay, owing to the demand of the contractor for additional prices beyond the schedule, and it was necessary to have measurements made of the works, the prices having been referred to Mr. Sheard's decision, and it is but recently that those questions have been decided.

I have also respectfully to state in reference to the superintendence, that there are two Clerks of works on the ground all the time, and the other business matters of the Department would be seriously interfered with if I visited the buildings every day.

If it is considered necessary to have the daily supervision of an architect, some person should be appointed for the purpose; but with practical men on the ground, with whom I am in almost daily communication, any further supervision would be unnecessary.

I have the honour to remain,
Your obedient servant,
(Signed)

KIVAS TULLY,
A. & E.

Hon. O. Mowat,
Attorney-General, Ontario.

Mr. Tully's examination continued.

By Mr. Cameron.—In 1867, the time of the first election between Mr. Harrison and Mr. McDonald, I was in the employ of the Province of Canada, superintending the erection of the wings and hospitals of the Provincial Lunatic Asylum of the Province. I became an employee of the Province of Ontario on 1st June, 1868. I never took any part in the elections of 1867. I have no recollection of having promised a man by the name of McCormack, and another man, who were said to be working at the Toronto Asylum, their day's pay if they would go and vote for Mr. Harrison in the election of 1867, nor do I think it occurred. I took no part whatever in the Toronto elections. I had no vote at that time in the City of Toronto.

By Mr. Hardy.—There were Public Works going on at the Toronto Asylum during the summer and fall of 1867, and I was superintending them as Architect. The works at that time were under the Province of Canada. I first took orders from the Public Works Department of the Province of Ontario when Mr. Sandfield McDonald accepted office. I think there was some formal communication transferring me to the Department. I cannot say for a fact whether or not I took orders from the Ontario Government immediately after Confederation. I cannot say whether it was on the formation of the Departments or a year later. It must have been between the 1st of July, 1867, and the 1st of June, 1868, that the communication was made. I cannot say whether in August and September, 1867, I was working under the authority of the Ontario Government or the Department at Ottawa. As long as I am connected with the Public Works I have never known of any official interference with the men as to how they should vote. To the best of my belief and knowledge, I did not offer McCormack his day's wages to go and vote for Mr. Harrison, and I am not aware whether he was then employed at the Asylum or not. I was appointed permanently by the Ontario Government on the 1st of June, 1868.

By Mr. Wood.—I know I received instructions from Hon. Mr. Carling previous to my being appointed permanently, but I cannot say as to the date. I have never heard of any men on Public Works having been allowed to attend elections or nominations, and being allowed their time.

By Mr. Hardy.—I do not know whether any Government have been in the habit of disallowing the men their time that they may take to vote, or not.

By Mr. Rykert.—I do not know, of my own knowledge, whether any men went to vote, or not, at any time while I have been engaged as superintendent of any public works.

By Mr. Lauder.—The usual practice was for the men to go and vote during the noon hour.

By Mr. Cameron.—My salary was paid by the bursar of the Asylum until the Department assumed the transfer of the buildings. The works under my superintendence in 1867, connected with the wings of the Asylum, were done by contract, the repairs were done without contract, at the usual rates. The annual appropriation for repairs to the Asylum for the year 1867 was $2,000.

Mr. Wood moved, seconded by Mr. Rykert, that the Committee adjourn until tomorrow at 10 o'clock A.M., and that Mr. McKellar have an opportunity of seeing the evidence, and that he be heard by the Committee then. Carried.

Mr. John H. Knifton, recalled.

I produce the time book of the men employed at the Central Prison, for January, 1874.

Thomas Lalor called and sworn.

By Mr. Cameron.—I was a sub-contractor under Mr. Elliott at the Central Prison for the iron work. I continued under the Government the contract I contracted with Mr. Elliott for. I did nothing for the Government besides this contract, except a portion of the upper story. We do all kinds of iron work, such as are used in gaols and banks. Mr. Wilkie did some 220 gates. I believe he has so much a pound for it. Mr. Wilkie had charge of the smith's shop in Penetanguishene Reformatory before he came to Toronto. He had no place for carrying on business in Toronto. I did the work principally, and I lent him a shop, &c., to get his portion of it done. I think he was getting 12½ cents per pound. He paid me for a certain amount of the work. I got half the proceeds, he paid his own blacksmith out of the other half. I arranged with him that he was to give me half the proceeds. I paid for half the iron. I never did work in this way before. Some of the gates went as high as $40, and some $60, and these 220 gates went to $20 a gate. I was not applied to by any person from the Public Works Department to know what I would do this work for. I heard nothing of it until I heard that Mr. Wilkie had the job. I understood from Mr. Wilkie that it was more expensive to get these made in Penetanguishene than to get them here. I might have done this a little less than 12½ cents per pound, considering the number required. I would do this for 11 cents per pound sooner than let a job like that go, had I a chance to compete for it. My son has an account of what the work cost us, and what we got for it. My son is my partner and bookkeeper. I never saw Mr. Wilkie before this transaction. My son's name is Bartholomew.

By Hon. Mr. Fraser.—I have been engaged in this kind of work for about 30 years. I have been doing a great deal of lock work, especially about prisons. I have done as good work as was done at any such place in the Province. I have succeeded owing to my recognized skill in doing it. I have received a great deal of this work to do. I am the patentee of a peculiar fastening for cell doors. This fastening was the work I was engaged to do under the Government. I am the sole patentee for this simultaneous locking apparatus, and it was for doing this work, and also the hand-rail in the upper tier of cells, that I was engaged to do under the Government. I am the only person authorized to use this simultaneous locking apparatus. The work I was engaged to do under Mr. Elliott was all the iron work that I have done, except the locks and the gates. I had not finished all my work under Mr. Elliott when the work was taken by the Government. There were stipulated prices between me and Mr. Elliott as to what I would do the work for, which I am still carrying out. The agreement, when the works were taken from Mr. Elliott, between the Government and me was, that it should be carried out under the same contract and prices as under Mr. Elliott.

Hon. Mr. Cameron here entered the following protest.

Mr. Cameron protests against the Provincial Secretary taking up the time of the Committee in examining Mr. Lalor, or any other witness, in reference to work done under the contract entered into under Mr. Elliott, in reference to which there is no complaint, unless the Provincial Secretary desires to show these works were taken at too high a price.

It was moved by Mr. Wood, seconded by Mr. Hardy, that the Provincial Secretary proceed with the examination in the manner proposed by himself. Carried.

Mr. Lalor's evidence continued.

By Mr. Fraser.—The amount of my contract under Mr. Elliott was $8,040. I received about $6,000 and over from Mr. Elliott. The balance of my contract has been paid, or to be paid, by the Government.

Mr. Farewell here entered the following protest.

6th March.—Mr. Farewell protests against any course being pursued by Mr. Cameron to prevent the fullest and most searching examination by this Committee into all the accounts and matters brought before the Committee touching the charges made by the Opposition in the House against the Government. No opposition.

Mr. Lalor's evidence continued.

By Mr. Fraser.—I entered into a written contract with the Government for the simultaneous locking of the cell doors. The cell doors and the corridor door were done by Mr. Wilkie. I am aware that Mr. Wilkie was under the employ of the Government at Penetanguishene before he came here. Fanlights and doors for 119 cells were made at Penetanguishene by prison labour before Mr. Wilkie came down here. Mr. Wilkie did not work much in my shop. This is my signature to tender produced, for a tender that is attached to the contract. Mr. Wilkie and I tendered together for the last 82 gates. I could hardly say when Mr. Wilkie and I commenced to make the first gates. Could not say when it was. I do not recollect when Mr. Wilkie came down from Penetanguishene. I think it must be more than a year ago since I put in the tender for the last gates. I, along with Mr. Wilkie, made a tender for the first doors at 12 cents per pound, but Mr. Wilkie would not let me into it afterwards.

By Mr. Richards.—Mr. Wilkie said he had the work then, and I brought this tender to make me a partner legally, as I did not know Mr. Wilkie. I asked Mr. Tully, and he said he had no objection to it.

By Mr. Fraser.—Mr. Wilkie said he had the work before I knew anything about it. He said he had the understanding that he would get the work before that tender was signed. The tender was at 12 cents per pound. The original contract was at 12 cents per pound. I understood from Mr. Wilkie that he was to have the work. He had not commenced any of this work for a good bit after this tender was signed. He had a subsequent arrangement for the upper tier of cells. He was to get 12½ cents per pound. The cost of iron was increased at this time. All the gate work is completed now. Mr. Wilkie and I, by arrangement between ourselves, completed this work. Mr. Wilkie and I have received what we agreed for. I am perfectly satisfied with what I got. Mr. Wilkie and I received nothing more than a fair remuneration for the work we have done. I am politically friendly to the present Government of Ontario. I was not when I was first employed at these works. It was not this changed my feelings. My arrangement with Mr. Wilkie was that we should share the proceeds. We supplied the material in common, he did a certain portion of the work, and I a certain portion.

By Mr. Cameron.—Mr. Wilkie employed about three men and himself. I did most of my work with a machine. Mr. Wilkie gave me to understand at this time that he had the work. I consider about twenty to twenty-five per cent. our ordinary profit. If we get a cent a pound more, of course, it would increase our profit. Sooner than lose this work, I would have taken it at 11 cents, I would make twenty per cent. at that price. I knew nothing of Mr. Wilkie before this time. He gave me to understand that Mr. Langmuir or Mr. Tully sent him to me to get a job to work for me at the Central Prison, when he first came to Toronto.

By Mr. Fraser.—I tendered for my work under Mr. Elliott. There were some four or five tendered for this to Mr. Elliott. I lost money under the contract I had with Mr. Elliott.

By Mr. Cameron.—The increased prices of materials, and the alterations rendering the work different from what I contracted for, was the reason of my losing by this contract. Material went up the very first year I had the contract. It went up from $2.40 to $4 per hundred. It came down last year. It is down lately about five or six months to $3.50 per hundred. The prices of iron went up before this tender. It was fluctuating at that time, and remained that way for about a year. I think it was in the year 1871 that I took the contract from Mr. Elliott. I think it rose as much as a quarter of a dollar per hundred from June, 1872, to September, 1873. It was higher in 1873 than it was in 1872. It went up to $4 in 1873.

By Mr. Fraser.—This work for making the doors by Mr. Wilkie and myself was taken before the buildings were taken out of Mr. Elliott's hands. We were just finishing the work in the upper tier when the works were taken from Mr. Elliott.

Mr. Hardy moved that Mr. Kennedy and Mr. Smyth be called, and examined before Mr. McKellar makes his statement. Carried.

Hon. Mr. Cameron moved in amendment, that Mr. McKellar, the Commissioner of Public Works, be heard previously to any witnesses being called. The Hon. Mr. Cameron subsequently withdrew his amendment.

The two following witnesses, Mr. Kennedy and Mr. Smyth, were called at the instance of the Hon. Mr. McKellar; all the previous witnesses having been called at the instance of the Hon. Mr. Cameron :—

William Kennedy, called and sworn.

By Mr. Fraser.—I am engaged as Speaker's messenger; this is my fourth session; have been two years engaged permanently. I recollect the first election of Mr. Moss, when he ran against Mr. Bickford; there was a man engaged in the building here; his name is Larry Lynn. I was sent by Mr. Evans, and I think Terry Clark was with him, to ask Hon. Mr. McKellar to speak to this man, Larry Lynn, and ask him to vote for Mr. Moss. I delivered that message to Hon. Mr. McKellar, and Mr. McKellar told me to tell him (Mr. Evans) that he did not wish to interfere with any of the employees around the place.

By Mr. Cameron.—I knew this man, Larry Lynn, for a long time. I did not know who he wished to vote for.

By Mr. Rykert.—I do not know if Mr. Flahiff, a messenger in the buildings, went up to vote against Mr. McGowan, in North Wellington. I know he was away somewhere.

Robert Francis Smyth, called and sworn.

By Mr. Fraser.—I am engaged in the Registrar-General's office; I was engaged there during the time of the Moss-Robinson election; I was a voter at that time; I had an interview with the Hon. Mr. McKellar the morning of the election; there was a message left at the Registrar-General's office, saying that Mr. McKellar wished to see me. I went to his office and asked him if he had sent for me, and he said, You have a vote in the West? I said I had. He said, I don't wish to influence you in any way how you should vote. When I asked him if he sent for me, I cannot be sure what he said. He did not ask me what my name was, or anything of that kind. I don't think he did know what my name was. He said he did not wish to influence me in any way, as to how I voted. He asked me what Department I belonged to. I told him the Registrar-General's office, and Mr. McKellar said, "Oh! Mr. Pardee is your chief; have you seen Mr. Pardee?" That was all. I said no, I had not seen Mr. Pardee. He said that would do. I then left.

By Mr. Cameron.—I voted for Mr. Moss.

By Mr. Richards.—I saw Mr. Pardee a short time after I saw Mr. McKellar. Mr. Pardee did not speak to me about my voting. I spoke to Mr. Pardee, and told him, that I had a vote in the West, and was going to vote. He asked me how I was going to vote. I told him I was going to vote for the Government candidate. I said I had been speaking to Mr. McKellar. Mr. Pardee said he was pleased to hear that I was going to vote for the Government candidate.

By Mr. Cameron.—When Mr. McKellar said that he did not wish to influence me, he did not say anything about my voting for Mr. Moss. He asked me if I had a vote, or who I was going to vote for or some such thing as that. I understood from my being sent for, that Mr. McKellar did wish to know who I was going to vote for, or he would not have sent for me. He did not tell me what he wanted me for, he simply asked if I had seen my chief. There were other voters I think in the Registrar-General's office. I do not know of any messages being left for them. I have been living in Toronto since 1871. I voted at the Bickford and Moss election for Mr. Moss. My interview with Mr. McKellar had reference to the Moss-Robinson election. I never voted before the Moss-Bickford election in Canada. Dr. Moorehouse, of Toronto, asked me to vote for Mr. Moss at the first election. I was not asked by any person connected with any department to vote at either election.

By Mr. Fraser.—In the Moss-Bickford election, I voted for Mr. Moss, without having been influenced by any person connected with any Department. When I did go to see Mr. McKellar, he made no suggestion as to who I should vote for.

By Mr. Cameron.—I had not expressed any doubt as to my voting for Mr. Moss at the second election. I had promised Dr. Moorehouse to vote for Mr. Moss at both elections.

By Mr. Fraser.—I do not know who left the message that I was wanted by Mr. McKellar, but I heard it was left by Mr. Kennedy the Speaker's Messenger.

William Kennedy, recalled.

By Mr. Cameron.—I left a message for Mr. Smyth in the Registrar-General's office. I think it was Mr. Evans, the tinsmith, told me to tell him, Mr. Smyth, to go to the Commissioner of Public Works' office, that Mr. McKellar wanted to see him. I could not say which election this was. I think it was the Moss-Bickford. I left no message for any of the other clerks. I came in and asked if Mr. Smyth was in, and they said not. Mr. Evans came to the House and asked me to go and send Mr. Smyth to see Mr. McKellar. He told me to send Mr. Smyth to Mr. McKellar's office. He did not say for what purpose.

By Mr. Hardy.—Mr. McKellar never told me to tell Mr. Smyth, that he, Mr. McKellar wanted to see him.

Hon. Mr. McKellar made the following statement:—

On the forenoon of the day of nomination between Messrs. Bickford and Moss, Mr. Dickey called upon me at my office, and told me that some of the men at the Central Prison desired to attend the nomination. He told me that it was customary for large employers of labour, to give their men their time at such gatherings. To give the time without reducing their wages. I thought if this was the rule (I knew that I had acted on it myself when I had men) that it would only be fair for the Government to give the same indulgence to their men. I then gave him a note to Mr. Wagner, the Superintendent of the Works, a copy of which I did not keep, but the language was as follows as near as possible :

“If the men desire to attend the nomination, you are at liberty to give them a half holiday, and let their wages go on.”

That was all I did. My reason for doing it was, as I have already stated, that I thought it was only a proper and graceful thing for the Government to give their men the same indulgence as other employers of labour did. I have done it myself and I believe that no person, company or corporation that do it, lose anything by it, as I believe the men work better and make good any little loss that may be sustained in the way of wages. By letting all the men go, no jealousy could arise between the Bickford and the Moss men. I had no intention of making any distinction between the political parties. I had no knowledge nor have I now, as to the relative numbers of the Bickford and Moss men. I thought that no objection could be raised on party grounds, to let the men attend the nomination, where both candidates and their friends were to discuss the public questions of the day, and where no division or show of hands was to be taken to indicate which party had a majority on the ground. I had no communication verbally or otherwise with any of the foremen or men on the works, before or during either of the elections, except the note which I sent Mr. Wagner, to which I have already referred. I never directly or indirectly asked any man how he intended to vote, nor attempted to influence in any way the men to vote for either one candidate or the other.

Mr. Smyth, the witness examined to-day, is in the first place mistaken as to the time he called at my room, as I can prove by documentary evidence that I was away at the time of the Moss-Robinson election, it was during the Moss-Bickford election, that Mr. Smyth called at my Office, I did not know the man even by sight. I asked him what he wanted, he told me some one left word for him in the office that I wished to see him. I told him there must be some mistake, as I sent no message to any one, and I asked him, what department he belonged to. He told me he belonged to the Registrar General's Department, and, my impression is, that he told me it was something in connection with the election, that I wished to see him about. I then told him that I did not wish to interfere with any employees, that they might vote as they liked. I may have told him that Mr. Pardee was the head of his department; if I did so, it was not with a view to get him to go there to get instructions as to how he should vote.

Moved by Mr. Rykert, seconded by Hon. Mr. Cameron,

That the evidence and statement of Hon. Mr. McKellar, taken before the Committee in reference to the election in West Toronto, and the officials and employés of the Government in connection therewith, be forthwith referred to the House.

Moved in amendment by Hon. Mr. Crooks, and seconded by Hon. Mr. Fraser,

That the Chairman supervise and submit to this Committee at its next meeting, a draft of such evidence as relates to the permission given by the Commissioner of Public Works to the men at the Central Prison to attend West Toronto election nomination, in order that the said evidence be submitted to the House.

The amendment being put was carried on the following division :—

Mr. Cameron moved that the whole evidence taken before this Committee, up to this time be reported to the House.—Lost.

Moved by Hon. Mr. Fraser, seconded by Hon. Mr. Crooks in amendment,

That inasmuch as the whole evidence taken by the Committee relates to various matters not affecting the action of the Commissioner of Public Works, with reference to the West Toronto election, and as to such matters the taking of evidence by the Committee is not concluded, it is not expedient that the whole evidence so taken be at present reported to the House.

The amendment was carried on the following division :—

A draft of the evidence in connection with the leave granted by the Hon. the Commissioner of Public Works to the employees at the Central Prison, prepared under the supervision of the Chairman, was laid before the Committee.

Hon. Mr. Cameron moved that a memorandum be made at the commencement of the evidence of Mr. Kennedy and Mr. Smyth, in accordance with the facts that the said witnesses were called at the instance of Mr. McKellar, all the previous witnesses having been called at the instance of Mr. Cameron.

Moved by Hon. Mr. Fraser, and seconded by Mr. Hardy,

That inasmuch as the evidence bearing upon mere increase of wages to the men at work upon Central Prison, when same were assumed by the Government, has not yet been concluded, no part of such evidence be now reported to the House.—Carried.

Hon. Mr. Cameron moved in amendment, that all the evidence in the draft of the evidence now before the Committee be retained, and that the draft prepared be sent to the House.

Hon. Mr. Cameron's amendment having been put was lost on the following division :

Andrew McCormack called and sworn.

By Mr. Cameron—I was engaged at the works at the Toronto Asylum ; I was there during the time of Harrison and McDonald's election ; I knew Mr. George Hillam ; I never made a statement to him that Mr. Tully had promised me my day if I voted for Mr. Harrison ; Mr. Tully did not promise me any thing to vote ; I voted on the other ticket ; I was in the employ of the Ontario Government ; I was employed on these buildings during the time of the Sandfield McDonald Government ; I left the employ of the Government about a year ago ; I was doing the jobbing around the Parliament Buildings ; I am a bricklayer ; I do not know why I left ; I was never notified ; there was another party put in my place ; they ceased to employ me ; I was paid for my work, sometimes by the day and sometimes by the piece, generally by the day ; it was Mr. Terence Clarke or Mr. Jones, I don't know which that was put into my place ; no one communicated with me then at all ; Mr. Jones is a bricklayer ; I was at work on the Central Prison last fall for a while ; I was there in September and October ; Mr. Wagner employed me ; my wages were $3 per day as a journeyman bricklayer ; I left because I got an engagement at the Post Office by the Government ; I was going on as housekeeper in the Post Office ; the Hon. John O'Conner made the agreement with me ; he was then Post Master General ; I did not care about the office, that was my reason for not remaining ; I am working at the Prison now ; have been working there again since Friday last, 6th of March ; after I made up my mind not to take the position in the Post Office; I tried to get back again at the Prison; I remained at the Post Office four months; November, December, January and February, and then went back to the Prison; I got better pay at the Prison than looking after the Post Office, and it suited me better; I saw Mr. Hillam the foreman, and I made arrangements with him to go back to the Prison; I saw him on the street and spoke to him, and asked him for a job; he said he would let me know in a couple of days; I was aware at that time that he had given evidence before this Committee; he told me then that he had been down before the Committee that day; he spoke to me about the evidence he gave, about Mr. Tully and myself; he asked me if I remembered telling him that Mr. Tully had promised me my day's pay to go and vote for Mr. Harrison; I said I did not for I did not vote for that ticket; I was getting $2 75 per day while I was working at the Parliament Buildings here; there is a large number of bricklayers working at the Prison now; when the days are soft so as they can work, I do not know how many; they are getting $2 75 per day, that is the wages that is going now; that is what I expect to get; they don't all receive alike; they judge by the quality and quantity of a man's work; I do not know what quantity of brick a man can lay in a day, it depends upon what he is working at; on a straight wall I reckon from five to 700 is a good day's work, taking it on the average; I was three or four days that I was sick after I left the Post Office before I saw Mr. Hillam; I was paid by the month for keeping the Post Office; I was getting $31 28 per month and house rent, fire and light included.

By Mr. Fraser.—The salary that I was receiving at the Post Office was besides house rent, fire and light included, but I did not use it as the place was not finished; I went back to the Central Prison to work on my own motion; the work I was doing for the Government previous to my services being dispensed with, was merely jobbing around the Parliament Buildings, doing occasional work by the day and by the job; there was no permanent engagement; I know that Mr. Clarke and Mr. Jones were working around here since I left; I heard they were doing the work I previously did; they were both working around here at the same time; I refer to the alterations that were done around here during last summer, the changes in the smoking room and the water-closets, &c.; I did take a prominent position in the trade union at the election previous to the last; I never asked or influenced a man to vote for either party; I made speeches and I wrote a letter; I was an active supporter of Sir John McDonald's Government at that time; it was my first time; I made a presentation to Lady McDonald, and I rode in the carriage with her; it was after this general election of which I speak that I was appointed to the Post Office; it was last November; I had been engaged at the Central Prison before going to the Post Office about a month or six weeks; it was after the Government had taken the works into their own hands; it was something over a year since I had this jobbing around the Parliament Buildings that I speak of; I saw these two men (Clarke and Jones) at work around the Parliament Buildings; there were a number of other working men engaged around these buildings at this time; I was engaged working myself on Peter Street at this time; I only expect to receive the ordinary wages now at the Prison; when I was getting $3.00 I did not consider it out of the way; it was only the ordinary wages at that time.

By Mr. Cameron.—It was after I made the presentation to Lady McDonald that I ceased to work around the Parliament Buildings here.

By Mr. Fraser.—When I say that I ceased to work, I mean that I was not sent for any more to do occasional work or jobs around the Parliament Buildings.

Mr. McCormack further said that he would like to say a word in regard to Mr. Hillam's statement.

I believe it was a mistake in mentioning Mr. Tully's name; there was something said about it by one of the contractors, Mr. Scott or Mr. Slattery; one of them suggested that if I went to vote that my day would be good, but I did not go; I voted on the other ticket; I took no active part in the election; I merely went down and voted and returned to my work; I think this is how Mr. Hillam made the mistake; I believe I was working under the Ontario Government at that time; I think this was at the election between Mr. Crooks and Mr. Wallis; Mr. Tully asked me up in his own office, joking, how I voted; I said I voted for Mr. Crooks, who I considered the best man of the two ; Mr. Tully said I had a right to vote as I thought proper ; I mean the election before Mr. Crooks went into the Government.

John Wilkie called and sworn.

By Mr. Cameron.—I was in the employ of the Ontario Government ; I first entered their employ in July, 1872 ; I took a contract from the Government to make cell gates fanlights and corridor gates ; I was then living in Toronto ; I was not doing a great deal at that time ; I had not any place of business just at that time ; I was in Penetanguishene formerly under the Government ; I was in the employ of the Government at Penetanguishene nearly eleven years at the Reformatory ; my family, except my wife, was in Toronto, and the pay was very small, and I got rather tired of living in a place so far from any society ; I made I think 120 gates for the Government while at Penetanguishene ; it was supposed they might be used at Penetanguishene, but Mr. Langmuir thought they might be sent to Toronto ; I was three or four years working at these gates ; I did not know for what purpose they were going to be used then ; I have forgotten, it is so long since, whether I got the order from the Warden, Mr Tully, or Mr. Langmuir ; I did not consult Mr. Langmuir as to the advisability of getting these gates made at any other place ; I did not speak to Mr. Langmuir upon the subject ; I had no contract with the Government when I came to Toronto ; I was looking for work, and I applied to find out if the Government had anything to do ; it was either to Mr. Tully or Mr. Langmuir ; I heard that there would be some work wanted, and that made me enquire ; I do not recollect how I got to know that there would be something to be done ; I came up to either Mr. Tully or Mr. Langmuir's office ; I don't know which one I went to see ; I think I sent my tender to either Mr. Tully or Mr. Langmuir's office ; I spoke to Mr. Lalor, and I never spoke to any member of the Government previously to putting in my tender ; I asked Mr. Lalor if he would allow me, if I got the job, the privilege of running it through in his shop as he had the machinery, as we could not do it so effectively by having to do it by hand ; I asked him what he thought it would be worth ; he said he did not think it could be run through for less than 12½ cents per pound. I said I thought I would try it for 12 cents ; my reason for getting the contract signed in my own name was because I was not accepted with Mr. Lalor ; He did not sign a tender with me ; he signed a tender ; I signed a tender for myself ; he joined me after I got the contract ; I had a young man in Mr. Tully's office prepare it for me ; I was going home to make it out, and I went into Mr. Tully's office and I saw a young man that I had a little acquaintance with, and I asked him ; I do not know the young man's name ; the paper was got from the same young man that made it out for me ; I then sealed it up and gave it to him ; Mr. Lalor's name was not to it then ; I don't think I got an answer at that time ; I called some time after and found that my tender was accepted ; Mr. Lalor and I had made an agreement that I could run it through in his shop ; he was not a party to the tender ; he never signed the tender to my knowledge ; I believe his name was afterwards put to it, as he said he did not know me, and wished to have his name put to the tender, and I believe Mr. Lalor went up and signed his name to it ; Mr. Lalor signed this after I had done so ; I signed the contract as well as the tender ; I objected to his being allowed to sign this contract ; I think it was to Mr. Tully I objected ; I suppose I was like himself, I did not know how his business stood, and he did not know anything about me ; I knew Mr. Langmuir by seeing him at the Reformatory ; I do not think I saw Mr. Tully there as often as I have seen Mr. Langmuir ; I did see Mr. Langmuir upon the subject of my getting employment after coming to Toronto ; I think I spoke to Mr. Tully about it, and then I asked Mr. Langmuir if there would be any work at the Central Prison ; then I tendered for it ; this was I think a couple of months after leaving Penetanguishene ; I came from Penetanguishene in the spring of 1872 ; I was not doing much of anything up to the time I got this contract ; I never did anything else for the Government of Ontario except the Central Prison ; except that I was at Sault Ste Marie working at the prison for the Government ; I made an engagement with Mr. Tully to go to Sault Ste Marie ; I was to take a man with me, and go up and do the job ; the cell gates were all overhauled and locks put on ; I was not to put in new gates ; I was to repair the old gates that were there ; I was to be paid by day's work ; I was to get $3.00 per day ; I was allowed also $2.00 for a man ; the man's name was George Askance ; I was there over two months repairing cells ; the man that was with me was a blacksmith ; our expenses were paid there and back ; I got $50.00 when I first went up ; I took a set of tools, iron and steel ; I could not say what quantity of steel or iron I took up ; I have the bills from Rice Lewis & Son's ; I got the pay from the Government and I paid the bills ; the Government sent me $100.00 after I was there ; they did not give me money to buy material here ; I think that I gave the accounts up here ; I showed them the accounts anyway ; Mr. Munroe, clerk of the works, was here when I settled up ; It was Mr. Tully that made the arrangement with me to go to the Sault Ste Marie ; I did not speak to Mr. Langmuir about it ; Mr. Langmuir nor Mr. Tully, neither of them, inspected the workshop there ; Mr. Munroe was up there I believe ; I left shortly before the job was finished, and I left a man there to sharpen tools for the stone-cutters, &c. ; I had only one man engaged with me ; I made the agreement for the pay of this man ; I had to pay him ; I agreed to pay him somewhere about $2.00 per day ; he considered after that he would take $1.75, if I would pay his board and some other expenses ; I hired him at $1.75, and I agreed to pay all his expenses, and I did ; I mean his board bill, and I let him have some money besides for his washing ; that was what I agreed to pay him ; he cost me a little more than that ; I paid $1.00 per day for board at the Sault ; I could not get it any less ; I paid this for all the time we were there ; I do not know of any other expenses ; I think we were there over two months ; I could not tell exactly without seeing my book ; the man that was with me was named Askance ; I gave the Government a good set of tools ; Mr. Munroe kept the tools ; I saw Mr. Munroe up there : he came there, but did not make his final examination until I left ; I told the man that if he wanted the tools he could have them at Rice Lewis & Son's price ; there was $170.00 that I got before we settled up ; I got $20.00 from Mr. Carney up there ; they gave me $50.00 when I started, and they sent me $100.00, and this did not pay up my board ; I cannot recollect how much I received when I came down ; I do not know who the account produced is written by ; it looks something like Mr. Munroe's, but I do not know ; I presented a bill to Mr. Munroe and he altered it, and I think it was destroyed because there were some objections made to it by Mr. Munroe ; he copied it and kept out some things he thought I should not charge ; there were some days that I did not work before I left that he did not allow me ; I had vouchers for all the things charged ; I went up in August, 1873, and according to the account I was away sixty-one days, until October, 1873 ; I had some work given me at the Central Prison in 1873, gates and fanlights ; I got this work by contract, by putting in an estimate for it ; Mr. Tully told me they wanted these things ; I do not know whether it was Mr. Tully or Mr. Langmuir I have seen them both at one time and talked with them ; they told me there were so many gates, &c., to make, and I could look at the plans and specifications, and see the sizes and the material they were to be made out of ; I tendered at so much per pound ; I addressed my tender to Mr. Langmuir I think ; I think he said at the time that if I wished to tender I could do so ; I saw Mr. Langmuir in his office I think ; I had done work at the Prison when I tendered the last time ; these are my signatures and Mr. Lalor's to contract produced ; I did not authorize Mr. Lalor to put his name down ; I repaired grates that were all doubled up at the Prison by the great storm ; it was last fall I did this ; Mr. Lalor and I made a bargain with Mr. Wagner what we would do them for ; I think we agreed to do them for the same price as what they cost in the first place, less the cost of the iron ; Mr. Lalor made the outside grates ; I was to get paid 12 cents per pound, less the value of the iron ; my books would show what the arrangements were ; the bargain was made and it was put down in the book ; Mr. Wagner and Mr. Lalor made the bargain principally ; I knew what the bargain was ; I furnished the hands to do the work and Mr. Lalor furnished the tools ; I drew the money from the Government ; Mr. Lalor and I had been working together making the gates, and we had an understanding, and when we got this job we went on the same as we had been doing before ; I do not recollect when I finished my work mentioned in my contract of 1873 ; they were not finished in the month of August when I went to the Sault Ste Marie ; I left some one to finish some grates that were unfinished ; my tender is simply for grates and gates ; my contract is for all work that would be wanted ; all the work mentioned in the contract was done when I went to the Sault except some grating; we made two gates after we came home that we found they were short of; I think there was nothing but some grates finished while I was away; I think twelve or fourteen; there was no pay got for this until I came back; Mr. Lalor was paid nothing while I was away; I received nothing on account of the Central Prison work when I went away; sometimes I got part of the pay, keeping back 15 per cent. as I went along; what the Government owed me when I went to Sault Ste Marie I did not get until I came back; we altered 160 fanlights and made 84; I was paid for the alteration by a bargain I made; I tried a few of them and saw what I could do with them, and I charged the Government so much a piece; I had other works on hand at the same time we were making gates; we had to alter the gates that were made at Penetanguishene; I made the bargain for the alteration of the fanlights with Mr. Tully; I think I told him what they could be altered for after I tried them; I think I offered to alter them for $1.00 a piece; I cannot explain the discrepancy in the date of my tender and contract; it appears by the tender that it is dated 12th May; my letter to Mr. Langmuir is dated 10th May, and the contract is dated 3rd January, all in 1873; there never was an agreement with Mr. Tully or Mr. Langmuir and myself until after I put in my tender, and Mr. Tully told me afterwards to go on with the work; I have not been doing business in iron work in Toronto from the time I was first employed at Penetanguishene up to the time I took this contract; I was not doing business for myself in Toronto while I was at the Reformatory at Penetanguishene; I kept the cost of these works; these gates, the way they were made by hand, would cost I think 20 or 30 cents per pound at Penetanguishene; I don't know if this would do it; I know the value of machinery, and this is how I knew that I could do it for 12 cents here; I was not using these machines while in Penetanguishene; I made a calculation myself and I asked Mr. Lalor what he could do it for, he told me that if I put in less than 12½ cents I could not do it; I put in 12 cents; I did not expect very much profit; if I made wages I would be satisfied; I thought if I could make 15 per cent. I would be content; I estimated the cost of the whole work that I was going to take a contract for at $8,000.00 or $10,000.00; it depended altogether on how many hands I employed, how long it would take us to do the work; I thought I could make wages at that price; I made my calculations and I thought I could make a living at so much; I think if Mr. Lalor had taken it at 11 cents, he would have made a good deal less than what he did; I paid the men's wages and he furnished the machinery; if there was any profit made out of it, he got it. I kept an account of what it cost and what the profits were; I have not got that account now; I made a calculation of it since the work was done; I think I have perhaps made about 15 per cent. or thereabouts; I suppose we have made something about $2,000.00, or a little over it; I had the job in hand a good bit over a year; I began in May, I think, or June, 1872; the work that was to come to $8,000.00 or $10,000.00 was the work that I have done altogether; I was getting at Penetanguishene $400.00 a year and a house; I did not make the $2,000.00 profit myself nor the half of it; I did not make $1,000.00 on the whole job, the whole money that I ever got from the Government; I suppose the whole work, work at Sault Ste Marie and all, will come to somewhere about $1,000.00 profit; I had three men most of the time, besides myself, at the Central Prison; I paid two men about $2.00 per day, and a helper at $1.25; I think these three men were working constantly, except perhaps a day or so, from the time I took the contract in June, 1872, to May, 1873; I had two men employed at this work when I went to Sault Ste Marie, two men that had been working for Mr. Lalor, and they went there to work and finish the job after I left; I paid these men when I came home; I do not know whether Mr. Lalor paid them anything or not; I voted at the last election for Mr. Wilkes.

By Mr. Lauder.—I voted on the same side as I always voted.

By Mr. Cameron.—I spoke to Mr. Kelly, the Warden, about the situation, and he told me that he would engage me, to come on; I do not know but Mr. Angus Morrison might have spoken to him; I supported him as long as I liked to, and after that, I went against him; I never saw Mr. McKellar with reference to my contract; my only communication was with Mr. Tully and Mr. Langmuir; I was appointed to the position at Penetanguishene about ten years ago; it was before I went to Penetanguishene that I supported Mr. Morrison; it was while I was living in Barrie; it was before Mr. McConkey opposed him, I think; I think the amount of my work was about $10,000,00; I do not know whether there was any public competition or not; there was no advertisement that I saw; it was not from any advertisement in any newspaper that induced me to tender.

By Mr. Fraser.—I was engaged at Penetanguishene for ten years; I was there as master-blacksmith; I did during that time acquire considerable experience in making iron work; I was there when the foundation of the prison was commenced, and was there until the prison was finished, and done most of the iron-work by prison labour. The materials for making these gates were sent up to me from Toronto; before leaving there I was engaged making gates and fanlights, afterwards used in the Central prison; they were all made by handwork, the material being sent up from here, there would be the freight up and the freight back again; it would cost all of thirty cents a pound to make these gates up there; in making the alterations and repairs, and in making the doors for the Penetanguishene Prison, and also in making the doors, &c., for the Central Prison, I acquired a great deal of experience; these doors were made from time to time, under Mr. Langmuir's superintendance, and with various improvements suggested by Mr. Langmuir; some doors were sent up from Kingston, made at the Penitentiary there, and I suggested some improvements upon them; I made these suggestions to the old Prison Board, and they made the alterations as I had suggested; during the time I was engaged at Penetanguishene my wife and I were up there and the balance of my family were living in Toronto; I came here on my own motion; Mr. Langmuir never induced me in any way to come here; I believe when these doors were made it was intended to use them in a wing that was contemplated building up there; when Mr. Langmuir saw them he said they were too good for that purpose and that they would be taken to the Central prison at Toronto; they put up gates with a wooden frame up there; Mr. Langmuir thought that it would not do to put such expensive gates up there; I made one hundred and twenty gates up there; when I put in my first tender I tendered for the balance of the gates necessary for three tier of cells, that is what is included in my first tender and first contract; when I came down to Toronto it was of my own motion; I came to Mr. Tully and Mr. Langmuir to look for a job; all that they said to me was that if I wanted work I should put in a tender, and I put in a tender accordingly; I made a calculation before I put in my first tender for twelve cents, knowing that I could use Mr. Lalor's machinery; I did not know Mr. Lalor until I came to Toronto; I got to know that he had a contract from Mr. Elliott on the Central Prison; Mr. Elliott at that time had the works at the Central Prison; I had no interest in Mr. Lalor's sub-contract with Mr. Elliott; my agreement with Mr. Lalor was that I was to supply the men and he was to supply the machinery, and we were to supply the materials in common, and after paying for material we were to divide the proceeds equally; the doors and fanlights were put into the work as the work went on; it was after I put in my first tender that I heard that there was to be a fourth tier of cells; it was of my own motion that I came to tender for the fourth tier of cells; the extra half cent rise was in consequence of the rise in iron; the last tender and the contract related to the work necessary for the fourth tier of the cells; the works were taken from Mr. Elliott somewhere about the time I was away at Sault St. Marie; I had nearly completed my work when I went away, except the two doors that we made after we came back, which we found were short; I did not receive more than a reasonable and fair price for the work I done at the Central Prison; if I had not received what I did I would not have taken the job; I do not think any person else could have taken the job any less and made a reasonable profit; I went to Sault St. Marie to repair the jail up there, that was about the time the work at the Central Prison was taken from Mr. Elliott; that was the only work that I had at any of these lock-ups or jails; I went to Sault St. Marie to be paid by the day for repairs to the gates, &c., in connection with the prison there; there was not a blacksmith there fit to do the work; it was necessary to send some person there to do this work as they could not have got it done otherwise; Mr. Munroe was not there when I went; I got my instructions from Mr. Langmuir; he told me to go up there and repair the prison, and Mr. Tully suggested to me a way to fix the cells to make them tight; I went in and I done all the work, as I supposed, until Mr. McKellar came ; I was pretty near through with the job at this time, and they (the jailer and sheriff) asked Mr. McKellar if it would not be safer to put spring locks on, and he gave orders to put on the spring locks ; we were a week or so doing nothing, waiting for the locks to come, and then I had to go to work and undo the work I had previously done ; I am sure the work could have been done in half the time if the alterations had not been made ; the Sundays were struck off my account—they allowed me for nothing but working days, although I could have demanded it—they struck off $1,00 per day for twenty-five days ; I was allowed $2,00 per day for my man from the Government, and board and expenses ; they asked me what I could get a man for, and I told them I could not get a man less than $2,00 per day ; I got the man for $1,75, and I was allowed $2,00 ; they allowed only twelve weeks board for the man at $5,00 per week ($60,00) ; these two items for tools, amounting to somewhat about sixty or seventy dollars, were what Mr. Monroe kept, I charged them at cost price, just what I paid for them ; the only work that I done, except by contract, was the repairs of some doors and grates, eight or ten doors and seven grates injured by the storm, and what I done at Sault St. Marie ; I engaged with Mr. Wagner to repair these gates and grates ; It was really worth more than we charged to repair the cell gates and I don't know but we might have done the grates a little less ; I don't think we got more than fair wages for these, taking the two together ; I did not make more than $1,000,00 profit out of all the work that I had from the Government.

By Mr. Cameron.—The price of iron in June 1872 was something about $3,25 ; I do not mind the date when it went up ; I know it was up to about $4.00 when I took the last contract ; I bought the most of my iron from Rice Lewis & Son ; I bought $500,00 worth from Ridout, corner of King and Yonge streets, in 1872 ; I bought from Rice, Lewis & Son all along. I got no iron, except from Rice Lewis & Son, and Ridout ; iron was charged to me at $4.00 in 1873 ; I may have been paying a little less ; I do not know until I look over my bills whether I was charged $4.00 or not ; I paid as high as $4.00 and as low as $3.25 ; I do not know what part of the year I was paying $4.00 and what part $3.25 ; I do not know whether it was in spring or fall ; it was high when I made my contract in May ; I mean when I say high it was above $3.25.

By Mr. Fraser.—Iron varies and that is the reason why I cannot say what date it went up or when it lowered ; I was told by Mr. Lewis that it was sure to go still higher, and that was the reason why I charged the extra half cent on my last contract.

At the request of Hon. Mr. Fraser, Mr. Dickey was ordered to appear before the Committee to-morrow.

Mr. Nathaniel Dickey re-called.

By Mr. Fraser.—I am one of the firm of Dickey, Neil & Co., doing business in Toronto, manufacturers of steam engines, boilers and general machinery ; I believe we have been doing work at the Toronto Lunatic Asylum for the last 15 or 16 years ; we done work at the Asylum under the Sandfield Macdonald Government ; we had a contract with the Prison Inspector before Confederation for supplying the iron-work for the new hospitals ; that was in 1866 ; the amount of the contract was, I believe in round numbers about $2,500 00 ; that work was in progress at the time of the formation of the Sandfield Macdonald Government ; we done work for the Sandfield Macdonald Government after they came into power to the amount of $23,500 00 in round numbers, for work done on the new wings of the asylum, which would be over and above the $2,500 00 work contracted for previous to Confederation ; the kind of work we done on the contract of $23,500 00, was the window guards, irons for the verandah and other irons connected with the buildings, also wrought iron sashes and general castings ; there was no advertisement that I ever saw for this contract of $23,500 00 ; we were doing the work at the hospitals of the asylum at the time, and I spoke to Mr. Carling about being allowed to go on with the work of the wings, at the same prices as we got for the other work ; it was arranged between Mr. Carling and myself that the price should be modified in one particular item, that was the verandah bars should be charged at 8 cents per pound, instead of 10 cents as the others were charged ; we arranged for the purchase of them in England ; by special arrangements they were ordered at the manufactory the exact size ready to be put up ; I do not know as I can tell exactly what per centage of profit we made on this work ; I think we laid them down at 2½ cents ; Iron was cheap at that time, it was a very fortunate purchase of ours ; there was no tender put in for this work ; we made verbal arrangements with Mr. Carling, and afterwards a contract ; for the ordinary forging, other than the verandah forging, I think it was 10 cents we received.

By Mr. Cameron.—There are contracts in writing for all these works, and can be produced if required.

By Mr. Fraser.—I believe we got for castings 4 cents per pound ; we got for the window guards and window sashes, I think it was 12½ cents per pound, but I do not exactly recollect ; these window guards were a similar kind of work to the gates at the Central Prison ; there were sash weights also, we got 3 cents per pound for them, they are the cheapest kind of castings made ; we finished that work (the $23,500 00 contract), in the fall of 1870, I think ; we built a steam engine I believe, for the Sandfield Macdonald Government for doing the pumping at the asylum, this was not included in this contract ; there was an advertisement for tenders for building the steam engine ; I believe our tender was $900 and some odd dollars ; from time to time we were accustomed to do general jobbing work at this building ; it is done by the day and by the hour when we do it ; we first had work to do under the present Government I believe in 1872, I think the fall of that year ; it was the work connected with the Central Prison ; we have done jobbing and repairs at the asylum, the same as we done under the previous Government ; the first work we done for the present Government at the Central Prison, was for the altering of the Central Prison Buildings ; we took a contract to build the steam engine, shafting and other work ; there were tenders for the steam engine ; I received a letter from the Department with a specification accompanying it, asking that we would put in a tender for steam boilers, and the castings that might be required on these works. It was an official letter from Hon. Mr. McKellar ; we tendered upon receipt of that letter for all these things ; Mr. Currie tendered for the whole of this work also ; he is a manufacturer in Toronto ; Our tender was the lowest and we got the work accordingly ; Mr. Currie is a boiler-maker, he deals in engines also, but he does not manufacture them ; the way he tendered was, he personally procured tenders from other manufacturers and tendered from those ; I see by the articles of agreement produced, of date 31st Oct. 1868, made between Mr. Carling, ex-commissioner and our firm, that we were to have 12½ cents per pound for the wrought iron sashes, and wrought iron guards ; 3 cents per pound for cast iron weights, 4 cents per pound for all other cast iron work ; all wrought iron work for the verandahs 8 cents per pound, all other wrought iron work 10 cents per pound, and for the lightning rods 20 cents per lineal foot ; we done other work for the Central Prison besides the engine, boiler and shafting ; we made some iron columns for the alteration of the buildings ; we also fixed the hangers and shafting in their places ; that work would have been tendered for along with the other only the building being so incomplete, we could not tell what was required, and it was agreed that this was to be done under the supervision of the Government Inspector of machinery ; it was considered to come in the same category as the ordinary repairing and jobbing account ; I believe now that the work is finished, it amounts to $20,000 in round numbers ; this is Central Prison work ; the work that we did not tender for, I could not say what it would amount to ; the Government Inspector of machinery, (Mr. Banks) kept the time of the men, he returned the time to us and we paid the men according to his return and charged it to the Government ; I think the labour account at the Prison was somewhere about the amount of this account produced, $1,785 68 ; the $20,000 00 includes all the work done at the Central Prison, except the work that we done in connection with the water supply, which would amount to $8,000 00 or $9,000 00 more ; this was partly for the prison and partly for the asylum ; any work that was done with regard to the water supply was done under contract and tender ; I could not say whether it was advertised or not, but I rather think not ; it was an alteration of the existing system of the water supply, and the reason I think it was assigned to us was because we had all the patterns in connection with the original system, and we had been regularly doing the work ; we did not build the original engine, but we re-built it ; this was previous to Confederation ; we rebuilt it about 8 years ago ; we were to get 5 cents per pound, the contract price for castings at the Central Prison ; they are not ordinary castings, some of them were special castings as they were new designs ; this 5 cents per pound included the price of making the pattern ; we were to get I believe, 10½ cents for the wrought iron work ; I think the engine, boilers, shafting, hangers and some castings connected with the buildings were similar to those we done under the Sandfield Macdonald Government at the asylum ; the reason that we get 5 cents per pound for castings now, and 4 cents under the Sandfield Macdonald Government was, when we took the contract from Mr. Carling, iron was cheaper than I have ever known it to be, and when we took this contract it was very high ; pig iron was from $20 00 to $22 50 in the fall of 1868, and the beginning of 1869 ; the bar iron was then from $2 20 to $2 25 ; boiler plates were 3 cents, sheets were $3 20 ; lehigh coal was then $7 50 per ton, and wages $1 50 to $1 60 per day ; the prices when we took this contract from Hon. Mr. McKellar were in the fall of 1872 and the beginning of 1873, pig iron, $46 00 to $50 00 per ton ; bar iron, 3¼ to 4 cents ; plates, 5¼ to 5½, sheets, 6½ ; lehigh coal from $8 00 to $9 00, wages from $1 85 to $2 25 per day ; this is the reason why our tender contained the advanced prices referred to ; the prices charged to the Government in all items charged to them were the regular trade prices that we charge all our customers, even to men in the trade ; they pay us 5 cents per pound for the castings ; we have done work for railway companies, such as castings ; our price to them for castings was 6 cents per pound ; we done considerable for the Northern Extension Railway ; we had 6 cents per pound from them, and 8 of the castings were each 3,000 pounds weight ; in no case have we received more from the Government for any work we have done for them than ordinary trade prices ; I have our account book here to show any member of the committee, should they wish to see it, and our accounts will show that in many cases we charged the Government less ; this applies to all items of work we have done for the Government as far as I know.

The following are some of the names of lumbering and other firms that we do work for, and are charged at the same rates as charged to the Government :—Thompson Smith & Sons ; First Boorke & Son ; J. B. Smith ; MacMurray & Fuller ; North Grey Railway Company ; Hay & Patton ; City of Toronto ; Dodge & Co. ; MacMurry & Co. ; John Ross ; James Robertson & Co., men in the trade, and although they were in the trade they were paying the same prices ; Toronto University ; Walker, Poole & Co., a commission firm in the same business, and they were paying us the same prices all along ; the Canadian Telegraph Supply Company ; the Toronto Gas Company ; E. H. Cooke & Co. ; C. J. Hewston & Co. ; Cook, Bros. ; J. P. Wagner, who is in business in the city, and is now superintendent of the Central Prison ; he has paid us five cents per pound for 8 or 10 tons in the last month ; Mr. Wagner also pays $7.50 per day for use of the machine that the Government were only charged $5 per day for ; this work was done for Mr. Wagner himself personally, it has nothing to do with the Government or Central Prison ; Mr. Wagner is an old contractor and builder in the city ; he has been in the city for a number of years ; I know he is Superintendent of the Works at the Central Prison. Messrs. Ginty & Dickey, a firm of which I am a member, had occasion to get a man to superintend a portion of work, but not requiring such a large responsibility or the same extensive duties as Mr. Wagner, our man was to superintend a portion of the work done for the City of Toronto at the Water Works; we had him employed while that portion of our job lasted, between two and three months; his name is McBain; we paid him $8 per day; I say positively that in many cases the work we have done for the Government has been done less than our regular prices; Ginty and Dickey have the contract for that portion of the water works for the City of Toronto, and would be of a similar character to the water supply at the Prison and Asylum; we got 13 cents per pound for the castings furnished and put in their place at this work (water works); we competed for this work from the City of Toronto; we tendered for it; tenders were advertised for; in the account produced, dated August 28th, 1873, the reason the valves are charged for in this account at the prices charged is, because I thought this was a fair price; they are not the same as the ordinary plumbers' globe valves; they were made purposely, under Mr. Tully's superintendence, expressly for this work; no such valves can be had on sale; I do not believe there are any such in existence except those purposely ordered; the prices we have charged for these valves are the ordinary prices we would charge any person else for them; we have never made any of these before; they are calculated to resist pressure enough to throw water over the Central Prison; the slide valves with brass facings and lever complete, those you have referred to in account dated 21st November, 1873, are manufactured expressly, specially for the purpose they were used; I consider the price charged here is a fair trade price.

By Mr. Cameron.—I believe we tendered to the Prison Inspector for the work of the hospitals at the Asylum, in 1866, amounting to $2,500 00; the work for $23,500 00, that we had from Mr. Carling in 1868, I never saw advertised; I know as well as I can know anything of the kind, it was not advertised; I never heard it had been under contract to any person else; the work was given to us in 1866 by the Prison Inspector because our tender was the lowest; to that tender prices were attached; I think it was about two years after this that I got the other work, $23,500 00, from Hon. Mr. Carling; I believe there was about 29 tons of iron bars in the verandah, for which the contract price was 8 cents per pound; I never thought I got more than the right price from the Sandfield McDonald Government; I always thought I gave them good value; there was perfect satisfaction as far as I know; we ordered the verandah bars in England, through Messrs. Rice Lewis & Son; they were made the exact size; I cannot say whether we paid them a commission or whether we paid them 2½ cents per pound; I think we paid them a commission, but I think the 2½ cents was the price of the iron laid down to us at the works; this contract was only a fair contract; upon the year's transactions I would consider 10 per cent. a fair profit; I would consider, on such a contract as this, 15 per cent. a fair profit; in reference to the Central Prison work, we had no work to do under Mr. Elliott; We made a portion of the work for Mr. Harding, one of Mr. Elliott's sub-contractors; we made tanks and heating boilers for him; I think I saw Mr. Tully upon the subject of the work at the prison before I got the letter from Mr. McKellar; I came to the Department to see him; from my own observation that there were some iron work to be done; I made the inquiry at that particular time because I heard there were some alterations to be made; I knew it from Mr. Bains, the manager of the Canada Car Company; I not only knew it through Mr. Bains, but from other sources; we were doing some work for Mr. Bains; it was a monthly account; I could not say how much it amounted to; I believe iron was lower at the time I took the contract from the Sandfield Government than I had ever seen it; it was down when we tendered; I was not aware that I could make so fortunate a purchase; it was only after I got the contract that I found out we could make such a favourable purchase; if we had had to make these bars ourselves we could not have made such a large profit; we have a book in which we keep the time and show the first cost of such work; it is kept in our office; I do not know which of the clerks kept it at this time; we have three clerks, to each one is assigned special duties; one of them is named Henry Dickey, and another is Jonathan Gill; Mr. Gill, I think, would know; I did not fix these prices; I am speaking from examination of the work which I did before I came here; I was not a party to any discussion in connection with this; my partners are Mr. James Dickey and Mr. John Neil; I could make an estimate of the cost of one of these valves, particularly after I questioned the foreman as to the time it took and its internal construction; I did question the foreman in respect to this ; the foreman is John Venables ; I cannot say what time he told me it would take ; I made the examination the day before I came here first ; I cannot say now as to the time it took ; my reason for asking him about it the day I came here first was because I expected to be examined upon it ; the ordinary prices of valves depends upon the material, mode of construction, and the time taken in making it ; these valves referred to were made of brass, iron and steel ; probably there might be 30 or 40 pounds of brass ; we charge for brass from 40 to 60 cents per pound, owing to the kind ; the kind of brass we used in these valves is 50 cents per pound before there is any labour on it ; we make brass ourselves ; I do not know whether we bought this or cast it ; there was also cast iron used in them ; I suppose that would be about 100 pounds ; that would be worth about 6 cents without labour now ; it would be worth no less in November, 1873, than it is worth now ; that class of casting would be worth 6 cents per pound ; they range from 4 to 8 cents per pound, according to the kind of casting ; the pattern would have to be paid for besides this ; we have sold castings as high as 10 cents ; the quantity of steel would be 10 or 15 pounds ; this would be worth about 20 cents per pound ; that particular portion of steel would be worth more than that, because it would have to be forged ; there is also glands and bolts and nuts connected with it ; the weight altogether, I presume, would be less than 200 pounds weight for one valve ; the reason for the reduction in the account produced from 12 cents per pound to 10 cents was probably made in error by the bookkeeper as to the contract price per pound ; I have seen a valve calculated to resist 200 pounds pressure, but I do not think they are kept ready made for sale ; the ordinary valve would resist working pressure of 100 pounds ; the cost would be, I think, about $35 00 for such a valve ; that valve is not an ordinary globe valve, because it is bored out and a brass seat put in ; this would make the difference in the cost of construction ; it might take an additional one or two days' work ; it might take five days ; it might take a day to make the draft, a day to make the pattern, and a day to bore it out, and if he met with any difficulty it might take twice as long, and then when he had it finished he might find out a flaw in it, and have to throw it into the scrap and have to do it over again ; I do not know who Mr. Geo. Taylor is that certified that this account produced is correct ; I have nothing to do with the certifying of the accounts ; this account, dated 21st November, 1873, is, I think, in the handwriting of Mr. Gill, but I am not quite certain ; we were not doing any of this kind of work for Mr. Bains, of the Canada Company ; Mr. Bains did all his own forging ; he was manufacturing rolls for the making of iron ; we made his castings, and turned up some portions of the work for him ; I do not remember what we charged him ; we have not been making any castings for him lately ; when Mr. Bains wanted castings that we had the patterns of, he came to us for them ; I have no interest in the Canada Car Company ; our rates of labour are, for foremen we charge $5 00 per day ; we pay them, I think, either $3 50 or $4 00 ; we charge for ordinary lathe work $5 00 per day ; that includes the man's time ; for some of our lathes we charge $8 00 per day ; we pay our machinists $3 00 per day ; the prices charged would include tools required to carry on the work ; our helper would be paid $1 50 ; he also would be supplied his tools ; we pay, I think, the pattern makers from $1 75 to $3 50 per day ; we have several pattern makers ; our present price for furnishing any machinist out of our establishment is not less than $3 per day ; the man at the Prison could certify to the time ; all the work that is done on machines is done in our establishment ; I do not believe Mr. Taylor or any other man could certify to the work done on our machines in the shop ; he could only certify to the time of outside work ; by looking at this account, a person could not tell what caused the variations in the prices of the different items ; no man could form any idea of the value of the joints by looking at the account ; he would have to look at the joints themselves ; I think those prices are part of the contract prices, and I think the clerk might not have known when making out the account of the contract prices, and this would account for the alterations being made ; some contract prices differ from others, owing to the extent of them.

I told Mr. Fraser that the prices were the regular prices of the trade.

I made this memorandum (this referred to a memorandum that Mr. Dickey had in his hand) of the prices of iron last evening ; I put down in 1866 pig iron \$22 00 to \$22 50 ; this is in the writing of I think Mr. Neil ; he writes so much like Mr. Gill that I could not say for certain ; I presume that the reason for selecting January, 1873, was because we had an invoice of that date ; pig iron was fluctuating from the 1st Oct., 1872, to 1st Jan., 1873, and commenced from midsummer of 1872 ; I think it kept rising from Oct., 1872, to Jan., 1873 ; in Oct. I could say it was from \$44 to \$46 ; bar iron in Oct. was, I presume, about $3\frac{3}{4}$ or 4 cents, or perhaps $4\frac{1}{4}$; bar iron does not go up correspondingly with pig iron ; it is not so sensitive, probably, because there is so much kept on hand, and it is in such general use ; under the contract with the Sandfield Macdonald Government at the Asylum we used more bar iron I think ; under our contract with the present Government we used I think more cast iron on the works we were doing since ; there are heavy cast iron columns supporting the verandah at the asylum, which would bring up the portion of cast iron used there, but I think the proportion will remain as I have stated :

Castings were in 1866 from 3 to 4 cents.

We are not subject to much change in wages on account of seasons in our business, generally wages are the lowest in winter, but we do not perceive much difference in our business.

Our firm and Currie both tendered for this work at the Central Prison ; we have not, except during the last three months, done any work for Mr. Currie ; we had no conversation upon the subject of tenders neither before or after ; he was not on intimate terms with us at that time, and he would not get anything from us that he could help ; I am not sure that he got any work from us in the fall of 1872, if he did it was something that we had patterns of ; I think he got something in 1873 ; we did no work for him that he had under contract at the Central Prison ; these castings that we may have done for him I do not think had anything to do with anything connected with the Central Prison ; our contract included the boilers and engine at the Central Prison ; we entered into a contract in Oct., 1872, and also another in Jan., 1873 ; our proposition was to do the castings at 5 cents per lb., and the wrought iron at 10 cents per lb., this is for the water supply, dated 27th Sept. ; the one dated 6th Oct. is for the alterations in the south work-shops ; the other is dated 2nd Jan., 1873, though under a tender dated Nov., 1872.

It was in consequence of receiving a letter from Hon. Mr. McKellar that I tendered for the contract for the engine and boilers ; I had a previous contract from the Government in connection with the water supply and the alterations to the buildings ; the alterations, engine, boilers, shafts, hangings and everything except the water supply amounting to about $20,000 ; the water supply would be in my tender dated 27th Sept., 1872 ; on castings for the last twelve months the price has been from 4 to 6 cents, average about 5 cents.

By Mr. Cameron.—I think we added a note to our tender when we took the hospitals that we would do the work on the wings at the same prices ; we got our work at $12\frac{1}{2}$ cents per lb., our contract prices for the guards, and 10 cents per lb. for the forgings ; it was a portion of that work which we tendered for during the Sandfield McDonald Administration at 10 cents per lb. that we afterwards reduced to 8 cents.

At the request of the Hon. Mr. Cameron, Mr. Hugh Bains, Manager of the Canada Car Company, was ordered to appear to-morrow.

Hon. Mr. Cameron then moved the following resolution :

That as the whole time at the disposal of the Committee to-day has been taken up by a witness, Nathaniel Dickey, whose accounts have been called in question, called at the instance of the Government by the Provincial Secretary, it be resolved in future the Committee will hear all the evidence tendered to impeach the correctness of the Government accounts, before hearing witnesses on behalf of the Government, otherwise it will not be possible to have alleged objectionable items of the accounts investigated.

Mr. Cameron's motion having been put was lost on the following division :—

J. W. Langmuir, Inspector of Prisons and Asylums, called and sworn.

By Mr. Rykert.—I made arrangements for all the supplies for the Central Prison in the way of furnishing, under instructions jointly of the Commissioner of Public Works and the Provincial Secretary.

In some things tenders have been called for; in new buildings new tenders are asked; there were no tenders asked for any of the furnishings in connection with the Central Prison; we never ask for tenders for dry goods; under no Administration were there tenders for dry goods that I am aware of; this account produced of $2,549 56 for blankets, quilts, &c. of John Fraser, of Montreal, I ordered these; I think they were ordered in June or July of 1872; several orders were given between 6th of April and 26th Sept., 1872; that bill includes 4 different invoices; I consulted with the Commissioner of Public Works and some other members of the Government, and shewed the necessity of these things; I thought the Prison would be open on the 1st July, 1873; the linen sheetings were of a particular kind and a particular width; John Fraser, of Montreal, is the sole agent for the largest linen houses in Ireland; Wm. Spartin & C., who are the largest linen manufacturers in Belfast, Ireland, and Dunbar McMaster & Co., of Guilford, Ireland; this $2,549 56 is composed of Linen sheeting, $717 56, invoiced and delivered in May, 1872—ordered in April, 1872.

Grey blankets, $1,312 00, ordered in June, 1872, delivered in August, 1872.

Quilts, Coloured, a special kind, $450 00, ordered in June, 1872, and delivered in September.

Only the linen had to be specially ordered; I gave orders for over 3,000 yards; he had $717 00 worth, which he delivered at once.

The reason why the blankets were ordered was, I was in Montreal at this time, and my orders had been from Sandfield McDonald to purchase goods at the very lowest prices, and wherever I wished, to be on the look out for bargains as well as the trade; I received these instructions a year or two before he went out of power, it was during 1870; I never received any written instructions from him; Sandfield Macdonald never instructed me to procure things before they were required, he left this at my own discretion; he never asked me to procure goods a year and a half in advance; the same kind of blankets could not have been procured in Toronto, they were of a firm texture and a heavy weight suitable for prison purposes, they were grey blankets ; there were others in the trade could furnish blankets besides Mr. Fraser ; I consider they were about $1 00 each under the market price, they were bought I understood from Benning and Barsalou, Auctioneers, Montreal ; I knew there were others in the trade that could furnish blankets ; I knew the blankets could not be furnished, bought in the usual way at that price, they were below the trade price ; I had made enquiries of the Cornwall Manufacturing Company ; I did not get a list of prices from them ; I saw their agent in Montreal ; I also saw McMaster and McMurrich in Toronto ; they have no price list that I am aware of ; I did not recommend that tenders should be called for those, it was not done under the Sandfield McDonald administration ; John Fraser was the only person I purchased blankets from during that year ; the blankets were purchased rather early because I thought it would be necessary to have "Central Prison" woven into them, but I happened to be in Montreal at the time and saw this chance, and I took advantage of it, in consequence of it being a bargain ; I did not think they could be delivered before December, but it did not take so long to put the mark "Central Prison" on them as I supposed it would ; the price paid to John Fraser was $5 25 per pair and 25 cents per pair for marking them ; the coloured quilts were $1 80 each ; the linen was 47½ cents per yard ; I purchased blankets from Mr. Fraser again in 1873 ; I think about 95 pairs the balance of the order ; I knew that they had about 400 pairs of these same blankets in stock and they said they would hold them over until I gave the additional order at the same price ; I paid in 1873 $5 25 a pair the same price as in 1872 ; in 1873 I think I bought blankets from Geo. Winks & Co., of Montreal, not the same description of blankets, not half the weight, I paid him $3.18 a pair ; I found a single pair of the other blankets would not be warm enough, so I purchased these others so as they could cut them in two and make a pair and a half by putting one of these with a pair of the others ; I bought sheeting in 1873 from Mr. Fraser, a different width, I paid him 35 cents a yard for this, it was for pillow cases ; the prices in 1873 varied only in width and quality, there was no difference in price I think for the same goods as in 1872 ; he asked no advance on the goods in 1873, he held the blankets over by a special arrangement made ; Geo. Harcourt made up clothing in 1873 amounting to $1,110.30 ; he made up the prison clothing, coats, pants and caps ; I did not ask for tenders for this kind of work ; Harcourt's account was for making and trimming 252 suits of prison clothing at $3.75 per suit, he found the trimmings, and for 252 prison caps at 65 cents each ; the cloth alone being furnished by the Government. The caps were made out of the clippings of the suits ; I sent Mr. Scoble around to ask several persons about what they would make these for. I did not ask any person myself ; Mr. Scoble never furnished me with the prices that any other persons would do this for ; we never get tenders for these, I considered this a very reasonable price ; I informed the Commissioner that I had given this work to Harcourt to be done ; I believe the Commissioner spoke about making enquiries about what they could be done for ; this was before Harcourt got them to do ; I think I told the Commissioner that it would be better not to tender ; I purchased from McMaster goods amounting to $2330.00 at that time, in June or July I was making enquiries about the colour of the cloth best suited for prison clothing ; there was a difference of opinion upon the colour, I wanted to get a cloth of one colour, some distinguishing colour, I went to McMaster and they took the trouble to import samples of different colour cloths that were used in prisons in the Old Country ; I went also to McMurrich's and Barber's, of Streetsville, that is all I remember going to ; I asked them if they could furnish the goods and they said they could ; McMaster then showed me a sample of a peculiar colour a snuff brown, which both in respect to colour and weight came up to what I thought was required for prison purposes ; McMaster had not that kind of cloth in stock at that time ; I thought the great thing was to get the right colour and the right weight ; I showed the sample to the Commissioner of Public Works and recommended its purchase, and the order was given for it ; when I reported this fact to the Commissioner, he did not suggest that I should get tenders ; I purchased from Bryce, McMurrich & Co., goods to the amount of $567.00 ; this is for 8 doz. of grey pants and 10½ doz. grey shirts ready made (knit wool) ; I went to several houses about these ; I went to McMaster's, and John McDonald's ; these are the only two I have any recollections of ; they could not furnish them as cheap as Bryce, McMurrich & Co., we paid them $10.00 per doz. for the pants and $10.00 per doz.

for the shirts ; the pants are woollen knit drawers ; I purchased from Mr. Clendenning, of Montreal, $1512.00 worth of bedsteads ; no tenders were asked for those ; I gave the order myself ; the order was given on 11th June, 1873 ; I went down to Montreal and visited several establishments where they manufacture bedsteads ; I found Clendenning's to be the largest in Canada ; I saw several patterns of iron bedsteads such as had been furnished asylums and prisons, some of which appeared to me defective, and I suggested a change in the pattern so as to add strength to the bedstead, and asked him to make two sample bedsteads and send them up to Toronto ; they did so and I shewed them to the Commissioner of Public Works ; he approved of them and the order was given for them—252 at $6.00 each ; As far as I could find out you could not get them less than $8.50 at retail in Toronto, they were very heavy, they weighed 66lbs. each ; they were double riveted and very strong ; they were selling inferior bedsteads in Montreal at retail at $8.50 each ; I made a special arrangement for the freight with the steamboat company for 12½ cents each ; I made enquiries in Toronto, but I am not aware that there is any manufacturers of bedsteads to any extent in Toronto ; Mr. Clendenning has, I believe, an agent here, Messrs. Rice Lewis & Son, I think, are his agents ; I purchased $386.00 worth of furnishings from Noah L. Piper & Son ; I do not remember having gone to any other place for these things ; I sent to Marsh & Co. for their prices of tinware, but they had very few of those goods ; they are a special make, extra size and extra weight, all block tin ; it consists of plates, dippers, pails, and things of that kind, and they all require to be very strong ; all the goods that I purchased in 1872 are now stored in the rear of the library ; all the clothing, &c., are also stored in these buildings.

By Mr. Cameron.—When I was making enquiries among the different establishments and seeing what I could get these goods, for I did not take a memorandum of the prices so as I could show it to the Commissioner of Public Works or any other person ; I purchased these the same as any merchant would purchase them, go around from house to house until I got them the cheapest ; when I ordered these goods I expected the Central Prison would be ready by July, 1873, but when January, 1873, came, I saw plainly that it could not be ready by July ; it was not the custom to advertise for dry goods, because it is impossible to explain exactly what kinds of goods you want ; there is no rule generally in the dry goods business that would designate what you wanted except by sample ; I had a good deal to do in the construction of the Central Prison ; I had to do with the original scheme ; the original scheme was that there would be three Central Prisons ; one in the east, one in the west, and one here in Toronto ; the cost of one Central Prison in the original scheme would not at first exceed $100,000.00 that was for certain buildings only, the rest of the buildings could be put up by prison labour the same as they were done at Kingston Penitentiary and other similar places ; the original estimate included a wing for females which would cost very much less than for males.

By Hon. Mr. Richards.—The original appropriation was $150,000.00 ; you could not tell what the Prison would cost in the first place, for the reason that the trades were not determined upon, that was owing to the workshop accommodation ; if light trades had been adopted, such as shoemaking, tailoring, &c., it would not have cost anything like what it has cost for the manufacture of iron, brass, and wood ; I don't think that the trades of shoemaking, tailoring, &c., would have been fitted for an adult Reformatory as this is, consequently when the trades were determined upon, considerable additions were necessary, probably from $20,000.00 to $25,000.00 had to be expended extra in fitting up the shops and completing them ; but independent of the shop accommodation, the original specifications for the work that was let did not include works that were actually required to complete the buildings that were placed under contract ; in the estimates of 1872 large additional amounts had to be asked in order to complete even those buildings that were the under contract, for instance the sum of $10,000.00 was asked for extra foundations, the trial pits had not been sunk, so that the extent of the foundations required for these buildings was not known ; and a much larger sum, not less than $15,000.00, has been expended upon this service ; then certain drains were omitted altogether, and other work for which $15,321.00 were asked for, but they were in connection with the original contracts let to Mr. Elliott ; then the cell doors and iron work had been omitted altogether, and had not been specified, for which $15,000.00 were put in, in 1872 ; the original appropriation of $150,000.00 was merely a nominal estimate; then the water supply was omitted altogether, the appropriation for this was $7,500.00; then no provision was made for laundry, coal-shed, water-closets, &c., for which $18,530.00 had to be got for it; the $150,000.00, or the original estimate, I thought myself would go a great way towards finishing the buildings, but all these extra buildings, &c., were omitted; we could not tell what it would cost until the trades the prisoners were to be employed at was determined upon; then the fences and roads, there was no allowance for them; we asked $4,000.00 for making fences and roads, neither was this included in the original estimate; then that made somewhere in the neighbourhood of $80,000.00; they were all necessary to be done before the Prison could be occupied; without reference to the shop, this $80,000.00 extra was required to make the Prison habitable in respect to the buildings placed under contract; then another large item of expenditure was the expenditure of between $15,000.00 and $20,000.00 for substituting cut stone jambs to the cell doors and outside windows, in lieu of merely inserting a cut stone here and there in the brick work to receive the iron work; I consider that that was positively necessary; the plans were presented to me for approval under the provisions of the Central Prison Act; I pointed out what I considered very serious defects in the plans, and that was one of them; I thought it was necessary to have the iron work and the hinges all fastened into solid stone work, so as their weight would not pull down the brick work as I have seen it done in other prisons; I represented this originally at the time, but Mr. Tully did not agree with me in the matter and his view was taken, but afterwards my view was taken; when Mr. McKenzie came into the Government he called attention to this what he considered a defect; I then told him that I had brought the matter up, but had been overruled; the then Government considered it necessary to have this stone work inserted in the jambs of the windows and cells; this will cost between $15,000.00 and $20,000.00; that shows about $100,000.00; then we come to the new works connected with the Central Prison, as the original scheme had been abandoned of having three Central Prisons at different points in the Province, and likely would never be revived again, I thought it extremely advisable to enlarge the Prison by the addition of 84 cells; I thought that this work could be done then at a very much less cost than new accommodation could be when it actually came to be required, inasmuch as the foundations of the cell work and the roof to cover it had to be constructed at any rate at the same cost; I think that fully one-half would be saved by placing another tier of cells in it, and the criminal statistics of that year seemed to justify an extension of the Prison; for that purpose an appropriation of $18,000.00 was made by the Legislature, but owing to the increased cost of stone work and other things, I think it will cost about $25,000.00.

By Mr. Fraser.—The appropriation for railway tracks was $10,858.00, which could not have been asked for before until the trades were determined upon; then another item of expenditure, only $15,000.00, was allowed for the walls around the buildings in the original appropriation of $150,000.00; we afterwards found on visiting the States and other places of this kind that the enclosed space was very largely increased; so as to provide the required space, and in order to provide that additional yard space, the sum of $25,000.00 was appropriated, that made altogether $40,000.00 appropriation for stone walls; at that time the walls around the buildings were to be built of stone, but the contractor claimed that he could not do the work even at that amount, and a further sum would be required; I then suggested to the Government that a cheaper class of wall than stone could be built, and showed that the walls in the States had been built of brick, and that if they were built of brick a saving of $20,000.00 would be effected; and so the brick was adopted, so that only $10,000.00 would be required in addition to the original appropriation of $15,000.00, making $25,000.00 altogether for the walls; these items of expenditure named are the chief causes of the Central Prison costing so much over the original appropriation of $150,000.00; the injury done to the walls, &c., around the buildings by the storm will also be an additional expenditure; there will also be quite an advance over the rates at which Mr. Elliott previously took the contract; with regard to the shop alterations, in the original contract provision was made for a common warehouse, that building was changed into a foundry, and it cost something like $8,000.00 or $9,000.00 extra; under the Sandfield Macdonald Government I was in the habit of making purchases of dry goods and clothing for the public institutions ; the custom was just the same as prevails now ; under the head of Maintenance for Public Institutions the only articles that I ask tenders for are fuel, butcher's meat, butter and flour ; that was the rule for the last eighteen months under the Sandfield Macdonald Government ; all the articles that I purchased for the Central Prison would not come under maintenance ; anything in the way of substantial furniture would not come under that head ; the instructions of Mr. Sandfield Macdonald were that I should go into the market for these things, and buy just as a merchant would, and buy the cheapest and the best, and I think this has resulted in a large saving to the Province ; I think this is demonstrated by the fact that although every thing is advanced in price, the cost per head in maintaining the inmates of Public Institutions has been very much reduced ; it is reduced from about $148.00 to $125.00 per annum ; I have continued just the same practice under this Government, no change whatever has taken place, and I know it has resulted in a large saving ; my only motive in buying these blankets was, because they were a very good bargain and the very thing that was required, and a thing that was very difficult to get ; the Government could have sold them since during the latter part of 1872 and in 1873 at a considerable advance ; Mr. McMaster offered to buy them at 75 cents per pair advance ; my visit to Montreal at that time was with reference to making purchases for the Public Institutions ; in any event the linen and also the blankets would have been required to have been purchased a considerable time before the opening of the Prison, in order to get them made up and marked ; I bought the dry goods that I bought in Toronto in the same way, making the best purchases I could having regard to the requirements of the Prison and the peculiar kind of goods required ; I purchased them as economically as I would if I had been purchasing for myself, no one could have bought them for cash at lower rates ; I have had considerable experience in making such purchases, something over twenty years ; my remark about buying everything in connection with the Central Prison at the cheapest prices that could be procured, apply to all the purchases I made for the Central Prison that I have mentioned to-day ; under the Sandfield Macdonald Government I do not remember having any clothing made up ; this is the first clothing I think that has been made up ; there was clothing, I think, made for the London Asylum, but they were not made by contract ; I think this was under the Sandfield Macdonald administration.

It was upon my recommendation that Mr. Wilkie got the making of the doors at the Central Prison ; my reason was that Mr. Wilkie had been the trades instructor in the Blacksmith's Shop at Penetanguishene Reformatory ; it was contemplated to enlarge the Reformatory by adding a wing to it, and would require gates for the cells ; I told Mr. Wilkie to go on with these gates thinking they would do for the Penetanguishene Reformatory ; I had visited the United States Prisons, and seen that they were doing away in Juvenile Reformatories with Prison surroundings in the way of cell-doors and iron gates ; I thought that we might use a common door of a strong kind, and use these iron gates for the cells at the Central Prison ; at that time there were not many made, and I found in inspecting the gaols that cell gates generally were very defective, and I suggested improvements to Mr. Wilkie which he carried out to my satisfaction ; we got 120 altogether ; he made guard gates which we sent down to the Central Prison, they cost I think $16.50 delivered in Toronto ; after these gates were made, Mr. Kelly, the Warden of the Reformatory, and Mr. Wilkie, quarrelled about some matters of discipline and the cause of it was reported to me, and I approved of the action of Mr. Kelly in dispensing with the services of Mr. Wilkie ; He came to me when he came down to Toronto, and asked me if he could get continuing to make cell gates ; I told him that he would require to see the Commissioner of Public Works, and that he would require to make an offer in writing, and I think he brought it to me ; I think it was either 12 or 12½ cents per lb ; knowing that he had done so well in making the gates and that he was a capital workman, and knowing that he had so much experience in making such gates, I sent his tender to the Commissioner and recommended it to be accepted ; the last 60 of the gates made at Penetanguishene cost much more than the first, in consequence of having to engage journeymen to assist the boys ; Edwards who is the largest safe-maker in Montreal, made an offer to make these gates at either $23.00 or $24.00 ; these cost us only between $16.00 and $17.00; Edwards' offer would be about 15 cents per lb; they cost considerably less under Wilkie's contract.

By Mr. Cameron.—Mr. Wilkie came to me almost immediately after leaving the Reformatory, and it was in conversation with me that the idea of his making the gates arose; I told him that he would have to see the Commissioner, and I recommended him to the Commissioner in consequence of knowing him to be a good working man; I made an estimate that the gates that were made at the Reformatory cost 12 cents per lb; making no allowance for freight, and charging the Prison labour at a nominal sum; he told me that he was going to hire a shop in Toronto; he said he was in treaty for a shop at this time, and I thought that he was going to commence business; I spoke to the Commissioner and told him that Mr. Wilkie was a man of experience in making gates, and ought to be a very good man to do them.

Mr. Langmuir produced a paper which forms part of the return asked for by Mr. Lauder; the appropriations of 1872 by this analysis show the appropriation for certain items have been exceeded, water supply and cell doors.

At the request of Hon. Mr. Cameron, Messrs. Daniel and James McDonald, the Builders that built the new fence around the Parliament Buildings, were notified to appear to-morrow.

Committee then adjourned at 2:10 o'clock, P.M., until to-morrow, Friday, 13th March.

Bartholomew Lalor, called and sworn :

By Mr. Rykert.—I keep my father's books; I know what is a paying price generally; my father entered into arrangements with Mr. Wilkie before I was in the business; I cannot tell what profit my father made out of the work he had at the Central Prison with Mr. Wilkie.

By Mr. Lauder.—We done a certain part of the work and paid for our share of the iron, and after the iron was deducted we received half the proceeds; we keep no separate account of work, we done in that way; we furnished as our part of the labour what was done with our machine and the men to do it, and we furnished half the material; suppose there was a bill of $50.00 for iron, we paid half of it; Mr. Wilkie paid the men to put the work together; I think we done our share of the work, a full share as we agreed to.

Daniel McDonald called and sworn :

By Mr. Lauder.—I have had a contract from the Government connected with the fencing around the Parliament square; I took it sometime in June last; I was sent for; there was a message left at my house for me to come down either to Mr. Tully, or the Commissioner of Public Works; I saw both of them when I came down; I saw Mr. Tully first and Hon. Mr. McKellar afterwards; when I saw them they told me they wanted a fence built around the Buildings; they told me first of all they wanted me to superintend it and look after the material; I declined, I told them I did not do work in that way; that I would give them a tender for it; I put in a tender in writing; I do not recollect who proposed that I should build it ; I came several times before they came to a conclusion of what kind of fence they wanted ; I made several patterns, they afterwards selected the one that is now up ; I made a piece of it in wood about 4 or 5 feet long ; I then made an offer of what I would do it for ; I made several offers for the different patterns ; I offered to do this one for $1.43 per foot, gate posts, corner posts and the fitting of the gates were extra ; I gave a price for the gate posts at $20.00 each for the 16 gate posts ; there were some extras about the hollow part of the ground in getting longer posts ; we had to keep an extra labourer working in this hollow place, we paid the labourer ; we were allowed extra for north and south portions of the hollow place ; the old fence was to have been taken down but it was not, we had to take it down ; the old fence was left on the ground, and some of it was used about the Building for fire-wood ; I suppose it was used for fire-wood, but I never saw any of it burnt ; I do not know of any of it being taken away, I was not around all the time ; I heard some parties got a load of it and took it away, but I do not know where it was taken to or what it was used for ; my brother was more around the work than I was ; I do not know as a matter of fact that Mr. McNab got any of the old fence, nor did I ever hear it ; I know nothing about it ; I am not related to either Mr. McNab or Mr. McKellar ; our prices, that is the tender price does not include painting ; I do not recollect how many feet there was in this fence, I think somewhere between 2260 and 2270 feet, we have finished this work ; we have not been paid in full yet ; we have only been paid one sum on the fence ; my brother keeps the accounts, our account was made out, but I am not sure whether it was rendered or not ; we finished this fence about the beginning of December ; I do not think our account was rendered then ; we generally render our accounts to the Architect's Office ; I do not know whether we have built fences the same pattern as this before, but we have built fences somewhat similar ; I never asked any other Contractor what they would do it for ; I cannot say whether there was any advertisement for tenders for this work or not ; I have not seen any.

By Mr. Rykert.—I do not know how much extra work we did ; the account will show, if it has been rendered ; the following items were extras:—The digging for the posts in the hollow, taking down the old fences, putting in stop posts for the gates, hanging the gates and the board below the base board ; this account produced of $66 54 is in my handwriting ; it is dated from August 23 to September 25, 1873 ; I wrote out this account ; I got the particulars from my brother on the ground ; he gave them to me from a pass book ; I keep no more than a pass book ; I have been a contractor ; I have been on the sick list since last summer ; my brother is in partnership with me, carrying on a business of builders ; we keep no regular books of account ; we pay for all we get, and we do not require that long system of bookkeeping ; we have no book whereby we can tell how the account for fencing between us and the Department of Public Works stood ; we had a contract for the work ; the contract shows for itself, and the extra work we keep a note of it as it goes along, and make out the account, and then we do not keep it any longer ; the account produced does not embrace our whole account for extra work for this fencing ; there is more in the final account ; I could not say as a fact whether this final account has been delivered or not ; Mr. Tully will be able to tell you ; we got no instructions as to what we were to do with the old fence ; we were paid for taking a portion of the old fence down, but not for the delay it caused us ; we have not been paid for taking down the portion of the old fence on Simcoe Street as yet ; we exercised no supervision over the removal of the old fence.

The specification attached to the contract is as follows :—

DEPARTMENT OF PUBLIC WORKS,
TORONTO, June 26th, 1873.

Specification for the proposed Picket Fence on Front and Wellington Streets for the Parliament Buildings and Grounds, Toronto.

The fence to be constructed between the east and west gates on Front and Wellington Streets, and for a further distance on those streets, if so required by the Commissioner, to the extent in all of eighty rods.

The fence to be similar to that erected round Dr. Jennings' Church, on the corner of Bay and Richmond Streets, including all material and excavation ; also filling in post holes and levelling. The posts to be 6 inches square instead of round, and the upper rail to be 6 inches by 3 inches, instead of 4 inches by 3 inches ; the pickets to be of the same pattern and thickness, and about 6 feet in height.

The posts in the corners of the grounds to be of the same dimensions as those on Front Street, if required by the Commissioner ; the cost to be $20 00 each.

The whole of the work to be completed on or before the 1st day of October next.

Department Public Works,
Ontario, June 26th, 1873.

The date of the contract is 5th July, 1873 ; I do not remember how much money we have received on this ; I think there must be considerable due as yet ; the fence has been measured ; I take no active part in any man's election further than giving my vote, which I consider every man's right ; I do not know whether my brother takes an active part or not ; he may canvass ; I did vote for Mr. Crooks in the local elections in 1871 ; I was not on his committee ; I do not know whether my brother was or not ; I think my brother did canvass for Mr. Crooks ; in the Moss-Bickford election I did not vote, because I had no vote ; if I had a vote I would have voted for Mr. Moss ; I do not know whether my brother took an active part for Mr. Moss or not ; I do not think he had a vote ; perhaps my brother's son may have acted as chairman.

(Correct)

KIVAS TULLY,

Architect & Engineer.

Probably I may have been mistaken when I said 2260 or 2270 feet in the measurement of the fence ; I meant 2777 feet ; the balance due us by the final account is $2,823.08 ; I do not know whether it was Mr. Tully or Hon. Mr. McKellar that sent for me, there was a message left at my house ; when I came here I saw Mr. Tully first, and afterwards the Commissioner ; Mr. Tully was not surprised to see me ; I came to see what I was wanted for.

By Mr. Lauder.—When we entered into arrangements with the Department, there was a provision for extras, there always is provision ; what is meant by levelling in the specification is the filling in and levelling round the posts ; we only contracted to build eighty rods, nearly 1320 feet at first, as per specifications, and afterwards we were told to go on and finish the balance of Parliament square ; I do not recollect who gave us the order to finish it ; I do not remember whether it was the architect or the Commissioner ; we did not take into account the gates when fixing our prices, that was perfectly understood ; the gates are a different kind of work altogether ; I do not know why nothing is said about the gates in the contract ; I do not know anything about the memorandum being kept of what the fence cost us ; I do not know what our profit was, or whether there was any profit on it ; we have waited for our money because we are sure of it ; I made the account out ; I gave it to my brother after I made it out ; I made it out from the memorandum kept at the time it was going on ; we have the memorandum ; I think my brother has it ; I make up the $50.00 charged for labour in posts and workmanship in hollow part by not being filled up ; there is the extra length, strength and bracing of the parts, and extra labour consequent upon not being levelled ; extra labour apart from fence on twelve gates, $75.00 ; this is made up for framing and hinging ; the gates were to be extra ; the picket portion of the gates were included in the contract ; Mr. Lalor made the hinges for the gates ; I do not recollect how much we paid him for the heavy hinges, by the pound, at, I think, fifteen cents, and the lighter ones by the bulk sum ; I charged the Government twenty cents per pound, because I had to attend to them and see that they were right and make patterns, and I had considerable cartage and expenses; I tried several blacksmith shops to get these done and they would not make them less than twenty cents per pound.

By Hon. Mr. Fraser.—This account to which Mr. Rykert has made reference, has not been paid; we received some money on account; all that we have been paid for extras, so far, is $66.54; we have only rendered our final account, and nothing has been done further with it since; It has not been certified to by the architect, or settled in any way with the Department; all that we have been paid on account is $1,889.79, and that amount includes the amount of $66.54 for extras; the architect certified that that much work had been done; when I put in our tender for this fence, I did not know how many others had tendered, or whether there had been any other tenders or not, but I supposed I was competing with others; our tender that we put in, and the contract we entered into was only intended for the westerly end of the Parliament Buildings, and was not at that time intended to include that portion known as the easterly end, or the hollow; except the taking down of some trees in the westerly portion, and taking down the old fence, and the extras connected with the gates and the lamp posts, all the other extras belong to the work done at the easterly end in the hollow; I have had a good deal of experience in fence-building and contracting for over thirty years; the price, $1.43 per foot, that we were charging, was, I state candidly and honestly, a low price, between man and man, and if I were offered another job similar, at the same price, I would not take it; all these extras that we have charged for are not as I contend, included in the contract, and when I speak of a low price for the work, I mean for the work outside of the extras; we were contractors under the Sandfield Macdonald Government; we had the carpenter's work in the hospitals and wings at the asylum; if it had not been for us, I do not know when it would have been finished; the Government complimented us for it; we had to take in hand other portions of the work afterwards to keep the work going; under the Sandfield Macdonald Government I know we did wait for our pay sometimes; there was one time we had to wait for a long time, but I do not remember how long; I do not know what became of the old fence, it was not worth looking after; I would not have carted it to my own house, as far as I am concerned.

By Mr. McLeod.—The work that we took at the Assylum from the Sandfield Macdonald Government, apart from our own portion, was the inside portions of the brick-work, stone paving, and other work on the wings which were left undone by the contractors and we just went on and hired men and went on at days work, and finished it, and rendered the accounts to the Government Architect.

By Mr. Rykert.—Mr. Tully superintended it; I do not know when it was, whether it was the first or second years of the Sandfield Macdonald Government; I think it was in 1867, Mr. Tully employed us; this work we performed the season before the asylum was finished, about 1868.

Mr. McDonald further said, that he remembered the reason why there was nothing mentioned about the gates in the contract was, because it was undecided what pattern they would be made.

Mr. Tully, recalled:

I first saw Mr. McDonald in connection with this contract, somewhere about June last; the Commissioner instructed me to send for him; we were talking about constructing the fence and about the mode of doing it; I got a tender from another person, Mr. Smith, and I requested him to send up a specimen picket; I went to Mr. Smith's place of business to get him to put in a tender. (Mr. Tully produced the specimen picket, and also Mr. Smith's letter making the offer and stating the prices he would do it for; the following is a copy of the letter).

TORONTO, June 12th, 1873.

DEAR SIR,—I will put up 5 feet 6 inch fancy picket fence, per pattern shewn you, viz:—9 feet round cedar posts not less than 5 inches diameter at small end, portion above ground to be barked and dressed and set 8 feet from centre to centre, 3x4 dressed ribbon board 12 inch, bevelled base nailed on face of pickets with moulding on face of pickets above, for the sum of sixty-five cents per foot lineal, all cedar posts over 9 feet long to be charged four cents per foot lineal additional.

Yours respectfully,

JOHN B. SMITH,
Per A. M. L.

Kivas Tully, Esq.
Architect.

The specimen picket was considered too slight, it was a one inch picket, and from a conversation I had with the Commissioner, we thought it should be $1\frac{1}{4}$ inch; I spoke to Mr. Smith, in the early part of 1873, when I was making an estimate of this fence, and it was sometime before I received his tender; I consulted with no person else, but Mr. Smith and Mr. McDonald; in consulting with the Commissioner we thought it better to get Mr. McDonald to superintend it and purchase the material ourselves and have it done by days work; then the Commissioner instructed me to send for Mr. McDonald to come and see him on the subject, and when he came I made the proposition to him to come and superintend it and employ carpenters and labourers to do the work; he refused to do it in that way, and he made an offer to do it by contract; I would say that the heavy fence of Mr. McDonald would be about double the price of Mr. Smith's because the $1\frac{1}{4}$ inch lumber is much harder to get; and the moulding is much heavier, the pattern on the top of Mr. McDonald's pattern is done by hand, and on the other, Mr. Smith's, it is done by machinery; tenders were not advertised for this fence; I think the picket at present in the fence would be worth double what Mr. Smith's picket is; there are no extras in the fence or posts that I am aware of; there are extras for the gates and the length of some of the posts according to the account rendered; I was under the impression that we could make the old gates answer, but upon examination we found that some of them were rotten, and could not be made use of; I do not think it could be done for \$1.20 per foot; I dare say we might have got lower tenders than Mr. McDonald's \$1.43 per foot, but I do not think it would have been done so well; I know Mr. McDonald to be a good workman.

By Mr. Hardy.—He did the carpenter work at the old Custom House under the Government of John A. Macdonald in 1845 and 1846.

By Mr. Rykert.—I believe the work in the present picket, Mr. McDonald's, to be machine work; I have examined the work it is machine work. The contract for painting this fence was given to Mr. Gilbert Pearcy; It is not completed yet; the approximate cost is $1388.50, 5554 superficial yards at 25 cents per yard; there was no competition for it; I think he came to me or he went to the Commissioner; I forget which; I think Mr. Pearcy came to me himself, and he made an offer to do the work for a certain rate, his current rate; Mr. Pearcy did the painting at the wings of the Hospital at the Asylum, with Mr. McDonald.

By Mr. Lauder.—The Department did not advertise for tenders for this fence; I do not know of any reason, why they did not advertise; I went to Mr. Smith to get his offer at 65 cents per foot; I allowed a contract to be signed with Mr. McDonald for his tender at $1.43 per foot without communicating with Mr. Smith; I do not remember asking Mr. Smith what he would build a fence, for the same style that he had shown a quarter of an inch thicker; Mr. Smith's specimen and tender was for inch stuff including base board, moulding ribbon pieces and posts; on the fence posts of the present fence there are bevelled pieces spiked on at the bottom on both sides to prevent the posts lifting with the frost; I do not think these are specified in Mr. Smith's offer; taking the whole fence as it is built, and the way it has been constructed, it would be worth double the price of Mr. Smith's; I have not taken the opinion of any other Builder on this fence as to the difference in price between Mr. Smith's price and Mr. McDonald's.

By Hon. Mr. Richards.—The difference between the price of an inch picket and an $1\frac{1}{4}$ inch picket would be more than a fourth difference; $1\frac{1}{4}$ inch lumber would have to be specially ordered; I could not say exactly what difference unless I made enquiries; I should think there would be double the difference in the mouldings of the present fence as compared with Mr. Smith's pattern; that would be probably 5 or 6 cents per foot the difference in the ribbon pieces would be about 2 cents per foot lineal; McDonald's difference being worth 2 cents more than Smith's; the difference of putting in the bevel pieces at the bottom of the posts would be about 10 cents per post; the posts called for by the McDonald contract would be worth 15 cents more than Smith's; there is a difference in the way of finishing the base; the base is also $1\frac{1}{4}$ inch thick, and Mr. Smith's would be only inch, the difference between them would only be the difference in the lumber, I do not think there would be any difference in the labour except that the former of $1\frac{1}{4}$ inch would be stronger; upon these calculations Mr. McDonald's fence would be worth 13 cents per lineal foot, more than Mr. Smith's fence, and in addition the difference in cost between inch and $1\frac{1}{4}$ inch stuff should be computed, and any additional height in the fence or posts.

By Hon. Mr. Fraser.—Mr. McDonald has done the work well, I am quite satisfied with the way he has done it; it is done far better than usual contract work; this fence is higher than Mr. Smith's would be according to specification and Mr. Smith's offer; the posts in Mr. Smith's tender were to be round from top to bottom, with the bark taken off above the ground, five inches in diameter at the small end, and Mr. McDonald's is a square post dressed to measure, six inches square; it would take a round post about eight or nine inches to dress to six inches square; in both fences the posts would be the same distance apart from centre to centre; the ribbon pieces in Mr. McDonald's fence were six inches by three, and bevelled, and in Mr. Smith's three inches by four, and not bevelled; I do not think there would be any difference in the bevelled base between the two, except the difference in the thickness of the lumber; the moulding on the Smith fence was much lighter than on the McDonald fence; I think there would not be more than five cents difference in the two posts, the round and the square, in the rough; I think Mr. McDonald's posts are longer; when I spoke about 25 cents difference between the posts, I did not take into consideration any difference in the length of the two posts; they are both the same class of fence, one is heavier than the other; there is a cap on the present post; after looking into all the items I still believe that this fence is worth $1.43 per foot, and I do not think any other contractor can be had in Toronto to do it less and in the same manner; I know Mr. McDonald to be an honest workman; as a proof of the quality of Mr. McDonald's work, I can state that after 20 years near ——— of the work that he did at the custom-house, there was only $20.00 worth of repairs to be done under my directions; I have had large experience with contractors, and he always gave me good satisfaction; it was upon my advice at the time, that the Commissioner of Public Works gave this work to Mr. McDonald; I recommended it as a fair price, and I thought so; the price of that quality of lumber at that time was high, I think it was something like $35.00 per thousand; I think there is more work on the McDonald picket than on Mr. Smith's; if Mr. Smith's was done by hand there might be probably more work on his, but both were done by machinery; on consulting with the Commissioner, he wanted a good strong fence; the pickets in Mr. Smith's pattern might be broken easily, but Mr. McDonald's are very strong, and would not be so easily broken.

By Hon. Mr. Richards.—I am not prepared to say that the present fence is more than 5 feet 9 inches; I know it is more than 5 feet 6 inches high; I am not prepared to say that there is any difference in the height of the posts required by the McDonald contract than those that would be required by the Smith offer.

Richard Hassard, called and sworn.

By Mr. Lauder.—I have examined the fence around the Parliament square ; I did not see it while it was in construction ; I have been a contractor for about 25 years ; I am a painter and glazier ; I never had any business to meddle with carpenter's work until about seven or eight years ago, when the assessment law was altered, and section 30 instructed the assessors to assess all real and personal property at its cash value ; I was an assessor for City of Toronto since 1862 up to last year ; it was our duty as assessors to pry into everything on our route, to conform with the law and get as near as possible at the cash value ; in these matters I am naturally inquisitive, and I also made it my business to estimate in all matters connected with buildings as well as my own trade ; I have measured this fence ; there is a great deal of difference in the prices of tenders, it all depends on who you tender against ; I think a fair value for this fence, taking into consideration that it had not been advertised for for tenders, for the plain portion of the fence including the common posts, leaving out the gate posts and corner posts, I think by the panel, I see 16 feet scantling stretches for two panels—I think $1.00 per foot would be a fair price ; I counted the panels in the fence—344 panels of 8 feet each ; the four corner posts are allowed for in this calculation the same as common posts ; I allowed $8.00 for extras on these corner posts ; for 12 gate posts I allowed $30.00 for each opening, that is $10.00 a post extra over a small post ; the painting also depends on competition ; there would be 3,784 yards of painting on this fence ; I have not taken the sanding into consideration, for I knew nothing about it ; by competition I believe a contractor could do it for 20 cents a yard, and it would be a fair price ; in this estimate I allow for four coats of paint ; I have measured one panel, and I found on going around that they were all laid down equally ; I would be willing to do the painting at 20 cents a yard.

By Hon. Mr. Fraser.—I was on my way one day to the Grand Trunk Station, some two or three weeks ago ; I was standing talking to a person on Simcoe street, and Mr. Lauder came along and he said : " By-the-bye, Hassard, what is that fence worth ? " I have always been a conservative, but I think, a consistent one ; I did not measure the panel of the fence then, I think it was the beginning of this week I measured it ; I said nothing to Mr. Lauder then, but that more than likely I would measure it ; I had a Mr. Kennedy, a builder, with me, knowing him to be a practical builder ; Mr. Kennedy had been my colleague for a number of years ; when I went around with Mr. Kennedy assessing, we made our judgment jointly ; the reason I selected Mr. Kennedy was, because he was the person employed by the Bank of Upper Canada, and the Trustees of the Bank of Upper Canada, and as a tradesman understood his work as to the valuing of property ; after I made an examination of the fence, I told Mr. Lauder what I valued it at ; I called to see Mr. Lauder and could not find him ; I did not give him a satisfactory account of the valuation I put on it ; he could not make out much by what I told him ; I did not tell him what valuation I put upon it per foot ; I gave him a lump sum, something over $3,000.00, painting and all ; I would not require to make any enquiries about the material that was used in the fence, it was not necessary ; I measured the posts inside ; I measured more than one panel of the fence ; in going around to count the panels I measured some of them occasionally, and found out that they were all sixteen feet scantling ; I measured the post inside with a rule ; there is a temporary cap to prevent the weather effecting the heart of the tree, the gate posts and corner posts are capped ; I have an idea they should be down either three feet six inches, or four feet into the ground ; in my calculation I allow the posts at an average of ten feet long ; it would require a round post, a little better than twenty-four inches in circumference, to square six inches ; I think that a post eight inches in diameter would square six inches ; it would require a straight post, something of that size would very nearly do it if you square it to six inches, as you have the four corners that you could just strip the bark off ; I allowed inch stuff for some of the panels ; what I call a panel is sixteen pickets ; I think it was inch stuff ; I allowed so much for each picket ; it appears to me to be inch stuff ; I think it was inch stuff that I allowed for the base also ; I allow it all through as inch stuff ; I measured the ribbons ; I think I found them to be four inches by six inches ; when that fence was being built, inch stuff was worth by the foot lineal, I allowed at the rate of $20.00 per thousand ; I allowed sixty cents each for the small posts finished with the boot and the excavations ; I made no calculation for the price of the post in the rough ; I know the price of lumber, but I do not know what these posts were worth in the rough ; I have not made enquiry and I cannot answer the question as to what a solid cedar post would cost ; I know these posts were bored to allow the gas pipe to go through, I saw the turned pieces that project at the top for the lamp, we allowed for that ; I have tendered for jobs with Mr. Percy, and I would have to go far under twenty cents per yard, for four-coat work, or I would not get it ; the paint here is made up of white lead, oil, and black ; I consider the painting is a good job ; I know they were using good oil, I did not know they were using benzine, I consider that at the prices I have stated it should be done with the best materials ; winter time is the best time to do a job of this sort to make a good job of it ; it would be worth for a single coat—that is to prime it—it might be worth three cents per yard, and it might be worth six cents, it depends upon the way it was done ; I never had a contract for one coat of priming, that is, one coat on new work, I would not do it for any person ; if the priming was done well and with white and red lead and raw material, the best material, it would be worth a third of the twenty cents a yard ; two coats would be worth using the best material ; this also depends upon competition, a fair price would be from twelve and a-half cents per yard to fifteen cents ; if it is white, it would be worth more than if it was drab ; it is only in the third or fourth coat that the contractor makes any profit ; the fence around the Lieutenant-Governor's residence, three coats was done for nine cents per yard, I believe it was a very good job, and I often wondered how the contractor ever found the stuff for that price ; I did a large contract this year and used nothing but the best material, at the "Boys' Home," and all I charged the contractor that gave me the job was fifteen cents per yard ; for three-coat work I would charge seventeen cents per yard in drab ; for four-coats and sanding, I would charge twenty-five cents per yard, that is, to make a good job ; this price, also, depends upon competition ; it is worth more than twenty-five cents per yard for four coats and sanding, I think twenty-eight cents would be a very good price ; I think thirty cents per yard for four coats and sanding is a good deal more than he would have got if he had tendered for it ; I would have been glad to have tendered for it at twenty-five cents per yard, seeing that there was so much of it to do ; I might take it less than twenty-five cents when I made up my calculations ; if I had good men I would take it less, it depends a good deal on the wages and what the men could do ; I am aware that that there is a tariff of prices for the master painters of Toronto since 1867, but they never stick up to it ; the tariff of prices has been taken from the ordnance price ; I do not know what the trade price is ; I have been out of the business of painting for the last five years, but I have done a little on my son's account last year ; I did the job at the "Boys' Home" myself, and I have done other jobs ; I do not think that that was done by competition ; if you come to get me to do a job for you I would charge you what I considered a fair price ; I am not aware that the following are the trade prices :—

For common colours, per yard superficial :

For one coat.....	8 cents.
“ two “	15 “
“ three “	20 “
“ four “	25 “

Whether or not these prices are two high would depend altogether upon the prices of materials ; if I got the paint to analyze I could tell what it was worth, but I do not know what kind of material was in the paint used in this fence. Mr. Percy is in the habit of using good material ; I call this paint on the fence plain painting ; I would deduct nothing for the opening between the pickets ; the trade, I think, would call this plain painting.

By Mr. Sinclair.—The price of the work would depend upon competition. The quality depends sometimes on competition also, but it should not be so ; when I tender by competition, I put in the lowest price I could afford to do it for.

By Mr. Lauder.—For four-coat work and sanding I would do it for less than thirty cents per yard ; I never heard of putting boiled oil in outside work.

By Hon. Mr. Fraser.—Even putting in the boiled oil, I think thirty cents per yard for four coats and sanding is still too high ; there is only five cents per gallon difference at retail between raw and boiled oil. It would not make half a cent per yard difference in the coat.

By Mr. McLeod.—I consider Brundell & Spence's lead superior to any other ; I always preferred it to any other ; in any weather raw oil is preferable to boiled oil for outside work.

Mr. John Shanklin called and sworn.

By Hon. Mr. Cameron.—I am a carpenter and joiner, and I carry on contracts as a builder ; I have been eight years carrying on business in Toronto ; I have seen the fence around Parliament Square ; I have done similar work to this, never, perhaps, as large a stretch as this kind of work is rarely done except in front of a dwelling-house, then only twenty-five or fifty feet of it ; we would charge less for a long stretch, because in putting it up in front of a dwelling-house, there are cased posts, which would come to a good deal more ; leaving the gate posts and corner posts out, I would be willing to take a job like this at from ninety cents to a dollar a foot ; I have done some pretty good-sized jobs ; I am at a house now at which the carpenter work comes to $6,000 00 ; if there had been tenders advertised for for this fence, I would not have tendered for it ; I can get work enough by private contract ; it is very seldom I tender for public contracts, I get enough to do without it ; these pickets are made by machinery ; any of the factories in the city could make them ; supposing I took the job, I could get the pickets worked at some of the factories in the city ; the Smith pattern of picket is inch stuff ; there is only a fourth difference between the inch stuff and one and a quarter inch stuff, the difference being in the price of the lumber ; good inch stuff will fetch as much in the market as inch and a quarter, I pay as much ; there is not much one and a quarter inch stuff used except for flooring ; I am continually buying lumber ; I generally buy it by the car-load ; if I wanted these pickets I would go to the mill and make a bargain with them for what price they would furnish them ; I was speaking to a party a few weeks ago, and asking what they would make me them for ; I don't know as they would be as heavy a picket as that ; they said they would give them to me for twelve and a half cents each ; from twelve and a half to fifteen cents each is a general price for a four foot picket ; these would be a little higher, I suppose, because they are a longer picket ; the value of the large gate and corner posts, would be about $15 00 ; I would put them in for that ; I get painting done ; sometimes I finish a whole job complete ; but I always get a painter to give me an estimate for his part of the work ; I get sometimes an estimate from a painter and a bricklayer, the different trades, and I make up my tender from those ; I have always understood the painting to be worth for three coats twenty cents per yard, for four-coat's work it would be worth a little more ; I never went into painting much, my impression is, for two coats they generally charge twelve and a half cents, for three coats, twenty cents per yard; that is what they have charged me when they have done work for me: I think they reckon the first coat worth more if it is done properly, in consequence of the absorption; I do not speak positive on the painting; at the price of from ninety cents to a dollar per foot, I would do the same fence for that, and make a good profit on it; upon calculation, I find cedar scantling are worth more than round cedar posts; you can buy round cedar posts for about twenty-five cents, and the square post would cost about forty cents; the cedar scantling average from $15 00 to $18 00 per thousand board measure, four cents per lineal foot extra for round cedar posts over nine feet, would be a fair price; they never made any difference with me in buying a nine foot or a ten foot long cedar post; the diameter of these posts, five inches, is small, six inches is the general size; there is a little more work in the picket in the fence around Dr. Jennings's Church; the picket would cost a little more in the work on Dr. Jennings's fence; I could not say how much extra it would cost; the posts in Dr. Jennings's fence are, I think, round; I could not say what size the upper ribbon is in Dr. Jennings's fence; in my judgment, the cost would be for a fence, a quarter of an inch thicker lumber, just the cost of the extra lumber, a fourth more; that kind of lumber I do not think would cost more than from $12 50 to $14 per thousand, you can buy flooring from $12 to $14 per thousand; you can buy it dressed for from $22 00 to $24 00 per thousand face measure, according to the quality; politically, I am a conservative; I get the name of charging more than other folks; the reason that I think I do charge more is because I scarcely ever get a contract at public competition; I know the McDonalds, they are good business men, they do their work well; they are kind of retired builders now; they hardly ever tender for a job now; they would tender if they thought there were only two or three others tendering; they tendered for this job that I am doing now; my tender was about $6,000 00, and their's was something like $8,000 00 or $9,000 00; I do not know much about their politics, I believe they vote on the reform ticket; I do not live in the same part of the city as they do.

By Mr. Lauder.—I could not put a price on this fence for the whole work, including painting and all, I do not want to go out of my own business; I think parties could have been got to take the old fence away for the material; it would not take a great time to break down the old fence, the posts would be the worst part of it; I could not say if it were mine whether I could have got it taken away without extra cost or not, but I think I could.

By Hon. Mr. Fraser.—From my experience of contracts I have had to pay twenty cents per yard for three-coat work, I think that is what they charged me; I have never made any measurements of this fence around the Parliament Buildings; I never measured the height; from my own observations I think the pickets are one and a-quarter inch thick; I was acquainted with some of the men that put the fence up; I think the base is inch stuff, I cannot say positively, I did not look at it particularly; I made a calculation on Saturday of what I thought I could do the fence for; I looked at the fence on Saturday just as I went along, I knew what the fence was, I knew the height of the fence, I knew it was about a six foot fence; I can tell as I am going along whether a fence would take a five foot or a six foot picket; I knew what the length of the fence was by seeing it in the papers; there are only two pickets to the foot I think, I am not positive; the way I arrived at my prices was, I took one hundred feet and allowed two pickets to the foot; the pickets are always put in six inches each, two pickets to the foot; I calculated at so much for one hundred feet; I allowed twenty cents for each picket; I allowed for rail $3 \times 6 = 300$ feet, at, I think, \$20.00 per thousand, that is, two cents per foot, I could buy it for less; I allowed for each post about fifty cents, that is, a post ten feet long, if it were twelve feet long it would be about ten cents extra; there would be thirteen posts in one hundred feet, that would make \$6.50 for posts; I allowed so much a running foot for the base; sixteen foot stuff would not cost any more than twelve foot stuff; I think I calculated that I could get this stuff, inch stuff, for six cents per foot; I am not certain whether I calculated it at five or six cents; it is only good stock lumber; I saw the men working at it; there is a fourth difference between inch and $1\frac{1}{4}$ inch lumber; I did not calculate whether it was inch or $1\frac{1}{4}$ inch stuff, I just calculated it at so much per foot for the base; I do not think $1\frac{1}{4}$ inch stuff, such as would cost more than six cents per foot, at a rough calculation; if it is inch stuff you could buy the material dressed, for four cents per foot; if it was $1\frac{1}{4}$ inch, it would cost, I think, about six cents per running foot; I am quite satisfied I could buy that base for that price; I allowed for the moulding at about three cents per foot, I find on measuring it that it is all inch base ; there is not any difference between the price of lumber now and last summer ; when I calculated about the posts, I allowed so much for each post ; I have also allowed for the labour, digging, putting in the posts ; I allowed for the dressing, &c., of the posts in the prices I have given you ; the lumber at the outside price for the post, would only cost forty cents, and I allowed the ten cents extra for the dressing, they might possibly cost a little more for dressing ; I have allowed for a spur about two feet, and a couple of small braces at the bottom of the post ; I cannot say how much I allowed for the footing of each post ; it would, perhaps, cost twenty-five cents a post for footing, that would make seventy-five cents for each post finished ; I allowed for the digging of the post holes and filling in ; I allowed fifty cents for each post, I could get them done, I think, for about twenty-five cents each ; I calculated that for one hundred feet I allowed five days work, at \$2.50 per day for labour, putting up the fence, that is, twelve and a-half cents per foot ; I could put up this fence when the stuff is on the ground, for twelve and a-half cents per foot, that is, only for the labour putting it up ; there would be some expense getting the material there, I cannot say exactly how much, I did not bring my memorandum with me, I always allow a percentage for this, but I do not remember exactly how much I allowed without seeing my memorandum ; I consider that from ninety cents to one dollar would be a fair price for the fence, I never allowed in any contract anything for the nails, I left a margin for contingencies, such as cartage, and nails, the same as I allow in any job, but I cannot say what margin I left ; I will not tell how much margin I intended to make, I calculated on a good, living profit. I made up what the principal things would come to in the fence for one hundred feet and then I allowed so much for contingencies ; I think the principal things for one hundred feet came to something over \$50.00, I cannot say how much over ; I know Mr. McDonald, he is a very good workman, he is nothing better than many others ; this is a fair job, that is all ; I do not consider it a first class job, it is good enough for a fence ; the stuff is just put up just as it came from the mill ; Mr. McDonald calculates to get more out of a job than another person, he told me so himself ; this job that I am doing, that he tendered for, he calculated to get more than I do ; he would not work for the profits that are going now, he has told me so, and I think he is right ; I would not work myself at the rates that are generally going for contracts given at public competition ; I think Mr. Tully is a good judge of work ; there is a great deal of difference of opinion as to prices ; tenders sometimes range very wide ; a fair trade profit would be twenty per cent. ; when we send out men we charge \$2.50 per day when we pay them \$2.00 ; I have put up several fences since I have been in business during the past eight years, I could not say how many ; the gate posts are cased on the front, the corner posts are cased on two sides, that makes them a little more expensive ; I do not think, if I was tendering for a job, I would make any difference between a solid cedar post and a cased post ; these corner posts are, I should say, about ten feet and the capping, to the top of the capping they might be twelve feet ; Mr. Wagner is a good workman ; Mr. Wagner's opinion and estimate, I think, would be as good as any other man in Toronto ; there is a difference of opinion in tendering ; Mr. Wagner has sometimes tendered below me and sometimes I am below him ; I would take Mr. Wagner's opinion as soon as any other man in the city.

John Jacob Withrow, called and sworn.

By Hon. Mr. Fraser.—I am in business in Toronto, as a manufacturer in preparing material (wood-work) used in fences, &c. ; have been in my present business about three years, and for twelve years previously, as a builder and contractor, in the City of Toronto; I have made an examination of this fence around the Parliament Buildings, with a view to putting a value upon it; I am aware the fence was put up during the summer, I have made a calculation for each section of sixteen feet, I calculate a section of sixteen feet to be worth $21.38, without allowing for some items that I spread over the whole work; for instance, a good deal of the material could not be found in the city, I allowed for railway fares going to look for stuff $25.00; another item of $25.00 for time looking for the stuff, and for the time required for looking for the stuff in the city a further sum of $25.00, making in all $75.00 extra, to be distributed over the whole work, that would make about fifty cents more for each section, making one section complete exclusive of painting, $21.88; the gate posts and corner posts, and the extra work around the gates are extra; I have not allowed for them in this valuation; I have examined the gate and corner posts; I looked through my books and I found that I had furnished a similar post from the bench at $15.00; I understand these are charged at $20.00 each for putting up and all, I consider that a fair price; according to this calculation of mine, the valuation would be about $1.37 per foot exclusive of painting.

By Hon. Mr. Cameron.—I have made up my estimates from the following items: For a section of sixteen feet, it would require two posts, (sawn cedar scantling,) there are thirty-six feet in each post, seventy-two feet in the two posts, at \$20.00 per thousand, that would be \$1.44; there is no cedar scantling cut less than twelve feet long, unless cut to order, and I take these to be that length; for dressing the posts I calculate twenty-five cents each, that is fifty cents for the two posts; for footing twenty-five cents each post; for time of labour digging and filling each post hole, fifty cents; I allow one hour for setting each post; I consider it necessary and would be satisfied with a carpenter setting one each hour; I allow a proportion of cartage, five cents each; I calculate the usual one-horse waggon would bring seven hundred feet; we count on paying thirty cents a load; it costs us \$4.00 a car load from the Northern Railway Station to our place of business, a car load is eight thousand feet, fifty cents a thousand; it would be worth for one-horse load, from the Caldwells to the Parliament Buildings, twenty-five cents; I based my calculation on the proportion that two posts would bare to seven hundred feet, being the usual load for a single horse; I have added twenty per cent to those items for profit, which would be seventy-nine cents; this would all amount to \$1.73 for the posts in the ground; the next item is two fence ribbons 3 x 6 scantling, sixteen feet long, forty-eight feet of material in them at \$18.00 per thousand, that would be eighty-six cents for the two scantling; I would give this for that kind of lumber; for running that through a machine, (we are in the habit of doing this kind of work,) seventy-five cents per hundred feet, that would be thirty-five cents for the two ribbons, proportion of cartage for these five cents; I have received no instructions from any person in the matter; I made the calculations at my own instance; total so far is \$1.26 for the ribbons, and twenty per cent added, would make \$1.51 for the two ribbons; the next item is thirty-three pickets to sixteen feet; I understand those are kiln-dried, and I put them in, including cartage, at twenty-five cents each; I take it that the lumber has been purchased where they could get it, and taken to the kiln to be kiln-dried, and taken back to the factory to be manufactured into pickets, and then taken from there to the work; the first cost of these pickets at the factory is twenty cents; we do not make any difference between the cost of planing inch and 1¼ inch stuff; I would not undertake to furnish a quantity of these pickets out of that thickness of stuff; if I did furnish them I would not furnish them less than I have stated, twenty-five cents each; the way I know they were kiln-dried was, because I believe Mr. Wagner told me; the view I give of this is only my own experience; this kind of material, 1¼ inch stuff, is hardest size to get; we make flooring that size, but I know that lumber would not answer; I call this lumber in the fence clear lumber; I think I can tell from a painted stick whether it had been kiln-dried or not; twenty per cent added on the pickets, which is \$1.65, would make \$9.90 for the pickets; then face moulding in two pieces, the piece with covered edge, 2½ cents per foot, the half-round piece, 1¼ cents; sixteen feet at 3¾ cents, sixty cents; I cannot say whether this can be got less or not; I consider this a fair price for it, it is the ordinary selling price; this is a little larger lumber than is generally used, it is about an inch wider than the usual width; our selling price for the ordinary sort that we keep is two cents per foot for the four-inch; I mean for one member of it only, the other member we sell for one cent per foot, that is, ¾ of a cent less than I allow for the moulding in this fence; then base moulding seven inches by 7⁄8 moulded I consider worth 2½ cents per foot running; then the plinth moulding, sixteen feet by twelve inches, prepared, $12\frac{1}{2}$ cents per foot, making base and plinth moulding for the sixteen feet, ninety-six cents; then I have a notched packing, three cents each post, they have to be prepared; I figure that, at \$1.62 and twenty per cent added, thirty-two cents, make a total of \$1.94 for face moulding, plinth, and base, and notched, packing included; the next is the time of carpenter at notched packing, ribbons, pickets and moulding, including nails; I average to a section seven pounds of nails, at five cents per pound, thirty-five cents; six hours time of two men, making twelve hours to the section of sixteen feet, \$2.40 for time; total \$2.75, and add twenty per cent., (fifty-five cents,) would make \$3.30, and the proportion of the \$75.00 to be divided over the whole work, makes \$21.88 for the section of sixteen feet; my reason for making the allowance of (\$25.00) twenty-five dollars for going along the lines of railway was, because if I had the job to-morrow I would have to go along the line to get stuff; I believe it is not to be had in Toronto; this particular kind of lumber is not usually used for fences; I have made frequent visits to the country looking for material, and I have never been able to find what stuff I wanted all at one mill; I presume you can get cedar posts on the line of the Northern Railway; I might find a mill where I could get the stuff in one day; I put down \$25.00 as a lump sum, as I never found I could do it much less; it might take me a day and it might take me three days or more; the chances to get cedar are much better off the line of railway in the country; a letter would not answer as well as a visit to the mill, you might count a dozen logs and you would not find one in every ten as good as those in this fence; I allow the second \$25.00 for my own time; if it were my own—my absence from business looking for the lumber—I would consider worth \$10.00 per day in the middle of summer, this kind of thing I prefer doing myself, I would not send a man; the other \$25.00 is for time looking for the lumber through the city; I get the twenty per cent. profit for hiring the men and putting them on the work, and perhaps, wait for my money quite a time afterwards; \$1.37 is the price per foot, according to my calculations, \$1.43 would be six cents a foot more than according to my calculation; I would want twenty per cent. on everything, the labour and material; I would be willing to do this job at what I have calculated, \$1.37 per foot; I am considered a Reformer; I do not know that Mr. McDonald kept a shop, he may keep men constantly; I did not furnish him with any of the lumber for this fence; we have a printed list of prices, we always adhere to the list, we never take a job less than the list of prices; I may say, that for the past two years, we have ceased taking contracts and work almost altogether for the trade, and adhere to the price list as close as possible; this price list was prepared by an association of wood manufacturers.

By Mr. Launder.—I know Mr. Shanklin; I should say he was a good workman, he does his work well, he has good jobs.

Mr. J. P. Wagner, recalled.

By Hon. Mr. Fraser.—I know the fence around Dr. Jennings' church, I built it sometime last spring; it is a similar fence to that around the Parliament Buildings here; I have examined this fence, it is similar except that it is stronger and heavier, and also higher than the Jennings' fence; the Jennings' fence cost per foot, running, without painting, the tender was $1.25 exclusive of gate and corner posts; that was the price at which it was done; I think that it did not include painting; I have examined the fence around the Parliament Buildings and I believe it to be worth according to my calculations, $1.40 per foot without painting.

By Hon. Mr. Cameron.—The reason of the difference in these two fences is the greater quantity of material and the extra labour along with it; I do not know exactly the height of the pickets in Dr. Jennings' fence, but to the best of my recollection the whole fence measures five feet high; there is somewhere about six feet additional lumber in one running foot of this fence around the buildings; the thickness of the base in the Jennings' fence is $\frac{7}{8}$ thick, in this fence it is inch and the pickets $1\frac{1}{4}$ inch; lumber would be worth about 3 cents per foot, that would be 18 cents; my calculations for one section of 16 feet are as follows:—laying out the post holes 5 cents each, that is spacing them out; I do not know whether or not they used the old post holes, we very seldom use them; the boss carpenter generally lays out the post holes; for digging the post holes 40 cents each; two posts at 75 cents each just as they come from the mill; they are sawed at the mill at $2\frac{1}{2}$ cents per foot; it is very rarely that you can get cedars sound; I did not furnish any of this material, except I worked some of the pickets ; you can get the ordinary run of cedar for \$15.00 per thousand, 4 by 4 inches and 4 by 6 inches ; this kind of lumber, 6 inches by 6 inches, would cost \$10.00 per thousand and more ; it is not only the difference in the size but the quality of the cedar that would make the difference in the price ; I generally buy the posts and saw them myself ; I have never bought any of this 6 inch cedar scantling ; I have never got any sawn for me, I saw it myself if I want it ; I have sawn lots of it ; we do not keep it for sale, we do not sell it, we saw it for parties who bring it to us to saw ; we charge 75 cents per hour, we will saw perhaps four posts in an hour, that would be about 120 feet ; the posts are generally from 9 to 10 feet long ; we charge generally from about 20 cents to 25 cents each sawing, according to the size ; then I allowed for dressing these posts 30 cents each, footing the same 20 cents each, setting and filling 40 cents each, carting too and fro 5 cents each, that make the posts after they are set come to \$4.30 we average the carting at how much a team would take ; a single horse would carry about 500 feet, that is an ordinary load ; of course the distance makes a difference in the price ; I calculated it from the Northern Railway station to the Parliament Buildings ; it would cost about 75 cents per load for these ; the next is the rail, two ribbons 3 inches by 6, 16 feet long, for the two ribbons \$1.44, 72 cents each ; there is 48 feet of lumber in them, I take it at 3 cents per foot ; I saw the lumber in these when it was worked ; it was worked at my place ; Mr. McDonald brought it there to be planed, and I saw it then ; this fence was in progress before I was employed at the Central Prison ; the next item is sawing, planing and bevelling the ribbons 40 cents each, and putting on the same, including the nails, 37½ cents each ; I include about two lbs. of nails in putting on the 16 feet of ribbon ; this would be about 6 spikes (nails would not be heavy enough) ; there would be about 6 to a pound ; carting twice, 20 cents for the two ribbons ; that makes a total of \$3.19 for that portion ; then there are 33 pickets, 1¼ inch, at 28 cents each, that is \$9.24 ; putting on the same, including nails, 5 cents each, \$1.65 ; carting same three times, one cent each, 33 cents ; that is \$11.22 ; next is 16 feet of double moulding ribbon at 3½ cents per foot, 56 cents ; 16 feet of double moulded base, at 6¾ cents per foot, \$1.08 ; then there is putting on the same and nails, \$1.39 ; that portion comes to \$3.03 ; capping two posts, 10 cents each, and I allowed 50 cents for 16 feet for hunting up material ; that would make \$22.44 for one section of 16 feet ; I put in my profits as I go along at 20 per cent. ; I could not say what proportion of the pickets I worked for Mr. McDonald ; I do not recollect what I charged him for the work ; I gave him a tender for the pickets in the first place ; I offered to furnish him the same as I put up at Dr. Jennings' Church for 20 cents each, material and all, finished ; it is much harder to get it, 1¼ inch stuff, especially in such a quantity ; you have to pay more for it ; I worked some of the rails and the base for Mr. McDonald ; my books would show my account against him for this work ; I suppose it would cost in the neighbourhood of \$5.00 per thousand for kiln-drying ; I know it was kiln-dried ; it was dried in Oliver's dry-house ; it went to Oliver's to be kiln-dried before it came to my place ; before it was dressed I had nothing to do with the posts ; I did none of the work for the large posts ; the large posts are worth \$20.00 each set ; that is what we always get for them ; I never bought such large posts as these cedar ; I never made such posts as these ; what we make are cased posts ; I think they are worth about the same price ; I got \$20.00 each for the posts in Dr. Jennings' fence ; there is a hole bored in each picket in Dr. Jennings' fence ; that would add to the cost about one cent a picket, that would be 33 cents for the 16 feet ; I think I have been paid for the work we did for Mr. McDonald ; he generally pays pretty promptly ; I can furnish that account and show what it was.

Hon. Mr. Cameron asked Mr. Wagner to produce his books containing this account against Mr. McDonald to-morrow morning.

By Mr. Farewell.—I have seen the most of the good fences in this city of this kind ; I think there are others in the city as good as this, as far as workmanship is concerned, but not so strong ; the material is better than the general run of work in such fences ; the Smith pattern of picket would answer as well for a fence, but it would not be so strong.

At the request of Hon. Mr. Cameron, Mr. J. B. Smith, Mr. Jas. McDonald, and Mr. Hugh Bains were ordered to appear to-morrow.

Committee adjourned at 11.20 o'clock, A.M., until to-morrow, Wednesday, 18th March, at 9, A. M.

Mr. J. P. Wagner recalled.

Mr. Wagner produced his books, as requested by the Hon. Mr. Cameron, and showed the amount of his account against Mr. McDonald for dressing lumber used in the fence around the Parliament Buildings, which amounted to $325 02; he said he did only a portion of the lumber used in the fence for Mr. McDonald; he could not say what proportion of the whole work he did for Mr. McDonald. Mr. Wagner further stated that he would like to correct a statement he made yesterday as to the differences in the quality of lumber required for this fence around the Parliament Buildings, over the fence around Dr. Jennings' Church. He said yesterday, that it would take six feet more lumber to the running foot in consequence of this being one and quarter inch stuff in the pickets, and in the Jennings' fence only inch stuff; he found, upon calculation, that it would only take three (3) feet more; he said that the posts in the fence around the Parliament Buildings were worth forty (40) cents each more than the posts in Dr. Jennings' fence.

John B. Smith, called and sworn.

By Mr. Lauder.—I am in the building business in the City of Toronto; this letter produced is from my establishment; we were asked by Mr. Tully to give a price for a pattern fence, the same as the pattern we showed him; this letter is telling him what we would put up for; to the best of my knowledge, I saw Mr. Tully myself when he called at my place of business; we showed him the picket we would put up; he said he wanted round cedar posts and a fence the pattern of the picket we showed him; this picket of ours, produced, would make a fence about six feet high, with a proportionate size of base; I think we described the base at the time to be an inch base with a moulding on the top; the fence we tendered for would be a five foot six inch fence; I offered to put it up for sixty-five cents per foot lineal; making the pickets out of one and quarter inch lumber, instead of inch, would have added the difference in the cost of the lumber one-fourth; we would have more trouble in selecting the one and quarter inch stuff; we sell pickets the same as the pattern we have furnished, made out of inch stuff, at fifteen cents each; the extra price of the one and quarter inch stuff would depend a good deal on how we succeeded in getting the stuff; we have a good deal of trouble in getting clear stuff; if it was clear stuff the pickets would be worth twenty to twenty-five cents each; twenty-five cents I consider would be a good price; according to this it would add twenty cents per foot to my offer of sixty-five cents, making eighty-five cents per foot; if we had to furnish good clear cedar it would be hard to get them; I should say that, if I was selecting good cedar lumber for these posts it would cost me from $18.00 to $20.00 per thousand; if they are ten feet long there would be thirty feet in each post; if they were twelve feet long, which is the usual length, there would be thirty-six feet in each post, at $20.00 a thousand, would be seventy-two cents each; the posts I offered to furnish would be worth, in the rough, (very good selected,) thirty cents each; if they are not so particular, we sell them for twenty-five cents; it would not cost any more to dress the square posts than to dress the round ones; making allowance for the difference in the square posts and the addition of the cost of the extra lumber in pickets, we would put up the fence, the same pattern picket as ours, for from ninety cents to a dollar per foot, allowing for the extra digging in putting in the posts, in consequence of the footing to each post; I think $1 00 per foot would have been a very fair price for a fence according to our pattern of picket of one and quarter inch stuff; I think the pattern of the picket in the present fence is a little more expensive than our pattern, because it has more members; I could not say whether or not I could put up this fence the same as it is now for $1.00 per foot; if I was not busy I would; it is the projecting members of the picket that makes it more difficult to manufacture; if I had been asked in the spring to put up a fence similar to this one now up for $1 00 per foot I would have done it ; I could tell after it was up whether I made money at it or not ; I do not know where Mr. McDonald got his lumber dressed ; we did not do any of it for him ; the pickets in the rough could be done for about fourteen cents each.

By Hon. Mr. Fraser.—I know Mr. Wagner, Ald. Withrow, Mr. James McDonald and Mr. Tully ; Messrs McDonald, Wagner and Ald. Withrow are all three practical men, and, I consider, would be all good judges of the value of such work ; Mr. Tully, Engineer, would also be a good judge of such work ; my opinion of men is, that it is very hard to get two men to agree on the value of such work as this ; I think the opinion of those men would be as reliable as my own ; I think that their statement of the value of such work ought to have as much reliance as my own ; I am not aware that the lumber in this fence is all clear stuff and kiln-dried ; this would add something more to the cost of this fence ; I cannot tell exactly what it would cost extra ; had I been asked to tender for this fence as clear stuff and kiln-dried, I do not think I would have tendered on account of the bother of it ; I think, assuming the fence to be made of clear stuff and kiln-dried, that the opinions of Messrs. Wagner and Withrow could be relied on as to the value of the fence per running foot ; I have not made any estimate of what the fence would cost per foot, assuming the stuff to be clear stuff and kiln-dried ; I never made any measurements of the fence that is now up ; in my tender I did not make any provision for clear stuff or kiln-dried ; good common stock boards inch stuff suitable for the fence I intended to put up, such as we call shelving, we sell at from $16 00 to $18 00 per thousand ; one and a quarter inch stuff, clear, would be worth from $30 00 to $35 00 per thousand ; I have sold clear lumber as high as $50 00 per thousand, but it was very superior stuff ; the prices that I have mentioned for building this fence is exclusive of painting.

By Mr. Lauder.—We have provided a good deal of stuff for fences in this city ; we have built some ; it is not customary to build fences of kiln-dried clear stuff ; we have never done it, and we have furnished stuff for a good many fences ; I would not put kiln-dried stuff in a fence were I putting it up for myself ; fair stock lumber might make as good a fence, but it would have to be particularly selected so as to have no loose knots.

By Hon. Mr. Fraser.—When I speak of good stock lumber, at from $16 00 to $18 00 per thousand, and clear stuff, at from $30 00 to $35 00 ; I do not include kiln-drying.

By Mr. Farewell.—What I mean by the posts being dressed above the ground is, taking off the bark with a drawing knife ; it would not be any more expensive to dress the square posts than to bark the round posts, I would not make any difference.

By Mr. Rykert.—I cannot tell what difference the kiln-drying would make ; I do not know anything about the expense of kiln-drying ; I have not examined this lumber in the fence ; I do not know what kind of lumber it is.

By Mr. Lauder.—I have never had any kiln-drying done ; I have no experience in getting lumber kiln-dried in this city ; I do not think it would cost $400 00 to dry all the lumber in this fence.

At the request of Mr. Rykert, Mr. James McDonald, Mr. Oliver, and Mr. Clements were notified to appear to-morrow, and Mr. Robt. Hunter was notified to appear, at the request of Mr. Lauder.

Mr. Rykert,

Mr. James McDonald called and sworn :

By Mr. Rykert.—We had the contract for building this fence around the Parliament Buildings—my brother and myself ; I am not sure who spoke to me first ; I think there was word sent to my brother first; I saw Mr. Tully and the Hon. Mr. McKellar when I first came down with my brother; we put in a tender; they wished my brother to oversee the job, and they would do it by day's work, but my brother declined; we offered to give a tender for it; I am a builder in this city; we have a shop; we have not done much these last few years; last year, when we took this contract, we were doing a little work—jobbing; we had three or four hands employed then, doing some work for Mr. Lyman, at the store, and also some work at the House of Industry; we took this contract to build this fence at $1 43 per foot; there was no public advertisements for tenders for this work that I know of; we had some of the material on hand at that time that was used in this fence; we had a small quantity; we purchased some of our cedar posts from a man named Macbeth, on the line of the Northern Railway, between Stainer and Cooksville; I kept no books in connection with this job; I do not know how many posts we purchased from Macbeth; I could not say what we paid for them; they were sawn posts when we got them from him; I have an idea that I got them for something under $20 00 a thousand feet; I am not sure how much under $20 00; I have no idea how much under; I have cheques that I paid him for the whole of them; he gave me amount of the lumber for the posts, and I gave him a cheque for that amount; I purchased, I think, a small quantity from Greenlees; I cannot say how many I got from him; his were sawn also; I do not know what I paid him either; I paid him by cheque also; I do not know that I got posts from anybody else; I got, I suppose, three-fourths of the ribbons from Macbeth; they were sawn the size; I paid him, I think, somewhere about $18 00 per thousand for them; a quantity of them we could not use; I examined the ribbons and the posts before I purchased them—that is, I went to his place several times to see them as they were being sawn; I think his place is about 4 or 5 miles from Stayner; it is the first station between Bradford and Bellewart; I got my lumber from a number of people; I had some pickets from Scarlet; I could not say how many—all I could get from him to suit; I think I paid him about $25 00 per thousand; I had also some from Cook and Leik; I paid them, I think, somewhere about $20 00 per thousand; that was green lumber; Scarlet's was dry lumber; it was in the rough, not in the shape of pickets; I had also some from Oliver; I paid him $25 00 per thousand for it, dry; he could not supply a great deal; I had some from Downing; I do not remember what I paid him; we had to dry the most of what we got from him; we had some from Latch, on the line of the Northern Railway, and some from Caldwell, on Front Street; I do not remember what we paid them; Mr. Wagner prepared a great part of it into pickets; he did the planing and put it into shape; we engaged him to do it by the day; I could not tell how much it cost us a piece, or how much by the thousand feet; I have tried a small quantity just to find out what they did cost, and I find that they cost us 30 cents each picket; there was a great deal of waste in getting the pickets out, as the stuff we had to purchase was all sizes; we have thousands of feet of the waste stuff piled up now; we have one pile containing 2,700 feet, which cost us $25 00 per thousand; Mr. Clements did some of the pickets for us; I took the lumber to him in the rough for what pickets he did; I am not exactly sure whether it was 8 or 9 cents he charged us for the shaping of them and preparing them ready for the fence; the pickets were turned out the same as those we got done by Mr. Wagner; we had considerable waste from what Mr. Clements did for us; No other person prepared any pickets for us; Mr. Wagner dressed the great bulk of the ribbons for us; we planed some of them ourselves; the rails are all pine; I got all the boards dressed at Mr. Wagner's; we engaged the machines to do it by the day; we had four men sometimes at Mr. Wagner's, and some days less, assisting Mr. Wagner, just as he was ready to do the work; we purchased some of the lumber for the base from Clements; I am not exactly sure what we paid him for it; we also got some from Cook and Leik for $20 00 per thousand; we paid Clements something less; we did not pay Cook and Leik over $20 00 per thousand; there was hardly a yard in the city, except J. B. Smith's, that we did not get something from; none of the lumber in the base boards cost us over $20 per thousand; we got our moulding done by the day, at Mr. Wagner's; we took the lumber there; there was three or four handlings of it; he is, I think, the only person that did the moulding for us; we employed men to put up the fence by the day; I could not say how many men we employed; we had more than four; I suppose there was never more than 10 at any time; I could not say how many we would average a day, whether three or whether six; some days we were delayed getting picket stuff and other lumber; I kept our men's time every week; we keep no books; I had the time of the men, and I paid them every week ; I just kept track of what cash I received and what I paid out ; I could not tell now what cash we received or what we paid out ; I just kept a card, perhaps, and tore it up after the week was past ; I have only a copy of the account against the Government for this fence ; this is all the check I have got of it ; I have no other means of checking the work done except by this copy of the account ; I cannot tell what our whole outlay was on this fence ; I have no means of knowing what we paid out for lumber or for labour, or what the whole fence cost us ; I could not say what the profit was on putting up this fence ; I could not say how much per foot ; we always add about 20 per cent. for profit in making up our estimates ; I do not think we made 20 per cent. on this contract ; I would not like to swear that we did make 20 per cent. on this contract ; I would not like to swear that we did not make 20 per cent. ; I do not suppose we lost anything on this fence ; I do not know, as a matter of fact, that we made 20 per cent. ; I am confident that we did not make 20 per cent. ; I would not swear that we did not make 15 per cent. ; we got some of the material kiln-dried ; I could not say what quantity ; we got the pickets kiln-dried that were green ; Scarlet's was thoroughly dried lumber ; Oliver was to give it dried, but he could not supply much of it ; I got probably three-fourths of it kiln-dried at Mr. Hay's, of Jacques and Hay ; I got a small quantity dried at Oliver's. but it did not turn out well ; I got some more pickets, a small quantity, kiln-dried at Mr. Wagner's ; I did not get any other lumber kiln-dried at any other place ; I cannot tell what I was paying Mr. Hay ; I never asked him ; I have no idea what it cost ; they should not charge over $5 00 per thousand ; I cannot say whether the whole lumber that I got kiln-dried at all these places would cost $100 00 ; I decline to answer whether we got 5,000 or 10,000 feet of lumber kiln-dried, as I do not know ; not much of the lumber in the base was kiln-dried ; very little of it ; there would not be 5,000 feet ; it was principally inch lumber for base that we got from Clements.

By Hon. Mr. Fraser.—It was just after finishing McMaster's new store that same season that we took this job of the fence ; I think some of our men were still at work on that store ; when we made our tender we estimated that we should get twenty per cent. profit ; we found a good deal more difficulty in getting the stuff, and a great deal more waste, than we anticipated when we made up our estimate ; we visited all the yards in the city from time to time in order to get the stuff, and also some mills in the country ; the odd lengths entailed a loss in almost every board from which the pickets were made ; in making up our estimates of $1.43 per foot we thought it was a fair price between man and man ; we would not take another at the same price, unless we had time allowed us to procure suitable stuff ; Mr. Piercy asked me if we would undertake to build a similar fence around the Metropolitan Church, and I said we would not take it unless there was time allowed us to get pickets and the other stuff required ; I think that when we are paid according to our account we will not have more than twenty per cent. profit, that covers our loss of time and supervision ; I think Mr. Clements prepared the pickets from the rough boards at 8 or 9 cents each.

Mr. Rykert asked Mr. McDonald to produce to-morrow his cheques showing what amounts he paid for lumber for this fence.

Mr. John Clements, called and sworn.

By Mr. Rykert.—I have been engaged in building ever since I have been in Toronto for the past thirty years ; I am a builder and lumber dealer ; Mr. McDonald obtained lumber from me at different times for this fence around the Parliament Buildings ; he got base boards from us, I do not think we dressed the base for him ; it was what I call shelving quality—he paid us about $18.00 per thousand for it, he picked the piles over from top to bottom to get the best ; he was very particular about the quality of the lumber ; I do not think he got any picket stuff from us, we prepared some pickets for him ; I think he brought the lumber in twelve foot lengths ; I know he had a great deal of trouble getting the stuff around the city ; there was a good deal of waste in the lumber he brought us, I suppose there would be a fourth ; I think we charged him for the cutting and dressing the pickets 8½ cents each ; these pickets would be worth I think, including the dressing, 25 cents each, that is allowing $30 per thousand for the lumber ; the lumber was seasoned ; I have not made any estimate of what this fence would be worth ; I saw the fence as it was going up ; I think it is the best fence of the kind in this city ; I have made no calculation of what the fence would be worth per foot ; I could do so if it was required by the Committee.

By Hon. Mr. Fraser.—I think Mr. Wagner, Ald. Withrow and Mr. James McDonald, are all good practical men, and anything they say is thoroughly reliable; they are men of the highest standing in the trade in Toronto, and their evidence ought not to be questioned.

By Mr. Rykert.—Mr. Shanklin is also a reliable man, if he went into it in detail his evidence would be reliable; I do not think he has been getting as good prices as Mr. Wagner or Mr. Withrow; Mr. J. B. Smith's evidence would also be reliable.

By Hon. Mr. Fraser.—Mr. Withrow and Mr. Wagner have gone into the items of this fence by details, their opinion as to the value of it is perfectly reliable.

By Mr. Rykert.—I would not expect these men to agree on the items of detail, as there are so many different ways of getting at it.

At the request of Mr. Rykert, Mr. Edwards and Mr. Spence, of the Department of Public Works, were ordered to appear to-morrow.

Committee adjourned at 11.30 a. m. until to-morrow, Friday, 30th March, at 9 a. m.

Considered Immigration on pages 63, 64, 65, 66, of Public Accounts.

Mr. Edwards, called and sworn.

By Mr. Rykert.—These accounts on page 63 are paid on recommendation of Ex. Council, and then paid in the usual way; I have had nothing to do with the Immigration accounts for the past twelve or fourteen months, except as to their passing through my hands in the usual way, the same as other accounts; Mr. Spence and the accountant are the men that would be able to give all the explanations as to these accounts.

Mr. David Spence, called and sworn.

By Mr. Rykert.—I have charge of the Immigration Department.

Page 63. Item Alex. Begg, services and expenses as Immigration Agent, $9,506.86.

Mr. Spence.—That item embraces what money has been paid in Scotland to emigrants; he (Mr. Begg) was head of the agents in Scotland, and all moneys paid through the various agencies in Scotland, and also one agency in England, was paid through him; whatever drafts he drew on us were honoured; he furnished every month a statement and vouchers for all moneys he had paid; there was an arrangement made with the Allans, so that he had a monthly credit of £110 sterling (one hundred and ten pounds sterling); there was an Order in Council passed in the fall of 1872, authorizing a certain amount of money, I think it was $500.00 at a time, in order to pay bonuses to emigrants; he (Mr. Begg) was to take a receipt from the emigrants, and forward them to this Department here; these receipts were for warded in all cases; it would be utterly impossible to tell that all the parties remained in this Province for three months; there was a large number of immigrants arrived here, sent through Mr. Begg.

Mr. Spence produced vouchers and certificates in this matter.

Mr. Spence.—I have no means of knowing that the immigrants arrive in Quebec unless the immigrant produces the duplicate certificate he receives in the old country, or reports himself to the agent in Quebec; I have not been in the habit of checking the receipts sent to me by the agent in Scotland for bonuses advanced, with the duplicate receipt presented at Quebec, but I have been in the habit of comparing them with the accounts; I cannot of my own knowledge tell whether all those or what proportion of those who receive bonuses in advance actually arrive in Quebec; I cannot of my own knowledge say how many of those who receive bonuses in advance have remained in this country; it would be impossible to check that; since that Order in Council was passed the following moneys have been paid in advance:—

Mr. Edwards	$ 99 08
C. J. Shields, Dublin.....	139 83
Rev. H. Cocks, London	795 00
John McMillan, "	331 51
Alex. Begg, Scotland	2706 96
Sidney Robjohn, London	468 20
Total.....	$4,540 58

This did not form part of the $60,000.00 paid here during the year through me.

The agents are now acting under instructions, as shown in the return now sent down to the House; with the exception of a few cases, when immigrants have claimed their bonuses in the country the Department has insisted on evidence being produced of residence in the Province for three months; in a few cases, on account of pressing necessity, the Commissioner has approved of a portion being advanced.

Page 66. Item $60,000.00. D. Spence, assistance to immigrants.

Mr. Spence.—That item only embraces individual immigrants, and a few others who brought out immigrants; as a general rule, when there were any large claims, such, for instance, as Miss McPherson's, of $3,087.00, they were sent down to the Treasurer's office for payment; there was a portion paid to Miss Rye, $630.00, she got more than that, but not through me; $27,141.00 of this $60,000.00 was for bonuses in 1872; $276.00 to Mr. E. Sandford for children for the Home in Hamilton, $393.00 for the Northumberland and Durham Immigration Aid Society to J. G. Hagaman; $9,460 was paid since January, 1874; I examined the ships' lists to find out, and found the names of all the parties Miss Rye claimed for in 1872.

Page 66. Item, Miss Rye, assistance to immigrants, $960.00.

Mr. Spence.—She brought certificates with her for this item; Miss McPherson had certificates from the agents also showing that she had those parties along with her for item $3,087.00; in these cases of Miss McPherson and Miss Rye, they only had their own certificates as to the question of residence.

Item, Miss Fletcher $216.60.—She was not paid for considerable time after their arrival in this country; she produced certificates; the certificates were sent up from Quebec.

Item, H. Hamilton $120.00.—I think he is in Paris; a person in England sent out a number of young men, and he was authorized to collect the amount; I insisted on his producing evidence of the young men being settled in the Province.

Item, Geo. Barker, $423.00.—He had proper certificates that the parties had been in the Province three months.

Item Rev. S. Herring.—$2,189.44, I do not know very much about his case, as it was before I was in this Department, that was settled by Mr. Edwards when he was in England last fall. The basis upon which the payment was made, was, as there was no proof that all the parties had remained in this Province a reduction was made of twenty-five per cent. from his claim until such time as proof was furnished; the certificates of these Immigrants sent out by Mr. Herring were registered at Quebec, and these were the checks that we had that the parties arrived in this country, twenty-five per cent. was deducted from his claim, in consequence of his inability to produce evidence that all these parties had remained three months in the Province.

Item J. S. Haly, $530.82, I think, was paid in full; we have the same vouchers from him as we had from the others—the certificates of their arrival registered at Quebec, but no evidence of their having remained in the Province.

Item Hon. Mr. Hobert, $700 61.—Same as Mr. Herring, twenty-five per cent. deducted.

Item Rev. H. Cocks, $994.00.—Same as Mr. Herring also, twenty-five per cent. deducted.

We know how many Immigrants remain in Canada from the Returns from the different agencies, after they are three months resident in Ontario; it is impossible to tell how many may remove to the other side.

By Hon. Mr. Fraser.—It was only as to the cases of 1872 that that reduction of twenty-five per cent. was made ; the rule has been rigidly enforced in 1873 that the proof of residence must be given ; the agents are specially instructed not to make any payments advancing bonuses except they are themselves satisfied that the emigrants were going to settle in this Province ; these bonuses are paid in reduction of passage money ; it was the agents' duty to see the person to whom bonuses were paid shipped on board some vessel ; these vessels all sail for Quebec ; bonuses are only advanced to those who come by Quebec ; there is a double check, first the agent sees that they are shipped on board a vessel bound for Quebec, and then they are reported again to the agent in Quebec when they arrive ; the agent sees that they report themselves, none of them are supposed to pass without reporting themselves ; Mr. Begg sent duplicate receipts when the bonus was paid ; the other agents took receipts from the emigrants when the bonus was paid and forwarded them to the Department here, and we compared them with the statements sent in order to see if they were correct ; from the number of Immigrants that were paid, I am satisfied on that point, that bonuses have only been paid to Immigrants who have settled in this Province.

By Mr. Rykert.—I base my opinion on the number who arrive at Quebec correspondingly with the number of those who are paid.

At the request of Hon. Mr. Fraser, Mr. David Walker, and Mr. Jos. Sheard were notified to appear to-morrow.

Mr. Rykert,
“ Lauder,

Mr. David Walker, called and sworn.

By Hon. Mr. Fraser.—I am one of the Managers of Dr. Jennings' Church in Toronto. I recollect a fence being put up around the church by Mr. Wagner during the last year ; I think we in the first place asked Mr. Wagner to make an estimate of what he would do it for and then we got two other builders to put in a tender ; we received three tenders in all, two besides Mr. Wagner's ; Mr. Wagner was the lowest ; William Burke is one of those that tendered ; Mr. Young to whom these tenders were addressed is the Secretary to the Bible Society ; Mr. Burke is a master builder ; Messrs. Withrow and Hillock are the other firm that tendered besides Mr. Wagner ; Mr. Wagner's tender was $353.00 ; $1.25 per foot without painting and adding 25 cents per foot for painting $46.00 for three coats, and $77 00 for the gates ; total cost of the fence per foot would be $1.92 (one dollar and ninety-two cents) ; Mr. Burke's tender was $289.00 for the fence or at the rate of $1.57 per foot without painting or gates, adding $46.00 for the painting and $85.00 for the gates would make $420.00, the average including painting and gates would be $2.28 per foot.

Messrs. Withrow and Hillock, their estimate for the whole job was $390.00 ; $1.43 per foot without painting or gates, or $246.00 for the whole and adding the $46.00 for painting and $80.00 for the gates, would make an average of $2.12 per foot including painting and gates ; the pickets in the Jennings' fence are of inch staff ; the fence on Bay Street measures 6 feet 3 inches in height ; the 96 feet on Richmond Street is 5 feet 6 inches in height ; the ordinary posts are round cedar posts 6½ inches through, barked and painted, the posts are 7 feet 6 inches apart from centre to centre.

By Mr. Rykert.—I am an Hotel-keeper in this city, I have been keeping Hotel for about 14 years ; I am an Engineer, am not a Carpenter ; I never built any fences ; I was for five years proprietor of the American Hotel ; I was proprietor of the American Hotel at the time of the celebrated interview between Mr. McKellar and Mr. Lewis ; I knew that Mr. Lewis had been at the Hotel ; At that time Mr. McKellar was boarding with me ; I have not examined this fence around the Parliament Buildings ; I cannot tell of what quality of material it is built ; I should say it was a good fence from the appearance of it ; I have no idea of the prices of lumber ; in making up my calculations of the Jennings' fence, I base my calculations on the tenders that were given in for that work ; I have no idea what the pickets are worth, I have no idea what the painting is worth ; I asked a painter and made up my calculations of the painting from what he told me, I only calculate on what was in these estimates ; the estimate I have given of $77.00 the value of the gates as for Mr. Wagner's tender, I made a starting point from what Mr. Wagner said, he had per foot $1.25, and then I allowed the balance for gates and painting ; I am not aware that the painter gets over 50 cents per foot for painting this fence around the Parliament Buildings ; we paid $353.00 for our fence including gates, posts and painting ; I do not know whether it is as well painted as this fence around the Parliament Buildings ; I have no idea what Mr. Wagner paid for the posts, I do not know what he paid for any of the material.

By Mr. Lauder.—There are 184 feet lineal in all the Jennings' fence ; in giving the average I speak of, that includes what is set out in these calculations ; two large gates in pairs, one single gate, and eight cased posts ; a fence of 184 feet in length containing so many gates, large posts and corners would be more expensive per foot than a large fence containing 2777 feet ; I should think the long fence would cost less than the short one.

By Hon. Mr. Fraser.—In making my average I count the gates as fence ; in the 184 feet what I allow $1.25 per foot for in Mr. Wagner's estimate, and then in addition as extra at ($77.00) seventy-seven dollars for the gates ; I carry out the other estimates on the same basis.

Mr. Joseph Sheard, called and sworn :

By Hon. Mr. Fraser.—I have had experience as either Contractor or Architect for over 40 years ; I have seen the fence around the Parliament Buildings ; I do not think that the $1.43 per foot is at all too much for this fence ; the fence is a very good job, that is the carpenter work ; if you want work of that sort you have to pay more for it ; I think the Government get as good if not better value for their money paid for this fence, as on any other work they have done.

By Mr. Lauder.—I just measured the height of the fence this morning ; I calculated that the fence would be worth $1.70 per foot including painting ; I think that would be a fair price including everything except gate and corner posts, gates and hanging ; this is allowing about 27 cents per lineal foot for painting ; there is no person could value this fence as well as the man that superintended it.

By Hon. Mr. Fraser.—In four-coat work I would allow 33 cents per yard for painting, finished ; the price I allow for painting is one shilling and fivepence (or about 28 cents) per superficial yard ; for four-coat work there would be about $1\frac{1}{4}$ yards in a running foot ; I think that 27 cents per foot for painting, and \$1 43 per foot for the carpenter work, would be a fair price per running foot ; the Government would receive good value for their money and the contractors would receive good pay for their work ; in measuring the painting I just simply measure it at the surface measurement ; five cents extra per foot for the extra painting of the pickets and the ribbon before the pickets were put on, would make 32 cents per running foot, according to my mode of measurement.

By Mr. Lauder.—I think the $1 70 per foot, as I have stated, is still a good and fair price, at which the Government ought to be satisfied with, and which would be a fair price for the contractors.

By Hon. Mr. Fraser.—I think the $1 43 per foot for the carpenter work, without the gate or corner posts and the extras, would be a fair price ; the painting, according to the contract, is 30 cents per yard, which is only 3 cents difference from what I have calculated it at, providing the measurement is the same as mine.

Mr. Rykert moved, seconded by Mr. Wood, That all the evidence be reported to the House, with an intimation from the Committee that time has not permitted them to bring their investigations to a close, and that the evidence so far taken is only partial as to the matters enquired into, except such as has been already reported to the House.—(Carried.)

Committee adjourned at 10.45 o'clock a. m.

REPORT

SELECT COMMITTEE

ON

THE LIQUOR TRAFFIC.

To the Legislative Assembly of the Province of Ontario.

Your Select Committee appointed to inquire into the working of the Tavern and Shop License Act of 1868, with reference to its influence upon the increase of Intemperance in the Province, and into the effects of the Liquor Traffic upon the health and morals of the community; also, as to the best means of preventing Intemperance, most respectfully present the following as their report:—

Your Committee have had under examination the answers returned to the questions sent out by a similar Committee of this House during the Session of 1873, and have carefully examined and classified the same.

The series of questions referred to were addressed to the following parties:—

Class 1. To Medical Practitioners.

Class 2. To the Clergy.

Class 3. To Sheriffs, County Attorneys, Magistrates, and Chief Constables.

Class 4. To Judges, Police and Stipendiary Magistrates, and Justices of the Peace.

Class 5. To Coroners.

Class 6. To Superintendents and Inspectors of Lunatic Asylums, Hospitals, and Poor Houses, Wardens of Penitentiaries, Inspectors of Gaols and Reformatories, Gaol Surgeons, and Overseers of Houses of Refuge.

Class 7. To Brewers and Distillers.

Class 8. To Manufacturers and Contractors.

Class 9. To Railway Managers, and Owners and Masters of Vessels.

Class 10. To Insurance Companies.

Doubtless the publication at length of all the replies to the questions would be interesting to the country, but numbering as they do several thousands, your Committee have deemed it better to publish only a portion of the replies to each class of questions, taking care in doing so to give a fair index of all the answers received.

The testimony furnished, coming as it does from the officers of justice, and those appointed to administer and enforce the criminal laws of the Province; from those officially appointed to inquire into the causes of accidents and untimely deaths; from those employers of labour, whose industrial pursuits require a close discrimination as to the best classes of labourers; from those whose early education and lifelong avocation have eminently qualified them to know more of man, physically, and what is for his well-being in sickness and in health, than any other class among us; and from those who have voluntarily dedicated themselves to the important work of watching over and promoting the moral and spiritual well-being of all classes in the community, impels your Committee to come to the following conclusions:—

That the traffic in Intoxicating Liquors as a common beverage directly tends to increase crime, to corrupt the social habits, and destroy the health, happiness, and lives of the people, and to waste the national resources; that no consideration of private gain or public revenue can justify the continuance of a system so clearly wrong in principle, and disastrous in results, as the Liquor traffic; and that therefore a law ought to be passed entirely prohibiting the traffic except for chemical, medicinal, and mechanical purposes.

But your Committee are reminded of the existence of insurmountable constitutional difficulties preventing the Provincial authorities from passing such a law, and that those who seek for such a consummation must look to the Federal Parliament, while the residents of this Province must be content with the administration of such restraints upon the traffic as wisdom may direct.

As the past history of the traffic clearly proves that all efforts to regulate the same satisfactorily have proved unavailing, so, with reference to the future, there can be no reasonable hope of success in the way of satisfactory regulation, and your Committee are of opinion that nothing short of entire prohibition can afford that relief and security from the evils of the traffic which society demands.

Your Committee therefore submit that no time should be lost in the initiation of such action as shall result in such a modification of the constitution as will place the retail Liquor business of the Province entirely under the control of the Provincial authorities.

Pending such action, your Committee think the license laws of the Province can be and ought to be materially improved; and, with this object in view, submit the following outline of principles which ought to be embodied in law, as being the best means at command of restricting the traffic and preventing intemperance:—

First. Publish the names of all applicants for a license to sell liquor both in taverns and shops, and if before the final granting of such license a clear majority of the rate-payers within the polling division in which the tavern or shop is situated, petition the Council against the granting of any particular license, the same shall not be granted.

Second. Abolish the sale of Liquors in saloons.

Third. Allow no Grocery, Provision Store, or any other business to be connected with that of the sale of Liquor under a shop license.

All which is respectfully submitted.

A. FAREWELL,
Chairman.

Committee Rooms,
20th March, 1874.

CLASS 1.

TO MEDICAL PRACTITIONERS.

This class embraces four questions, which are as follow:—

1. Does the use of intoxicating liquors, as a beverage, predispose to mental and physical disease, or otherwise?
2. In respect of the fatal tendencies of disease, state the differences as between total abstainers and others. Have total abstainers an advantage?
3. In your opinion, can diseases be treated as efficiently without, as with alcoholic remedies?
4. Is it the custom to prescribe alcoholic remedies in the treatment of disease; and if so, to what extent?

Your Committee find 408 papers of this class returned, with answers as follow:—

1. To this question 354 say Yes, and 54 answer No.
2. This question is answered affirmatively by 348. Negatively by 60.
3. Answered by 80, Yes. By 328, No.
4. All answer Yes. Sixty say they do not use it in their practice at all, and a large number say they only use it in low fevers and in cases of great prostration. The following may be regarded as a fair average of all the answers in this class:—

Report of Thomas R. Dupuis, M.D., F.R.C.P.S.

1. In the opinion of the best Physiologists and Pathologists of the day, it does so very decidedly. From my own experience, I am also convinced of this fact: diseases of the liver, kidneys and heart, resulting in dropsies; and of the brain and nervous system, giving rise to partial dementia, and other exaggerated mental phenomena, and of various forms and degrees of paralysis, being common among steady drinkers.

2. In regular drinkers, however moderate, tendency to fatality is greater, and all diseases, both surgical and medical, are more difficult of cure in them. As the habit of drinking approaches regular drunkenness, this fatal tendency becomes greater, so that many diseases and injuries that I should pronounce not dangerous in the abstainer would be regarded as highly dangerous in the drunkard. The dangers of the constant soaker when diseased, compared with the abstainer, is, at least, as two to one.

3. This is a question not yet decidedly settled. When used in cases of great debility, they seem sometimes to do good; at other times, it is difficult to pronounce on them with certainty. Comparisons lately made in English and German Hospitals seem to prove that they can be. No farther than as a temporary aid would I admit them, and then not frequently, nor continued longer than such a powerful drug should be, under proper care.

4. Lamentably, it is too much the custom, and many a drunkard to-day will trace back the beginning of his habit to the use of spirituous liquors having been prescribed for him by a doctor. The most enlightened physicians, however, never prescribe them per se, except, as before stated, in very low conditions; and if used after this, always so combined with something else, to conceal their presence. I never think of telling a patient to use any alcoholic stimulant. If I really believe the case demands it, I combine the alcohol with some other matters, in proper form, and thus administer it.

My opinion is, that the common use of alcohol is injurious; that the abstainer is the strongest man; that a small quantity of alcohol may be admitted with advantage as a medicine, but that here its usefulness ends; and that it should be carefully used, and never be advised for a patient to be taken according to his own judgment.

1. Most undoubtedly. The use of intoxicating liquors as a beverage is one of the most, if not the most prolific cause in producing both mental and physical disease.

2. The chances for recovery are altogether in favour of those who do not use alcoholic stimulants as a beverage.

3. I believe most diseases can be efficiently treated without alcoholic stimulants.

4. Alcoholic remedies are prescribed in many stages of disease. My belief is, that alcoholic stimulants are very generally used in the treatment of disease at the present time—more than real necessity demands. Alcohol, judiciously administered, is a very valuable remedy in the treatment of disease.

G. G. EDWARDS, M.D.

Strathroy, 21st March, 1873.

1. It predisposes to both mental and physical diseases.

2. Total abstainers are much more likely to recover when attacked by disease. We are largely guided in our prognosis by the previous habits of the patient, and that of drunkenness above all others will make the prognosis unfavourable. Drunkenness is not only at the bottom of nearly all crime, but of many diseases in our country. Crime, unhappiness, destitution, and death follow in its track.

3. As a medicine, like all other poisons, properly administered, it is productive of good in low forms of fever, and inflammatory diseases in certain stages. The druggist's shelf is its proper place. Its sale should be as guarded and circumscribed as that of opium or strychnine, or any other poison, by Legislative enactment.

4. It is, in low types of fevers, and in certain stages of inflammatory diseases, but a very large percentage (I think ninety-five per cent., within the bounds) of the liquor sold in the country is unfit for this use, and will do harm if prescribed and administered. Alcohol, when properly and timely administered to a sick patient, is capable of producing relief and substantial benefit, but when otherwise administered and taken as a beverage it is unmistakably productive of both physical and mental injury,

Yours truly,

JOHN FERGUSON, M.D.

1. Yes, it does.

2. In total abstainers inflammatory disease has a tendency to terminate by revolution, viz., recover without any treatment except Hygenia. In habitual drinkers those diseases have a tendency to run through all the stages and terminate fatally.

3. The majority of diseases can.

4. It is only customary to prescribe alcoholic stimulants in diseases where there is great prostration.

GEORGE DUNCAN.

1. From forty years' observation in the practice of my profession, I feel justified in asserting, that the use of intoxicating liquors, as a beverage, does directly tend to interfere with the healthy discharge of the vital functions, and, as a consequence, is a fruitful cause of mental and physical disease.

2. The fatal tendencies of disease are much heightened in the cases of persons addicted to even the moderate use of intoxicating liquors, and in a tenfold degree in those who use them immoderately. In the case of abstainers (of naturally good constitutions) when attacked with disease, the efforts of nature more powerfully tend to restoration, and remedial measures act with greater certainty.

3. There are diseases, in the efficient and proper treatment of which, alcoholic remedies are indispensably necessary, and there is not any known stimulant that can be substituted therefor.

4. It is the custom to do so in all such diseases, as clearly to the scientific mind of the physician, demand a stimulant possessing the diffusive power, and nutritive and tonic effect of alcohol. The extent to which alcoholic remedies are employed in the treatment of disease must depend upon the frequency of such ailments as require their use. No person in good, sound health, and who desires to maintain it in its integrity, should ever use alcoholic liquors as a beverage, or in any other way whatsoever.

JNO. BARNHART, M.D.,
Owen Sound.

1. It does.

2. Total abstainers being more amenable to the effects of medicines, the fatal tendencies of disease in them is much less than in those who use intoxicating liquors.

3. In the majority of cases they can, but in some, alcoholic remedies, judiciously administered, are highly beneficial.

4. It is; although I believe alcoholic remedies to be useful in some cases of disease, I find it next to impossible to purchase them pure, they are manufactured in every town in the Province, and from poisonous materials, producing a great amount of misery, immorality, and insanity and destruction of life to an alarming extent; therefore, if all alcoholic liquors for sale, were to be subjected to analysis and, in cases of adulteration, heavy fines and seizures were to be inflicted, the amount of good resulting to the community would be incalculable.

EDWD. HIPKINS, L.M.B.O.,
Brantford.

1. It does predispose to mental and physical diseases, so much so that in persons addicted to their use, we are in the habit of giving a much less favourable prognosis.

2. The fatal tendencies of disease are greatly aggravated in those who are addicted to its use, and very much lessened in total abstainers.

3. Some diseases cannot be treated as efficiently without alcoholic remedies, but many of them can.

4. Yes, it is the custom to prescribe alcoholic remedies in many diseases, especially of the typhoid type, and to a very considerable extent.

M. DAVISON, M.D.

1. In my opinion the use of intoxicating liquors, as a beverage, is a strong predisposing cause to both mental and physical diseases.

2. Mortality is much greater among those who make use of liquors as a beverage than those who do not.

J. C. CORBETT, M.D.

1. Not if moderately used, and the liquors of good quality. The habitual moderate use of the liquors in general use in this country is a fertile source of mental and physical disease.

2. Total abstainers withstand the attacks of inflammatory diseases better than those who daily indulge in the use of intoxicating liquors.

3. Many diseases can, but in fevers of a low type, and occasionally under other circumstances, alcoholic remedies are highly beneficial.

4. Quite customary; to what extent depends on nature of disease.

ROBERT JOHN GUNN, F.R.C.S., Edinburgh,
30 years in practice.

Whitby.

1. It does.

2. In those accustomed to the use of intoxicating liquors the tendency in disease is to prostration—with delirium—and in serious disease the probabilities of recovery are much lessened.

3. Fully nine-tenths may, but cases do occur which imperatively call for its use.

4. It is with some practitioners—freely; not so with myself unless as above stated. I think I succeed in securing recovery better in most cases without than with its use.

D. H. HARRISON, M.D.

McGill Univ., 1864.

1. The "abuse," and not the use of such beverages, no doubt predisposes to both mental and physical infirmities.

2. The difference as between "total abstainers," and habitual drunkards is vastly in favor of the former; but with persons who regularly make use of beer or wine with their meals, without ever committing any excess, I see no difference as respects the fatal tendencies of disease.

HAMNETT HILL, M.R.C.S., Eng.
City of Ottawa.

1. Most decidedly it does.

2. In my experience (of 20 years) the mortality arising from any dangerous disease is at least four-fold in that class of patients who are addicted to the habitual use of intoxicating liquors.

J. EASTON, M.D.

1. Intoxicating liquors used as a beverage not only predispose to mental and physical disease, but actually produce more mental and physical suffering and disease than all other known noxious substances combined.

2. In almost every disease the tendency to a fatal issue is much greater in persons who drink than in total abstainers.

3. There are only a few diseases in which alcoholic remedies can be prescribed with advantage. But in my opinion the shelf of the Apothecary is the only place where the different alcoholic compounds should be kept for sale.

4. This pernicious system is not so extensively employed now, as formerly.

The above opinions are based on an extensive practice extending over thirty years, sixteen years of which I was a visiting Medical Officer of a Public Hospital, over ten years I was the Physician of the Provincial Penitentiary, and over four years Medical Superintendent of Rockwood Lunatic Asylum.

JOHN R. DICKSON, M.D.,

*Member Royal College of Surgeons, England,
Member Royal College of Physicians, London, Fellow Royal College of Surgeons, Edinburgh.*

1. Most assuredly it does. In some, the predisposition is not so apparent, but, all medical men feel greater confidence in the recuperative powers of the system of a total abstainer than in those of a drinker, however moderate in his habits; in this respect, even with a natural constitution less powerful to overcome disease, a greater number of total abstainers will, I believe, recover.

2. In inflammatory diseases especially, the tendency towards recovery is much greater in total abstainers. In all diseases, other things being equal, i. e. constitution, other habits, &c., the temperate man (teetotaler) has a vantage ground.

DANIEL CLARK, M.D.,
Princeton.

1. Yes, in certain conditions of body, particularly in persons having a hereditary predisposition thereto.

2. I would much rather treat an abstainer than a person given to the use of intoxicating liquors, other things being equal. The duration of disease is shorter, and more amenable to remedies, in the temperate than in the intemperate.

3. In some diseases they can, and in others cannot. A scientific physician alone can judge. The cases in which alcoholic stimulants may be legitimately employed are numerous, but the abuse of which is greatly to be deplored.

4. It is in some diseases. The extent varies with the circumstances. The effects being known upon the system, the skilful physician will act accordingly.

W. ALLISON,
Medical Practitioner of over forty years standing, Bowmanville.

1. The use of intoxicating liquors, as a beverage, predisposes to mental and physical diseases. Many diseases are the direct effect of such use, and most are aggravated by it. Insanity is frequently caused by it, as well as diseases of the brain, lungs, heart, stomach, liver, &c., &c.

2. The fatal tendencies of disease are much greater in the intemperate than in total abstainers.

3. I believe that most, if not all diseases can be treated quite as efficiently without alcoholic remedies; and that so much more harm than good is done by their medical use, that their entire absence would be a blessing to the race. Experience has proved that, in the treatment of typhoid fevers, and kindred diseases, milk is much better than alcohol.

4. The custom still prevails to a considerable extent, but I believe is mostly confined to those doctors who are in the habit of using alcoholic stimulants themselves. From many years' experience and observation, I am satisfied that, as a rule, the medical practitioners who do not prescribe them are the most successful.

RUFUS HOLDEN, M.D.,
Belleville.

1. It is beyond a doubt that it does predispose to both mental and physical disease.
 2. Total abstainers have a much better chance of recovery from disease, and the chances of recovery become less in proportion as the patient has led an intemperate life.
 3. I do not think diseases can be always treated as efficiently without as with alcoholic remedies. As a medicine, alcohol is of very great importance.
 4. It is the custom to prescribe alcoholic remedies in the treatment of certain diseases. The extent to which they are used varies considerably with different practitioners. However, although I believe alcohol saves lives, it is undeniable that its abuse kills ten where its legitimate use saves one; so that, looking at its effect on the death rate alone, its use should be prohibited.

A. GROVES, M.B., M.C.P.S., Fergus.

1. Most assuredly it does.
 2. The differences are very greatly in favour of total abstainers in every class of medical and surgical diseases, particularly the latter.
 3. They can.
 4. I regret to say it is the custom to a great extent, and I believe it to be totally unnecessary in the large majority of cases.

HENRY C. ALLEN, M.D.,
Brantford.

1. The use of intoxicating liquors does not predispose to mental or to physical disease, but the immoderate use, or in other words, the abuse of intoxicating liquors does induce both mental and physical disease.
 2. There is no difference in respect to the fatal tendencies of disease as between total abstainers, and those who make or rather have made judicious use of intoxicating liquors.
 3. Many diseases do not require for their treatment the use of alcoholic liquors; on the other hand many diseases do require the use of alcoholic remedies in large quantities.
 4. It is the duty and therefore the custom of the physician to prescribe alcoholic remedies whenever he judges them to be requisite, and to an extent sufficient to combat and overcome the existing disease.

M. BARRETT, M.A., M.D.,
Lecturer on Physiology, Toronto School of Medicine.

1. The intoxicating liquors of the present day are most impure, and as for whisky (high wines) having one hundred and eighty grains of arsenic in every barrel, which by drinking predisposes to mental and physical disease and death.
 2. As to the fatal tendencies of disease, in those I was well acquainted with, many died. Others in delirium, committed suicide. Others were in evident decay. While those who abstain from the poisonous drink are in general healthy.
 3. It is my opinion that diseases can be treated much better without alcohol than with it. I do not advise it or give it in my practice as I know it to be injurious.
 4. It is the custom with some to give alcohol as a stimulant in fevers, debility, &c., but it is dangerous, particularly if given to patients affected with heart disease.

JOHN CLARKE, M.D.

1. In nine cases out of ten we as medical men can discover ill effects, physically and in a large percentage mentally, even in those who style themselves very moderate drinkers.
2. I find that disease is very much more amenable to treatment in those patients who are total abstainers, than in those who drink alcoholic liquors.
3. We have to use alcohol in the manufacture of our tinctures, some of which are indispensable in the treatment of disease.

CHAS. CHAMBERLAIN,
Leamington, Essex Co.

1. When used to the extent that is ordinarily implied by the term "used as a beverage," it does predispose to mental and physical disease.
2. The tendency of disease is less liable to a fatal result in the total abstainer than in the habitual drinker.

IRWIN BRIDGEMAN, M.D.

TORONTO, 27th March, 1873.

SIR,—Desirous of giving you a better opinion than my own in the replies to your questions, I beg to enclose that of Dr. Cronyn, a graduate of the University of Toronto, now of Buffalo, N.Y., who has one of the largest practices in that city, and whose opinion will be of real value to the Select Committee appointed by the House.

I am, Sir,
Your obedient servant,
W. C. CHEWETT, M.D.

John Notman, Esq.,
Queen's Printer, Toronto.

1. If by beverage is to be understood the common use of any liquor as drink when a man is thirsty, then, as a man may be often very thirsty and his liquor intoxicating, he almost of a certainty gets drunk, which condition oft repeated produces both mental and physical disease; but if it should rather be understood to mean what a man may properly take at the dinner table, or in the case of the labouring man at his meal or meals, with a limit to its purpose, then it will not affect to disease of any kind, but rather tend, especially in the case of the aged, to the better health and the prolongation of life.
2. The total abstainer has very much the advantage, for in those diseases of greatest fatality the use of stimulants is most required, and he who is the least accustomed to using stimulants derives the most benefit with the least consumption of them.
3. In my opinion many diseases that are now treated with, could as efficiently be treated without; though there are a few affections that demand the use of alcoholic stimulants especially.
4. It has been very much in vogue for a few years past, but I think now is used with much greater discrimination as to its fitness in particular cases, or in special forms of disease.

JOHN CRONYN, M.D.,
University of Toronto.

1. It does, and to an alarming extent among the male population, about as much as all other causes combined.
2. I should think about four-fifths of the male adults.
3. I think it cannot. As a prompt diffusible stimulant we have no substitute.
4. In low fevers is very largely prescribed.

P. H. CLARK, M.D.,
Woodville.

1. It predisposes to mental and physical disease only when used in excess.
2. I know of no difference between total abstainers and moderate drinkers, but those who drink to excess are far more apt to die when attacked by disease of a grave character.
3. It cannot be treated so efficiently without alcohol.
4. It is. Alcoholic remedies are generally used in all diseases when the vitality is low.

S. L. NASH, M.D.

1. Yes, and to a very great extent.
2. Forty per cent. against the drunkard.
3. Yes, and much better.
4. It is, and I am sorry to say to large extent.

THOMAS BRADLEY, M.D.

1. The use of intoxicating liquors as a beverage, most assuredly predisposes the user to mental and physical diseases.
2. I am not prepared to answer this intelligently, as I have not kept a statistical account, but am fully convinced that there is much in favour of the total abstainer.
3. I think diseases, as a general thing, can be treated with better success without alcoholic stimulants than with.
4. I never prescribe alcoholic treatment unless occasionally in low fevers, and such like diseases. I am of opinion that even in these, other stimulants are preferable, if they were only brought into use the same as the alcoholic.

ROBERT BURNS, M.D.

1. After a practice of fourteen years, I must say that I think it does not.
2. None.
3. As a rule they can ; all low fevers I think require alcoholic stimulants.
4. It is not used now so much as it was many years ago. I think all doctors use it more or less. But I cannot say to what extent.

J. BOYART, M.D.

1. The use of intoxicating liquors, as a beverage, predisposes to mental and physical disease, especially mental.
2. The difference is greatly in favour of total abstainers.
3. We could not get along without alcohol in the treatment of disease. I know of no stimulant that could take its place.
4. About one-fifth of my patients get alcohol in some form.

R. ASTLEY CORBETT.

1. No.
2. A moderate drinker will be a better subject for disease than a total abstainer.
3. No.
4. It is, to about one-tenth of cases who require alcoholic treatment.

JOHN S. MORRISON.

1. It most decidedly does.
2. Diseases are more under the control of the medical practitioner in the case of the total abstainer.
3. In the major number of cases.
4. Not customary only in exceptional cases.

J. B. OLIVER, M.D.
Oil Springs.

1. Yes ; most undoubtedly it does.
2. The differences between a purely temperate man and one who uses intoxicating liquors to excess are at least two to one in favour of temperance.
3. Yes. Can be completely substituted by other remedies, and can be of no service whatever to the profession, unless in manufacturing remedies.
4. With me it is not customary, and when prescribed it was only as a matter of convenience, not a matter of preferment.

JOHN P. KAY, M.D.,
Belmore.

1. It most assuredly does.
2. The death rate in all inflammatory diseases is three times greater amongst persons of intemperate habits.
3. Diseases can not only be treated as efficiently, but with much more satisfactory results without alcohol.
4. During an experience of ten years of active practice, I have not prescribed, in all, a gallon of alcoholic liquors ; yet they are largely used by the profession at large, though nothing like so frequently as formerly.

J. McLEAN, M.D.,
Port Dover.

1. It does, without doubt. Is most injurious to the system. Nothing but the force of habit to sustain it.
2. Total abstainers enjoy greater immunity from epidemics ; also in acute diseases, such as inflammation of the vital organs. This is well understood.
3. Some diseases can ; but alcoholic stimulants are great remedial agents in very many diseases, and that is their proper position—medicines, not drinks.

A. MACKINNON, M.D.,
Sarnia.

1. The immoderate use of intoxicating liquors is one of the most fruitful causes of mental and physical disease.
2. As a rule, other things being equal, diseases tend to a fatal termination in a direct ratio to the amount of indulgence in alcoholic beverages. There are some exceptions to the rule, owing to peculiarities of constitution, &c.
3. They cannot. Alcohol is a useful medicine, and in many low forms of disease, and in cases of debility, it is almost impossible to do without it. This is its only proper use, to which it should be scrupulously confined.

J. B. MILLS, M.D.

1. Yes ; as, when used as a beverage, they are generally used in excess.
2. The life of a total abstainer is, all other things being equal, likely to be prolonged beyond that of even a moderate drinker, and almost certainly beyond that of a drunkard.

A. MacLEAN, M.D.,
Sarnia.

1. I have no hesitation in stating that the habitual use of intoxicating liquors predisposes to mental and physical disease.
2. The chances of recovery are always in favour of the total abstainer.
3. It cannot.
4. It is the custom ; the extent altogether depending on the judgment of the practitioner.

JAMES JAGER HILLARY,
Licentiate of Toronto Medical Board, 1859, Uxbridge.

1. It most certainly does predispose to mental and physical disease.
2. The percentage in favour of total abstainers is ten to one at least.
3. In all cases it can, with the exception of low fevers.
4. It is the custom to use alcoholic stimulants in extreme cases, and only in extreme cases, and then only moderately—not nearly to the same extent as formerly.

R. H. BIGGER, M.D.,
Milton.

1. The use of alcoholic liquors as a beverage, if long continued, undoubtedly predisposes to mental and physical disease.
2. In my opinion, many cases terminate fatally owing entirely to the long-continued use of alcoholic liquors as a beverage, which would not in the case of total abstainers.
3. Many diseases require no stimulants in their treatment; but where stimulants are necessary, in my opinion, no other class is equal to the alcoholic, when properly and cautiously administered.
4. I think it is pretty generally the custom, though not to so great an extent as formerly, nor in such large quantities.

J. S. LOOMIS, M.D.,
Madoc.

1. Its use predisposes to both mental and physical disease.
2. Fifty per cent. in favour of the formers' recovery, as against the latter in same disease.
3. More efficiently without.
4. It is not my custom, nor yet of those who do not use it as a beverage. To a limited extent, by those with whom I consult.

WM. LANE, M.D.
St. Catharines.

1. It predisposes and produces both mental and physical diseases.
2. The difference is very great, but I am not able to say what is the exact difference.
3. As a rule, disease can be treated as well without alcohol, a few exceptions may be benefited by stimulants.
4. This I believe depends very much on the personal habits of the medical man; if he indulges freely, he will probably use it too freely with his patients.

GEORGE LAYAN, M.D., M.C.P. & S., Ont.

1. The use does not, the abuse does.
2. There is none that I am aware of, except in old habitual drunkards.
3. It cannot.
4. It is. The extent depends upon the nature of the disease and the strength and constitution of the patient.

GEO. D. MORTON, L.M.B.W.C., M.R.C.P. & S., Ont.
Bradford.

1. Its use "as a beverage," does predispose to mental and physical disease.
2. Abstainers as a rule, do not as easily succumb to disease. This is mostly noticeable in protracted illness. The drinker sinks, while the abstainer often survives.
3. In the present state of medical knowledge, (for some diseases,) alcoholic stimulation would seem to be the most convenient as well as the most efficient method of treatment—no satisfactory substitute having yet been devised.

4. It is the custom to prescribe alcoholic remedies very largely. Some practitioners do so to a much larger extent than is necessary ; and it is with me a moot point whether the gain in the cases legitimately treated by stimulation is not more than counterbalanced by the mischief done in those where the administration is positively hurtful.

JOHN MUIR, M.A., M.D., M.O.M.C.
Merrickville, Ont.

1. It does, if used continuously.
2. Those addicted to the use of alcoholic beverages succumb more readily (as a rule) to disease than the total abstainer.
3. Whilst I would deprecate their indiscriminate administration, I nevertheless believe that in a certain class of cases there is no remedy known to the profession that will replace them.
4. It is customary to prescribe them as medicinal agents, but to what extent I am not prepared to say.

JAS. MCCULLOUGH, M.D.,
Rockwood.

1. It does so predispose to mental and physical disease, most assuredly.
2. The prognosis is much more favourable in the case of total abstainers than others, all things else being equal.

W. HIGINBOTHAM, M.D.,
Fenelon Falls.

1. In my opinion it does.
2. I cannot state the exact differences, having no records ; but am satisfied that total abstainers are more exempt from disease and its fatal tendencies.
3. More efficiently without alcoholic drinks as stimulants ; but in some cases tinctures can be prepared with alcohol only ; then it becomes necessary, but not as a beverage or stimulant.

P. A. AIKMAN, M.D.,
Windsor.

1. No. Timothy, chapter v., verse 23 ; chapter iv., verses 3 and 4.
 2. I find few total abstainers who do not make use of other things, such as opium, &c., more deleterious than ale or wine, or good liquor.
 3. No, Sir, except some few cases, as in the young, who not generally require such stimulants.
 4. It is, by almost all physicians, at proper times, &c.
- Allow me, with due respect, to add that in my humble opinion more harm is done to humanity by surfeiting and adulterated food than by liquor, unless that is adulterated likewise.

GEORGE C. AZLURIN, M.C.R.S.P.Q.

1. It does predispose to mental and physical disease.
2. Total abstainers have a much better chance of life in every critical disease.
3. Most certainly not.
4. Alcoholic remedies are neither prescribed indiscriminately nor recklessly, but only when a stimulant is indicated.

F. L. HOWLAND,
Woodstock.

1. It does ; more especially to physical disease. Intemperance does not directly give rise to mental disease to as great an extent as is sometimes supposed, because the physical powers generally give way before the mind becomes very seriously affected ; but children are apt to inherit mental and nervous disorders from intemperate parents. It does, however, often lead to loss of the moral sense, or, to speak perhaps more correctly, of the power of self-control.

2. The total abstainer, other things being equal, is less apt to contract zymotic and some other diseases ; will generally be affected by disease in a less aggravated form, and has a greater power of resistance to the fatal tendency of disease than others.

3. I think not. Although an abstainer, I could not feel free to abandon the use (medicinally) of such valuable remedial agents. But it is only in a limited number of diseases, and in certain forms or stages of these diseases, that their use is justifiable.

4. It is ; but not, as a general rule, to any very great extent. The medical profession are beginning to understand better their true use and the indications therefor, and they are now principally used in cases of great debility arising during the course of the essential fevers. Being a recent graduate (1871), I can testify to the improved views on this subject of those who have been, in late years, admitted members of the profession, a large proportion, perhaps a majority, being teetotallers.

C. Y. MOORE, M. B.,
Brampton.

1. In my opinion intoxicating liquors predispose—when used as a beverage—to many ills, mental and physical.

2. The fatal tendencies of disease in persons increase in proportion to the amount of liquor hitherto used by them.

3. To a certain extent I believe disease can be treated without alcoholic remedies. However, I am of opinion that alcohol has no equal as an arterial and warming stimulant, and that lives have been saved by the administration of alcohol in cases of great prostration from disease.

4. I have been in the habit of prescribing alcoholic remedies in the treatment of disease, but to a limited extent.

ALBERT ARMSTRONG, M. D.,
Arnprior.

1. The habitual use (when in excess) predisposes, or aggravates mental or physical disease. Scarcely an organ in the body of an habitual drunkard, but what shows some lesion. The moral degradation is to be witnessed every day. Excess in the use of alcoholic drinks entails the ruin both of mind and body.

2. A system in which every organ may be diseased, cannot withstand disease, like one in which no inroads have been made.

3. I believe that alcohol is resorted to much more frequently than there is any necessity for. Considering alcohol as a drug, I consider it useful in its place ; like opium, or many other drugs, it may be—and alas ! too often is used in a way which debases man.

4. It is used in cases of debility ; it prevents waste of the tissues. Properly used as a medicine it is useful ; but the misery and disease entailed upon mankind by this drug is fearful to contemplate.

1. I consider they do, even if only used in moderation.

2. In inflammation, the fatal tendency is largely increased by the use of alcohol, and nine-tenths of the diseases of Canada are inflammations.

3. I have treated 45 cases of Typhoid in the past 3 years. Two died. One of these had wine. The rest had no form of alcohol.

4. It is not given largely in this part of the country. Most of the people drink enough whiskey without our prescribing it.

W. J. PASMORE, M. D.

1. It does most surely in both.
2. To be within bounds, at least nine chances to one in favour of the patient who altogether abstains from the use of intoxicating liquors.
3. In most cases alcoholic fluids are never needed, but in others it is the sheet anchor.

T. B. HOWELL, M.D.

1. It predisposes to physical disease, and I have a theoretical fact that it does also to mental, although my experience in that direction is limited.
2. The difference is decidedly in favour of the abstainer as distinguished from excessive drinkers. But moderation and excess are but comparative terms. The same may be said in answering question No. 1.

WM. MORTON, M.B.
Wellesley.

1. Of this there is in my mind no manner of doubt.
2. Total abstainers have generally, I may say always (other things being equal), a better chance.
3. My experience would lead me to give a negative reply to this question. I think that in some diseases alcoholic remedies will always be required, and although in favour of suppressing the liquor traffic, I could not conscientiously refuse my patients the benefits of alcoholic stimulants in certain cases.

JOSEPH CARBERT, M.D.

1. The constant use of intoxicating liquors does predispose to disease, and the abuse, or improper use, is a serious evil.
2. Persons that have been long accustomed to the abuse of intoxicating liquors, do not bear disease so well as total abstainers, and cannot be treated so successfully.
3. No ; stimulants are absolutely necessary, occasionally.
4. The malarious diseases of this part of Ontario require alcoholic remedies frequently. Many diseases are treated without it ; it is not the custom here to prescribe alcoholic remedies as a general thing.

GEORGE SITTINGTON.

1. Yes, to both.
2. Largely in favour of the temperate.
3. In the large majority of cases, yes.
4. In cases of sudden and alarming prostration, in low fevers of the typhoid type, in chronic diseases accompanied by debility, and when food cannot be taken, stimulants are necessary, are prescribed, and are useful.

ROBERT H. DAVIS.

1. This question is so put as to permit only an affirmative answer.
2. I have not observed any difference between those of temperate, sober, rational people, and total abstainers.

E. HICKMAN,
Bolton.

ECLECTIC.

1. It does most decidedly.
2. The fatal tendency is in the proportion of, from one-half to two-thirds in my experience of over forty years practice.
3. In a majority of cases better without.

A. A. CHAMBERLAIN, M.D.,
Farmersville.

1. The use of intoxicating liquors is injurious to mind and body physically and mentally.

2. I would rather treat ten temperate patients than one inebriate. I do not use alcohol as a stimulant ; in fevers it is injurious, and retards convalescence.

3. Far better without, this I assert on an experience of forty years.

WM. HOWARY, M.D.
Kemptville.

1. Yes. Disease inevitable.

2. In abstainers the vis naturæ always tends to health under any disease, remedial agents act more promptly in others ; habitual drinkers are less susceptible to remedies, the vital forces are paralysed, and they are a prey to every poison.

3. I regret to say, I have not found as good a substitute.

4. Yes. Never as a nutrient, only as a general stimulant in extraordinary vital depression, always withdrawing it as soon as the cause for its use subsides. I think they should be kept on the Druggists' shelves, and every one of them labelled "poison."

M. CHRISTIE, M.D.

1. It does.

2. "Fatal tendencies," much less in those who abstain. "Tendencies" vary according to character of disease. For instance, the use of liquor in some diseases might produce but little harm ; while in others its use would be certain to produce most pernicious effects.

3. In general they can. I have occasionally seen exceptional cases.

4. I am not aware that it is the custom. The chief medium by which the public obtain alcohol in a medicinal form, is through patent medicines.

WM. COBURN, M.D.
Ottawa.

1. The use of intoxicating liquors do predispose to both mental and physical disease, principally of a chronic nature, which rank among the most difficult to eradicate from the system.

2. I believe the fatal tendency of disease is increased fifty per cent. by the use of intoxicating liquors.

3. In ninety-nine cases out of a hundred, I believe they can be treated more efficiently without alcoholic stimulants, and many diseases that proved fatal under the alcoholic treatment are now brought to a favourable termination without one drop of alcohol.

4. It is, and I fear to a large extent ; often endangering the life of the patient.

W. R. PENTLAND, M.D.
Elora.

1. My experience leads me to the firm conviction that alcoholic liquors are the most fruitful of all predisposing causes of both mental and physical diseases.

2. The fatal tendencies of diseases are as three to one in favour of the total abstainer.

3. My experience proves beyond a doubt (to me) that all classes of diseases can be much more successfully treated without alcohol than with it. In the last three years I have prescribed it but twice, and even in these two I am doubtful if any permanent good to the patients resulted from their use.

4. Previous to the last three years I frequently prescribed. And I believe that it is still the custom with the majority of Allopathic physicians to prescribe it very frequently. I do not prescribe it as a remedy in one case in a thousand. I occasionally give a little just before or after an operation, but that is infrequent now that chloriform is so much used.

JOSEPH JARVIS, M.D.
Kingston.

1. It does decidedly, even in what is generally understood to be the moderate use. Habitual drinking in so-called moderation, namely, not so as to intoxicate the individual, produces even worse effects than the practice prevailing with some of periodical drinking spells, and total abstinence in the intervals.

2. Practical experience shows that a person who habitually indulges to excess, if taken with a serious disease, seldom recovers. I have noticed this particularly in the fevers, pneumonia, and brain affections. A total abstainer when he gets sick, whatever strength he may have it is real vitality, in fact with a latent reserve of vital force. The exact reverse is the case with the other condition.

WM. MCGEACHY, M.D.,
Iona.

1. The excessive use of intoxicating liquors undoubtedly predisposes to mental and physical disease.

2. As a rule, total abstainers recover from disease much more rapidly and completely than those who use alcohol to excess.

3. The very great majority of diseases can. But there are some cases where life would certainly be lost without them.

4. We could not do without alcohol in the preparation of tinctures, &c. It is only necessary to prescribe alcohol in a very few cases, but it could not be done without entirely.

G. L. MACKELCAN, M.D.,
Hamilton.

1. It unquestionably predisposes to both mental and physical disease, and if used habitually even within the limit of drunkenness, it shortens life from three to five years.

2. In grave diseases, the total abstainer has ten chances to one over the habitual drinker.

W. HOPE, M.D.
Belleville.

1. I believe it predisposes to both ; and I endorse the following statements of Christison : "Frequent abuse acts injuriously by developing certain diseases, by bringing to a head certain dispositions to disease, by rendering diseases at large comparatively intractable, and by rendering the constitution unable to withstand the active treatment required for many acute diseases."

2. I believe the fatal tendencies of disease are increased in proportion to the extent of the indulgence in the use of alcoholic liquors as a beverage. The difference depends upon the extent, cæteris paribus. Modifying circumstances cause exceptions.

3. It is my opinion that diseases cannot be treated as efficiently without as with alcoholic stimulants in the present state of medical science, yet I believe that were every drop of it annihilated, the rate of mortality upon the whole would be very greatly diminished.

JAS. W. OSBORNE, M.D.

1. Used to any considerable extent, it, in my opinion, unquestionably does.

2. A comparison between total abstainers and drinkers, I think in the circumstances mentioned will be, tendency less fatal in total abstainers than in drinkers.

3. This question might be largely discussed because of its breadth. I think I may fairly say, most diseases can be as efficiently treated without.

A few, so far as I have been able to judge, scarcely can. We have, hitherto, followed the recommendations in some cases, of authors whose opinion is favourable to its use. In some cases, I confess I should not care, in circumstances, to do without it as an experiment.

4. If this refers to my custom, I think I use it, or rather prescribe it, in many cases where there is not likely to have induced the alcoholic desire. I am aware that the custom, however, is, as indicated in the question, though I have no reason to believe that it is indiscriminately, or even improperly by any practitioner, made use of. I may say, finally, that if used, as it generally is in treatment of disease, it is often of service, but as a custom or beverage as seen here—it is not inaptly termed "the curse of Canada," and I think its use as such should be abolished.

W. W. OGDEN, M.B.

9. Was it successful ?
10. If so, what has been the result ?

Five hundred and thirty-eight papers have been returned by the clergy, answering over 5,000 questions, a summary of which is as follows :—

1. Nearly all answer this question to the effect that drunkenness is a grievous evil to the entire community, and that scarcely a family can be found who do not suffer in some manner from the evil.

2. Nearly all agree that the cause of drunkenness is found in the facilities for procuring liquor ; in tipping at social gatherings ; in the temptations to which those who are inclined to drink are exposed, and in the thoughtless or heartless sale to minors and drunkards.

3. All agree that some of the results of intemperance are physical weakness, intellectual debility, and moral tergitude. Also, that disputations, noisy and quarrelsome neighbourhoods, loss of health, happiness, property and life result from the same cause.

4. In reply to the question as to the best remedy, four clergymen say, "Close the saloons and shops ; they are entirely useless." Ten say, "Give us a stringent system of licensing, and let the Government appoint persons in each county to enforce the law." Fifteen say, "Make the license laws more stringent and the liquor seller responsible for all the harm his liquor does." Twenty say, "Bring the Gospel and moral suasion to bear more directly upon the people." ALL THE OTHERS (nine-tenths) SAY, "Suppress the traffic entirely, by prohibiting the manufacture, importation and sale of all intoxicants as a beverage. This is the only effectual remedy."

5. Diminished in some places, but, on the whole, an increase of about five per cent.

6. Some answer, "I know no difference ; they are all evil, and that continually." One says, "I think not, but, under the garb of respectable drinking, the seeds of drunkenness are often sown in the tavern ; but nearly all agree in stating to the effect that the regular taverns are productive of much less injury to the community than saloons, shops, and other places where liquor is obtained.

7. To this question eight answer No. Twelve say, "Afraid not yet." Some say the public would support such a law in preference to continuing the present system. Several say, "Yes. If the officers to enforce the law be appointed, not by the municipality, but by the Government." All the others say, "Yes," "Yes, decidedly," "Yes, undoubtedly," "Yes, I am certain of it."

8, 9, 10. The replies to these questions show that quite a number of municipalities in the Province have passed the Dunkin Act. That from various causes, but chiefly from some informality in the laws, or in some part of the proceedings connected with their passage, they have been quashed by the Courts, or rendered inoperative by imperfections, and that in but few cases has good resulted from their passage. The facilities for purchasing liquor in the municipalities adjoining the one where the law had passed is given in several cases as a reason why the expected good was not realized after the passage of the law.

1. In a population under sixteen hundred there are seventeen places licensed for the sale of intoxicating liquors.

2. The great facility of obtaining licenses.

3. Cases of manslaughter, death by accident, death by exposure, premature deaths, great brutality in quarrels, much crime, blasphemy, Sabbath-breaking, poverty, loss of wealth to the State, total degradation of humanity.

4. Total prohibition of the manufacture and sale of all intoxicating liquors.

5. I think not increased, the number is so great there is no reason for their increase.

6. The more orderly taverns are not so great an evil as the shops. Respectable men are known to visit the shops and obtain smaller quantities (though against law) when they would fear to visit the tavern.

7. I believe the best ordered part of the community, the intelligent part, and even many who are in the habit of drinking, would favour such a law.

8. Yes.

9. No. Defeated by five votes, and a weakness in the by-law.

JAMES GOODWIN,
Wesleyan Minister, Welland.

1. Fearful among all classes. The bane of the Church's work.

2. The drinking usages of society. False and perverted hospitality.

3. Delirium, idiocy, insanity, death, violence, suicide, murder and wholesale crime against all law.

4. Prohibition.

W. T. SMITHELLS, M.A.,
Inc. St. Paul's Church, Lindsay, Ont.

1. It will be difficult to measure the extent of the evils of drunkenness in this place. Some of the most promising public men have fallen victims to it, and others are on the road to ruin.

2. The license system is a curse, and the temptations thrown in the way of young men are so successful, that drunkenness is likely to perpetuate itself.

3. Crime is greatly increased. Poverty and idleness are induced. The success of the Gospel hindered, &c., &c., &c.

4. Total prohibition.

T. BROCK,
Perth.

1 You have not given me space enough for this. One town in our county, about three years ago, had 1,800 population, and 33 places where liquor was sold. The answer is the general one. Crime, pauperism, tears and death.

2. Intoxicating drink has more to do with the general evils of the day, directly or indirectly, than any other agency.

3. Result: Reaches, 1st. To the man himself—destroying the nervous system, the foundation of physical health and strength, stupifies mind, destroys social ties. 2nd. To others, by way of example, which is evil and only evil continually.

4. Prohibition! Prohibition!! Stop the manufacture of it. Treat it both in making and in selling as its quality warrants, i. e. poison. As long as it is made in large quantities people will get it.

5. I believe have remained about the same. There are 16 taverns, 2 saloons, 12 shops, and 78 taverns with cheaper license for Villages and Townships.

6. I think not.

7. The Prohibitory Liquor Law is growing in favour. The country cries louder for it now than ever.

8. Yes. On the 31st of March, 1873, the Dunkin Act was voted on in Pelham Township and was carried, only one voting against.

9. We hope it will be.

10. Temperance men are encouraged, and will carry the matter out. Give us the Liquor Law Prohibition.

(Signed)

A. BEAMER,
M. E. Minister.

7. In our judgment every principle of justice, every instinct of humanity, every sacred interest or consideration, demands legal protection from the blighting curse of intemperance for those who are (especially) its innocent victims. We think, therefore, that it is decidedly wide of the mark to make the passage of a prohibitory law to turn on popular sentiment. The question is, Is it right? Is it needed? And on the supposition that those who demand legal protection are in the minority, or persons of lesser influence in society, are they any the less entitled to it on this account? If public sentiment were properly educated on the subject, we have no hesitation in saying that a prohibitory liquor law would be uncalled for. It is to remedy an evil that has a real existence that we want prohibition. If popular sentiment were to effect a remedy, prohibition would be unnecessary. If public sentiment were properly educated we should need no prohibitory laws of any kind, but the fact that it is not, is what creates the necessity. The more imperfect the education, manifestly the greater the necessity. Moreover, "public opinion" should not be required to enforce laws, but legal authority. We are satisfied that the temperance sentiment in almost every community is sufficiently strong to expose and punish any glaring laxity in the discharge of official duty, and this is all that is necessary to its effectiveness.

But apart from the foregoing considerations, the question is, Has the government of any country a right to legalize, and thus sanction, protect, and foster a great public and moral wrong? We think not. Let the License Law, therefore, be repealed, and wholesome regulations enacted for protection against this evil of intemperance.

Very respectfully, &c.,

T. L. WILKINSON,
Methodist Minister, Aurora.

1. They extend not only to the temporal and eternal ruin of the inebriate himself, but to the impoverishing of wife and children; to broken-hearted parents when their children are its victims; it destroys the peace of society, the morality of youth, the purity of women (for both sexes are its prey); the respect for and observance of law, and the prosperity of a country; neutralising the philanthropic labours of divines and legislatures; it is the fount of nine-tenths of existing crime; destroying individual, social, and national happiness; and transmitting hereditary disease to future generations.

2. (1). The example of moderate drinking pursued by thousands of moral and intelligent and respectable persons (all inebriates are from the ranks of the moderate), parents, and employers. (2). Family gatherings, where such beverages are profusely used; New Years' drinking customs among high and low. (3). Constitutional predisposition thereto. (4). Enticement and evil example. (5). Facilities and temptations afforded by the vast number of places and opportunities for obtaining the drunkards' drink.

3. It prompts to other crimes; destroys reason; crimes, such as larcenies, burglaries, gambling, cheating or swindling are perpetrated, that means may be employed for procuring liquor; passions inflamed; many a youth goes (excited thereby) from the tavern, or saloon, or groggery of any description, to the brothel (very many in respectable life), and into the vilest company; fires, murders, brawls, shipwrecks, distress, fatal accidents, loss of the souls of hundreds of thousands yearly, and great demoralisation of society of every grade.

4. Prohibition of manufacture and sale or offer, or bestowal of every (any) kind of intoxicating beverage, except, perhaps, by medical men, as (strictly) a medicine with drugs, for in other ways it engenders a moral leprosy.

5. Increased.

6. It is doubtful, but I think not; they are more careful to keep up appearances, and to conciliate public opinion, and are more, as a rule, respectably conducted; but two, or at the most three in a town would be sufficient for travellers' accommodation, and would be better if conducted on temperance principles; they would then flourish and be gladly patronised by all.

7. Looking at the vast amount of information continually looming up before the public in various ways, newspapers, lectures, &c., &c., as to the evils and causes of intemperance, I should think they are (the public) so prepared; the public mind seems more than ever awake to the evils of intemperance.

8. Our municipality has a by-law prohibiting the sale of liquor therein, and no tavern is allowed, though applications have been made for one repeatedly; but there are three taverns in the next township (west of ours) where liquor can be procured; but during these last three years I have not seen any person intoxicated in our township, and among the British part of the population it is, I think, very little used (I mean strong drink).

9. Yes, to the extent just mentioned in answer to No. 8.

10. Absence of crime as far as my knowledge extends.

WILLIAM BURGESS,
Valetta Post Office,
East Tilbury, Kent.

1. Extends over all classes of society.

“ “ every power and faculty of man.

2. Natural or acquired appetite, fostered by facilities afforded under Government sanction, for procuring alcoholic drinks.

3. Derangement of the functions of Government, through intemperance of officers. Excitement of all the evil in man's nature, with results of profane swearing, Sabbath-breaking, brawls, illegitimacy and murder.

4. Prohibition.

5. The number has increased.

6. No.

7. Yes.

8. No.

WILLIAM HALL, A.M.,
Minister Wesleyan Methodist Church, Ottawa City.

1. In this locality, and in the neighbourhood, drunkenness prevails to an alarming extent; and to any man who regards the moral and social well-being of his fellow-creatures, it must be exceedingly painful to witness the progress which this evil makes, without any human remedy to check it—as long as the Legislature of the land encourages the traffic, by granting indiscriminate license to manufacture and sell intoxicating drink, and thereby affording the plea (equally to all) that it is right and lawful to do that which the law sanctions.

2. Having cause to study this question carefully, I have no hesitation in saying that I believe the fruitful source of intemperance may be found in the facilities which are afforded to the youth of the country to meet together and drink. There is a tavern opened and licensed by unprincipled municipal councils (greedy to acquire a little revenue, and envious lest the adjoining township should derive more money from this system than themselves) at every corner, where any one chooses to open a tavern, in order to make a lazy living. These taverns and saloons are the nests where drunkards are bred.

3. As to results, they are most alarming. I have no doubt in my own mind that no other cause produces one-fourth the amount of indolence, waste, beggary, quarrelling, fighting, crime, litigation, incarceration, and civil penalties, as this. And I am certain that there is no greater barrier against the progress of education and religion.

4. The best remedy or means, in my view, is the total prohibition of the manufacture and sale of intoxicating beverages. And if the Legislature is not prepared to pass a prohibitory liquor law, I think that steps should be taken to lessen the number of places licensed to sell strong drink. One tavern in a village of 500 inhabitants, and two for 1,000, and in country places one tavern for each ten miles, on the leading roads travelled, would be sufficient. Stop licenses to provision stores altogether.

5. It is my impression that the number of such places is always increasing with the increase of population, and especially saloons and licensed stores, which are greater snares, and productive of more drunkenness, than even taverns.

6. Where taverns are orderly kept, few drunkards are seen around them, but saloons, shops, &c., serve no purpose to the community, save to such persons as seek this occupation as an idle way of living, eager to make money; but certainly they are great nurseries for raising drunkards to curse our land.

7. It is difficult to answer this question; but this fact is well known to me, that some of our greatest drunkards have signed petitions sent to our municipal council to stop giving license to a person keeping a groggery in this vicinity, and the greedy council, for the sake of a little revenue, paid no heed to said petitions.

ARC. STEWART,
Kilmartin, P. O.

1. Drunkenness prevails to such an extent on my parish, that I rarely—Sabbath or week-day—go from home without coming in contact with drunken men.

2. Our race is a fallen race, addicted to all kinds of vice; and though drunkenness is condemned by our Supreme Lawgiver, the Government under which we live license men to make drunkards.

3. "Woe, sorrow, contentions, babbling, wounds, redness of eyes."—Solomon. Bankruptcy, theft, crime, and death; also a small revenue to our country, which is far from meeting the expenses incurred through the traffic.

4. A total prohibitory liquor law; or let our Government issue no license. Let any one sell who pleases; but let all villany and crime done by persons under its influence be chargeable to the parties who dispose of the drink.

7. I think it is fully prepared. Try it by letting it come before the people.

8. No.

GEO. CLARK,
Mooretown.

1. To all classes of the community—young and old, rich and poor.

2. Because the temptation to imbibe is placed within their reach everywhere.

3. Poverty, crime, lunacy and death.

4. TOTAL suppression of the liquor traffic.

5. They have increased.

6. We think not.

7. We think that it is.

R. J. ELLIOTT,
Methodist N. C. Minister,

Toronto, Ont.

1. During the last twenty-three years spent as an itinerant minister, I have found no place at all equal to this for drunkenness in proportion to the number of the population. The general rule is for all to drink, the exception to be sober men.
 2. Houses legally authorized to sell intoxicating liquor.
 3. Poverty, ignorance, crime, suffering, physical and moral; neglect of public worship, &c.
 4. The only effectual remedy is legal prohibition.

JOHN HODGSON,
W. M. Minister at Hall's Bridge.

1. About two or three persons in all my missions.
2. Whiskey and company.
3. Quarrel.
4. Encourage the fabrication and sale of small beer, (German Lager,) importation of French and German wines, and its Catawba, etc., free of duty, but increase duty and taxes on brandy, whiskey, gin, etc.
5. Do not know.
6. Do not think that in the country, there is any difference.
7. Not at all.
8. No and never will.
9. Never would be.
10. The result would be wholesale emigration, or at least evasion of the law.

P. EUGENE FUNCKEN, C.R., Provincial,
St. Agatha, Waterloo Co.

1. No one can estimate the extent of the evils especially to our young men, and it is to be feared that much of this horrid business is carried on through back doors on Sundays.
2. The license system, by which idle men have a "legal right" to make drunkards of our sons (that is, form the appetite, and then they are past help.
3. Neglect of business, poverty, violation of laws of country, expense to society, loss of health, ruin of soul.
4. Prohibition! prohibition! even drunkards say, put it out of our reach.
5. Cannot say positively, but am opinion they have largely increased, especially Saloons and Groceries where liquor is sold without any accommodation for travellers.
6. I think Taverns are the least of all these evils, men and women are "treated" while trading at the grocers.

GEO. RICHARDSON,
Minister of the Methodist New Connexion Church, London.

1. This is more than pen or torque can do! Somewhat on the increase.
2. Too many licenses, grog shops! The temperance organizations not well sustained by influential persons, especially by ministers of the gospel and members of Christian churches. Intoxicating drinks too much used in the higher or what is called fashionable circles.
3. Everything the Devil can tempt mankind to, or the wicked hand of man devise. This space much too small to give anything like a moderate description—it should be written with very black ink!
4. Men of high rank and influence to set a good example. By every means in their power to make drinking usages unpopular, whether by legal enactments or moral suasion!
5. Somewhat increased—perhaps twenty per cent.
6. I think not. Obscure places are the most favourable to wicked practices.
7. I think it is, but like all other good laws it would need good backing up.

8. Seven years ago it was for one year, but other municipalities around us did not pass it, so but little good was done, and we were minus the revenue.
 9. Tried the next year and lost.

JOSEPH CLUTTON.
Superannuated Baptist Minister,
Aylmer, Elgin Co.

1. Scarcely a family in this community but has suffered directly or indirectly, and often very severely, from the drunkenness of some of their members.
2. Facility with which strong drinks can be obtained.
3. Poverty, disease, premature death, savage cruelty to women and children, insanity, also various abominations and crimes.
4. A prohibitory liquor law strictly and firmly enforced.
5. About the same number of these places during the last three years.

Rev. JAS. WILSON, M.A.,
Minister Church of Scotland, Lanark.

1. Almost impossible. The county is suffering every way from the effects of drink. We have eight taverns, two grog shops, and in a population of about two hundred and fifty or three hundred, men and women alike suffer from its use.

2. Easy access, too many places licensed to sell.
3. Poverty, disgrace, death, fatherless children, widows, orphans, loss of property, fights, rows, black eyes, broken arms, swearing, lying, stealing, and every thing that is bad.
4. Prohibition.
5. Increased ; we have fourteen licensed taverns in this township, besides shops.
6. Yes, I think so. Tavern licenses should be raised so high that every man who can buy a half-gallon jug of whisky could not get a license, then I think a better class of taverns might be kept.
7. Yes, all the better thinking people want to put down the traffic.
8. Yes, some years ago.
9. No.

E. DAVIS,
Bayfield.

1. Liquor is drunk to too great an extent in this neighbourhood.
2. Many more liquors-sellers than necessary ; for instance, there are 4 taverns in this village where one would suffice.

In Orangeville there are 17 taverns, saloons and groggeries, where perhaps 4 or 5 would do.

3. Poverty of farmers and others, and consequent neglect of their duties.
4. A high duty on all liquors, and a strict supervision of Government License Inspectors, the whole duty of licensing being put in the hands of the Government instead of being in the hands of the municipality.
5. Much increased.
6. They are not.
7. I think not ; but the public are desirous of having greater restrictions placed upon the liquor-sellers.

C. R. BELL,
Church of England Minister,
Mono Mills.

1. No one can tell the extent of this great evil. It extends to all classes of the community, from the highest to the lowest. It is, I firmly believe, the cause of nine-tenths of the crimes committed. This question and the two following cannot be satisfactorily answered in few words.

2. The cause of the evils of drunkenness is drunkenness itself. The great cause of drunkenness is that the manufacture and sale of intoxicating liquors are protected by law. There are minor causes, such as a depraved appetite, insatiable thirst for liquor, company, customs of society, &c., &c.

3. I cannot state the results of intemperance for they extend into eternity. A few of them are the following, poverty, rags, shame, dishonour, diseased body, murders, suicide, loss of property, profanity, neglect of wife and children, neglect of religion, Sabbath-breaking, premature death, loss of soul.

4. The ONLY remedy is a Prohibitory Liquor Law. Of this I am more and more convinced the longer I live, paper pledges are not better than a paper wall before a regiment of soldiers. Temperance societies are almost useless so long as the law protects the manufacture and sale of liquor.

5. The number of places is largely increased.

6. There are no saloon licenses given in this municipality. It is the regular taverns that do the greatest injury.

7. I am decidedly of the opinion that public opinion is prepared to support a Prohibitory Liquor Law. Even many of the drunkards, I know, would be glad to be protected by law, at present they are slaves, and they know it.

8. Yes, in 1866.

9. It was passed by a large majority, but through some legal quibbling the law was never enforced.

DUNCAN McDONALD, M.A.,
Minister of the Presbyterian Church of Canada, in connection with the Church of Scotland.

1. Drunkenness is very alarmingly prevalent among all classes of the community.
 2. (a) The great facilities afforded for the use of intoxicating drink.
(b) The quantity of imperfectly rectified and adulterated liquors sold.
(c) The general prevalence of the absurd and highly immoral custom of friends pledging—or, as it is vulgarly called, “drinking with” or “treating”—each other.
 3. Poverty, imbecility, and immorality of all kinds, involving the frightful misery of many innocent persons.
 4. (a) The total abolition of bars except in hotels and taverns.
(b) The restriction of licenses for retailing intoxicating drinks to hotels, taverns, and bona fide eating-houses.
(c) The entrusting the granting of licenses to a majority of the non-elective county officials as the county judge, sheriff, registrar et al., who should meet, once a year, or when summoned for that purpose.
(d) Strict Government inspection by Provincial Inspector of all places where intoxicating drinks are made and vended either by wholesale or retail; and also of the liquors so made or sold.
(e) The infliction of heavy penalties for manufacturing or selling adulterated or imperfectly rectified liquors.
(f) The appointment of guardians to manage the estates of confirmed drunkards and provide by law for their confinement and treatment, when necessary in Inebriate Asylums.

J. McLEAN BALLARD,
Curate St. George's Church,
St. Catharines.

I entirely concur in the above.

HENRY HOLLAND, B.A.,
Rector St. George's Church,
St. Catharines.

1. There is in this place a good deal of drinking and drunkenness, both among men and boys. I hear of it among women, but I have seen no examples. However, I see but a mere fraction of its evil influence.

2. Indifference of one man or family to the condition of another, the unfaithfulness of clergymen, perhaps, more than preachers, the bad example of public men, the influence of public dinners, balls, &c.

3. The results are poverty, idleness, quarrels, profanity, debauchery, crimes against person, character and property, murder, robbery, family desertion, self abandonment, temporal ruin, eternal damnation.

4. It must go into the hands of the Government, like the Post-office system, with hotel master, a policeman and his assistant constables; relegate retail to drug shops; derive no revenue from drinking shops; hold violators accountable as secondaries to drunken criminals.

5. They are about the same.

6. No. We must have public places for beds and food. Put the hotels under similar regulations to the Post Office. One hotel in a village is all that is required. Let it be good and clean.

7. Yes, if women had a suffrage. With men it is doubtful, but I think will not be so long. The sentiment is growing against drinking characters of all grades and professions. Pass a good Act. You will gain in so doing.

8. No. The county did, however.

9. No; because the by-law was quashed for want of formality.

WM. LUMSDEN, M.A.

We the undersigned Priests of the Catholic Church of the Assumption, of Sandwich Town, in the County of Essex, beg to submit the following answers to the questions received by us on the 12th inst.

We beg to state, first, that our parish embraces the Town of Sandwich and part of the Townships of Sandwich East and Sandwich West. Our answers have reference to these three municipalities. They also refer only to the members of our own church, though we believe them to be true of the whole population. They extend only over two years and a half, since which time we are in charge of this parish.

1. Habitual drunkenness is not very common, considering the population. Many of the male inhabitants, from boyhood to old age, commit excesses occasionally. Very few of them are total abstainers. Intemperance is very uncommon amongst females.

2. The causes are—1. An excessive number of licensed places for the sale of liquor. The proportion of such places to the number of inhabitants is, in Sandwich Town, 1 to 116; in Sandwich East, 1 to 220; and in Sandwich West, 1 to 202. Besides, there are some unlicensed grogeries. Most of the taverns are mere drinking places, as they seldom have lodgers. 2. A total disregard of the law, which requires that all such places be closed on Sunday. Sunday is the day on which most business is done, and many would not apply for licenses were this law enforced. 3. The sale of liquor by the glass to youths, and in some instances to mere boys. 4. The great influx of people from Detroit to the Mineral Springs during the summer season, especially on Sunday. 5. Negligence on the part of license inspectors to do their duty.

3. The results are—idleness, loss of time, card playing, poverty, resulting from neglect of business, sickness, and, in not a few instances, death. The young especially contract habits which render them, not only useless members of society, but positive burdens to it. We do not include here the results to others than the intemperate.

4. The best remedies are—1. To reduce the number of licenses—say 1 for every 500 inhabitants at the least. 2. To raise the license fee. 3. Let the licenses be paid into the Provincial Treasury. Municipal Councils say, very illogically, that a large number of licenses diminishes the taxes. 4. To abolish all saloons. 5. Let there be a Government inspector for each electoral division, to be assisted by municipal inspectors, as at present. They will serve as a check on each other.

5. The number has increased, notably so along the Detroit River.

6. Public opinion would lead us to believe that saloons do the most harm, though we do not see why, as most of the taverns are mere drinking places.

7. We do not think that public opinion is ripe for a law of total prohibition. It might be better, at first, to prohibit the sale of intoxicating drinks by the glass, or in any less quantity than, say, a quart. Thus taverns would become simple lodging-houses. We think that, did the Provincial Government appropriate the license fees, such a law would be supported by all good citizens.

8. Not to our knowledge.

DENIS O'CONNOR, Pastor.
CH. JH. FAUR,
J. J. M. ABOULIN, } Assistants.
A. VERNEOTE,

Sandwich, March 22nd, 1873.

1. There is a great deal of drunkenness in this section of country, and no doubt the evil is very widely spread.

2. The readiness with which intoxicating liquors can be obtained. In this village, of less than a thousand inhabitants, there are five or six shops and three taverns licensed, and in a short time it is expected others will be.

3. Midnight brawls, destruction of property, violation of the Sabbath, neglected and abused wives, ragged swearing children, inmates furnished for jail and penitentiary, business neglected, gambling encouraged, &c., &c., &c.

4. I think the best and only efficient remedy is the entire prohibition of the manufacture and sale of intoxicating liquors as a beverage.

5. They have increased.

6. I think not. The most of the regular taverns feel the importance of sustaining a kind of respectability. The system of licensing so many shops, &c., &c., is a terrible and crying evil.

7. I sometimes think not; still there is a vast number who would hail it with delight, and among those not a few who now are the slaves of a debased appetite.

8. It has. (Or, rather, the Township of Malahide did before this village (Aylmer) was incorporated.)

9. It was successful, so far as the adoption of the measure by the voters was concerned.

10. A complete failure, arising from a professed defect in the by-law, and the fact that, by crossing the town line, liquor could still be obtained. Mere local action is useless. We need a Provincial prohibitory liquor law thoroughly carried out.

W. AMES,
Wesleyan Minister,
Aylmer.

1. It pervades all classes, and brings its evils home to every family.

2. The immoderate indulgence in strong drink: The treating custom, which, of evils of its kind, is the greatest.

3. Five persons have been frozen to death within the city limits this winter. Our old people, to whom we were wont to look for good example, are turning inebriates, and our youth are following in their steps with faithful exactness.

4. The total suppression of the sale of intoxicating liquors, except under legal restrictions. There is no use in feeding crime with one hand, and punishing it with the other.

5. Within the last year, the number of licensed taverns has been reduced twenty-five per cent. in our city; but the number of unlicensed houses has increased in the same ratio, and the present law is powerless in the suppression of them. The present system of fining unlicensed vendors $10 or $20 is worse than useless. Their customers make up the amount for them; and if not, they patronize to a greater extent than ever those "martyrs in the good cause," as they call them. Six months' imprisonment on bread and water, with an occasional flogging, would soon cool the ardour of those philanthropists; and magistrates should have no option in carrying out the law. Their tender hearts will invariably lean to mercy's side, as they are pleased to term it. "A fellow-feeling makes us wondrous kind." And further, if the Government persist in exacting a fee from licensed vendors, they are morally and legally bound to protect "the fair trader." In addition to this, when people are found drunk, they should be compelled to tell where they got the liquor, and, on refusal, should be sentenced to the same punishment as the unlicensed vendor. A few cases of wholesome punishment would suffice in a city or town, and both parties would find that it would not pay to break the law as they now do. Something must be done, and that speedily, or we will be a nation of drunkards ere long. In Sweden, when a crime is committed under the influence of liquor, the perpetrator receives a double punishment—one for the crime, and another for being drunk. How much better than our system, where drunkenness is an extenuation of the crime.

6. Taverns are a necessity for the travelling community; but saloons, shops, recesses, and grogeries are the ruin of society. These man-traps, these dens of infamy, under the license of the law, are ruining thousands yearly, and filling our gaols, asylums, &c.

7. I think so. If only our legislators would show earnestness in the matter; but while they hold back, little can be done in this direction.

8. Not as I am aware.

JOHN A. MULOCK,
Rector St. Paul's Church,
Kingston.

1. In this world the evils of drunkenness extend just as far as the sale of intoxicating liquors extend. These evils are numerous. Their name is legion.

2. The real cause of the evil is the baneful practice of drinking intoxicating liquor as a common beverage, and the cause of so much drinking is to be traced to the fact that the present state of law makes it lawful for one class to trade in the drug to the detriment of their fellowmen; so long as it is sold as at present, there will be drunkenness.

3. Loss of health, idleness, financial ruin, poverty, personal and relative. Families in rags and destitution, wives disconsolate and broken-hearted, insanity and frequently murder. The great evil that the church has to contend with.

4. The best, and in my opinion the only remedy is, to stop the sale of intoxicating liquor as a beverage and confine the sale of it to the druggist's shop, like any other drug.

6. They are all productive of much injury; but I do believe that the saloons, and, in so far as this Town is concerned, the grocers' shops are productive of most injury.

7. I am afraid that it is not, and I am sorry to say it—not in this Town, and neighbourhood at least.

JAMES PRINGLE,
Brampton.

1. I believe Picton, and indeed Prince Edward all over, compares very favourably on the temperance question with any other community in Ontario, but even here many homes are made desolate, and many hearts wretched by the traffic, and untimely deaths produced by drink, are of periodic occurrence.

4. I think the only remedy that meets the case of the country everywhere, is universal prohibition.

5. Increased.

6. There are no saloons, but spirit-grocer stores are as bad if not worse than regular taverns.

7. Yes.

8. The whole country voted in favour of the Dunkin Act three years ago, and good results were at once apparent; but an appeal was made on a technical ground, and the courts upset the decision of the people, and the evil of intemperance was aggravated thereby.

10. The increase of drunkenness dates from that time.

J. MACMECHAN,
Presbyterian Minister,
Picton.

1. Impossible. None can tell. In the moral order they are great and widespread. In society the chief evils flow from drunkenness. Ignorance and vice of every kind draw their condition of existence from whisky drinking. Trees and plants of every kind require moisture to live and grow and flourish. All the vices and crimes and villanies that curse the country require whisky at their roots to enable them to grow and flourish.

2. The license system, i. e., permission to sell given by you. The permission you give to the greatest enemies of the human race to live and grow fat on the tears, the lives, the eternal souls of our people. Let men sell all the other poisons, let butchers sell bad meat, bakers bad bread, let every man keep a keg of gunpowder, import famine, pestilence, cholera, the smallpox, but shut up the whisky shop.

3. Unmitigated evil, always evil, nothing but evil. Poverty, misery, ignorance, stupidity, brutality, cruelty, hatreds, lawsuits, lost homes, dirt and filth, inferior schools, mortgages, insanity, idiocy, weakmindedness, broken-down constitutions, debility, consumption, cursing, swearing, fighting, blasphemy, impiety, irreligion, infidelity, hypocrisy, and all other curses that affect the community.

4. Prohibition. Stop the traffic. Prohibition immediate, pure and simple, unconditional, uncompensated; make the manufacture, importation, and sale of intoxicating liquors a crime of the worst kind; attach capital punishment to it, hang any man caught with it. In this way you may lose one or two lives a year, in any other way you will lose hundreds of lives yearly.

5. In some localities they have decreased, in others, perhaps, increased—not certain. I do not know, nor do I much care. In Lindsay they have decreased somewhat. In Ops and Carden (Townships) they have decreased. I cannot say how it is for the whole county of Victoria. Before the Nipissing began to carry for Gooderham and others from Toronto into the North we could keep track of the number of gallons brought into Lindsay. In 1870, there were 72,000 gallons, $200,000 a year, was something nice going out of the county for whisky. That much to a railroad would beggar us.

6. All very much alike, graded so as to meet the tastes of even the most degraded. They are all of the same family—they all form a system graded to the tastes and wants of the different classes of the community. While you are rich and respectable, the first-class hotel is open to you—when you have become a sot you are admitted into the second-class and saloon, if you are a poor labouring man, you can get more for your money in the shop, and can get drunk longer. When you are dead broke and without a cent, but with ruin staring you and your wife and children in the face, then they are all closed against you.

7. Yes, provided all vote. Yes, provided you allow the women and young boys and girls to vote. Do you not sometimes legislate in advance of public opinion? You are not mirrors that passively reflect public opinion. "Viliant consules ne republica detrimentum capiat" is as true now, and of you, as it was of the Romans.

8. No, we want a Dunkin Act for the whole Dominion. No. But our Ops Township Council has signed the petition asking for a prohibitory law. When the Fenians invaded Canada you did not wait to ask any one what evils would result from the invasion. You recognised in them a danger to the community—you took the necessary means to drive them out—you drove them out and protected us. We ask you to do the same with this whisky Fenian. Pass a law—issue a proclamation—hoist the black flag—call out the volunteers—100,000 men if necessary and drive the worst of all Fenians from our soil. Make no prisoners—send no one to an Inebriate Asylum or Central Prison. This would be a war for humanity—it would bring peace to every Canadian household—prosperity, intelligence, progress, "liberty, equality, fraternity," to us all—protection to all we love, and protection to ourselves and from ourselves. We are here 2,264 cold-water men at your disposal.

9. Made no effort.

10. No result.

M. STAFFORD,
Priest,
Lindsay.

1. The evils of drunkenness extend throughout all classes of the community, and cause much evil to society by waste of time and money, and by injury to health and morals.

2. The manufacture and traffic in intoxicating liquors, and the facilities for procuring the same throughout the land.
3. Loss of property, family wretchedness, crime, neglect of religious ordinances, premature and violent deaths.
4. The prohibition of the manufacture and traffic of intoxicating drinks.
6. Taverns, except the widest class of them, do not produce so much injury as saloons, &c., by a great deal.

D. B. CAMERON,
Minister Canada Presbyterian Church,
Bradford.

1. It is impossible to state them fully. Poverty, vice crime, imbecility of body and mind, insanity, madness, sickness, death.
2. I do not know. In some, it may be constitutional, in most cases, it results from habit and companionship; in some degree from the coldness of the climate, as in all cold countries, people use artificial stimulants freely.
3. See No. 1. All manner of mischief, sufferings, and immoralities.
4. To cripple the manufacture and sale in every lawful way. 1. By raising the duty.
2. By making adulterations of liquor, criminal. 3. By making the one who sells the liquor responsible in law, for all damages, arising therefrom. 4. Asylums for the drunkards.
5. Religious teaching in Public Schools.

HANNIBAL MULTKIN,
Kingston.

1. The evils of drunkenness are too numerous and great to be described in this short space. They destroy both body and soul. They are ruinous for time and eternity. They are prevalent among all ranks of society.
2. Early training under the parental roof. The numerous places where intoxicating liquors are sold. The countenance of respectable society, and the sanction of Government in licensing the traffic.
3. Poverty and destitution in many families, degradation of character, every species of criminality, jails and lunatic asylums filled. Numerous suicides. Religious appliances counteracted, and souls for ever lost.
4. Total prohibition of the traffic.
5. Greatly increased.
7. All whose opinion is worth being consulted, I believe, are prepared to hail such a law.
8. It has not and will not, so long as other municipalities adjoining perpetuate the evil by licensing the traffic.

THOS. MACPHERSON,
Minister C. P. Church, Stratford.

1. Almost every conceivable social evil is the result directly or indirectly of drunkenness.
2. The license system too extended; almost every one who applies is granted a license. In addition, unlicensed grogeries, tolerated at times by the authorities.
3. Sabbath profanation. Misery and wretchedness of every form. Poverty and destitution in families. Good working men reduced to beggars.
4. A rigid license system—confining the sale to one or two places in every town. Fining heavily unlicensed vendors and making it a crime even for licensed houses to give it in certain cases.
5. Yes.
6. No.
7. Not in this neighbourhood. But if Parliament made a law it would be respected.
8. Yes, and failed.

WM. COCHRANE,
Brantford.

1. Reduced by fully one half within the past eighteen months, as compared with the preceding, owing I believe to the total abstinence societies established in R. C. Parishes of St. Raphaels, Alexandria, and Locheil, by the respective priests thereof.
2. The too great facility afforded hitherto for obtaining intoxicating drinks.
3. Moral and physical deterioration of the population of county generally.
4. To reduce the number of licensed taverns largely, and prohibit shop licenses totally, as well as to impose a heavy tax on liquor manufacturers.
6. I believe not.
7. As far as I can gather I think it is—but personally I should prefer the solution likely to be furnished by my reply to question No. 4, as above given.
8. No.

J. S. O'CONNOR, P.P.,
Alexandria, Glengarry.

1. The number of drunkards it is impossible to state, for their name is legion. There are, however, many Lodges of "Templars" throughout the county, who are said to be doing a great and good work in the way of reformation.
2. Too many unlicensed grogeries kept by parties who manage to evade the law.
3. Crimes of every description.
4. One remedy suggests itself, the appointment of an Inspector by the Government, not subject to local municipal control or in any way responsible to local authority.
5. It has increased.
6. I am decidedly of opinion that they are not.
7. I scarcely think it is.

ELLIOTT GRASETT,
Incumbent of Trinity Church.
Simcoe, Co. Norfolk.

1. About one family in every three suffer from the results of Intemperance, of those with whom I am at all acquainted.
2. The many opportunities people have for obtaining strong drink.
3. Swearing, fighting, poverty, death, and destitute Orphans.
4. A law prohibiting all traffic in strong drink.
5. The number has increased.
6. They are in the village and neighbourhood, (i. e., in Orangeville, in Co. Wellington).

A. HENDERSON, B.A.,
Incumbent of Orangeville, Ont.

1. The evils are incalculable. Drunkenness prevails in this town to an alarming extent. Young men may be seen reeling over the streets constantly in broad day-light.
2. Too many Taverns. The large influx of mechanics to our railroad work shops, has brought together many persons addicted to drinking; these tend to corrupt others better disposed. In this way the number is largely increased.
3. I cannot describe the poverty, misery, shame, disgrace, and ruin which flow from this master vice.
4. Double or quadruple the money paid for licenses. Limit in some way the sale, by making the seller responsible for the mischief done.
5. There has been an immense increase in this town, 10 during the last year.

GEO. W. F. T. DICKSON,
Wes. Minister,
St. Thomas.

1. It would be very difficult to state the extent of this evil, which is, I fear, on the increase in our midst. But I believe that fully nine-tenths of the poverty and crime of this community may be traceable to this source, to say nothing of the disease and deaths caused by casualties, &c.

2. The main cause is, doubtless, the facilities for obtaining liquors, and the temptations brought to bear upon young men and boys to form drinking habits, by congregating in places where drinking and gambling are carried on.

3. During a public ministry of thirty three years, I am convinced that no language can describe, and no mind can adequately conceive, the extent of this terrible evil. Its results upon body, mind, morals, families, individuals, and the country at large, are evil only, evil continually.

4. Destroy the cause, and the effect will cease. But whilst the Legislature makes the traffic lawful and respectable, by licensing it, it will be difficult to convince the youth that it is disreputable and immoral.

(NO NAME.)

3. Recklessness, neglect of business, poverty and misery, not falling on the victim of intemperance only, but on his family also. Loss of health, disease, madness, and the end death, fearful to contemplate.

4. Total prohibition of both the manufacture and sale, excepting for medicinal purposes.

5. They have diminished considerably, especially in the Township of Charlotteville, through the energetic efforts of the Good Templars.

6. It is difficult to say which do most injury; but it is the general opinion in this neighbourhood that the groceries and shops, where liquors are sold, are doing a more destructive work than the respectable and well-conducted taverns.

7. My full conviction is, that a majority of the people are anxious for a law which will be really effectual for the purpose; but they do not want any half-measures, looking upon them as worse than useless.

8. They have.

9. The Township of Charlotteville passed the Act by a large majority, and this township (Walsingham) voted for it with a majority of nine; but the council refused to confirm the by-law, on account, as they state, of some legal defect respecting the notices and places of voting, causing great indignation.

Rev. W. WOOD,
Port Rowan, Co. of Norfolk.

1. Drunkenness is sadly prevalent. It prevails among our young men, many of whom spend much of their time in the bar-rooms. It brings trouble and death into our homes. Sudden deaths from drinking have been numerous.

2. The causes are many. There are fifteen taverns, and three shops, where liquor is sold. The respectable portion of the community give too much countenance to drinking.

3. Idleness, premature decay of strength, sudden deaths, poverty, wretchedness at home, Sabbath desecration, open indifference to religion, profanity.

4. Total abstinence in individuals. Either double the license, and enforce the present law; or, what is better, prohibit the manufacture and sale.

5. Increased.

7. A large body of the people is in favour of it—perhaps a majority. But property fitted up for that purpose, and the marvellous gains of the traffic, are strong opposing elements.

8. The Dunkin Act was carried some years ago in North Simcoe; but some flaw was found, and it was not enforced. I believe it would be carried now with a sweeping majority.

Rev. ROBT. RODGERS.

4. I believe there is no remedy, unless the manufacture and sale is stopped. Every other remedy has been tried in vain. And why should not a paternal government be able to stop a traffic which was ruining the country?

8. No. I may state my opinion of that Act from my experience in another municipality. It is of no use, because there is no one appointed to see the provisions of the Act carried out. A prohibitory law would be equally useless unless there was some machinery provided for carrying it out. In respect of the opinion so often expressed that it would be impossible to stop the manufacture and sale of intoxicating liquor, I would cite the case of illicit distilling in Ireland, at the beginning of the present century, and how completely it was stopped by the English Government, after many fruitless attempts. About 1839 small private stills were as common in the South and West of Ireland as are taverns amongst us. It was generally supposed at the time that nothing would ever stop them. However, an Act was passed, by which the goods of any person found guilty of smuggling in this way were confiscated, and, I think, the guilty party was imprisoned; but, should the smuggler have no goods, then the township in which the still was found was fined. This course put an end to illicit whiskey stills, and, I doubt not, a similar law would drive whiskey out of this country.

I would here remark that I cannot be justly called a monomaniac on this subject. I belong to no temperance league or society, and never belonged to such. I was forced, by what I saw of suffering humanity, to my present position. For many years I was strongly opposed to what are called temperance societies, and to prohibitory liquor laws, but I can see no other way in which the English race is to escape premature decay, except it can be in some way freed from the enthralling bondage of intoxicating drink.

F. L. STEPHENSON, Clergyman of the Ch. of England, Officiating at Newboro', in the County of Leeds.

1. This is too well known to need enlargement. Intemperance is very prevalent in this community.
2. Love of strong drink and facilities for obtaining it.
3. These are patent to almost every one. Poverty, crime, disease and sudden death are among the results.
4. A prohibitory enactment by the Legislature!
5. Somewhat increased.
6. Probably not; but the former are nothing but (in general) dens of iniquity.

HOWARD D. STEELE, Presbyterian Minister, Ramsay.

CLASS III.

TO SHERIFFS, COUNTY ATTORNEYS, MAGISTRATES AND CHIEF CONSTABLES.

1. Of those brought under your official notice for the past three years, how many were the victims of intemperance?
2. To what extent do your official records as well as your own observation, point to the use of intoxicating drinks as productive of crime?
3. What remedial measure would you suggest for the suppression of the use of intoxicating liquor as a beverage?
4. Has the number of places for the sale of intoxicating liquors in your county increased or diminished during the last three years?
5. Are the regular Taverns as productive of injury to the community as the Saloons, Shops, Recesses, and other Groggeries?
6. Is the public opinion, in your judgment, prepared to support a Prohibitory Liquor Law?
7. Has your Municipality made an effort to pass the Dunkin Act?
8. Was it successful?
9. If so, what has been the result?

1. From a careful analysis of the 340 answers to the above questions your Committee find the replies to the first question to be about "Seven-tenths."

2. Reply to the second question "Three-fourths of all the crime attributable to the use of intoxicating drinks."

3. In answering the third question about one-fourth, say:—Have fewer taverns, and higher license fees. Abolish shop licenses entirely.

Have the Government appoint officers specially to enforce the license laws.

Several say, “rigidly enforce the present license laws, and have the Government appoint an independent board to issue licenses. Several say, abolish the shops and saloons.

About five-eighths say, abolish the traffic entirely by prohibition. Prevent the manufacture and sale.

4. The replies to this question show the number of places where liquor is sold to have increased during the last three years about 5 per cent.

5. Nearly all agree that the regular taverns are not as productive of injury to the public, as the saloons, shops, &c.

Several say that, “Few habitual drunkards purchase their liquor at taverns, but buy it at shops and take it home to drink.

Many say, “a considerable number of the taverns are low, filthy drinking holes, but on the whole, saloons and shops do the most harm.

6. One-third of the replies answer this question in the affirmative; two-thirds in the negative.

7, 8, 9. The answers to these questions show that 25 municipalities passed the Dunkin Act; that in some cases the law worked well and was productive of good, but that in most cases something was wrong in connection with the passing of the law, as to form, notice or something else, and that on the whole the law did not do the good expected.

The following give a fair idea of all the replies in this class.

1. All excepting one.

2. Not less than nine-tenths are produced by intoxicating liquor.

3. Prohibition.

4. Increased.

5. No, but the others have evaded the law by taking out tavern licenses professing to have stalls and livery stables.

6. I think it is.

7. Yes; eight or nine years ago, when the Act was first passed.

8. No, but it has since passed in adjoining municipalities.

9. Only recently passed here. Too recently to judge of results.

JOHN BEEMER, J.P.

1. From 60 to 100. Many cases are not recorded having been dismissed.

2. Fully three-fourths of the cases of crime were directly the result of the using of intoxicating drinks.

3. The most successful is complete and thorough prohibition by the Government of the manufacture and importation of intoxicating liquor. In the absence of the above I would recommend moral suasion, and that only—no half way legal measures.

4. Increased greatly.

J. EDWARD, J.P.,
Peterborough.

1. I think that I might safely say that three-fourths of the cases that have come before me for the last three years have been caused by intemperance.

2. I should say that four-fifths of criminal cases are the result of drinking strong liquor.

3. I would say the suppression of liquor-making is the only remedy for the suppression of liquor-drinking.

7. We did pass it some years ago, but still the liquor was sold, and the liquor was drunk, and the municipality licensed the Taverns again.

8. It was not successful.
9. There was no good result from it.

JAMES FIFE, J.P.,
Asphodel.

1. Of the 98 persons charged with crimes triable at the Assizes, Sessions, and Judges' Criminal Courts, in 1870-1-2, at least 29 were intemperate. During those years, 684 persons were tried before Justices of the Peace, of whom 116 were charged with drunkenness; but as fully half the remainder were charged with assault, no doubt the greater part of those cases arose from intemperate drinking.

2. To the extent indicated in the above—say nearly half—though the proportion might, on investigation, be found to be much larger.

3. The prohibition of its manufacture and sale, except for mechanical and medicinal purposes. Or a large fee for a license, and severe penalties for infringement of the law. Prosecutions to be by paid inspectors.

4. Increased slightly.
5. I think taverns less injurious to the community than saloons, &c.
6. I think not.
7. No.

L. D. RAYMOND,
County Attorney,
Welland.

1. Almost every case.

2. I find intoxicating liquor to be the cause of all the crime brought under my notice.

3. Stop the manufacture, and put on a heavy import duty.

4. Increased.

5. Shops, saloons, and unlicensed grogeries are the worst, in my opinion. A Government inspector is required.

6. Yes, if the women are allowed a voice in the matter.

7. No.

A. C. DUNLOP, J.P.,
Ashburnham.

1. About one-half.

2. From observation, we think that two-thirds of the crimes committed in our municipality may be traced to intoxicating liquors.

3. A prohibitory liquor law.

4. Increased.

5. The saloons, shops, recesses, and other grogeries are more productive of injury than taverns.

6. We are of the opinion that the community are not prepared, but are on the eve of it.

JOSEPH MITCHELL, J.P.
MEREDITH CONN, J.P.

2. No official records; but, from my own observation, I am fully convinced that three-fourths of the crime committed and misery induced, can be traced to intemperance.

3. Have less taverns, enforce the law, and grant no licenses to saloons, recesses, or grogeries.

4. They have increased.

5. They are not; but still the law should be put rigidly in force.

6. I do not think so.

7. They have not.

WILLIAM FINLAY, J.P.,
Co. of Norfolk.

1. Leaving out complaints for leaving employment and non-payment of wages, two-thirds were inspired by drink.

2. Of 48 cases tried during the past three years, 18 were directly connected with drink. Of the remaining 30, more than half were for unfulfilled time or non-payment of wages.

3. Chiefly the instruction of the people in the injurious chemical composition of intoxicating drink, statistics showing its disastrous moral and physical effects, and waste connected with its manufacture and use, with the benefits of sobriety.

5. All are engaged in training our youth to intemperate habits, saloons, recesses and grogeries, in addition to even worse habits.

6. Do not think that it is.

7. Some technical error was made in an effort for this purpose, and the attempt was not repeated.

JOHN RATCLIFF, J.P.,
County Ontario.

1. Nearly all.

2. From the effects of intoxicating drinks, crime is the general result.

7. Yes.

8. It was a dead failure.

9. Things remain as before.

W. ALLISON, J.P.,
Bowmanville.

2. About nine-tenths of the cases were caused, directly or indirectly, by intoxicating drinks.

3. To prohibit the manufacture and sale as a beverage.

5. No.

6. I think it is time to try it.

7. No.

2. I firmly believe that the majority of crimes are committed through the influence of intoxicating liquors.

3. That the only remedy is prohibiting the manufacture and importation of liquors.

4. Increased.

5. They are not.

6. I think a majority would support it.

7. It has.

8. Yes ; by a majority of 140.

9. The tavernkeepers threaten to sell liquors, without license, in defiance.

D. W. McCALL, J.P.
Charlottetown, County of Norfolk.

2. In nearly all the cases of crime brought before me, strong drink was directly or indirectly the cause.

3. To prevent distilling altogether, and sustain a prohibitory liquor law.

5. I believe the saloons and shops are most injurious to the better classes, and like the public taverns, they are the curse of our country.

6. The majority are.

JOHN W. MOORE, J.P.

1. Seven-tenths.

2. Nine-tenths.

3. High licenses.
4. In this township (Harvey) stationary ; one or two sell without license.
5. No.
6. No.
7. No—no use—cannot be enforced.

WM. WOOD, J.P.,
Peterboro.

1. About one-third.
2. I do not think that more than one-third of the crimes are to be attributed to intoxicating liquors.
3. Preventing the licensing of saloons, and the sale in small quantities in groceries, and limiting the number of taverns.
5. No ; the saloons, shops, and recesses are more injurious than the taverns.
6. I do not think it is.
7. No.

FRANCIS R. BALL,
C. C. Atty. Co.
Oxford.

1. Should think 60 or 70 per cent.
2. About 70 per cent of the cases coming under my notice.
3. Cannot suggest any, unless the prohibition of its manufacture here, and importation from abroad.
4. Slightly increased.
5. No, they are not.
6. I think not.
7. No.

J. R. MARTIN,
Co. Attorney and Clerk of the Peace,
Co. Haldimand.

3. Stop the manufacturing and importation for drinking purposes.
4. Considerably increased.
5. I am satisfied that more injury arises to the community from saloons and grogeries than from taverns.

ROBERT HOBSON,
Sheriff,
Co. Welland.

1. 124 out of 161.
2. About 75 per cent. of crime is caused by drunkenness.
3. By suppressing the manufacture, and preventing importation.
5. No.

R. MARTIN,
Sheriff.

1. Out of a total of 247 prisoners, intemperate 131, temperate 116.
2. That five-eighths of the crimes are caused by the use of intoxicating drinks.
- 3 By limiting the number of taverns to the wants of the travelling public, abating saloons, shops, recesses, and other grogeries.
4. Decreased.
5. Certainly not.
6. Am of opinion that it is not.

EDMUND DUDY,
Sheriff, C. N.

1. Two-thirds.
2. More than two-thirds of the crime committed, arises, directly or indirectly from the use of intoxicating liquors.
3. Prohibit the sale of it altogether.
4. Increased.

JAMES HUNTER.

1. Fully two-thirds.
2. To the extent of two-thirds of all the prisoners committed to gaol.
3. I can suggest nothing except a prohibitory liquor law.
5. Of the different classes of drinking places, taverns in my opinion produce the least injury.
6. I fear not, although public opinion is ripening rapidly for it,
7. No.

WM. GLASS,
Sheriff of Middlesex.

1. One hundred and twenty-six, as shown by the gaol books.
2. To over two-thirds of all the committals to the gaol of this county.
3. The extinction of the liquor traffic and distilleries, except so far as alcohol may be required by chemists, and for mechanical purposes.
5. Not so much.
6. I think there is a great majority of the people of this county in favour of such law.

I would add, so far as my experience and observation go, that I consider abstinence from alcoholic drinks conducive to the strength of one's mind and body as well as longevity, and have now arrived at a period of nearly eighty years of age.

J. MACDONALD,
Sheriff County Huron.

1. Twenty-one persons.
2. Productive of crime as against persons, not as against property.
3. Encourage the making of good wine and ale, as in France, but prohibit the traffic in ardent spirits entirely.
4. Slightly increased.
5. Not so productive of injury.
6. Probably two-thirds of the inhabitants are averse to a prohibitory liquor law.

JAS. MORRIS,
Sheriff Co. Renfrew.

1. Of those committed to gaol to be tried, about 80 or 90, or about the one-half.
2. To a very great extent.
5. No.
6. Public opinion here in this county is not prepared for a prohibitory liquor law.

(Certified) W. H. BOWLBY,
County Attorney and Clerk of the Peace,
County of Waterloo.

3. A rigid enforcement of the present license law, coupled with the appointment of an independent License Board for each county, who will issue licenses and take them from holders who violate the law, and allow gambling and prostitution in their houses.

4.	Yes. In 1869 there were	94
	1870	101	“
	1872	115	“ 115 licenses issued.

5. No ; not as the law is at present observed. Shops that sell by the glass, or where customers are habitually treated to intoxicating liquors, may be classed with unlicensed houses, and are the bane and curse of any community.

JULIUS P. SACHE,
County Court Attorney.

1. About thirty-three per cent.
2. Thirty-three per cent.
3. Limitation of the number of places in which liquor is sold. Higher license fees, which would tend to increase the price, and inspection of the liquor to secure purity.
4. Increased.

WM. DOUGLAS,
County Attorney, Kent.

5. No ; but I would make the license fees still higher, and lessen the number of licences—say, according to population, or some other standard—so that the number may be diminished. I would increase the fees on shop licenses to sell liquors. The dearer they are made the fewer will be the patrons.

6. I believe it is rapidly becoming ripe for it.
7. No.

HENRY WM. PETERSON,
County Crown Attorney, County of Wellington.

1. Nearly all claimed to have been under the influence of liquor, when the offence was committed.

2. To a very great extent.
3. In this district, I would suggest the suppression of the sale of licenses, tavern and shop.
4. Has kept about the same.
6. I am inclined to think that it is.
7. No, the revenue derived from the sale of licenses has in my opinion prevented the attempt.

JOHN W. HAMILTON,
Crown Attorney of the District of the Algoma.

2. Judging from my own observations, I should say that at least seventy-five per cent. of the crime is due to the use of intoxicating liquors.

3. The entire suppression of the manufacture and sale of spirituous liquors is the only means of putting an end to the evil.

As to remedial measures, I would suggest the stringent enforcement of the provisions of the license laws, by,

- (a) Public prosecutors, as provided in the last Act of the Legislature.
- (b) The doing away with the issue of shop licenses to persons who sell any other merchandise, confining the sale to those who sell nothing but liquors, and providing that such shops should have public notice affixed over them that they are licensed for the sale of liquors only.
- (c) The interdiction of habitual drunkards, and the withdrawal of the franchise from them until reformation.

4. With the construction of railways, and the increase in the population, the number has increased somewhat in the towns and villages, but is decreasing in the rural parts.

7, 8, 9. The Township of Pickering did pass it, but the Bill was quashed on account of insufficient publication of notice of the submission of the by-law.

JNO. E. FAREWELL,
County Crown Attorney, County of Ontario.

1. On an examination of the records of this office since the spring of 1870, I find something over 90 per cent. of the offences for which fines and penalties have been inflicted upon the various persons brought before me during that time, can be traced directly to the immoderate use of strong drink.

2. In every way ; few, if any, are benefited by its unrestrained use, while a large portion of those who use it, are for the time being, made partially, if not wholly insane, and while in that condition, commit those offences in the punishment of which we crowd our jails and prisons with inmates.

3. I would say, a good tight prohibitory liquor law, backed if need be with the whole power of the Province to enforce it.

4. The answer is astounding, over twelve hundred per cent., and still increasing in the same ratio.

5. On the whole I am inclined to think not. Yet it is a very difficult matter to decide ; it is simply a question of degree. The seeds of the disease having been sown, the name of the place from whence sold is to my mind a matter of little importance.

6. I have serious doubts of it. The moral sense of the community seems paralysed upon this subject. Men view with seeming indifference a disease or vice appalling in its effects and extent, which eats out the very heart of virtue and rectitude, and blights like a deadly mildew the " blooming promise of the human spring."

7, 8, 9. In conclusion, permit me to add that I regard the daily use of strong drink as the most fearful scourge with which our humanity to-day is afflicted.

D. D. VAN NORMAN,
Stipendiary Magistrate,
Thunder Bay.

5. They are not, The disposing of liquor in shops and saloons is the greatest curse of the land.

6. Yes.

7. No.

ROBERT BRODDY,
Sheriff,
Co. Peel.

1. Seven hundred and sixty-one committals, but quite a number of them sent up several times ; but all are included in the above number.

2. There was not more than five per cent. of the above number sent to gaol for any other crime than drunkenness. The thefts, larcenies, or other crimes, were nearly all by parties who were not drunkards.

5. The taverns are less injurious, as they provide food as well as drink for their customers.

6. I think it is not.

7. The City of Kingston did, but failed. The county has not tried it.

WILLIAM FERGUSON,
Sheriff.

1. About three-fourths.
 2. Three-fourths of all.
 3. Raise tavern licenses to not less than $100, and made payable to Government instead of corporations, which would cut off a large number of low houses, which would be the greatest pests in the event of a prohibitory liquor law being passed.
 4. Increased greatly. Every little village is stuck full of them, sowing broadcast ruin and death.
 5. I think they are all alike. Their object is money at any cost.
 6. This is the most difficult question. I think something like the above is required to prepare public opinion to support such a law. The taverns are too numerous. The lowest class would give the most trouble.
- No. They grant licenses to make indigents, who cost us more than double the licenses.

THOMAS RUSSELL, J.P.,
Co. of Peel.

1. Say one-half.
2. Equal to all other causes combined.
3. Trammel the miserable business in every possible way; the proportion of liquor used per head is nowhere now as compared with the times when we used to get a gallon at 20 cents.
4. Diminished.
5. The regular taverns do us the least injury, because liquors upon the whole cost more there.
6. Quite so in the old settlements, but not so yet in some new ones.

ALEX. MCLAREN,
Caledon.

2. My own observation points to the use of intoxicating drinks as productive of nearly all the crimes committed.
3. Abolish the manufacture of intoxicating liquor.
4. I believe they have increased.
5. No.
6. Yes.
7. No.

JAMES MUNSIE, J.P.,
Bolton Village.

3. Prohibit its manufacture and importation.
4. About the same.
5. No.
6. Yes.
7. Yes.
8. It was carried by the popular vote, but owing to some irregularity in the proceedings, the Council refused to ratify the by-law.

B. BELLMANT, J.P.

1. Out of 528 prisoners committed to the gaol of this county, 379 are put down as intemperate.
2. Two-thirds of the crime committed is attributable to the use of intoxicating liquors.
3. To abolish the sale of liquors in saloons and shops, recesses, and other groggeries, and to close all taverns at the hour of seven o'clock.
4. Increased.

5. I do not think taverns are as productive of injury as saloons, &c.
6. No.
7. None has been made.

J. FLINTOFT, Jr.,
Sheriff of Lambton.

2. My experience and observations lead me to believe that at least four-fifths of the crime brought under the notice of justices of the peace in this locality may be directly attributed to the use of intoxicating drinks.

3. First, that no shop, saloon, or other groggeries be licensed. Second, that the Government take the control of licenses entirely from municipal councils, and manage the issue and inspection through their county judicial officers. Third, that the fee for licenses be raised to a minimum in counties of $60, and in cities $100. Fourth, that the amount of accommodation required shall in the older settlements be very much increased.

4. I believe they have slightly increased.
5. They are not. There is more tipping in shops than taverns.
6. I do not think it is.
7. No.

L. R. BOLTON, J.P.

1. Out of two hundred and fifty-one committed to the county jail, one hundred and fifty-seven were intemperate.

2. Nearly all those committed admitted that intemperance was the cause of their offending against the law. The use of intoxicating drinks is productive of domestic unhappiness, and frequently prompts the commission of criminal offences.

3. The suppression of all saloons, and a very heavy charge for licenses to hotel keepers, which would cause low-class taverns to disappear.

5. They are not.
6. No.
7. No.

JOS. W. MAUGHAN,
Sheriff Co. Grey.

1. Nearly all; in fact only one case was brought under our notice that was not.

2. Nearly all the cases brought before us were caused either directly or indirectly by their use.

3. The punishment of all persons found drunk by a government official, and some means devised by which the transgressor would have to pay the costs and fine.

4. It is our opinion that the increase of such places has not kept pace with the increase of the population, owing in a great measure to the stringency of the Dunkin Act.

5. No.
6. We think not.
7. No.

ROB. A. STRICKLAND, J.P.
ROBERT CASEMENT, J.P.

1. Thirty-six. The whole number of adults brought under my official notice during that period being forty-four.

2. About four-fifths. In cases accompanied by violence, almost every one is attributable to the use of intoxicating drinks.

3. A prohibitory liquor law. The Government having power to appoint a public prosecutor in each county to enforce it.

4. The number has not increased or diminished for several years.
5. They are not. Few, if any, habitual drunkards obtain their liquor at the taverns. If shops were not granted licenses, I believe drunkenness would materially diminish.
6. I think that it is, in this county. The only difficulty would be as to laying of informations against offenders, unless a public prosecutor was appointed. There is a false delicacy about informing.
7. Yes, it was passed in 1864.
8. No. It only remained in force a short time, having been quashed by the Court. There were very few prosecutions, and I think only one was successful. However, there was less drinking while it was in force.

JOHN DEWAR,
County-Attorney, Halton.

1. 52 commitments to the gaol within the above time, of which 18 were temperate, 34 intemperate ; and had the salaried constables done their duty there would have been at least one-third more of intemperate cases.
2. From a long life, now over 70 years, intoxicating liquors have been the prolific cause of the greatest number of crimes, and some of the worst cases. A relative became enslaved to the demon, after many attempts to master the vice in despair ; he committed suicide about two years since ; was once a fine young man, and fascinating in his manners.
3. Thorough prohibition of manufacture and importation ; while it is made and imported, it will be bought and sold.
6. The majority are in favour of prohibition.

RICHARD CARNEY,
Sheriff,
Algoma District.

NOTE.—The authorities of the American village opposite, under the Law of the State of Michigan, with commanding officer of the garrison, have suppressed the liquor traffic. Very heavy fines have been imposed. The toppers, being deprived of liquor on their own side, have resorted to our side to gratify a depraved, morbid appetite, which is keenly felt by the authorities and respectable inhabitants of said American Village, one ice bridge, not yet burst up, having afforded facilities for crossing from side to side.

On St. Patrick's day, a regular carnival commenced, and continued for three days, by men from American side. One innkeeper took over his bar about $150 for liquor alone. A respectable person, who had occasion to go in several times on the second day, describes a scene : In one corner was a man on his hands and knees and head, in which position he was for hours as he saw him ; in another corner was another, on his knees, and leaning on a bench, with a bucket under his nose ; and on the floor were several stretched out insensibly drunk. That was at one place out of three. Since then another license has been granted. A municipal councillor keeps a boarding-house for respectable persons ; he had kept a tavern, or sold liquors, under license, but gave it up. He has, it is said, let the bar-room to his son, to whom the license has been granted. The whole property, real and personal, is the father's. As a licensed liquor-selling innkeeper, he could not be elected for councillor ; as a councillor, a liquor license could not be granted to him, so he votes for granting it to his son. In my humble opinion it is illegal, being an evasion of the law. The American authorities now arrest and put in gaol every one returning from our side the worse for liquor, which is having some effect.

The forthcoming election, the friends of thorough prohibition intend to test the question, and in my opinion think we shall succeed.

R. CARNEY.

Addenda.—I have seen quite a number of Indians land at our wharf sober and respectable, at the latter end of April or beginning of May, on close of sugar-making. In about half an hour they would be drunk and dancing on the street opposite, what custom of society would call a respectable merchant's shop, the damnable compound inflaming the brain in a short time. The Episcopal Minister at Carden River threatened the merchant with prosecution if he did not desist giving the Indians under his charge his hellish concoctions.

Since writing first part, a fight took place among some fellows who have been drinking, more or less, all day, in a tavern opposite my house.

Within the last month the Roman Catholic clergymen in charge of Indians at Mesonuling, Manitoulin Island, prosecuted the merchants and innkeepers at Little Current, alias Village of Shaftesbury, for selling liquor to their Indians. At the first hearing a lot of fellows were gathered and primed sufficiently for mischief, when they carried off the Indian witness and frightened the others, when they skedaddled. The clergyman left also as quick as possible. No violence was intended. However, the justices held an adjourned court, and fined all pretty heavily.

R. CARNEY.

1. About thirty per cent.
2. I am of opinion that two-thirds of the crimes committed are to be attributed to the use of intoxicating drinks.
3. I would remove the whole power of licensing from the Municipal Councils to the Government.
4. Increased.
5. I think not.
6. I wish it was, but doubt it at present.
7. Yes. Did so for some years, and passed it.
8. Yes, until the Council, unasked, repealed it.
9. Since we have license again, drunkenness has increased.

County of Peterboro'.

7. It has been passed in several of the local municipalities.
8. No.
9. The Dunkin Act appeared to be faulty ; on that account proceedings were quashed before the Courts by friends of the liquor traffic.

County of Elgin.

2. In my opinion, three-fourths of the crime committed is attributable to the use of intoxicating liquors, either directly or indirectly.

3. Increase the fees for license, and issue licenses to hotels only; and remove the issue of licenses out of the hands of the municipal authorities, and have the inspectors appointed by Government. Take the duty off beer and porter, and increase it on all other spirituous liquors, so as to put it beyond the reach of the common class of drunkards.

4. Diminished.

5. No. My opinion is, that saloons, shops, recesses, and other groggeries, are productive of the greatest amount of evil, and that in no case should licenses be granted to such persons.

6. I have no hesitation in saying that public opinion is entirely opposed to it, not because they do not desire it, but because it is impracticable—merely a law that cannot be carried out on account of the indifference of those most anxious to have the law passed.

7. The Dunkin Bill was carried in this county, and in about six months thereafter repealed.

G. C. MCKINDSAY,
Sheriff,
Co. Halton.

1. Eighty-seven.
2. To a very great extent.
3. A more stringent license law, and county inspectors appointed by the Government.
4. They have slightly increased.
5. They are not.
6. Although there is a strong feeling in favour of a prohibitory law, yet I hardly think it would carry if put to vote.
7. No.

GEO. KEMPT,
Sheriff,
Co. Victoria.

1. Total number confined in gaol for the years 1870, 1871, 1872, 446. Of this number 371 were intemperate.
2. Have no effectual record, except gaol books. See answer to above.
3. Stop the manufacture and importation.
4. Supposed to have diminished a little.

CLASS IV.

TO THE JUDGES, POLICE AND STIPENDIARY MAGISTRATES, AND JUSTICES OF THE PEACE.

1. What proportion of the crimes tried under your jurisdiction, can be traced to intemperance ?
2. Do you consider licensing the sale of intoxicating drinks as a beverage, productive of crime ?
3. What remedial measures against intemperance will you kindly suggest as best calculated to arrest the evil ?
4. Have the number of places for the sale of intoxicating liquors in your county increased or diminished during the last three years ?
5. Are the regular Taverns as productive of injury to the community as the Saloons, Shops, Recesses, and other Grogeries ?
6. Is public opinion, in your judgment, prepared to support a Prohibitory Liquor Law ?
7. Has your Municipality made an effort to pass the Dunkin Act ?
8. Was it successful ?
9. If so, what has been the result ?

To this class several hundred answers have been returned from which your Committee gather the information that average answers to the questions will stand about as follows :—

1. More than three-fourths.
2. Over half answer this question affirmatively.
3. One-third reply to this question prohibition.
4. The aggregate answers denote a slight increase, especially in cities and towns.
5. Most of the replies to this question are to the effect that saloons, shops, &c., do more harm in the way of producing drunkenness than the regular taverns.
6. It appears from the answers to this question that public opinion is not yet prepared to support a prohibitory liquor law.
- 7, 8, 9. Many municipalities have made an effort to pass the Dunkin Act, and in several places the law was passed, but in most cases the expected good did not flow from it.

Your Committee append a sample of the replies received under this class as follows:—

1. More than half directly, much more indirectly.
2. By encouraging intoxication, the seller having paid for the license, makes it pay by selling all he can without being open to prosecution, and risking that to a great extent.
3. Prohibition.
4. Increased.
5. No. The regular tavern-keeper consults his interest by keeping a check on disorderly conduct which might be displeasing to boarders, &c., saloons should not be licensed, they do no good, are useless for any purpose except encouraging drunkenness; appeals should not lie against Magistrates' convictions, except on questions of fact. As the law now is, the fact may be proved, but an informality in the information, or the conviction destroys the whole, leaving the guilty to go free, and the innocent complainant to pay costs. Saloons exist for no other purpose or use than to afford facilities for drinking and dissipation.
6. Yes.
7. Yes, some years ago, an effort was made, but was defeated by a few votes, and the facilities for appealing against Magistrates' convictions in liquor cases, and the risk an informer or complainant runs of having to defend an appeal; and in consequence of some technical informality in the magistrates' proceedings, being made liable for heavy costs, prevent complaints and leaves the liquor-sellers masters of the situation.

1. About one-fourth.
2. The legal sanction and assumed respectability afforded by the licensing system, extend and multiply the evil, and in the sanctioned use, habits are contracted which lead to that want of self control in the use whence springs crime?
3. Higher and educated classes should set example of abstinence, by example as well as precept. (2) Physicians should not prescribe it. (3) The Legislature should curtail and control it. (a) By abolishing shop and saloon licenses. (b) Increasing fees on tavern licenses, in which municipalities should have no interest. (c) By prohibiting the keeping open a bar-room at any time. The temptation should never be flaunted before mens' eyes. (d) Subsidizing temperance houses in thinly settled localities.

In 1870.....	105	}	In County of Bruce.
1871.....	113
1872.....	129
5. I think not. And that shops and saloons being closed as to the liquor traffic, most effectual measures should be adopted for the suppression of all grogeries. The abolition of shop licenses would exert a salutary influence in this direction.
6. No. But a rigid inspection of all intoxicating drinks exposed for sale, would be considered a great boon.
7. Not as a county. One township did. (The Township of Bruce).
8. Yes.
9. No good resulted. The traffic continues, although not so openly as before.

J. J. KINGSMILL,

Judge County of Bruce.

1. About one-half.

2. In no respect. The effect of licensing is chiefly to divert a part of the profits of the liquor trade, from the dealers to the municipal treasurers ; as much or more liquor would be sold if there were no licenses. License dealers are subject to police inspection. The license money has some slight effect in restricting the number of dealers. Crimes are caused by the immoderate use of intoxicating beverages, not by licensing the sale of them.

3. 1. Reduce the number of taverns to two, and the number of other drinking places to one, for every 1,000 of the population of towns and cities. 2. Increase the amount of license money. 3. Increase the duties and excise on spirits. 4. Abolish all duty and excise on beer. 5. Enact that no spirituous liquor shall be sold in shops in quantities less than one quart ; that no person shall sell spirits without a license, and that no person shall appear on the public streets drunk. 6. Enact that any person committing any breach of these regulations shall be punished, not by fine, but by imprisonment in the common gaol at hard labour, upon being summarily convicted before a police magistrate or justice of the peace, and that all appeals from such convictions, shall be summarily disposed of by the county judge without a jury. 7. Enact that no municipal council shall remit any part of the license money. These measures may perhaps restrain intemperance, but I fear that men cannot be made temperate by legislation.

4. It has slightly increased in the City of Kingston, the numbers being respectively as follows :—

1870.....	116
1871	124
1872.....	125

There is an increase outside the city.

6. No. The majority are against it, and those of its friends who have considered the subject, do not think that such a law could be executed.

7. Yes.

8. No. It was defeated by a large majority.

J. W. BURROWES,
County Judge, Frontenac.

1. The crimes which come under my jurisdiction are chiefly larcenies and offences of that description, which are not generally traceable to drunkenness, as assaults often are ; I should say that probably one-fourth of the cases coming under my jurisdiction are traceable to intemperance.

2. The sale of it, in certain places, such as saloons, shops, groggeries, causes an assemblage of persons to meet there, generally consisting of low and depraved characters, resulting in fighting and disorders ; not that the absence of these places would effectually cure the evil, because such people would probably to some extent meet elsewhere. But at all events the absence of them would prevent the stigma, that by Legislative sanction such places are permitted.

3. I have little faith in coercive measures, in restraint upon selling the article, further than to stop the sale of intoxicating liquors in saloons, shops, and such like places. I look to the elevation of the moral and religious tone of the people as the effectual remedy.

4. They have increased, but I do not think they have done so, much beyond the increase of population, except in particular localities where considerable numbers of artisans, &c., congregate by reason of newly established manufactories.

5. I do not think they are.

WILLIAM ELLIOT,
Judge County Middlesex,
London.

2. I consider licensing a preventive of crime, at any rate the only way of exercising any control over crime produced by drinking.

3. Make a good license law and enforce it. It is impossible to put a stop to the use of intoxicating liquors. I was in Maine when the Maine liquor law was first tried, and the only effect was, that we had to pay double for bad spirits of what was charged before for good.

4. Not increased to any great extent.

5. Not by any means ; one saloon or sample room as the shops are called which have a retail license, will do more harm than half a dozen decent taverns.

6. Certainly not.

H. W. PRICE,
Judge of Welland.

2. Intoxication is a source of crime, and as licensing the sale of intoxicating drinks facilitates the procurement of them as well by immoderate as by moderate drinkers, it is so far instrumental to the result—at the same time the licensed vendor is concerned to make his calling profitable by selling all he can—not caring too frequently to consider the consequences in individual cases ; nor feeling under any responsibility to do so.

4. I am informed they have increased considerably.

5. I think not.

6. Not one I think absolutely prohibitory, but I think public opinion is prepared to support measures for the more stringent control of its sale and manufacture ; and I think that by the means suggested in answer to question No. 3, it may become favourable to the prohibition of both.

7. It has not.

J. G. STEVENSON,
Judge County Court,
Haldimand.

1. Seven-eighths of the crimes are traceable to intemperance.

2. I consider houses licensed to sell intoxicating liquors as affording an habitual resort for persons, particularly young men, and being recognized by law they are frequented with impunity ; persons thus resorting to such houses become idlers and drunkards, and in order to maintain themselves without work have recourse to crimes.

3. 1st. Total prohibition, but failing that ; 2nd. A strict surveillance over licensed houses. To compel the closing of bars at 7 o'clock in the evening, and rendering a breach thereof a forfeiture of the license. In cases when a wife or other relation notifies the innkeeper not to give liquor, and the notice is disregarded, a similar penalty of forfeiture of license would tend to do good.

4. They have diminished, I think.

5. I am inclined to think that they are.

6. Yes.

WM. H. WILKINSON,
Judge Co. Court,
Lennox and Addington.

1. Most of them. The exceptions are few.

2. It gives the sanction of law to an acknowledged immorality. The license issued by the Governor is a direct and distinct warrant to sell. It is true, there are reservations and restrictions placed in the license ; but these are like reservations in patents issued by the Crown, which formerly reserved all mines of gold and silver, and white pine trees growing, being found on land granted by the Crown. They are never looked after.

D. T. HUGHES,
Judge,
St. Thomas.

1. Three-fourths.
2. There can be no doubt of it.
3. Prohibit the distillation and the importation of spirituous liquors.
4. Increased, to what extent I do not know.
5. No. But some of the irregular taverns are, and should be suppressed.
6. Moderate drinkers and sincere Christians are prepared ; but what proportion they bear to the rest, I am not prepared to say.
7. No.

GEO. S. IRWIN,
Judge County Court.

1. One-half.
2. In not putting the restrictions embodied in the present law in force.
3. By employing detectives to enforce the law.
4. Decreased ; but without any decrease in the consumption.
5. No.
6. Doubtful.

JAMES RIDDELL, J.P.,
County Norfolk.

1. A large proportion.
2. I cannot say that it is.
3. The licensing none except persons who are sober and of good character, and a stricter attention to the morals and education of the youth of the country.
4. I think they are about the same.
5. I should say not.
6. I believe not.
7. No.

GEO. SHERWOOD,
County Court Judge.

2. One-half.
3. A prohibitory law.
4. Not in this section, to my knowledge.
5. I think the saloons, shops, recesses, and other grogeries, the most productive of injury.
6. I think it is.
7. Not to my knowledge.

J. P.

1. A large share of it, but I cannot say what proportion is directly traceable to intemperance.
2. By attracting the young and inexperienced, who, when excited give way to evil passions, and often have recourse to crime in order to procure the means of satisfying the appetite or desire for liquor.
3. Temperance Societies have done much for so far, but until the Clergy and the leaders of society generally, put forth their moral influence by precept and by example, prohibitory laws will not avail.
4. The number has increased in the City of Ottawa, but lessened in the Townships, the rural population consequently much improved. The Township of Fitzroy, has this year refused to grant any license.
5. I think they are quite as much, if not more so.
6. I think not, taking the county as a whole.
7. I do not think the act is in force in any township, nor am I aware that steps were directly taken to pass it. Fitzroy comes near it in practice.

N.B.—While cities and towns derive so large a revenue from tavern licenses, it is difficult to limit the number of licenses to the proper wants of the place.

C. ARMSTRONG,
County Judge.

1. Five of every six.
 2. It is the root almost of every crime, in my opinion.
 3. Strictly prohibiting the manufacturing and sale of intoxicating liquor as a beverage.
 4. Increased.
 5. About the same in proportion to their numbers.
 6. Most certainly.
 7. Not any as yet.

J. P.

1. I think about one-fourth.
 2. By licensing saloons and other places solely for the sale of liquors.
 3. To grant licenses only to persons who are known to keep respectable hotels, and not to any groceries or saloons.
 5. By no means ; there are however some taverns in this county as bad as saloons and other groggeries, they are exceptions.
 6. I think not, but in favour of a more stringent license law.
 7. No.

J. P.

1. About two-thirds.
 2. In almost every respect.
 3. Prohibition of manufacture, importation, and sale of intoxicating liquors.
 4. I find that, on inquiry, the number has decreased.
 5. By no means ; I consider the licensed saloons and groggeries are the hot-beds of intemperance.
 6. If submitted to a vote of this county, I believe the vote would be in favour of prohibition.
 7. No. From the fact the judges have declared that it is almost impossible to pass a by-law under this Act that cannot be quashed.

J. P.

1. Probably one-third.
 2. Would not think it productive of crime if confined to respectable hotels.
 3. A judicious system of licensing hotels.
 4. Rather diminished, as far as I can learn.
 5. I think not. No saloons in this county.
 6. I think not.
 7. No.

Z. BURNHAM,
County Judge.

2. Three-fourths.
 3. Total Prohibition.
 4. Increased.
 5. No.
 6. Yes.
 7. Yes.
 8. Carried by a large majority.
 9. Less Drinking and crime.

J. P.

1. About four-fifths.
2. I verily believe that nine-tenths of all the crimes committed in the country are directly or indirectly the result of intoxication.
3. A prohibitory law.
4. No increase.
6. I believe it is,
7. Yes, but was defeated by a small majority.

ADAM BEAM, J.P.

1. About four-fifths.
2. I think I may safely say nine-tenths of all crimes committed in the country result directly or indirectly from the sale of intoxicating liquors.
3. A prohibitory law.
4. Remain about the same.
5. In most cases there are ; it depends greatly upon the character of the tavernkeepers.
6. I believe it is.
7. Yes, in 1865 ; but was defeated by a small majority.

JACOB ALMAS, J.P.

1. At least one half.
2. It facilitates instead of preventing their use.
3. Indemnify those engaged in its manufacture, and prohibit its use except as a medicine.
4. Judging from the numbers licensed there has been a slight increase—say from 10 to 15 per cent.
5. I see no difference.
6. I think it is, here.
7. It has not.

JAS. SMITH,
County Judge,
Victoria.

CLASS 5.

TO CORONERS.

1. What proportion of cases brought under your notice as Coroner has been the result of intemperance ?
2. What prompt, efficient, remedial measure against intemperance can you suggest ?

1. An examination of the 88 papers returned from Coroners shows that 6-10ths of the cases coming under their observation officially were directly attributable to intemperance.

2. One-third answer, "Prohibition."

One-sixteenth say, "Punish the drunkard at hard labour."

One-eighth say, "Use moral suasion, and educate the people."

One-tenth say, "Make the license laws more stringent, and let Government officers be appointed to enforce the same."

One-twelfth say, "Abolish the sale in shops entirely."

One-tenth say, "Reduce the number of taverns to one for every 500 or 600 of the population."

The following are appended as a synopsis of the whole in this class :—

1. From July, 1869, till the present date, I have held seven inquests. Three from intemperance.

2. Make those who sell liquor responsible for the effects produced by the liquor they sell.

W. W. ROSE.

1. I have held seven inquests during the last three years. One committed suicide by hanging—a notorious drunkard. Another died in a bar-room, in a drunken fit. Another was burnt to death in a stable, last March, whither he had gone when drunk, and was supposed to have burnt the building in trying to light his pipe. Another—a habitual drunkard—died last winter in his sleigh, while in a fit of intoxication. The other three were accidental deaths, the causes of which could not be attributed to drink. (Two cases died this winter here from being frozen while intoxicated, but no inquest was held.)

2. I am unable to say what measures would be best; but, after twenty years' observation, I would recommend the abolition of shop licenses altogether, the imposition of a heavy tavern license, a strict inspection of taverns by a county inspector, a public prosecutor for all violations of the law, and the restriction of the liquor traffic as much as possible to houses where nothing else would be sold. The most important measure, however, in my opinion, would be the abolishing of the shop licenses.

JOSEPH CARBERT, M.D.

Coroner.

2. Making the present laws more stringent, and effectually carrying them out.

ALEX. R. STEPHEN,

Coroner, C. S.

1. About 15 per cent.

2. The imposition of a heavy duty on its manufacture and introduction to the country, the stopping of its indiscriminate sale at hotels, saloons, &c., and licensing under heavy license one house to every—of population in each municipality, to sell in quantities not less than a pint, and then only on a certificate from Physician or Magistrate under heavy penalty.

D. H. HARRISON, M.D.,

Coroner, Co. Perth.

1. About 30 per cent.

2. Limit the sale of liquor to Druggists, and only then to be sold on the order of the attending Physician in case of sickness.

CHAS. DOUGLAS, M.D.

1. Fully 80 per cent.

2. 1st. That a Government Bureau be established to issue licenses. Inspect liquors, and otherwise attend to the proper working of the license Bureau.

2nd. That there be but one licensed house for each 500 inhabitants in any village, town, or city.

3rd. No grocer be allowed to sell spirituous or malt liquors.

4th. No license to be granted to saloon-keepers to sell spirituous liquors.

5th. Imprisonment at hard labour for selling without license.

C. E. EWING,

Coroner.

1. About one-half.

2. Nothing. A few such men as Mahomet, or in later years as Father Mathew could do the work, but we have them not. The ministers of religion—if they were true men—would have prevented the necessity of the Legislative enquiry.

Legislation on the subject will be a farce.

THOS. BEALL,

Coroner.

1. One-third directly or indirectly.
2. Every person that uses intoxicating drinks as a beverage should be made pay a yearly license not less than $5.00.

And a stricter law to punish parties for selling or giving it to any person that has not his or her license.

And compel every Township to have a lock up. And three or more persons appointed by the Government in each City, Town and Township, to see that the law is not broken.

H. J. TAYLOR,
Coroner.

1. Over three-fourths, at a moderate estimate.
2. Fine any man who is intoxicated one hundred dollars, or six months' imprisonment. Fine any man giving or furnishing liquor in any way, to any person, four hundred dollars or twelve months' imprisonment, unless by the written order of a medical doctor. Fine any doctor four hundred dollars or twelve months' imprisonment for giving an order to any person when not needed for medical purposes.

Any half-way legislation will not do. Legislate for this as for any other great crime and you will crush it. If this can be made law it will effectually cure the disease.

J. PHILIP, M.D.

1. For the past three years I have held thirteen inquests, should say that one-half of those were caused, either directly or indirectly, by intemperance.

2. Would suggest the total suppression of the liquor traffic (from importation, manufacture, or sale) by an Act of Parliament, as the only sure remedy against this terrible scourge, and believe that a large majority of the electors of this county would cheerfully support such a measure.

GORDON WILLSON,
Coroner.

1. I have had but one inquest within the time specified; intemperance was the cause.

2. I am strongly in favour of inebriate asylums.

Dr. KING,
Coroner.

1. Nine-tenths. I might safely say that every inquest I ever held, the death could be traced to intemperance.

2. Entire prohibition. I believe that nothing short of this will accomplish much good.

JOS. D. BOOTH,
Coroner.

2. The total suppression of the traffic is the only remedial measure against intemperance that I can suggest, and this should be by Legislative enactment, and not left in the discretion of municipalities.

ANGUS BELL,
Coroner.

1. One-fourth.
2. No liquor store to sell less than ten gallons. Make the innkeeper responsible by fine and imprisonment.

WM. NOBLE RUTLEDGE,
Coroner.

1. Seven out of ten, or seventy per cent.
2. The entire prohibition of the manufacture and sale as a beverage.

G. S. AYLSWORTH,
Coroner.

1. At least $1\frac{1}{2}$, or more.
2. Stop the manufacture and sale.

W. A. SCLEAFIELD,
Coroner.

I have been a coroner over 15 years, and I cannot recollect but one case brought under my notice but was the result of intemperance.

2. To punish it as a crime by imprisonment and hard labour. Compel the peace officers, by immediate forfeiture of their office, to enforce the law, and see, as far as possible, that no evasion takes place. The officers must enforce the law until there is an improvement in public opinion.

P. H. CLARK,
Coroner.

1. In seven cases, within three years, four deaths have been caused by intemperance.

2. I have no confidence in a compulsory prohibitory law. I would suggest that the tax on the manufacturer be largely increased. It is necessary that the amounts paid by wholesale dealers as license should be largely increased. It is of greater necessity that prompt action should be taken in the matter of tavern and shop licenses, that their numbers may be reduced. The price of liquors raised by increase of license ten times its present price, is, in my opinion, the only means to suppress it as a beverage among the better classes, and place it beyond the reach of the poor.

J. T. MULLIN,
Coroner.

1. Of twenty inquests that I have held, I think a majority of them have been caused by intemperance.

2. I would advise a stringent liquor law, rigidly enforced wherever the article is for sale.

HENRY KALAR.

1. Seventy-five per cent.
2. Prohibition of the manufacture and sale of intoxicating liquors.

J. G. ELWOOD,
Coroner.

1. About one-quarter of the cases brought under my notice are traceable to intemperance.

2. The most effectual way to suppress intemperance unquestionably is to suppress the manufacture, and prohibit the importation. I would suggest that it be made obligatory on the license inspector to see that the present law is strictly adhered to. I may say that nearly all the taverns in this section of country sell on Saturday nights, Sundays, and Monday mornings, and it appears to be nobody's business; and unless the tavern-keepers happen to get on bad terms with some person, they sell without molestation. I would suggest that the license inspector be appointed by the Lieutenant-Governor, recommended by some temperance organization of the municipality. This is the only way that I can suggest to procure a man who will really attend to the duty. He will then be backed by the organization. So long as the council appoint the inspector, they will not choose one who is very strict, as the tavern-keepers will oppose their re-election if the law is enforced.

ZENAS B. LEWIS,
Coroner.

1. Three-fourths, at least.
 2. Prohibition to its fullest extent.

JOHN RANNIE,
Coroner.

1. 1870, but of 2 cases, none from intemperance.
1871, but of 2 cases, 1 from intemperance.
1872, but of 3 cases, 3 from intemperance.
 2. Prohibition.

WM. G. MIDDLETON,
Coroner.

1. I have never kept any record. Think about one-third.
 2. Devising such means as will cause at least three-fourths of the taverns to be shut up.

D. S. BOWLBY, M.D.,
Coroner.

1. On an average, at least one-half of deaths needing inquests have been from intemperance.

2. There is no radical remedy for the evil but total prohibition. If that cannot be procured at present, then I propose to make it felony, to adulterate liquors or sell such, to abolish public rooms for drinking, to disfranchise a drunkard, to increase the price of licenses, to collect damages from a tavern-keeper who is found to make a man drunk, whether notified or not, by any relations or guardians of the inebriate; in short, to make the business of manufacturing and selling liquors as onerous and disreputable as possible.

DANIEL CLARK, M.D.

1. Fifty-five per cent.
 2. Prohibition.

G. H. SWAN,
Coroner.

1. Two-fifths. I have held but five inquests since my appointment, and two of that number died from liquor.

2. Three channels through which reformation is to flow, viz: 1. The Government.
2. As an adjunct, the pulpit. 3. The press, legislative prohibition, and a proper education of the people, is the only effectual remedy for the awful scourge, intemperance.

HENRY ADAMS,
Assistant Coroner, Co. Oxford.

1. Two-thirds of all the cases.
 2. Simply a prohibition of sale and manufacture.

GEORGE DUNCAN,
Coroner.

1. During the last three years I held inquests on four different cases, the cause of death being in each case the immoderate use of intoxicating liquors ; two of the cases being suicides while in delirium tremens. No other cases investigated by me.

2. The total suppression of the manufacture and sale of intoxicating liquors except for medicinal purposes ; a frightful proportion of the misery and crime in this vicinity being caused by intemperance.

JOHN GIBSON,
Coroner.

1. In all cases where I held inquests intemperance has been the direct or indirect cause of death (two-thirds direct).

2. By making all kinds of liquors including alcohol, poisons, (legally) and confining their sale to druggists under a strict law similar to poisons proper.

J. M. B. WOODS, M.D.,
Coroner.

1. About one-third.

2. Stop the manufacture of alcohol, except for medicinal purposes. Prohibit the sale of all intoxicating drinks.

R. ASTLEY CORBETT.

1. About 3 out of 5.

2. I cannot suggest any, for I believe there is no perfect one, that will put a stop to it.

J. KNIGHT RIDDALL, M.D.,
Coroner.

1. About two-fifths.

2. Prohibition.

JAMES O. GATES,
Coroner.

1. Thirty per cent.

2. The cases on which I sat as coroner, where death resulted, or was accelerated by intemperance, were all caused by Canadian whisky.

I would suggest the prohibition of whisky, and licensing of beer houses ; and that spirit in any form only be sold by druggists, and then not without a written order from a medical man.

THOMAS CUMINES,
Coroner, County of Welland.

1. I should say that fully one-third of all cases are directly traceable to the use of alcoholic stimulants in excess.

2. Absolute compulsory prohibition is the only real remedy for this great evil. If that is not practicable, I should recommend the strict enforcement of the present law relating to the sale of liquors which in its main provisions is very good ; the great evil is not much in the sale and consumption of pure distilled liquors, as to the inferior compounds so generally sold, which, in many cases, are doctored and adulterated with vilely poisonous substances. I think also that there are too many low, inferior taverns licensed in all towns and villages ; and I would further recommend the inspection by a qualified scientific men of all liquors sold either by wholesale or retail, especially the latter.

P. PALMER BURROWS, M.D.,
Coroner.

1. The only case that has come under my official notice was an inquest during the past year in a case of drowning, the direct result of intemperance. The baleful effects of liquor selling in this community is plainly and painfully evident.

2. The only prompt and efficient way to remedy intemperance in my opinion is agitation by the friends of temperance, and legislation by the Parliament. Prohibition to make or sell intoxicating liquors is, I believe, the legitimate and constitutional duty of our statesmen. Thus moral suasion and legal suasion should be combined to abate this great curse of our country.

R. A. ROE,
Coroner,

1. Within the last three years, I held seven inquests, and had it not been for intoxicating liquor, I would have had only one, the other six inquests showed distinctly that whiskey was the cause of the death.

2. Nothing but total prohibition will remedy the evil, which if we had, there would not be more than one inquest for the ten, that there is now.

THOMAS EYRE,
Coroner.

1. Three to one; alcohol when swallowed as raw spirits or high wines, acts as a poison and death may be produced almost instantaneously.

2. I suggest a prohibitory liquor law, as moral suasion has failed to stay the tide of intemperance.

ALEX. A. BEATON,
Coroner, Co. Prescott.

CLASS VI.

TO SUPERINTENDENTS AND INSPECTORS OF LUNATIC ASYLUMS, HOSPITALS, AND POOR HOUSES, WARDENS OF PENITENTIARIES, INSPECTORS OF GAOLS AND REFORMATORIES, GAOL SURGEONS, AND OVERSEERS OF HOUSES OF REFUGE.

1. What proportion of those who have come under your charge have been the victims of intemperance?

2. How far do you consider the health of the intemperate to be affected by total abstinence from intoxicating drinks, suddenly enforced?

3. What remedial measures against intemperance do you suggest?

• The returns from this class are not numerous. Your Committee annex a few as a fair index to the whole.

1. I find that the patients admitted to this Hospital who were suffering from intemperate habits (either remote or immediate) represented a percentage of five-eleventh (5-11).

2. I think that by a judicious and gradual discontinuance of the use of intoxicating drinks, that in a very large proportion of cases the relief will be permanent.

3. An abolition of all petty grogeries, and a strict enforcement of the existing liquor laws.

Also a Home or Hospital for inebriates, where they may be properly cared for.

J. H. MCCOLLUM,
Med. Supt.,
Toronto General Hospital.

1. Seventy-five per cent.

2. A transient prostration of the nervous system, followed by a marked improvement in the general health.

3. Prohibit the sale, manufacture and importation of all intoxicating liquors.

JAMES B. MORDEN, M.D.,
Gaol Surgeon,
 Picton, Co. Prince Edward.

1. Thirty-four out of forty.
 2. Very much improved.
 3. A very great reduction in the number of licenses issued to saloons ; in fact, would advocate the discontinuance of issuing them to saloons altogether. This moral pestilence should be met by a legal prohibition of the manufacture, importation, and sale of alcoholic drinks.

1. From observations particularly directed to this point, extending over the last ten years, I am satisfied that among adults in connection with this charity, at least three-fourths have been.

2. Almost invariably the health is improved.
3. Total prohibition of license to sell liquors in either taverns, groceries, or general stores. Making parties selling liquors liable for damages inflicted or sustained by persons while under its influence. Restricting its sale, like other poisons, to medical prescriptions, through druggists. Failing the above, establishment of inebriate asylums and interdiction of drunkards, in accordance with recent legislation.

UZZIEL OGDEN, M.D.,
 Surgeon to House of Industry.

1. Considerably over one-half.
2. Total abstinence attended with no bad consequences, if judicious medical treatment be employed.
3. Total prohibition is the only remedial measure in my opinion, founded upon nearly 30 years' medical practice, and fifteen years discharge of magisterial duties.

R. J. GUNN,
Gaol Surgeon,
 Co. Ontario.

1. In 1870, there were 143 commitments of which 106 were intemperate ; in 1871 131, 94 intemperate, and in 1872, 112 of which 64 were intemperate.

2. Infinitely improved.
3. The total prohibition of the manufacture and sale of spirituous liquors—nothing short of this will meet the case.

W. HOPE, M.D.,
Gaol Surgeon,
 Belleville.

1. About two-thirds of those who were addicted to it.
2. Not at all.
3. To strike at the very root of the evil, viz., to prohibit the importation of intoxicating drinks ; and in this country to limit the quantity that each brewer can make, otherwise drunkards will drink no matter what measures may be taken, even if confined for several years, for as soon as they can get out they will return to their evil customs.

(Signed) SISTER M. of ST. JEROME,
Superintendent of the Magdalen Asylum of Ottawa,
 Under the care of the Sisters of our Lady of Charity,
 Commonly called Good Shepherd.

1. Nearly 4 per cent.
2. Not at all. It is best to cut them off at once.
3. Nothing but better education, imparting sound knowledge of the evils of drunkenness, and teaching habits of self-restraint.

HENRY LANDOR, M.D.,
Superintendent of London Asylum.

1. Total number of prisoners under my charge in the County Gaol has been 84, of these 56 were temperate and 28 intemperate.
2. Not affected while in gaol.
3. Don't know of any.

HENRY USSHER,
Walkerton.

1. About half.
2. I am certain such cases are greatly benefited.
3. Shutting up those places where intoxicating liquors can be obtained.

D. S. BOULTBY, M.D.,
Gaol Surgeon,
Co. Waterloo.

1. At least three-fourths.
2. Their general health always improves when stimulants are reduced to a minimum, or cut off altogether as is done in this gaol, in nearly every instance.
3. The abolition of shop, saloon, and tavern licenses, and if desired by a majority of the ratepayers in any municipality, the establishment of depots for the sale of liquors exclusively, for which depots licenses must be procured by the municipality from the Lieutenant-Governor, and may either be managed by officers appointed by the municipality or let under proper restrictions annually to the highest bidder. The manufacturers and importers of liquors to be allowed to sell to the licensed depots only.

A. MACLEAN, M.D.,
Gaol Surgeon,
Sarnia.

1. At least one-half, probably two-thirds. (No exact data to go upon—this is the opinion of all the medical officers of this Hospital.)
2. Generally, not injuriously, except perhaps in some cases, temporarily, where grave organic disease has been induced by long and persistent drunkenness, sudden and complete abstinence, accelerates a fatal issue. With these exceptions, there is manifest improvement in the moral and mental physique.
3. Hereditary dipsomania is incurable except by enforced total abstinence, when relapses are almost certain where exposed. Moral suasion, example, temperance societies, &c., cure many primary cases. Inebriate asylums are most valuable, and do in the aggregate immense good.

HORATIO GATES, M.D.,
Sen. Attending Med. Officer,
Kingston General Hospital, and Chairman Board of Governors.

1. Of the inmates who have come into this Institution for the last six years, ninety per cent. at least, both males and females were unmistakably the victims of intemperance. Of those now in the institution, three are idiotic, and are said to be the offspring of intemperate parents.

2. Health invariably improved. At first nearly all were from two days to two weeks more or less ill, but after were healthy, and always ready for their meals.

3. From my experience of the inmates of this institution, and from what I have gathered from observation, I am decidedly of the opinion that prohibition in sale is the only means by which the evil can be lessened, and that it can only be suppressed altogether by prohibiting the manufacture, importation, and, as a consequence, sale of intoxicating liquors.

JNO. HOLMES,
Supt. House of Industry,
Kingston.

1. During the years 1870, 1871 and 1872, about 62 per cent. were drunkards.
 2. In the most of cases the health of the inebriate has been improved.
 3. I know no prophylactic treatment.

JAMES HAY SIVEWRIGHT, M.D.,
Gaol Surgeon,
Chatham, Kent Co.

1. About three-fourths of the prisoners in gaol for each of the last three years.
 2. Not at all hurtfully. The best way is to shut off the liquor completely in most cases. In a very few it may be necessary to taper off gradually.
 3. Close up all distilleries, except one, controlled by the Government, where alcohol may be manufactured for medical use, and for use in the arts only. Prohibit the sale or importation of alcoholic beverages by heavy penal laws. Take off the duties on beer and wines, and allow people to make home-made beer. (Beer and wines would be good substitutes for whisky and brandy, &c.) The people must have something. Make it a heavy penalty for getting drunk.

A. L. OLIVER,
Gaol Surgeon,
Co. of Frontenac.

1. A little over six-eighths.
 2. Consider total abstinence from intoxicating liquors would restore to health the majority of inebriates.
 3. High tariff on the manufactory—Governmental inspection of distilleries, and of all places where liquors are sold—heavy fines and imprisonment to parties where adulterations are found; and all parties found intoxicated send to an inebriate asylum for from three months to two years.

J. N. SCHOOLEY,
Gaol Surgeon,
County of Welland.

CLASS VII.

TO BREWERS AND DISTILLERS.

1. How long have you been engaged in the distilling or brewing business?
2. What amount of capital have you invested in fixtures in connection with your business?
3. What additional amount of capital have you in the business?
4. What quantity of grain do you distil annually?
5. Where is the grain produced?
6. What is the value thereof?
7. How many gallons of liquor do you produce annually?
8. What is the wholesale price per gallon?

9. Is your liquor consumed in the Province, or exported: and if the latter, to what place?

The returns to these questions are too incomplete to be of any service, and therefore none are printed.

CLASS VIII.

TO MANUFACTURERS, MERCHANTS AND CONTRACTORS.

1. What proportion of accidents can you trace to the use of intoxicating drinks, and what is the percentage of property destroyed annually from these causes alone, in connection with your business?

2. Have you any preference in favour of total abstainers as agents, clerks, foremen, and workmen?

3. In what respect do you consider the use of intoxicating liquor as a beverage in these classes productive of injury?

From the 194 papers returned under this head:—

The answer to question one is about "six-tenths."

2. Nearly all reply affirmatively to this question, and seven-eighths of the employers say they will not employ any but temperance men, knowingly.

3. Several answer, "Drinking liquor unfits men to discharge their duties properly as workmen." Some say, "Drinking makes men unreliable." Others say, "It tends to carelessness, irregularity and inattention to business." Several say, "Drinking renders a man's nerves unsteady, and beclouds his brain." Several others say, "It renders a man less competent to perform his work well." And not one in the whole number says that drinking liquor tends in any respect to qualify a labourer of any kind to do his work better than a total abstainer.

2. We most decidedly prefer to have men who are strictly temperate, and will not employ any others when we can help ourselves. We make no special point in regard to their being total abstainers. We have to look more to the general character and ability of a man, than to any specialty of that sort.

3. We consider that it injures them in a number of ways; by destroying their sense of self respect, rendering them restless, shiftless, and unsteady in their habits, and unfitting them for positions of trust and responsibility. In the case of workmen especially, we believe that it is in a great measure owing to the unsettled habits produced by drinking usages, and the evil associations connected therewith, that so many of them become dupes of trades union agitators.

1. Talk not of "accidents" or "property destroyed" in our business—but look into wretched homes, where the strong arm of the law sends King Alcohol to reign in terror. Shame on such rulers.

2. Indeed I have; there are only four out of twenty of our regular hands away drunk to-day. This tannery must pay about $40 per month to King Alcohol, and that, according to law, licensed.

3. In the first place, there is a great loss of time, then the same work is not done by these men, when in their place, neither so well nor so much; what they do earn is spent at the bar, or too much of it, leaving their homes destitute, selves and families wretched, unfit for any place.

Oh, how glad these poor fellows would be if the enemy, alcohol, was driven from the World. I wish we had a Government strong enough to do it.

2. I have a preference in favour of total abstainers.

3. Neglect of business and family comforts, and in the end unfitting the man for any responsibility whatever.

And, in my opinion, the best method for doing away with the evil is to strike at the root of it, and prohibit the importation and manufacture of intoxicating liquors in the Dominion.

A MANUFACTURER.

1. The proportion of accidents are one to three, the percentage of property destroyed seventy-five per cent.

2. I have a decided preference for total abstainers, for all those mentioned here, from the fact that their minds are not employed thinking how to get a glass of grog the easiest, but do their work satisfactorily, according to ability.

3. I consider that the use of intoxicating liquors as a beverage in all these classes is hurtful, as follows:—that half their time is lost to the world, from the fact that though they do not become drunken themselves, they lend their influence in such a way that it causes others to become so. the consequence is, that instead of productive labour at all times, one half is lost, and particularly with workmen; in nine cases out of ten their families suffer more or less according to the quantity used, and I also have known contractors to lose large sums of money on contracts by being behind with a contract on account of liquors as a beverage.

1. We employ temperate men only, therefore have neither loss nor accident traceable to intoxicating drinks.

2. We have.

3. We believe that it tends to carelessness, irregularity, and inattention to business.

1. A very large proportion.

2. I have a very great preference.

3. A great temptation, consequently a great injury.

If a tree brings forth bad fruit, cut it down root and branch.

If liquor and intoxicating drinks produce evil, why manufacture? Why license dealers to retail it out?

1. We lost one of our best millers through this curse, and it cost us a considerable drawback in our business.

2. Decidedly in favour of total abstinence.

3. We do not, nor will we engage any person that uses intoxicating liquor as a beverage, if we know it.

We consider intoxicating liquor the most productive injury to our business.

1. One hundred cases of a drinking man to one sober one.

2. Yes. Most decidedly.

3. It makes a brute-beast of a man and ruins his wife and family.

1. I cannot trace any accidents on loss of property caused by intoxicating drinks in my line of business.

2. Yes. Total abstainers preferred, for all the above positions and any position.

3. In no respect as a beverage, as the use in any way leads to evil results.

1. Cannot say that any accidents have occurred or property destroyed in connection with our business from the use of intoxicating drinks, as we do not have men at work when under the influence of strong drinks.

2. Yes.

3. By decreasing their incomes, causing their families to suffer, and even educating their children to steal as well as themselves. In this respect we think we have lost property.

1. Two-thirds.

2. Every preference.

3. Every respect.

1. We cannot trace any accidents to the cause of intoxicating drinks, because we are very particular not to employ men and place them in responsible positions who are not perfectly sober and reliable, which can not be said of those who use the above as a beverage.

2. Most decidedly.

3. The use in almost all cases leads to its abuse and with it all the concomitant evils, we strongly advocate total prohibition.

1. No accidents of any amount have occurred.

2. I greatly prefer employing those who are total abstainers, and do so, as far as lies in my power.

3. There is no point in which they do not prove injurious, but especially causing carelessness of work ; absence from work perhaps one or more days a week ; neglect of family ; degradation of morals ; entailing weakness or disease on their children, and but too often ending with the loss of their own soul.

2. Decidedly. We always prefer sober men, consequently have few accidents in connection with our business.

3. In many respects :—1st. In loss of time. 2nd. By injury to health and mental capacity ; and 3rd. In hindering their advancement to positions of trust when they are otherwise competent. The injury, we consider, exceeds and in most cases engenders all the other evils that affect detrimentally the social condition of our workmen.

2. We have a decided preference in favour of total abstainers.

3. Loss of men's time, 20 per cent. Loss through waste of materials, about 2 per cent.

A man who uses liquor freely is oftener sick than moderate drinkers or total abstainers. Within this last year one of our men has been imprisoned, and one has left the city in debt through intemperance.

1. We have had no accidents worth mentioning since commencing business here. The great loss we sustain through drink is caused by our workmen almost invariably losing the day following pay-day and sometimes even the second day. Our average working days for the last two years have not been over 20 days per month instead of 25 days. The great loss we sustain by such unsteadiness we impute entirely to indulgence in intoxicating drinks.

2. Other things being equal we decidedly prefer workmen who are total abstainers, and would even employ such though inferior, in preference to those who indulge in intoxicating liquor.

3. We consider it injurious to their health, to their efficiency in the several departments, and their loss of time is almost always caused by drink.

2. Yes, our employés are all temperate.

3. In our branch of business the indulgence of intoxicating liquors tends seriously to impair the employés' efficiency.

1. No accidents or loss of property directly proceeding from the use of intoxicating drinks.

2. We have made it a rule never to employ a man that is given to the intemperate use of intoxicating drink.

3. Utterly incapacitating a man for the proper discharge of his duty. Dangerous to himself, and a loss and an annoyance to his employer.

2. Certainly.

3. Its use as a beverage is neither hurtful nor wrong in the abstract ; but the tendency of the use of intoxicating liquor is towards abuse of it, especially in the classes above referred to. Hence the use itself becomes injurious, because it leads to drunkenness and the multitudinous evils emanating therefrom.

2. Yes. I always prefer total abstainers in any capacity.

3. In every respect ; men addicted to drinking habits being, in most cases, incapable and unreliable.

2. Yes.

3. 1st. I do not consider liquor a beverage.

2nd. Workmen and others who habitually use ardent spirits have not that bodily and mental energy to do the same amount of work in the same space of time as total abstainers.

3rd. The use of liquors demoralizes to a greater extent than any other known cause.

1. I do not employ intemperate men, and therefore have not suffered from the effects of it.

2. I should prefer a total abstainer, but after I ascertain a man is sober in his habits I do not enquire further.

3. My experience is that any man who indulges too freely in drinking intoxicating liquors, is unfit, and frequently unable to perform his duties, and not to be trusted.

2. We will employ none but such as are strictly temperate, and of good moral character.

3. In a variety of ways, too numerous to mention a dissipated man or woman is an undoubted nuisance and a curse to society.

2. I have a decided preference for total abstainers to employ in any capacity.

3. It is unsafe to employ those who use intoxicating liquors as a beverage in any capacity, when trust and confidence is required, because such is the insidious nature of its use, that those who use it are at all times in danger of becoming habitually addicted to its use, thereby unfitting them for the proper discharge of their duties under such trust, and rendering them less likely to find employment—which has a direct tendency to produce misery, pauperism, and crime.

1. No accidents.
 2. We have a decided preference, and will not have any others about us.
 3. It unfits them for labour, both mentally and physically.

3. I do not know any case where it has ever been productive of any good. It corrupts the morals, it inflames the mind, it creates a morbid and dangerous appetite, vitiates the very best dispositions, makes many who, without it, would be discreet, and do things they after are sorry for; it is detrimental to the best interests of mankind, and blights the prospects of many a promising youth; it creates strife and discontent in families—causes many a heart-broken wife and mother to pine away her life in sadness.

1. The proportion of accidents is seventy-five per cent. The percentage of property destroyed is ninety per cent.
 2. I have a decided preference in favour of total abstainers.
 3. In every respect.

2. Yes; will employ no others if we can get abstainers.
 3. In every respect; and, in our opinion, the manufacturing and sale should be prohibited. And with increased intelligence, it must come to that position.

2. Yes. As soon as we find any in our employ tight, pay him off.
 3. Can't attend to business, and can't place any confidence in them.

2. We have a decided preference for total abstainers.
 3. We are of the opinion that the use of intoxicating liquors is productive of much injury to all classes of the community, but more particularly to the mechanics and labourers, and that not only should the sale of it as a beverage be prohibited, but the manufacture of it also.

3. Makes them cross and sluggish at their work, deprives them of necessary sleep and food, consequently debilitating them. Is a curse in every particular.

2. We greatly prefer temperance men, for workmen of any kind.
 3. They do not work so well, or steadily. They neglect their families, and ruin themselves, both body and soul, all from the effects of drink.

2. I have strong preference for temperance men, would not employ any others, have had to close one branch of my business on account of drunken foremen.

3. In the first place, they are drawn into bad company, and spend all their wages and more too. if it could be had, the habit increases until they are unfit for any employment ; it is very often the cause of dishonesty, and the ruin of whole families.

1. Not able to answer, inasmuch as I never keep a drinking man in my employ ; consider them dangerous both to life and property.

2. Decided preference ; would not employ a drinking man. Generally lose by them in any transaction.

3. First. Loss of time.

Second. " property.

Third. " character.

Fourth. " health.

The Government will be sustained, by every right-thinking person, in their movements towards prohibition. The license law is inconsistent in principle, and worse in practice. Prohibition is the only remedy. Let there be no more patchwork.

3. Agents are not so good buyers or sellers. Clerks are as a rule not to be trusted, either as to correctness or honesty. A drunken foreman will soon demoralize every man under him, and such workmen as I have had who were not regular hands, and in the habit of drinking intoxicating liquors I have found them invariably lazy, shiftless, worthless fellows, from whom a fair day's work cannot be had, unless under your eye continually.

One half of this class are not self-sustaining, from the fact that strong drink has undermined their constitutions and rendered them incapable of performing 300 days' labour per annum, and when work is abundant men can hardly be got to do it. Yet the appeals for help at certain seasons of the year from this class are numerous ; strong drink, in fact, renders them the burden of society, whereas if they were sober men they would help to contribute to the good of society, and swell the finances of the country. And last but not least of the injuries as the result of strong drink is (in my opinion,) one half of the crime that is committed.

1. I believe the proportion of accidents that I can trace to the use of intoxicating drinks to be two-thirds, and per centage of property destroyed very great.

2. I have great preference in favour of total abstainers as agents, clerks, foremen and workmen.

3. I can scarcely refer to any injury but what may be traced to the use of intoxicating liquor, either directly or indirectly.

2. I have preference for total abstainers.

3. I believe, in my business, liquor taken moderately when a man is exhausted, to be beneficial. My work is very laborious.

2. Yes. Would not keep a drinker.

3. By loss of character and consequent difficulty in obtaining work. Cannot rely on them.

1. The greater proportion I should judge.

2. Most decidedly I have.

3. 1st. As regards the damage that might be done to machinery in a few minutes by a workman under the influence of liquor, which often could not be repaired under a months' hard labour. 2nd. That manufacturers often sustain considerable injury through men being absent from work, and also leaving it undone, caused by intemperate habits. For instance, a manufacturer may have a contract for goods, to be filled at a certain time, which would be a very great damage to both him and the buyer if not filled.

CLASS IX.

TO RAILWAY MANAGERS, OWNERS, AND MASTERS OF VESSELS.

1. What proportion of accidents can you trace to the use of intoxicating drinks, and what is the per centage of property destroyed annually from these causes alone, in your company or vessels ?

2. As between total abstainers and those workmen who use liquors as a beverage, state their comparative efficiency and trustworthiness.

An examination of the replies from this class shows that at least three-fourths of all the accidents connected with the industries named therein, are directly traceable to intoxicating drinks. Some of the replies are as follows :—

1. Have had no serious accidents, but my opinion is that the greater part of the accidents that occur are owing to the use of intoxicating drinks.

2. There is great detention of vessels and their cargoes by seamen using strong drink. I have had to tow from the dock to an anchor and lay all night, to get some of my sailors sobered up before it would be safe to leave.

MASTER AND OWNER OF VESSELS.

1. In 1870, a mariner lost his life through drink, with whom I was acquainted.

In 1871, two deaths resulted among my acquaintances through liquor.

In 1872, one suicide from the same cause, and one death.

In 1872, the entire season's profits of a large schooner were, to my certain knowledge, lost through drunkenness on the part of the master.

2. Speaking from my experience for the last 20 years, during which time I have been sailing, I conclude that a drunken man, in any capacity on board ship, is such a constant source of danger to the lives of his shipmates, that under no circumstances could I be induced to ship any man addicted to drink. No comparison can be fairly drawn between a sober man and a drunkard (or even a moderate drinker) among sailors. I would not rely on the skill or judgment of the ablest seaman of my acquaintance if I knew him to be in the habit of drinking, however moderately.

MASTER MARINER.

1. As far as my experience goes, a great many losses occur through drink ; the average loss is about ten per cent. per annum to me.

2. As a seaman or workman, I would consider a total abstainer twenty-five per cent. better than a man addicted to excessive drinking.

In fact, my opinion is that the only means of suppressing the use of intoxicating liquors as a beverage, is the prohibition of all distilleries and breweries.

VESSEL OWNER.

2. Men who do not use liquor, always preferred ; do not retain those who are known to be intemperate.

W. H. MUIR,
Gen. Supt. G. W. R.,
Hamilton.

1. I feel satisfied that at least three-fourths of the accidents are attributable to intoxicating drinks. We keep only sober men in our employment.

2. Habitual drinkers are not to be trusted, as they are sure to fail you sometime, and generally when you want their services the most. Total abstainers are, I regret to say, rarely to be met with among sailors, and it is really deplorable to contemplate the number of lives that are yearly committed to the charge of steamboat captains who are frequently under the influence of liquor, to which is to be attributed at least three-fourths of the terrible casualties to life and property, and our Government should insist that none but steady sober men should be in charge of vessels, and the same of engineers, as well as drivers and conductors on railways.

CLASS X.

TO INSURANCE COMPANIES.

1. What difference, if any, do you make in regard to insurances on life, as between total abstainers and those who use intoxicating liquors as a beverage?

2. Also on fire and marine insurances, what difference, if any, do you make in insuring a vessel sailed by a captain and crew who are total abstainers?

3. What proportion of your losses do you attribute to the use of intoxicating liquors?

Your Committee have but few answers to this class, of which we append the following:—

1. We aim to insure none who are given at all to tipping. Total abstinence is not made compulsory with our policy holders, but future habits of intemperance vitiates a policy, and it is the practice of the Company to cancel policies on the lives of those who become intemperate after insuring.

2. We do no fire or marine business.

3. The officers of the company consider the drinking usages of society are the cause of great loss to Life Insurance Companies.

They instruct me, as their agent, to report to them any cases of intemperance among our policy holders, so that means can be taken to get rid of them. From their private instructions to the medical examiner, I extract the following:—"Our losses from the direct or indirect influence of alcoholic stimulants are larger than they should be. No one can persist in the habitual use of these agents without having the probabilities of his longevity impaired, and it is, therefore, of great importance that the examiner should inquire carefully concerning the habits of the applicant.

JOHN GARVIN,
Manager Life Assurance Company,
Toronto.

1. I decline all risks that are addicted to intemperance.

2. Would not knowingly insure the vessel or cargo if an intemperate captain was employed.

T. R. WOOD,
Agent Fire and Life Insurance.

1. Do not make any, unless the party is addicted to intemperate habits, in which case they would not be taken at all.

3. Rarely any from that cause, but we are careful not to take parties who are intemperate, either for life or fire insurance.

ROBT. HADDEN,
Agent Life and Fire Insurance.
Guelph.

1. We make no difference, where we have applicant's and his friends' statements as to his temperate habits ; should such statements not convince us of his temperance and sobriety, we reject.

3. Ours being a young company, we have had no losses whatever, should say that Life Companies generally find about 15 per cent. to 20 per cent. of the claims made on them to be attributable, directly and indirectly, to intemperance.

EDW. SCHUCH,
General Agent Sun Mutual Life Insurance Co.,
Toronto.

1. None, except that persons addicted to intemperance are not insured on any terms.

WM. ROWLAND,
Agent Queen Fire and Life Insurance Co.
Toronto.

1, 2, 3. We decline any risk upon the habitual users of intoxicating liquors ; the proofs of death filed in this office, show that of persons dying from diseases of the liver, stomach, kidneys, or any chronic affection of the bowels, or with dropsy, a very great majority are the habitual consumers of such liquors ; and the inference from our experience is to my mind nearly irresistible that even those habitual users who are not usually regarded as excessive in their indulgence are peculiarly subject to the diseases mentioned above. For instance, cirrhosis of the liver we find to be almost invariably accompanied by the constant use of liquor, though, as it is frequently stated, not to intoxication.

Another noticeable feature is the comparatively early age at which death overtakes this class of persons. Scarce one passes middle age, say 45 to 50.

JACOB L. GREENE,
Agent Connecticut Mutual Life Insurance Co.

J. HALDAN,
Manager,
Ontario East.

Your Committee also furnish the following extracts and statements as appendices, the same bearing directly upon the questions under consideration :—

TORONTO GAOL RETURNS FOR 1873.

Whole number committed in 1873, 2,282, 118 of whom were under sixteen years of age. Classed as intemperate, 1,418. But it should be remembered that those described as temperate were simply not drunk at the time of arrest, when really excessive drinking may have led most of them to the commission of the crimes for which they were arrested.

EXTRACTS FROM A REPORT BY THE COMMITTEE ON TEMPERANCE FOR THE LOWER HOUSE OF CONVOCATION OF THE PROVINCE OF CANTERBURY.

EXTRACT 1.—From an extensive and minute inquiry prosecuted by your Committee throughout the workhouses of the country—as well as from other authenticated statements—it can be shown that an enormous proportion of the pauperism, which is felt to be such a burden and discouragement by the industrious and sober members of the community, and has such a degrading and demoralizing effect upon most recipients of parochial relief, is the direct and common product of intemperance. It appears, indeed, that at least seventy-five per cent. of the occupants of our workhouses, and a large proportion of those receiving out-door pay, have become pensioners on the public, directly or indirectly, through drunkenness, and the improvidence and absence of self-respect which this pestilent vice is known to engender and perpetuate. The loss of strength and wealth to the country, the increase of taxation, the deterioration of national character thus produced, it is at once humiliating and irritating to contemplate. From numerous returns before the Committee, submitted by the masters of workhouses, and other officials, whose information may be relied on, it appears that the recipients of parochial relief in England and Wales amount to one-twentieth of the population, and that this destitution is largely caused by intemperance. When we add to this drain on the national resources the loss of at least one day in six of productive labour in almost every department of trade throughout the Kingdom, the derangement of many of our industrial operations, and the imperfection of the work produced in consequence of the intemperate habits of our people, the loss to the nation in strength and skill is calculated, on competent evidence, to amount to one-sixth of the aggregate of our productive resources. Nor ought it to be lost sight of that the annual expenditure of the British nation in intoxicating liquor is one hundred millions sterling—a large proportion of which must be regarded as worse than wasted in sensual indulgence. About three-fourths at least of this enormous sum—which, if capitalized for seven years, would more than avail to sweep off the National Debt—is probably expended in the retail drinking-shops of the Kingdom; and at least one-third of the whole is the drink-fine imposed by the working-classes upon themselves, without any result, except their own demoralization and infinite loss. It cannot, also, be viewed as of inferior consequence that the drinking habits of the community are gratified at the expense of the annual conversion of fifty millions of bushels of grain into spirits and beer—an amount of cereal produce capable of furnishing aliment daily to millions of persons from year to year.

A still darker feature in this computation is the loss to the country through the fearful sacrifice of human life. A careful estimation of the mortality occasioned by intemperance in the United Kingdom, including the lives of innocent persons cut short by the drunkenness of others, places the mighty sacrifice at fifty thousand persons every year—a number thrice as great as that which perished on both sides upon the fatal field of Waterloo.

EXTRACT 2.—Few, it may be believed, are cognizant of the fact—which has been elicited by the present inquiry—that there are at this time, within the Province of Canterbury, upwards of one thousand parishes in which there is neither public-house nor beer-shop; and where, in consequence of the absence of these inducements to crime and pauperism, according to the evidence before the Committee, the intelligence, the morality and comfort of the people are such as the friends of temperance would have anticipated.

EXTRACT 3.—FROM LORD CHIEF JUSTICE SIR W. BOVILL.

I have great pleasure in answering your inquiry as to my experience of the connection of intemperance with crime, and sincerely hope that, through the exertions of yourself and others, some real good will result to the country from the investigation in which you are engaged.

I have no hesitation in stating that in the North of England, and in most of the large towns and the manufacturing and mining districts, intemperance is, directly or indirectly, the cause of, by far, the largest proportion of the crimes that have come under my observation, and you have, I believe, in your published charge, correctly stated the views of the judges generally upon this subject.

Amongst a large class of our population, intemperance in early life is the direct and immediate cause of every kind of immorality, profligacy and vice, and soon leads to the commission of crime.

As the young of both sexes grow up, the habit of intoxication increases upon them, and inevitably leads to crimes of violence of the most serious description, including murders, manslaughter, rapes, robberies, and violent assaults. In many cases, these crimes are committed by parties under the immediate influence of drink. In others, the fact of a man being intoxicated, induces persons to take advantage of his state of helpless unconsciousness, and they afterwards escape punishment from the inability of the sufferer to identify his assailants, or to know, or remember, or to give evidence of what has occurred.

In many parts of the country, earnest endeavours have been made to check this evil, but without success; and at the last winter Assizes, both at Liverpool and Leeds, the Grand Juries made presentments upon the subject, which are well deserving your attention.

It has also been brought constantly to the attention of grand juries and magistrates, by the judges at the different Assizes, and the matter urgently demands the serious attention of the Legislature.

It is frequently very painful to find honest and well-disposed and hard-working men, who do not belong to the criminal class, placed in the dock for serious crimes committed under the influence of drink, and who, if they had been in possession of their senses, would never have thought of committing such crimes; and still more painful to a judge to have to sentence such men to long terms of imprisonment, to the ruin of themselves and families.

The cost to the country for the maintenance of the prisoners and their families likewise becomes a matter of very serious importance; and, looking also to the wholesale misery that is brought upon the working-classes by their indulgence in intoxication, at first unfitting them for their ordinary occupations, and then rapidly causing disease and want—too frequently insanity or death—and bringing distress upon their families; and considering the amount of pauperism, as well as crime, which is thus occasioned, it would seem to be the imperative duty as well as the interest of the State to endeavour to provide some remedy which will check so frightful an evil.

Throughout the country, one principal cause of the mischief is the present system of beer-shops, which, instead of being a benefit, are, I believe, the greatest curse to the working-men; and until the beer-shops, and all taverns and public-houses, are placed under some sufficient restraint and regulation, there can be little hope of effecting any material reform in the habits of the people.

It seems to me that the object of legislation should be to check the evil at its source, and to place all these houses under very stringent control, to prevent their encouraging drunkenness, and to make every case of intoxication the cause of immediate forfeiture of a License; and if the law were then strictly enforced against both publicans and drunkards we might, I think, reasonably look for some considerable improvement.

It is also, I think, desirable to enlist the feelings and sympathies of large bodies of workingmen in the importance of the subject, and in the propriety of stringent legislation, and thus prevent the impression that such legislation proceeded from anything like dictation or class legislation from those in a superior position to themselves.

EXTRACT 4.—FROM LORD CHIEF BARON KELLY.

VENERABLE SIR,—I should be very happy indeed if I had the time and the means to answer your letter more satisfactorily than I am able to do at the present moment. Every day of my life, except Sundays and the very short and insufficient vocations allotted to me, is fully occupied in Court. I will endeavour at some future time to write at greater length. At this moment I can only express my belief—indeed, I may say my conviction—that two-thirds of the crimes which come before the courts of law of this country are occasioned chiefly by intemperance. Many remedies have suggested themselves to my mind. The chief one is a rigid supervision, with almost despotic powers, in local boards of magistrates, private individuals and others over public houses, beer shops, and other descriptions of places of entertainment where spirituous liquors or beer may be had for money. This, with a general system of education and vigilant attention during childhood and youth, to the morals and habits of all classes of persons, would, taken together, do much to remedy the evil.

I wish I could say more, but must content myself at the present moment with assuring you of my earnest good wishes for your success in the great task you have undertaken.

FITZROY KELLY.

To the Venerable Ardeacon of Coventry.

MESSAGE BY GOVERNOR PERHAM OF MAINE.

(Temperance and the execution of the Laws.)

EXTRACT 5.—The evils resulting from the use of intoxicating drinks are alarming, and demand the earnest thought and wise persistent effort of the Christian, the philanthropist, and the statesman. Through the light that has been given, the moral influences that have been exerted, and the removal to some extent of the temptation to drink by the Prohibitory Law, there is much less drinking in Maine in proportion to the population than formerly, and less than in most other portions of the country. These facts are demonstrated by the recollection of those whose memory goes back over the last thirty or forty years, and who have compared this with other States. Still, intemperance in Maine is a great public evil—destructive of private morals and virtue, promotive of degradation and ruin—an enemy to industry and good order, and a serious detriment to all the higher interests of the State.

The time and money expended, the intellectual and physical powers destroyed, the hopes blasted, the homes desolated, the poverty and crime occasioned, and the lives sacrificed through the drinking habits of our people, would make an appalling chapter in our history. If we enquire at our State Prison, we shall find that prior to their conviction, eight per cent. of the convicts were not in the habit of using intoxicating drinks, twelve per cent. drank moderately, while eighty per cent. drank to excess, and their crimes were the direct result of this practice. A visit to our country jails would reveal similar facts. This shows that four-fifths of the crime, and consequently that proportion of all the expenses, as well as all the public and private evils resulting from the commission of crime, are the legitimate results of intemperance. Common observation furnishes convincing evidence that a large portion of the pauperism of the State is directly or indirectly attributable to the same cause.

If these statements are correct, the State, aside from its interests in the moral, intellectual and financial well-being of its citizens, has a direct pecuniary interest in this subject, equal to four-fifths of the whole cost of the execution of our criminal laws, as well as the support of paupers and juvenile offenders, made such by intemperance. The statesman then, charged to promote in every proper way the welfare of the State, has a duty to perform in this regard which he is not at liberty to ignore.

The eradication of an evil like this must be sought, primarily, through the pulpit, the press, the platform, and the influence of organized effort, thus awakening the public mind and quickening the public conscience. As a result of the efforts made through these instrumentalities, a large portion of our population abstain entirely from the use of intoxicating drinks as a beverage, many drunkards have been reformed, and a public sentiment has been created that has found expression in one of the most effective laws in our statutes.

It is a fact worthy of notice, and one which has attracted the attention of every careful observer, that, in most places in the State, intemperance and crime and all the evil incidents to intemperance have decreased about in proportion to the enforcement of the law, and increased in proportion to the neglect to enforce it. The State has done wisely in supplementing individual and organized efforts with such legal aid as it has deemed proper. The law itself is believed to be generally satisfactory, but there is much complaint, that in many parts of the State it is not executed as it should be, and by many, additional legislation for the enforcement of this and other criminal laws is desired. The conviction is very general that the necessity is not so much for more laws as a better enforcement of the laws we have. The importance of a faithful and impartial execution of all our criminal laws is too apparent to require discussion here.

I am not unmindful of the fact that no law can be enforced through any instrumentality, however efficient in itself, for a term of years, unless it be sustained by the public sentiment of the people. On that all laws depend. If they meet that approval, they will be sustained and enforced; if not, they will be repealed or become a dead letter in the statute. The officers who execute the law come from the people; they are the servants of the people, and will, as a general rule, execute their will, whether the judgment of the majority of the people be right or wrong, whether we accept or reject it personally it will in this country assert itself in the enactment of the laws, and the election of public officers on whom their enforcement depend.

A proposition has been made, that the sheriffs of the several counties and their deputies be charged with the duty of inquiring into the violation of all criminal laws, and attending to their enforcement within the limits of their respective counties, when the local authorities neglect or refuse to do so; and that these officers be made responsible to the Chief Executive of the State, and subject to his directions. The friends of this measure suggest, that as the laws now are, the Governor is required to take and subscribe an oath to see that the laws are faithfully executed, but, that there is no civil officer on whom he can officially call for the execution of any law, and that the charge proposed would make it possible for him to perform the duties of his office in accordance with his oath. This proposition is not open to the objection that it would create a new set of officers, which is greatly in its favour. It meets, I understand, the approval of a large portion of the friends of temperance, I can see no valid objection to its adoption.
